

W. H. THOMPSON AT THE ORPHEUM.

William H. Thompson, celebrated actor, whose "Wise Rabbi" never will be forgotten by Portlanders, is to reappear at the Orpheum. He is billed as the headliner of the Orpheum programme for the week of August 26th in "An Object Lesson," a playlet in which the famous actor is said to shine more brilliantly than in any other production he has presented in vaudeville.

Second on the new bill are Billy Gould and Belle Ashlyn in a specialty of songs and jokes written by Gould. Both are fun-

AT THE HEILIG.

An event of the theatre sure to recall pleasant memories and stir interesting reminiscences, is the announced engagement of the Gilbert and Sullivan Festival Company in a revival series of Gilbert and Sullivan's greatest comic opera which include "The Mikado," "The Pirates of Penzance," "Pinafore" and "Patience," to be made at the Heilig theatre, corner Seventh and Taylor streets, for one week only, beginning on Sunday next, September 1st.

An interesting repertoire has been arranged, with productions of "The Mikado" on Sunday, Monday and Saturday evenings and at the Saturday matinee. On Tuesday and Friday evenings, "The Pirates of Penzance" will be given, with "Pinafore" at the Wednesday matinee and evening. The only performance of "Patience" is announced for Thursday evening.

The revival of these different operas is bound to prove of more than ordinary interest from the standpoint of the unfavorable light into which, by comparison, it will cast the present-day brand of musical comedies, for these old operettas announced represent a golden era in English opera, which so unfortunately came to an end when Sir Arthur Sullivan and Sir William S. Gilbert quarreled over a few yards of carpet, thereby dissolving a partnership which had been pre-eminently successful for twenty-three years.

It is announced that mail orders from both in and out of town will be received at the box office beginning Monday, August 26th. These orders take precedence over the regular box office sale, which opens Thursday, August 29th.

CLOSING WEEK OF CATHRINE COUNTISS AT HEILIG.

The seven weeks' engagement of Cathrine Countiss which has afforded so much genuine enjoyment to summer playgoers at the Heilig theatre, corner Seventh and Taylor streets, closes with "Her Own Way," the week commencing Sunday, August 25th.

Miss Countiss never had a sweeter or more womanly part than Georgiana in "Her Own Way," the comedy of sentiment that Maxine Elliott played for 327 nights in New York, and later at the Savoy theatre, London. Vivacious comedy is blended with sentiment that rings true in this charming play, opening with a children's birthday party. Georgiana is a bachelor-maid with wit, vivacity and a heart of gold, who is parted, through misunderstanding, from her soldier lover serving as an officer in the Philippines. But there is a happy issue to the romance when her wounded hero comes home.

Miss Countiss bids a long farewell to Portland on Saturday night, August 31st, and returns at once to New York. She has revealed splendid art and versatility in widely different characterizations, and will not be forgotten.

ONAIPI, WORLD'S GREATEST ILLUSIONIST, AT THE EMPRESS NEXT WEEK.

Captain Keller Proves Himself Worthy Of Rank

Throughout all his service as acting captain Keller has acquitted himself well, and has shown that he is thorough police officer, no matter how regarded. To the men he has been kind and considerate, without losing their respect, or without endangering discipline. To prisoners he has been uniformly courteous and just. As an executive he has been level-headed, and has shown efficiency under all circumstances. In other words, he has made good as acting captain, and has shown that he is worthy of a regular captaincy.

Mayor Rushlight might do worse things than make Keller a captain of police. No matter what influences are back of His Honor's desire to advance Keller to a full command, Keller himself deserves the berth and the recompense; and once in the position will be sure to give a good account of himself, and to keep his relief up to the same high standard which now maintains. The mixture of executive ability, human kindness and common sense in Keller's make-up is not often met with; and a man of his calibre will make a good commanding officer in any field such as is dealt with by the police.

Canal Opening May Cause Woe To Workingmen

That the incoming flood of humans by way of the canal could be directed to the vacant spaces of Central Oregon, then the opening of the "big ditch" would be a true blessing to Oregon. But as no such guarantee can be had, and as no right-thinking person can declare that these immigrants will do anything but flock to the already congested cities, the opening of the canal cannot be said to be such a fine thing for Oregon as it is proclaimed in many quarters.

In short, the opening of the canal will not help the laboring man, be he unskilled or skilled. It will not help the farmer to any great extent, and it will not help the manufacturer who employs home labor. It will help the land owner and the shipper; but it is extremely to be doubted if their gain will offset the loss of the other Oregon people.

in hot water. About all candidates can say is that they are "regular republicans," "progressive republicans," or some such thing as that. This phase of the law has its good side too; it may curb campaign oratory quite a bit, and it may also prevent scallawag candidates from going into office on the tale of the party kite.

Book Reviews

Fame-Seekers, by Alice Woods. $1.20. Illustrated. George H. Doran Co., New York City.

With illustrations by May Wilson Preston, this attractive novel depicts with cleverness an American artist-story of Bohemian Paris, known and Triby Land.

The Under Trail, by Anna Alice Chapin. $1.25. Illustrated. Little, Brown & Co., Boston.

Hate, love and a secret crosscut trail in the Virginia Mountains make up this attractive novel of the Southland. The characters are exceedingly well drawn.

Beggars and Scorners, by Allan McAulay. $1.25. John Yane Co., New York City.

An historical novel well worth reading—harking back to the triumphs won in a similar department by Charles Major—depicting the struggles, intrigues, loves and hates of Scotch Jacobite exiles in Holland, after the memorable battle of Culloden in Scotland in 1745, when the English army, under the Duke of Cumberland, smashed the hopes of Bonnie Prince Charlie and his adherents.
