

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, OREGON

FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1892.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Friday. Mr. Depew, late with Mr. J. C. Baldwin, is in the city.

Mr. Swick, of Corvallis, was in town today on the way to his stock farm in Grant county.

Mr. W. Lord was called to his farm in Klickitat yesterday, and will be absent from the city several days.

William Worden and Raymond Blue, of Wapinitia, were in town today making homestead entries on land on Wapinitia flat.

Mr. J. P. McNerny invites proposals for the erection of a cottage in the city, according to plans and specifications to be seen at the office of Crandall & Burget.

An egg laid by a hen in Mrs. Frank Chase's poultry yard, three miles from this city, measures 6 1/4 inches in length.

John C. Luce, of Grant county, the candidate of the people's party for congress from the second congressional district, passed through the city today on his way home from Portland.

A heavy shower of rain commenced falling a little after dark last night, and lasted for several hours.

At a meeting of The Dalles board of trade, held last night in the hall of the CHRONICLE building, vice-President S. L. Brooks being in the chair, a committee of three was appointed to secure the services of a collector to gather in a sufficient amount of delinquent dues to liquidate certain debts contracted by the board, previous to the great fire.

"This is the worst wind storm I've ever seen in The Dalles," said a guest of the Umatilla house last evening, as he looked out and observed the dust driven up street by a lively gale.

Members of The Dalles board of trade, and all interested in the matter of organizing a chamber of commerce for this city, are urgently requested to meet to-night in the hall of the CHRONICLE building at 8 o'clock.

From the Walla Walla Journal we learn that "Dr." True, the street fakir who lately visited The Dalles, was again brought before a justice court in that city last Tuesday charged with practicing medicine without a license.

The jury found True guilty and fined him $75 and costs, which together, amounted to nearly $200. Then the "Doctor," who acted as his own lawyer, showed the court that he knew a thing or two himself.

When the verdict was announced True told the justice he would not pay his fine and the justice proceeded to make out his commitment but before the constable had time to take him to jail a petition for a writ of habeas corpus had been filed in the superior court in which it was alleged that W. H. True was unlawfully detained in the custody of the constable.

The petition was granted and True was brought before Judge Upson who decided that the justice had no jurisdiction in cases where the penalty was imprisonment in the statute, as petty larceny, etc. True was therefore discharged.

A well-filled house greeted Messrs. Wolfenberger and Huckens, the prohibition lecturer and singer, last night. Mr. Wolfenberger is an able speaker and he dealt many a telling blow at the liquor traffic.

In this respect, however, last night's speech was much less objectionable than that of the previous night. Still the speaker seemed to take peculiar pleasure in scornfully referring to President Harrison as the "good Presbyterian elder," who got a present of a keg of Scotch whiskey from the millionaire Carnegie, while Cleveland indignantly returned a similar present to the donor.

The petition of John Donovan and W. H. Butts, asking that the liquor license of John Donovan be transferred to W. H. Butts was granted.

The sociable given by the Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church, at the house of Mrs. Geo. P. Morgan last evening, was a decided success.

The republican primary election being held here today is being hotly contested as we go to press. Two tickets are in the field, one known as the Farley ticket and the other as the Moody ticket.

Perhaps there is nothing which is more indicative of advance than the presence in a number of the pictures and sketches of an atmosphere and a delicate handling of lights and shadows not before observable.

We observe a marked increase in the number of original sketches which is an indication of real progress. We cannot here undertake to discriminate to the praise or dispraise of certain teachers amongst us, any more than we can allow ourselves to select for special praise the pictures and sketches of certain individuals whose progress and attainment has been a wonder and an admiration to us.

Good prominence was given to the work of Ben Foster, a New York artist of very considerable power and talent, by giving his pictures and sketches a room by themselves.

The specimens of china exhibited by our own art workers in that direction was a complete surprise, and were the admiration of all. The dainty specimens of needle work exhibited by Mrs. Gibbons called forth a good deal of admiration and praise.

There were about fifty persons present at the sociable last evening. It is presumed that a number were kept away by the wind and rain which prevailed in the early part of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Corbett and Miss Failing, of Portland, are guests at the Umatilla house.

Dr. A. N. Hamilton of La Grande, a member of the Oregon railroad commission passed through the city yesterday.

The Ochoco Review boasts that Prineville has more habeas corpus proceedings than all the rest of the county seats put together.

The Marine band of Washington, is coming west on a trip and will appear at Portland, Olympia, Tacoma and Spokane.

Hon. J. H. Rinehart, of Summerville, stopped over Saturday night from a trip to Portland, to visit his son Dr. W. E. Rinehart of this city.

Mr. Blakeley, of the popular firm of Blakeley & Houghton, is now a guest of the Umatilla house, during the absence of his family from the city.

A. S. McAlister rejoined his family in The Dalles last Saturday. The many friends of Mr. McAlister will be glad to learn that he has come back to stay.

Alex McLeod, one of Kingsley's solid men came into town this afternoon. He reports seeding about half through on the ridge and the ground in the best condition he ever saw it at this season.

Mr. Otto Kohler, of Bake Oven, was in the city today. He says grain and grass looks fine out that way, but they have not had as much moisture as we of this region.

The CHRONICLE regrets to learn that Mr. H. P. Ernst will leave The Dalles for his former home in Michigan tomorrow morning.

The Union Pacific company has been charging the CHRONICLE company $2.55 per box for packages of printing material shipped from San Francisco.

Every Oregonian has a feeling of state pride in the pupils sent abroad from Oregon to various institutions to receive an education.

W. J. Roberts, C. E., of this city, has just completed a magnificent sectional map of the Hood River valley for Hon. E. L. Smith of Hood River.

Senator Mitchell writes to the Hood River Glacier making the charge that the CHRONICLE and some other papers in Wasco county were laboring under the delusion that the Oregon delegation was opposed to the state making appropriations in the Columbia river because it would act as a hindrance to their obtaining appropriation for more permanent improvements.
