Last year California produced about 17,000,000 pounds. Prunes can be raised in California for about 3 cents a pound and sold at a profit at 4 cents. Turkey, in my opinion, could not probably produce them at 2 cents, which would be necessary in view of the tariff of 2 cents per pound. To this the cost of transportation must be added. Moreover, the soil in Turkey and France is greatly exhausted, prunes having been raised there for over a century, while in California the frees have not been planted for more than twenty years.
