

CARELESS COLLISION.

Cause for Heavy Damages From an Ohio Railway Company.

POLISH ANARCHISTS AT WORK.

A Committee Deputized to Commit Murders and Other Outrages.

VILLAGERS EXTERMINATE THEM.

A Sad Case in Texas--The Arizona Kicker Has a Base Imitator in Michigan.

MOUNT VERNON, O., April 8.--One of the most serious wrecks that has occurred on the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus railroad for several years happened yesterday afternoon about twenty-three miles east of here, at a very steep grade called the Summit. Freight train No. 24 was going west, assisted by a pusher. The flagman on the Summit had orders to hold No. 3 Express, going east, until No. 24 passed. This he failed to do, resulting in a collision in which about a dozen or more passengers were injured. Those most seriously injured are T. B. Reed, engineer of No. 3, and Mrs. Jonathan Tipton, of Black creek.

Assassins Speedily Punished.

BERLIN, April 8.--Deacon von Poninski an important citizen of Koscielce, Prussian Poland, was fatally shot in his bed by four masked men last night. His wife, lying alongside her husband, was uninjured. The village was aroused and an expedition organized to hunt the assassins who were soon surrounded in the woods. Two were shot dead by the villagers. The other two, seeing escape impossible, shot themselves, dying instantly. When the bodies were examined, letters of instructions were found on them with the words, "Executive Committee of the Polish Anarchists," containing instructions to murder Deacon von Poninski, and to commit other outrages, showing that the Polish anarchists are thoroughly organized.

Hughitt to Succeed Dillon.

New York, April 7.--The books for the Union Pacific railway annual election April 27th, were closed yesterday, and forthwith a report was current that Dillon will retire from the presidency, and that Martin Hughitt, now president of the Chicago and Northwestern, will succeed him. It was also intimated that in the reorganization of the directors of the Union Pacific the Gould representatives, including Gould, will be dropped, while men who belonged to the Vanderbilt army of railroad lieutenants will take their places. Gould, it is said, will devote his energies to the rejuvenation of his Missouri Pacific system. If, as is reported, Hughitt and his group of co-workers are to manage the Union Pacific, it means that at last the Vanderbilt dream of a transcontinental system has been realized.

In Bad Flight.

WACO, Tex., April 8.--At Jackson's lake, sixteen miles south of here, in a tent made of an old quilt, a woman and four children were found last evening, nearly nude, and living on cornmeal mush, fish and frogs. The mother said: "My name is Mrs. Murphy; my husband left me here three months ago and told me to stay until he returned." The children were nearly as wild as the wolves that prowled around their bivouac. The oldest girl wore a tattered garment and rawhide moccasins of her own make. The family were brought to town and provided for.

Not the Original.

AUSABLE, Mich., April 8.--Wesley M. Featherly, editor of the Lakeside Monitor, known as the "Arizona Kicker," has made so many enemies by his violent pen that at a secret meeting Tuesday evening the citizens adopted resolutions ordering him to leave the city in ten days. If he does not comply, they threaten to carry him to the city's limits and there give him a coat of tar and feathers on his naked flesh from head to foot. He is a fighter, and will stay.

Murders in Uruguay.

MONTEVIDEO, April 8.--Near Guadalupe, Uruguay, an Italian named Traversi, his wife and three children, the eldest a girl 22 years of age, were found murdered in their home yesterday. The dead bodies showed numerous dagger wounds. Traversi recently realized $1,000 from the sale of his crops, and the money was known to be in the house. The murderers carried off the $1,000. Their identity is unknown, but it is thought they were acquaintances of the victims.

A Lucky Plunge.

HUNTINGTON, Va., April 8.--Last night a freight train ran into a span of the bridge, knocking it down, four cars going into the river just east of here. Passenger trains were delayed about twelve hours. No loss of life.

P. C. Davis left at noon today on a short business trip to Walla Walla.

The Modus Vivendi.

WASHINGTON, April 9.--The Yorktown, Adams, Charleston, Baltimore and Mohican it is understood will be employed in patrolling Behring sea, when the season opens. The sailing instructions have been practically completed at the state department, and were yesterday submitted to a conference of United States officials at the navy department. There were present Secretary Tracy, Commodore Ramsay, Gen. J. W. Foster and Edward O'Brien, commissioner of navigation, of the treasury department. The instructions were considered with great care. Prior to this conference at the navy department, Secretary Blaine had a conference at his house with Sir Julian Pauncefote on the same subject. Later in the day Sir Julian Pauncefote had another interview with Secretary Blaine at the state department. While no one will talk directly of the subject, the impression prevails that the modus vivendi is perfected, and will be announced in a few days in addition to the instructions to the Behring sea vessels.

Federal Buildings.

WASHINGTON, April 11.--The senate postoffice bill, now before the house, authorizes the construction of a federal building in every city or town where the gross postal receipts for three preceding years have exceeded $9,000 and have not exceeded $90,000. The cost of building and site is to be governed by the gross postal receipts for three preceding years and in no case is to exceed $75,000. The buildings are to be constructed with a view to future enlargement as the local postoffice business increases. The work of purchasing sites and constructing buildings is to progress only as fast as congress makes the necessary appropriations. All plans are to be approved by the postmaster general, the secretary of the interior and the secretary of the treasury. Public sentiment decidedly approves the spirit of such a measure. It is a fair criticism of the senate bill to say that even the economists will probably oppose it on the ground of temporary expediency only. True economy is subserved by housing all federal employees in buildings belonging to the government, and the senate bill is a move in the right direction.

Bimetallism in England.

WASHINGTON, April 11.--A leading senator is authority for the statement that Secretary Foster did talk, on the money question while in Europe for his health, recently, and that he talked considerably. He says that Mr. Goschen, the British chancellor of the exchequer, favors "the full rehabilitation of silver." In Mr. Foster's opinion bimetallism is growing in England, everywhere except in Lombard st., London. Lombard st., of course, is for the single gold standard. Nevertheless, Mr. Foster met two directors of the Bank of England, who were bimetallists. The world will have to get back to the old gold and silver partnership yet--but free coinage of silver by this country is not the way to reach that desirable result.

Wasting Valuable Time.

WASHINGTON, April 11.--In view of the fact that time is rapidly passing away and there is literally nothing to show for it from congress, a correspondent of the New York Sun suggests the revival of the rule of the old Roman senate, which obliged every senator who introduced a new law to do so with a cord around his neck. If the law failed to pass, its sponsor was strangled. As a method of reducing the bulk of the Congressional Record and shortening the sessions of congress, and legislatures as well, this would certainly be effective.

Another Will Contest.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 10.--About twenty years ago Elder Jason G. Miller adopted, from a founding hospital in Chicago, a baby girl, and brought her to his home in this city. He died in California three months ago leaving an estate valued at $500,000, largely real estate in Lincoln. In the meantime the girl, against the wishes of her foster parents, married, becoming Mrs. E. O. Lewis. Elder Miller left a will bequeathing the larger part of his wealth to charity and nothing to the daughter. Mrs. Lewis now brings suit for half the estate.

Columbia River Celebration.

WASHINGTON, April 9.--The Charleston and Baltimore, now at San Francisco, have been ordered to proceed to Astoria, Or., to participate in the Columbia river Centennial celebration, May 12th. The Concord, now at Matanzas, has been ordered to proceed to Memphis, Tenn., to take part in the bridge celebration on the 12th inst.

Fourteen Lives Lost.

LONDON, April 8.--A dispatch from Hamburg states the loss of life by the sinking of the steamer Hansa, in collision with the steamer Falkenberg. The first report said seven of her crew had gone down with the sinking vessel. It now transpires that fourteen lives were lost. Some of the drowned were passengers.

Preferences for Harrison.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 7.--The republican state convention met at noon. Presidential preferences throughout favor Harrison.

There are thirty-eight sealers cruising in Behring sea today, and among them all the name of but one American vessel appears. The Belle.

MURDER IN MALHEUR.

Company F, O. N. G., Ordered to the Front from Baker City.

EXCITEMENT IS RUNNING HIGH.

Result of a Controversy Between Democrats at the Primaries.

SHERIFF FELL DOING ALL HE CAN.

Lynching Certain Unless the Militia can Prevent it by Reaching Vale in Time.

BAKER CITY, April 11.--Company F, O. N. G., are on the way to the scene of the murder in Malheur county, and it is expected will reach Vale in time to prevent the lynching of the prisoners in custody of Sheriff Fell at that place. These are John and William Bailey, and Lee Mullen, murderers of William Humbert, April 5th, while on his way home from the democratic primaries held at a little school house on Bully creek flat that day. He was shot and killed in the road, about a half mile from his residence on Dry creek, between Vale and Westfall. They had all been attending the primaries, and during the evening Humbert and John Bailey had a quarrel about voting. Afterwards Bailey was around the polls with his arm cut, claiming that it was done by Humbert. Humbert left for home in the evening and had come to the hill within sight of his home when John Bailey, his brother William, and a young man, Lee Mullen, who was hired by the Bailey boys, overtook him. The Baileys opened fire at close range, so close that their victim was powder burned. Humbert was unarmed. He was shot four times through the back and fell dead from his horse. The Bailey brothers were arrested that evening, and are now in jail at Vale. Talk of lynching induced Sheriff Fell to put a strong guard in the jail. Nothing was done, however. At the coroner's inquest, the jury found the killing had been done by the Bailey brothers. Humbert's little daughter saw the shooting and ran to her father, but when she reached him he was dead. Excitement runs high in that section and strong threats of lynching are indulged in by the cowboys. Sheriff Fell is doing all in his power to protect the prisoners and petitioned Gov. Penney to detail company F, at once. If the cowboys, who are now organized, do not carry their threats into execution before the militia arrives the murderers will be escorted to the city for safe keeping.

A Cow Killer.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 10.--The storm which prevailed for two weeks on the Eastern Montana ranges was disastrous to cows and young calves. The wool-growers were more fortunate than the cattlemen, and have been able to keep the flocks sheltered, but they met with some loss, notwithstanding. The stock in other parts of the state is in excellent condition, and with a loss comparatively light. The drive from the south will be large.

Portland Live Stock Market.

PORTLAND, April 11.--The following prices of live stock in this market are furnished by A. Fargher & Co.: Cal. steers, average 1,150 to 1,250 lbs., $4.00 @ $4.15; Grass fed steers, average 1,000 to 1,200 lbs., $3.75 @ $4.00; Grass fed cows, average 900 to 1,100 lbs., $3.00 @ $3.80; Hogs, block, average 125 to 200 lbs., $5.00 @ $5.25; Stock, average 80 to 125 lbs., $5.75 @ $6.00; Grass fed sheep, average 80 to 95 lbs., $4.75 @ $4.90; ditto, average 100 to 110 lbs., $5.00 @ $5.10; Grass fed sheep, Eastern Oregon, average 95 to 110 lbs., $5.00 @ $5.10. The market is strong, for good stock.

Will Celebrate May 12th.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 10.--This morning at 10 o'clock, iron beams closed up the gap in the new cantilever bridge at this place and the states of Arkansas and Texas were joined. The bridge cost $6,000,000 and including the trestle work is about three miles long. The event will be duly celebrated May 12th, on completion of the structure.

Dr. Slade's Suit.

JACKSON, Mich., April 11.--Recently Dr. Henry Slade, the spiritualist medium, brought suit against the Cincinnati Enquirer, the Detroit Times and two well-known persons in this city for criminal libel for the statement made that he was a woman. Dr. Slade retained Wilson & Cobb as his attorneys, and the case against the Times has been set for trial in May.

Astorian. Astoria, which by reason of her location enjoys the power of speaking for the cities and towns on the Columbia river, thanks Uncle Sam for the lights that will soon be placed near the jetty. The Columbia river will testify by her presence the care which the general government bestows on the great waterway which extends from here to the Canadian line. The Pacific Northwest is justly proud of the great river which mariners can henceforth enter safely in foggy weather, guided by the rays from the illuminated ship.

Agent Lucky's Experience With the U. P.

THE DALLES, April 8.

Editor Chronicle:

To illustrate the utter smallness and meanness of the corporation known as Union Pacific railway company, permit me to relate a little experience I have lately had with that company. Last fall I went down to the Portland exposition on an excursion ticket purchased from the company. The ticket was good for four days and finding I had to visit Eugene before returning home I went to Agent Hurlburt in Portland and asked him what disposition I could make of my return ticket. He informed me that if I should run two days over the time allowed by the ticket for return, it would cost me 80 cents a day and that I should in that case have to pay $2 for a one way ticket from Portland to The Dalles instead of the regular fare. On the morning of my return (it was Sunday) I called at Mr. Hurlburt's office and was informed by a man who was sweeping out the office that the agent would not be there until 9 o'clock. As the train left there at 7 I was obliged to leave without getting a ticket and, of course, the conductor obliged me to pay the full fare on the train. I applied to Mr. Hurlburt through The Dalles agent, for a refund of $1.55, the amount overpaid through no fault of mine, and was informed that in order to get it I must buy a ticket from the company the first time I am going to Portland, when the amount would be allowed, and not otherwise. Now the mere amount involved is no consideration. It is the principle of the thing. The company owes me a sum of money, acknowledges by letters in my possession that they owe it, but refuse to pay it unless as a rebate on another ticket. Happily they cannot force me to travel by their road as I never do and will not travel a mile on the Union Pacific or ship a pound of goods over their line when I can help it. The Regulator is good enough for me and I thank God on my own behalf and on behalf of the people of Northeastern Oregon for a line of transportation that saved us from being at the mercy of the Union Pacific, and while I am in the business, I thank the CHRONICLE for the noble stand it takes in defense of the people's rights. May its shadow never grow less.

Concerning an Arbitrary Rule.

THE DALLES, April 9th.

Editor Chronicle:

My little girl, ten years old, who has to travel to school in storm and sunshine, in dust and mud, every day, a distance of four miles, going and coming, has been expelled for being absent four half days, unexcused. I went to the principal to explain the matter, and he sent me to one of the directors, and that director sent me to another director, and this last one I cannot find anywhere, after having spent half a day in the effort, a time that I can ill afford to spare from my work.

The rule by which my girl was expelled may be all right for a boy, who plays truant or absents himself to engage in a game of hooky, but for a girl who is present in school every hour it is possible for her to be, it works a hardship, both upon the child and its parents. My opinion is that we, in the extreme east of the city, have a right to demand that we be given a school to ourselves, and not crowd all the schools together, as they are now.

C. WYSS.

The CHRONICLE repeats its warning to Boss Moody, that if he desires the success of the republican ticket, he must put a muzzle on the man whom he has hired to run the Times-Mountaineer in his interest, or else curtail his supply of liquid refreshments.

Marshall, Brunswick House, S. F.; Geo. A. Werner, 531 California St., S. F.; Mrs. C. Melvin, 236 Kearny St., S. F., and many others who have found relief from constipation and sick headaches. G. W. Vincent, of 6 Terence Court, S. F. writes: "I am 60 years of age and have been troubled with constipation for 25 years. I was recently induced to try Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. I recognized in it at once an herb that the Mexicans used to give us in the early 50's for bowel troubles. (I came to California in 1830), and I knew it would help me and it has. For the first time in years I can sleep well and my system is regular and in splendid condition. The old Mexican herbs in this remedy are a certain cure in constipation and bowel troubles." Ask for
