

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, OREGON

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Tuesday. Editor Duthitt of the Ochoa Review gave this office a pleasant call today.

The sprinkler wagon is now one of the indispensable luxuries of The Dalles.

Hop. F. P. Mays paid a flying visit to the city Sunday, returning to Portland by the evening passenger.

A new stem has been put on the Regulator and two ship carpenters from Portland are taking advantage of the tie up to make other improvements.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Thompson of Los Angeles, arrived in the city Sunday night, on their way to Colfax, Washington, and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Thompson.

W. C. Gilbert of Chillicothe, Ohio, arrived here Sunday on a visit to his friends. Mr. Gilbert may possibly conclude to remain here.

The Vindicator informs us that T. B. Merry, the well-known sport, has been adjudged insane, and sent to the asylum. His insanity is caused by too much whisky, and his cure will not be easy. He is but going the way several other bright men of Oregon have gone and in a few years more.

As a specimen of what people have to pay for freight when the boat is interrupted, we observed two bills today paid by Chrisman & Corson. One was to the railway company of $6.20, for 1,380 pounds of soap. The other was for 1,425 pounds, by boat, at $2.15. Truly, such comparison is odious.

Major G. W. Ingalls has secured here a dozen boxes of Clark's seedling strawberries which he intends to preserve and constitute the nucleus of a fruit exhibit from Eastern Oregon for the world's fair. The berries were grown by Hans Klint of Mill creek, within the city limits. They are just as fine as ever mortal eye gazed on.

Mr. W. D. Richards has contributed a bunch of rye to THE CHRONICLE museum, which measures 6 feet 10 inches. Nicely heading. It grew on his hill farm eight miles from the city, and he has 5 1/2 acres, all of it equal to the sample. He will cut the crop for hay, and says it is equal to alfalfa for cattle.

From C. R. Bone of Hood River, who is a juror at the present term of circuit court, THE CHRONICLE learns that Cloud Cup Inn will be run this year by Will Langille, who had charge of it last year. Will made a trip to the inn about ten days ago and found the snow still quite deep. He expects the hotel will be ready for guests by the first of July, at the latest.

A grand picnic will be held at Willow Grove on W. H. William's farm, on Eight Mile, June 4th, prox—two days before the coming election. The picnic is not partisan in any sense, but is intended as a grand rendezvous of all parties, one party being as welcome as any other. Speaking and singing are expected to be the order of the day. Come one and all, bring your baskets and have a bully good time.

Twenty-seven acres of ground, immediately back of the Mosier depot has been laid off for a town site. It comprises seventeen blocks with some fractional blocks, in lots 50x100 feet each. The Holmes Mercantile Co., are now constructing a building for the accommodation of a general merchandise store. A fruit dryer will be erected by the same company in time to handle the present season's fruit. The Holmes company expect to be ready for business by the first of June.

Human nature is not always ungrateful of favors received. Over thirty years ago Jos. B. Blumendale, a lad under age, rented a little store of Handley & Sinnott, which was run as a cigar store. Blumendale drifted away from the city and was forgotten. But Blumendale did not forget. Seeing the report of the big fire and reflecting that, possibly, his old patrons might need assistance, he wrote a letter last week to Handley & Sinnott, telling them that he was in business in New York city; that he had in his employ 1,500 men and did a business of "many millions a year," and added that if the Colonel wanted a job of work he might call on him and be assured of fair treatment and good wages. The Colonel has taken the matter under advisement.

Mr. J. O. Mack has handed this office the premium list for the Fourth Annual Exhibition of the Second Oregon District Agricultural association, embracing the counties of Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, Crook, Morrow and Umatilla. It will be remembered that the state contributes $1,500, every cent of which is given in premiums. The management have distributed the premiums so as to leave them open to the widest possible competition. The fair, too, has been fixed for a time when the throng of harvest work is ordinarily over and everything possible has been done to make it satisfactory to the agriculturists and stockmen of the district. The arrangements made for the present year ought to insure a large attendance and a large exhibit from the parties whom the fair is specially intended to benefit.

From the Daily Chronicle, Wednesday. J. W. Russel, a prominent wool buyer of Portland, is at the European hotel.

Joseph Lilly, of Dufur, and Jasper Enslly, of Kingsley, are at the Columbia hotel.

J. C. Brogan, Albert Klein and Frank Kincaid, of Antelope, are at the Umatilla house.

And now a furniture genius has designed a folding-bed which when not in use resembles an upright piano.

Smith Brothers of Sherar's Bridge, sold their clip of 40,000 pounds of wool yesterday at 14 1/2 cents per pound.

Charley Hall caught the largest salmon of the season yesterday, weight 79 1/2 pounds. The run was exceedingly good, his catch being over eleven tons. Mr. Davis caught over seven ton, his son catching over 1,000 pounds with a dip net. We have no report from other wheels along the river, but presume some of them did equally as well.

From C. R. Dehm, who arrived in the city this morning from Raparia, we learn that Snake river has been rising rapidly for the last few days and the present rise in the Columbia is attributable to this cause. Mr. Dehm looks for high water in the Columbia should the weather prove to have been as warm in the regions of its northern tributaries as it has been for the past few days in the Snake river country.

The Mosier country is settling up rapidly and well it may. It seems to have only been discovered recently. The writer has long thought that it has no superior as a fruit country in Eastern Oregon. Thousands of acres of excellent fruit lands are still lying outdoors awaiting settlers. A visit to Mosier at this particular season will convince any one that THE CHRONICLE'S opinion about it is not over estimated. Thirteen new families have already settled there this spring, and more are coming every day or two. A boom has undoubtedly struck the place and it is one that will last.

The excavation for the basement story of a new Baptist church, on the old stand, has been completed and work will commence in a few days. The plans have been completed for a new and handsome residence for Judge Condon on the old lot on Third street.

The contract has been let for a new $2,000 residence for Mr. Wiggerman on his old lot on Fourth near Union. On the bluff Mr. G. W. Johnston is building a handsome cottage for himself on Alvord avenue. On the same street and opposite the Beezely residence, L. E. Crowe has started to build a nice cottage for himself. Mrs. Grey has a large double tenement house under way on the corner of Fourth and Court streets. Two fine two story houses have just been completed for Mrs. Kiss and another similar one for Mrs. Davis on Fourth street. A handsome one story cottage has just been completed for J. P. McInerney on the old Ben Kortan lot corner of Third and Pentland. William Michell has a very handsome two story and basement residence in course of construction, at the old stand, corner of Washington and Third. The Congregational church, on the old lot, bids fair to be another ornament to the town. Thus the town is being rapidly built up and all the new houses are handsomer than those that were burned down.

From the Daily Chronicle, Thursday. They have come, they are going, rapidly. Those mowers and reapers at Filloons. The Sacramento river threatens to beat the record for a damaging freshet this season. Congregational church prayer meeting this (Thursday) evening at the residence of the pastor, W. C. Curtis. While at Hood River Judge Thornbury saw one hundred crates of strawberries on the platform awaiting shipment. There are no cases of diptheria now in the city since the death of Mr. Blank's second child and under the strict precautionary measures that have been adopted hopes are entertained that the disease will spread no further.

All are invited to hear the free lecture at the M. E. church tonight. Subject, "India, its people, customs and habits," illustrated by a trunk full of relics etc. Rev. W. Bowser, the lecturer, has spent seven years in India, and will be dressed in Indian garb, and will sing a song in Hindoo language.

John C. Sheehan, of New York, whose name is connected with the Astoria and Portland railway, is from Buffalo, and is so well known to Mr. Linus Hubbard of this city, that the latter threw up his hat with a hurrah, when he heard of it. Mr. Hubbard rejoices exceedingly whenever a man of push discovers Oregon, particularly The Dalles and Astoria.

Judge Thornbury went down to Hood River Tuesday, at the request of citizens of that precinct, to examine the old bridge that crosses Hood river at Tucker's mills. As a result he found the stringers absolutely rotten and the bridge dangerous, the wonder being that it has not broken down long ago. There was no other course but to condemn it. It will however be braced up temporarily to accommodate farmers while getting their berries to market and a bridge will be put in as soon as convenient. The bridge is nearly 100 feet span but it ought to be built cheaply as Tucker's saw mill is immediately beside it.

Is it not about time that the twaddle about Ellis being a nominee of the Portland ring was stopped? Two or three irresponsible sheets have been repeating the charge at regular intervals like pied parrots but have never attempted to give the smallest scintilla of proof. The burden of proof rests on those who make the charge. Gentlemen will you prove your statements or shut up? You cannot prove them and you know it.

The marriage of Mr. J. C. Crandall and Mrs. Lulu Sampson of this city was celebrated yesterday evening at St. Paul's Episcopal church, by the Rev. E. D. Sutcliffe. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion and numerous friends of the happy couple were present to witness the wedding ceremony. The party then adjourned to Mr. Crandall's residence on the Bluff where between twenty and thirty guests sat down to a magnificent supper. Here a number of telegrams from friends of Mr. and Mrs. Crandall were received, extending warm congratulations. The dining room and parlor of the Crandall residence were fairly embowered with magnificent bunches of roses, the tribute of friends in this city. The Dalles city band arrived about ten o'clock and played a number of choice selections. The party broke up a little before midnight after wishing the newly married couple many happy days.

A Reading Locomotive. BUFFALO, May 26.—The Reading announces a new record for engine No. 618, which hauled the Royal blue line train last Saturday over the 85 miles between Wayne junction and Jersey city in 87 minutes, and from Wayne junction to Bound brook, 55 miles, in 53 minutes. The engine is a new compound locomotive of a type which is breaking records right along.

The Naughty Reading. HARRISBURG, Pa., May 25.—Attorney-Gen. Hensel will go before Judge McPherson today and ask for the appointment of a master or examiner to take testimony in the case of the Commonwealth against the Reading company.

Bomb Miscreants Work. SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—An investigation reveals a clue to the perpetrators of a diabolism in San Diego night before last, and arrests will be made for blowing up a non-union blacksmith shop with dynamite. The shop was on a principal street and owned by a man named George Schmidt, who advertised to conduct the shop independently of the blacksmiths' union, which had expressed the determination to do him up, and it is the general belief that the explosion was in direct execution of that threat. The building was completely wrecked, the roof being blown off and the sides blown out. A night mounted patrol had just hitched his horse in front of the building and moved a little way off, and the horse narrowly escaped being struck by the flying timbers.

NEW TO-DAY.

TO THE PUBLIC.—It having come to our knowledge that a party in The Dalles in selling lime has made the assertion that he charges more for other brands than the "Oregon" because they are better, thereby implying that the "Oregon" is an inferior article, we desire to state that the "Oregon" is the strongest lime on the market; that it will work more plastic and leave the work when set stronger and firmer than any other lime at present manufactured in either Oregon or Washington. Wm. Butler & Co., Agents at The Dalles for the "Oregon" line, are instructed to furnish, free of charge, any and all Oregon lime, which does not fully come up to the stipulations above set forth. The object of this notice is solely to defend our goods against the false imputations and statements of any person whatsoever. The Or. Marble and Lime Company, by T. F. OSBORN, General Agt. 5-24dwlm

The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Nav. Co.

SCHEDULE. Until further notice the Regulator will make trips to the Cascades and return on Thursdays and Sundays, leaving The Dalles at 7 a. m. Excursion rates, 50 cents for the round trip. 5-23tf

NOTICE.—I have appointed Mr. C. W. Dietzel my agent, to collect all notes and accounts due and owing to me. All those indebted to me will please settle with him. MRS. M. J. WINGATE. The Dalles, Or., May 24, 1892. 5-24dwlm
