

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. T. H. Johnston, of Dufur, was in the city Saturday.

Mr. B. C. McAtee of Tygh Valley was in the city Friday.

A. A. Frazier gave this office a welcome call Saturday.

Mr. S. J. LaFrance of Hood River was in the city Saturday.

V. C. Brock, county clerk of Sherman county was in the city Saturday.

Dr. L. Vanderpool of Dufur, the original proprietor of the S. B. medicines was in the city Saturday.

A car load of fat hogs from North Powder, were shipped from the stockyards Thursday, for the Sound.

Seven cars of beefsteak passed through the city Thursday evening for the American Dressed Meat company, Troutdale.

Hampton Kelly, C. Conner and James Grey of Wapinitia, were in town Thursday last week attending to land office matters.

Ten thousand bushels of wheat were sold in Helix last Tuesday at 65 1/2 cents for blue stem and 64 1/2 for club, clear of the sack.

The Dalles City, companion steamer to the Regulator, has been towed over to this side to receive her finishing touches.—Oregon Express.

The wheat crop of Walla Walla county for the current year is estimated by the secretary of the Walla Walla board of trade at 3,306,937 bushels.

Miller, Johnston and Cagle of Prineville came into town Wednesday for a Buffalo Pitts through Bro.

Messrs. LaDue, F. M. Thompson and James Johnson of Dufur were in the city. They report harvesting in full swing but fear that much of the grain will be shriveled.

President Orborn is reported to have said that he likes the position of the new portage company better than that of the Columbia Railway and Navigation company.

Captain H. Anlauf and wife, who have been visiting friends in this city for the past few days, left last Friday for California where they intend to make their future home.

From Mr. W. B. Rodman of Wamic we learn that crops in his neighborhood promise to be good, fully up to an average. This remark will apply to spring grain, and fall grain will even do better.

An attempt was made Thursday night to enter the cigar store of W. H. Jones on First street. The panels of the back door were forced in at the bottom but no further damage was done and no entrance was effected.

A visitor from the Cascade Locks informs us that the water is nearly all pumped out of the canal and that a force of laborers have been put to work on the sand pit, preparatory to commencing the laying of the concrete in the bottom of the canal.

A dispatch that arrived at this office this afternoon and appears in another column, intimates that the members of the Portland chamber of commerce are in favor of having the Dalles portage built by that body and controlled by it. This is good. We believe the directors of the portage incorporation want stand in the way of a moment. What they want as well as we, if we mistake not, is a portage on this side and it is a secondary matter who shall build it if some big railroad company does not get a hold of it. By all means let the chamber of commerce build the road.

D. L. Vanderpool of Dufur, came into the store of Fillion Bros. Saturday morning and asked for a box for one of the wheels of his buggy. He was not quite sure of the style he wanted but selecting one that he thought would suit he remarked "I'll take this over to the stable, where my buggy is and see if it will do." In about half an hour he came back and remarked quietly to John Fillion, "I see John if you say nothing about it I'll set up the rig. The fact is I left my buggy at home and forgot a. about it." The doctor had come into town in a neighbor's hack and never thought of that till he got to the stable.

In 1853 when Ben McAtee first visited Tygh Valley, when he had his home since 1855, there was not a white settler in the valley. It was the grand rendezvous for Indians for hundreds of miles on every side. There they met for horse-racing and gambling and their own peculiar sports. The tall rye grass, that covered nearly the whole valley was eight to ten feet high. It was a lovely spot, an Indian paradise. Nathan Olney then ran a little ferry boat across the Deuchettes at the mouth of Buck Hollow and Dan Butler was constable of Wasco precinct which then included all Eastern Oregon and was a precinct of Clackamas county.

Ex-governor Moody has published a couple of letters in our evening contemplable which, if they mean anything at this particular time, seem designed to present his ex-Excellency as a devoted friend of the Cascade portage railway and therefore of the new opposition line of boats and the opening of the Columbia river. As we have not the slightest disposition to do the ex-governor or any member of his family the least intentional wrong we offer the columns of this journal to any one who will show, wherein by word or deed, he or any of his family has contributed so much as a ten cent piece to further the object of an open river. This is the question and not whether an obscure individual has told truth or falsehood. Even if the ex-governor could succeed in proving home a lie on the editor of this journal (which he could not if he cared to present the proof) that would not relieve him of the stigma of never having, notwithstanding all his wealth, contributed a nickel towards obtaining cheaper freight rates for the people out of whom he has made every dollar he owns.

At the horse race held at Wamic last Thursday the W. D. Munger mare, Queen of Hearts was matched against the Tom Strickland mare Mamie, for $158 a side, quarter mile dash, and was won by Queen of Hearts. A match had in the Clatsop last evening, informed his readers that a proposition had been submitted to the Portland chamber of commerce relating to the building of a portage railway around the dalles of the Columbia. The telegram had reference to the proposition of Lieutenant Norton, acting for The Dalles & DesChutes Portage Railway & Navigation company. This company, in consideration of Portland taking up $250,000 first mortgage, six per cent, fifty year bonds, bind themselves to complete within six months of the date on which they receive notice that the proposition is accepted and are satisfied as to the financial standing of the subscribers to the bonds, a thoroughly equipped narrow-gauge railroad on the south side of the Columbia river, between The Dalles and the east end of the island opposite the mouth of the DesChutes river. At least one first class steamer and sufficient barges are to be put on the middle river, all the steamers and barges needed below the Cascades and two steamers with accompanying barges on the upper Columbia and Snake river. Freight charges on grain are guaranteed to be thirty per cent. lower than the Union Pacific may make for the same class of freight between the same points, provided that the company shall not be required to carry grain at less than one cent per ton per mile. Freight is to be carried from the city of Portland to all interior points on the basis of a rate not exceeding $2.40 per ton for fourth class freight from Portland to The Dalles. Portland is to be the western terminus. One half of the paid up capital stock is to be assigned to the Portland chamber of commerce on the following condition, viz: The stock shall be placed in escrow and represented in the board of directors by a board of trustees chosen by the chamber of commerce, who shall also be directors on its behalf. The subscription to the bonds is to be paid as follows: Twenty per cent. on the completion of the subscription, 20 per cent. on the completion of ten miles of track; 20 per cent. on completion of portage railway; 20 per cent. when the wharves etc. are completed and the road in operation; and 20 per cent. when all is complete and in operation. The signers to the proposition are Geo. A. Liebe, E. B. Dufur, T. H. Johnston and R. H. Norton.

It is expected that the proposition will be considered by the chamber of commerce next week and should it, or some other of like import be accepted we shall soon see the dawn of a brighter day for the Inland Empire.

A valuable work. The editor of the CHRONICLE is indebted to the courtesy of Col. Lang for a copy of the report of the bureau of statistics for 1890 which contains no less than 137 pages of statistical and other matter relating to the state of Oregon, gathered from every source and compiled, at great cost of time and labor by the Colonel himself. It furnishes the most complete statistical account of the resources of this truly great state we have ever met. But it is more than a mere list of statistics. Each county is treated to a separate article and the topography, climate, soil, natural products, manufacturing, means of transportation and many other matters of useful information are given in a concise and convenient form. For example, the chapter on Wasco county tells us that in territorial times "the county of Wasco embraced all that part of the state extending from the Cascade mountains to Snake river and from the Columbia to the northern boundary line of California and amounted to 66,564 square miles. Captain Nathan Olney acted as justice of the peace in Wasco precinct and Deacon Daniel W. Butler as constable in the year 1853 when this immense territory was a precinct of Clackamas county. Since its organization as a separate county in 1854 Wasco has been subdivided into thirteen counties, leaving the area of the present about 3200 square miles." The catch of salmon in Wasco county for the year 1889 is placed at a total of 8,900,000 pounds. The imports and exports of Dalles City for the same year are as follows: Total imports, 31,000 tons. Exports, 5,800,000 pounds; wheat, 2,000,000 bushels; other grains, 445,625 bushels; live stock, 500 car loads; lumber and wood, 300 car loads; fruit and mill products, 1000 tons. These particulars are merely pointed out as samples to indicate the value of the Colonel's work and the whole justifies the statement of the chief of bureau, in his letter of transmittal to Secretary W'ndom: "Much of this information has not heretofore been compiled or published and will be of interest and benefit not only to the people of the states mentioned, but of the whole country."

Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock as the east bound freight train, number twenty-eight, was at the gravel quarry, eight miles this side of Portland, brakeman Frank Tracey fell from a freight car and the trucks passed over his right leg midway below the knee almost completely severing it from the body. It appears the engine with four cars attached was going down the incline to the quarry when one of the cars came against another that was standing at the end of a switch. Whether Tracey was attempting to jump on the other car and missed his footing or accidentally fell off the car he was on is not known, but he fell between the cars with the above result. The leg had to be amputated below the knee. Mr. Tracey is favorably known in the Dalles where he used to be employed in the company's yard. He is now spoken of by all his fellow employees. He has a wife and family. A singular thing connected with the accident is that when he was picked up his left shoe was off his foot, though how it was taken off our informant was unable to guess. The foot itself was only slightly scratched.

Why Not? Portland Telegram. Why is it that the chamber of commerce cannot undertake the work of building the portage road? If the road can be built and equipped for $200,000, what is the necessity of giving $250,000 to another corporation to build it? The citizens of Portland ought to build the road and own it. And if the narrow gauge is adopted, it will be a small matter to build branches and extensions into all the fine sections, and thus keep the wheat trade forever tributary to Portland.

MADISON, July 26.—Rev. Dr. Talmage preached this morning at a Chautauque assembly on the banks of Monona lake, near this city. It is a gathering of people from all parts of the world. His text was Esther iv, 14, "Who knoweth whether there are come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

Esther the beautiful was the wife of Ahasuerus the Abominable. The time had come for her to present a petition to her father-in-law in behalf of the Jewish nation, to which she had once belonged. She was afraid to undertake the work lest she should lose her own life, but her husband urged her to do it. He said, "Who knoweth whether there are come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

Who knoweth whether there are come to the kingdom for such a time as this? Esther had her God-appointed work; you and I have ours. It is my business to tell you what style of people and what all the forces that we may meet the demand of the age in which God has set our lot. If you have come expecting to hear abstractions discussed in the dry terminology of religion glorified by such a time as this? Esther had her God-appointed work; you and I have ours.
