

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, OREGON LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Monday.

Mr. S. G. Rigdon, of Russell & Co., Portland, has been in this vicinity for several days.

Some pretty little lambs, which were too weak to keep up with the procession in a 12,000 band of sheep taken out of Oregon yesterday, were distributed amongst good little boys and girls of The Dalles yesterday.

Dr. L. Vanderpool, of Dufur, passed through the city today on his way to answer a summons as a witness in the United States court on the celebrated wagon road case.

There will be a meeting of the Alumni Association of the Wasco Independent Academy tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Geo. Ruch.

The Sunday schools of Three Mile and Fairview had a joint meeting yesterday and enjoyed some excellent singing.

At Lyle, a promising little community below The Dalles, on the Washington side of the Columbia, the good people met together Saturday evening and enjoyed a very successful rendition of The Mikado, by local talent.

Capt. McNulty reports that in all his experience on the middle Columbia river he never met with a stronger wind than blew yesterday when he made a landing at Mosier.

Young Johnny Stirling, the telegraph messenger boy, was badly hurt this morning by being thrown from Mr. Booth's delivery wagon and run over by a horse.

The air is full of rumors of new discoveries of gold. It is said that eighteen claims have been filed near the mouth of Wood gulch and that Mose Claussen and Elmer Hadley have discovered a quartz ledge on Rock creek, on the McCann place.

The ferry was kept busy all day yesterday ferrying a band of 12,000 mutton sheep across the Columbia at this point, for the markets of Puget sound and British Columbia.

Although the ballots in use today are nearly as long as the law which makes their use necessary, but little difficulty was experienced in getting them into the boxes.

The accidental drowning at Celilo, of Mr. A. Byers, was more than usually sad. His wife is overcome with grief, and no event can occur to alleviate the burdens of her sorrow more than the restoration of the body for Christian burial.

Recently, upon an order from Mrs. Sippott, Senfert Bros. shipped a couple of Royal Chinook Salmon to her sons, in college at Notre Dame, Indiana.

THE CHRONICLE dispatches speak of the magnitude of the telegraphing work in Minneapolis today incident to the convention, and estimate that an operator has to handle 2,500 a day to get through the stack.

A. J. Dufur, jr., of Dufur is running a cheese factory on his ranch on Fifteen mile. He turns out two cheeses a day that weigh about 20 pounds each.

Tygh Valley has been an important trading point for many years. H. Staley started a store there about 15 years ago which, after changing hands several times, at last became the property of the present owners, Van Duyn & Hollingshead.

From the Daily Chronicle, Wednesday. Sunshine and showers, and a midnight hail storm, followed the election here.

When you make war on the gophers and squirrels bury them in the orchard. They are great fertilizers.

Moro has won the victory for the county seat in Sherman county by a majority of over 100 votes.

There was a big run of salmon last night. Sam Thurman caught 650 pounds in his famous tin cruiser at the mouth of Three mile.

Instead of winking out, the Astoria Herald puts in its appearance now in the morning daily, and with despatches almost as good as THE CHRONICLE.

The vote in The Dalles Monday was within about forty of being equal to the days when the vote of the shops was a factor in the population of the city.

Engineer George Brown received information Monday of the sudden death of his father at Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Brown went down on the morning passenger yesterday.

Labor day, Sunday, and election day, all falling in a heap demoralized business so much that the next assembly will be asked to shove labor day a few notches further down on the calendar.

Major Ingalls brought to this office yesterday a head of lettuce which measures five feet and three inches in circumference and 51 inches in diameter. It was grown on the old Hill ranch on Mill creek.

Sheriff J. McLean of Sprague, Wash., was here yesterday and took back with him a man named John McGlynn who was arrested last Saturday at Tygh Valley, by Marshal Gibbons of this city, charged with the crime of forging a check for $300.

Grass Valley in Sherman county, is the center of a fine farming community and is rapidly becoming an important trading point. It has two large general merchandise stores; one owned by Moore & Rolling and the other by Scott & Co.

Portland is urged, by some parties interested in real estate perhaps, to resort to deep wells for her water supply. The Dalles will not object. The water here, from pure mountain streams, would then be a great source of attraction to Portland's emaciated and sickly people, in quest of a healthy locality in which to recuperate.

A. J. Dufur, jr., of Dufur is running a cheese factory on his ranch on Fifteen mile. He turns out two cheeses a day that weigh about 20 pounds each.

The Oregonian of today says: "The returns are still far from satisfactory, but enough is known to be almost certain who has been elected. Hermann's majority in the first district is already over 4000. Ellis in the second district will have close to 2,500 majority. Moore's majority for supreme judge is much less and will hardly exceed 1,500.

Dr. Hollister was pleasantly surprised a few days ago by discovering, between the leaves of an old medical book that used to belong to his father who was a physician, a satin badge of the stirring days of 1844 when Henry Clay was the idol of the people but could never reach the coveted goal of the presidency.

Here are the contents of one pocket of a six year old Dalles boy. They were taken out yesterday afternoon, in the presence of four persons who will verify this statement, if any one doubts: 12 marbles, 1 fish (slightly decomposed), 7 tobacco tags, 2 sticks, 1 brass hair ornament, 1 broken poker chip, 3 pebbles, 1 pant's buckle, 3 strings, 1 iron rod, 2 Sunday school papers, 1 envelope, 1 sheet of writing paper, 1 paste board card, 1 iron ring, 1 brass button, 1 handkerchief, 1 tin saw (made by himself), 1 leaf cooking receipts, 1 marble sack, 1 squirrel skin and 1 newspaper clipping.

Labor day, Sunday, and election day, all falling in a heap demoralized business so much that the next assembly will be asked to shove labor day a few notches further down on the calendar.

George Cochrane, a native scion of the "land o'cakes" is in the city.

U. Thornburn of Kingsley, a native clansman of the Scotch Highlands, was in the city last night.

Twenty-six persons; chiefly from the eastern states, accompanied Rev. O. D. Taylor this morning on the Regulator excursion to the cascades.

Allan Grant, a descendant of one of the heroes who fought with Robert the Bruce at the battle of Bannockburn, is at the Umatilla house.

The latent possibilities in ordinary Columbia river sand, under the benefits of irrigation, may be seen by looking at the crop of rye, wheat and oats now growing on the building said in front of the Prinz & Nitschke brick, on Second street, now in course of erection.

The Multnomah county election is a good deal like that of Wasco county; it is not satisfactory to either party. Tony Noltner gives notice in the Dispatch that he will have no more fellowship with citizens' movements but will make a straight fight, inside strict party lines, in the approaching city election.

Portland Dispatch: The new ballot system has been tried and found to work satisfactory to the great majority of honest voters, perhaps a few men have been deprived of voting through ignorance, but better than have men driven up to the polls like sheep and voted by a boss.

A gentleman stopped in Kingsley a few night ago, on his way to The Dalles, who had on his wagon 2,500 pounds of produce that he had hauled up the new Tygh hill grade with a span of horses. He allowed he could easily have hauled 500 pounds more. On the old grade an empty wagon was a good load.

Mr. John Argus, of Buffalo, and Dr. Cornell of Saginaw, left The Dalles this morning upon the return trip to their homes. Dr. Cornell goes via N. P. R., and will stop a few days in Montana. Mr. Argus goes via the S. P. R., and will visit California by the way. We look for them both to return to The Dalles in the course of human events.
