

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, OREGON. FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1892.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Monday. Dr. L. Vanderpool of Dufur, is in the city.

M. J. Anderson of Dufur, was in town yesterday.

Walter J. Haight of Bake Oven, is at the Umatilla house.

Captain McNulty made his first trip today as Master of the Regulator.

License to wed has been issued to J. W. Morton and Pearl Groshong, of Hood River.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey, of Albina, are visiting Mrs. Harvey's mother, Mrs. Mary Knebel of Mill creek.

The street banner of the McKinley club, once more floats from its fastenings on Second street.

A Meeting of Mount Hood company No. 4, will be held tomorrow night at the hose house on Ninth street.

John J. Daly and servant, and John Judge wife and daughter, of Salt Lake City, were passengers on the Regulator this morning.

One of the jokes of the season was Pease & Mays "Crushed straw hats," according to the printer. Crushes and straw hats is the feature today.

Andrew Howie and Samuel Johnson, two subjects of the queen of Great Britain today declared their intention to become citizens of the United States.

Shad are selling in Walla Walla which were caught in Snake river where they are said to be abundant. Half a million of them were planted in that river some years ago by the United States government.

Mrs. Mary Knebel of Mill creek has a freak of nature in the form of a young turkey whose legs are shortened by the lack of the lower joints and one foot is turned forward and the other backward.

Theo. Cartright is doing a fine thing for the farmers of Wasco and Sherman counties this year, by furnishing them with the patent scythe grinder. One of his patrons has saved the price of the machine by grinding a lot of discarded Oliver chilled iron plow points.

A letter to Col. Sinnott from one of his sons, attending college at Notre Dame, gives an account of how the Ann Arbor college boys swooped down upon the Notre Dame boys to take all the honors in a game of base ball, and how the Ann Arbor boys didn't get the honors, nor the game, both of which were retained by the Indiana college boys.

Sunday in The Dalles always brings out a large delegation of promenaders. Yesterday the streets of the city, altho' closed to all business except such as the passing trains afford, were exceptionally enlivened by the number of visitors and citizens who were availing themselves of the pleasure of driving or walking in the beautiful sunshine.

Fish! Salmon! You should take a look into the rapids of the dalles of the Columbia on Sunday, if you want to feast your eyes on salmon. The wheels, traps, etc., were of course not operating yesterday, but visitors to the dalles could not enumerate the mass of splendid salmon in the channels just waiting for the hour to come when they could swim in and be caught. It would be a low estimate to say that thousands were in eight. Indians, across the dalles, were landing them with the agility of George Francis Train.

From the Daily Chronicle, Tuesday. Mrs. J. H. Cradlebaugh of Hood River, came up on the afternoon passenger today.

Mrs. Nellie St. John nee Lusher of Tacoma is visiting her sister Mrs. Alex McLeod of this city.

Miss Maud French, daughter of Mr. D. M. French returned yesterday morning from a trip to Boston.

H. E. Moore of Nansene, democratic candidate for representative of Wasco and Sherman counties, is in the city.

C. M. Hinkle and I. H. Mosher of Silverton, came up on the Regulator last night and left this morning for Prineville.

The cruiser Baltimore is expected in Astoria tomorrow, where she will take part in the Columbia river centennial celebration, May 7th.

W. B. Thompson from Illinois, has purchased the farm of J. R. Ranken, of Hood River, which is part of the old James Benson donation land claim.

The engineer of this think factory acknowledges the courtesy of a fresh supply of concentrated brain food in the form of a handsome salmon from Messrs. Cram and Phillips.

George Anderson and his nieces Misses Minnie and Nettie Anderson who have been visiting friends in Illinois since shortly after The Dalles fire, arrived at Portland last night and telegraphed from there this forenoon that they will be home tonight. If "Pete's" letters can be relied on he will need some one to introduce him when he gets back. Yoma Marsh had a letter from him that said he weighed 175 pounds and Judge Thornbury had one later that said he had grown as big as Tom Joles.

Joles Brothers have commenced to erect a new residence building on the vacant lot east of the Joles' residence. Is it possible that Tom is going to get married, and that this is the nest for the new bird?

W. B. Perry of Hood River, is in the city. Mr. Perry, in company with his old partner Mr. Jones, has contracted for shipping the greater portion of the berry crop of the Hood River country this season. The firm expects to commence the shipment of strawberries by the end of the present week.

William McCrum was agreeably surprised the other day by a visit from the east, of a nephew, a fine young man just come of age, and bearing the full name of his uncle, for whom he was called. The young man has come to stay and no one welcomes him so heartily as his uncle who swears that William McCrum jr., is a better man than his uncle ever was.

Otis Savage and Frank and Julius Klein left this morning at 5 o'clock for a six month's trip to California and Mexico. They go overland and are fully equipped with a fine camping outfit, three good stout horses and a strong pack horse, blankets, grub, cooking utensils, rifles, pistols, etc., and are in every way fixed to enjoy themselves. They go by way of Canyon City.

Robert Kelly and E. L. Boynton of Kingsley, came up on the Regulator last night bringing with them a black 4-year-old Percheron colt that tips the beam at 2,140 and stands 17 hands high. The horse was bought by Mr. Kelly from a well known firm of eastern importers and makes the season in the Kingsley neighborhood. Good judges pronounce him one of the finest, if not the very finest stallion ever imported into Eastern Oregon.

George Rowland vouches for the truth of the following story of a brick fine and a lost stove lid. The fine in question was built by Henry Whitmore in Mr. Rowland's new house and is probably not a whit better than hundreds of others that now stand in The Dalles as a monument to Mr. Whitmore's skill. Some time after the cook stove was set in place one of the lids was lost and all efforts to find it were unavailing till one day George had occasion to take down the stove pipe when he was surprised to find the lost lid tightly wedged in the pipe where it had been sucked up by the draught in the flue!

Hampton Kelly, of Wapinitia noticed last year a tuft of strange looking grass growing in his orchard. The marked peculiarity of it was that it kept green all summer and all winter, maintaining its greenness after it had gone to seed. The bunch has now spread until it is about three feet in diameter, and the seed blown off last year has sprouted and is growing vigorously. The old grass stands about eighteen inches high. Some of it was cut in February and given to cattle and it was eaten ravenously. No one who has ever seen it knows what kind of grass it is, but Mr. Kelly has bright hopes that it may yet be found to fill the long felt want of Eastern Oregon for a grass that will stand the summer drought. Mr. Kelly says he would not take $500 for what he has of it.

Col. T. S. Lang read a most interesting paper last night to a small but highly appreciative audience on the subject of irrigation, as it relates, more especially to the Eastern Oregon and to our own county. For nearly eight months the Colonel has been collecting data to be submitted to congress by Senator Dolph, showing what it is possible to accomplish in the way of irrigation in Eastern Oregon by a reasonable appropriation judiciously expended. The paper read last night was illustrated by a large chart which indicated all the elevations and depressions in the surface of the Eastern Oregon section with all the available sources of supply for irrigating purposes. The Colonel called especial attention to the immense body of fine agricultural land that might easily be transformed into a paradise for farmers by tapping that fine body of water known as Clear lake in this county.

From the Daily Chronicle, Wednesday. John D. Whitten of Kingsley was in town last night.

Chas. G. Roberts of Hood River, was in town today.

There were slight spots of frost on the hills above town last night. The mercury ran down to 38.

J. C. Baldwin was engaged today in packing up his stock of merchandise for removal to Tekoa, Washington.

W. T. Wright, one of the solid farmers of the Nansene country, gave THE CHRONICLE a pleasant call today.

Reports from Southern Oregon are to the effect that frosts have done more damage to fruit in that section than in Eastern Oregon.

Ex-Senator Warner Miller, of New York, president of the Nicaragua canal construction company, arrived in Portland yesterday.

Amos Root of Mosier was in the city today. Mr. Root reports that no injury has been done to fruit in the Mosier country by the late frosts, and none is likely to be done now.

The Dalles Land and Improvement company set out this season 1,000 Italian prune trees on ten acres of their land in the Thompson addition. The trees are growing nicely.

H. H. Campbell has sold his express outfit to R. E. Teague, and not to Joles Brothers as is commonly reported. Joles Brothers claim they have two express wagons more than they need.

From Mr. C. G. Roberts of Hood River, we learn that only the most tender varieties of peaches have been injured by the late frost and that an abundant fruit crop is assured in that section.

A good crop of alfalfa hay was cut in the Yakima valley last month, the alfalfa being 25 inches high and in bud. Haying in the middle of April is something which does not occur in many other states in the Union.

The recorder's office was enriched this morning by the fines of four drunks who were taken prisoner last night. Another prisoner, booked as a vagrant, denied the charge and will have a hearing this afternoon at 4 p. m.

Major Ingalls is slowly recovering from the accident he lately met with by being thrown from a fractious horse. His head still pains him severely and, he was able to walk as far as the Court house today, though still lame from his wound on the knee.

C. P. Heald of Hood River, member of the state board of Horticultural was in the city today. Mr. Heald informs us that J. R. Cardwell, president of the board, will visit this section of country, to inspect the fruit trees, in the near future.

At the municipal election in Oregon City 196 votes were cast. The Australian ballot was used, but the nominees of one party only were on the ticket, and the others had to be written in. Those upon the ticket were nominated by electors at the last moment. Subsequently a republican convention was called, but upon its organization a motion was passed allowing all parties to participate. A ticket was placed in nomination, and those who voted for the persons then nominated had to write the names on the tickets.

From the Daily Chronicle, Thursday. C. S. Miller of Miller's Bridge, was in town today.

C. J. Van Duyn and John Hollingshead are in the city.

J. M. Roth and Ezra Henson of Kingsley, were in town last night.

Mr. Geo. Herbert of Hood River, came up on the one o'clock passenger today.

County Commissioners H. A. Leavens and Frank Kincaid are attending county court.

Rev. A. Maxey of Portland, will preach in the M. E. church tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Congregational prayer meeting will be held this (Thursday) evening at Mrs. Donnell's.

The county court got through with its business this afternoon. Its proceedings will be published tomorrow.

Elder J. W. Jenkins will preach tonight at the protracted meeting now being held in the court house.

Blakely & Houghton tapped their pure fruit syrups soda fountain today, and now they invite their old patrons to drop in and enjoy the luxury of the finest cream soda.

G. B. Lansing, a practical hatter has lately come to The Dalles, and intends to make this city his future residence, and enter upon the manufacture and renovating of hats.

Elmer Williams lost a valuable roadster this morning, in Union street cut. The animal stepped on a stone which threw its hip out of joint, and very soon afterwards died of lockjaw.

The ladies of the Good Intent society are making arrangements for a moonlight excursion on the Steamer Regulator, on the 13th of this month instead of the 7th as before agreed upon.

While in town the other day, Mr. Perry of Hood River, claimed that he fully expected that the strawberry crop of that section this year, would bring the producers not far from $25,000.

R. C. Fleck & Co., is the new sign to be hung up at No. 80, Second street, where two of The Dalles' worthy young men, Clark Fleck and Dell Cheseman, may be found dealing in confections, fruit, etc. Give them a call.

Southworth & Co., are fitting up in great shape for a drive to Nebraska with a lot of Oregon sheep. They have several wagons in the outfit, and quite a number of men. The sheep are purchased in the vicinity of Bake Oven, and other points.

What is it? is the universal interrogation with all who stop to admire the show window of Snipes & Kineraly's. The curiosity represents some kind of an animal, Diogenes like hunting for a man who sells better paint than Snipes & Kineraly do.

The weather review of Lieut. John P. Finely, officer in charge at San Francisco, shows that for the month past the temperature has been below the normal throughout the Pacific slope and plateau regions, except along the extreme southern border of California and Arizona, where the excess of temperature was only about one degree. In spite of the favorable conditions for precipitation the amount has been insufficient for vegetation in the southern portion of the San Joaquin valley, and in places along the coast from Monterey southward, to San Diego. The temperatures have been abnormally low and unfavorable to crops quite generally throughout the Pacific slope.

Mr. John Schenck left at this office, today a crab apple blossom which measures four and a half inches in diameter. It was plucked off a tree in his lawn, the fruit of which, when matured, is nearly as large as a hen's egg. The blossom is perfectly white and has a delicately pleasant smell. A leaf from the tree measures four and a half inches by five.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Young of Bake Oven, paid the CHRONICLE a pleasant visit today. Mr. Young says lambing is about through and the percentage of increase has been everywhere quite large. His, in a flock of nearly 4,000 ewes, averaged 97 per cent. Shearing will commence about Bake Oven in a short time and the quality of the wool will be the finest ever before raised in that country. Sheep are everywhere in fine condition.

The school law requires that "teachers and directors shall not allow children to attend school from a house where there is any contagious disease." Remember this, says the Klickitat Star, when you catch the measles, and don't come to pay your subscription until a little while after you are able to sit up and drink hot gruel. An editor never realizes how little he cares for $2.50 until a man with the measles comes to pay up.

E. Jacobsen attempted today to move a thousand pound safe from off its stand in order to place it in another corner of his store. Having built an incline with some inch boards he pried the safe from its position with a crowbar and, having got it to the teetering point, he stepped in front to ease it down. This was the opportunity the safe had been looking for and the moment Mr. Jacobsen got it to start down the incline the safe made a dash for his legs and threw him prone on the floor with the crowbar across one of his shins. Beyond the losing of a few square inches of cuticle Mr. Jacobsen is all right but it is a mercy that some of his bones were not broken. As it is, it is believed the experience has cured him of trying to move a thousand pound safe without help.

The box will be opened at 7:30 p. m. on the evening of May 13, and a general discussion entered into on the different subjects presented. Plenty of music will be on hand and the features of the evening will be among the most interesting parts of the programme.

The German Gesang Verein Annual Picnic.

The annual May Picnic of the German Gesang Verein Harmonie will be held next Sunday near Mosier landing. A hearty invitation is extended to all the good people of The Dalles and vicinity. The Regulator will make two trips to the picnic grounds, the first leaving The Dalles at 7 a. m. and the second at 9:30. On the return trips the boat will leave Mosier at 3:30 and 6 p. m. Tickets at $1.00 each for adults and 50 cents for children aged between eight and fourteen, under eight free, can be had from any member of the society or at the boat landing on Sunday morning. No persons of bad repute will be allowed on the boat or on the picnic grounds. Officers of the law will be present to enforce this order. 5-5-8td.

May day witnessed no material trouble across the Atlantic. Preparations to prevent, prevented.

It is said that the Civil Service Commission will make special efforts this year to prevent the collection of money from Federal officers and employes for political purposes; and that it will have the hearty sympathy and co-operation of President Harrison in the matter.

MARRIED.

At the Catholic church in this city yesterday, Ebel W. Clarno to F. M. Malone, both of Antelope.

This morning, at the Catholic church in this city, by Rev. Father Brousegeest, George Nowak of The Dalles to Katie Knebel of Mill creek. The CHRONICLE wishes them many happy days.

BORN.

On Eight-mile, Saturday morning, April 30th, to the wife of Harry Mabour, a daughter. Mother and child doing well. The CHRONICLE extends hearty congratulations.

On Sunday, the 24th inst., at Fairfield, to the wife of D. L. Bolton, a ten pound boy. Mother and child doing well.

At Santa Rosa, Calif., May 1st, to the wife of Alonzo C. Stevens, a son.

A Persistent Dog Beggar.

One of the most persistent beggars in Portland, Me., is a collie dog which is very fond of doughnuts. The collie, in company with his mistress, visited a bakery one day last fall, and perceiving some doughnuts in a showcase he sat down and pleaded, by means of short, sharp barks, for a treat. The clerk generously fed the smart dog, but he wishes that he hadn't, for every day since the collie has appeared to beg for more doughnuts. If the shop door is closed he will wait outside until some one opens it, and then dodge in to get his regular free lunch.—Portland Letter.

The owl is unable to move the eyeball, which is immovably fixed in the socket by a strong, elastic, cartilaginous case.
