

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, - - - OREGON LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Friday. Judge Bennett has returned from a trip to the valley.

John Graham and wife of Sherman county, are in the city.

Mrs. M. J. Hensill of Lyle, came up on the Regulator last evening.

The river has fallen steadily since yesterday morning, at this point.

Another hydrant was attached to the water mains on Ninth street today.

Hartland, Goldendale and Hood River, have each decided to celebrate on the 4th of July.

Mr. Wm. Wigerman has commenced the erection of a fine two story residence on Fifth street.

Frank Bros., are about to establish a branch of their Portland employment house in The Dalles.

Scarcity of lumber is the cause of the delay in putting up the North Dalles' sash and door factory.

Two teams of four horses each, lumber laden, came into the city at noon today from a mill in Klickitat county.

Mr. Frank Parish left yesterday morning on the Regulator on a visit to his sister Miss Annie Parish, of Salem.

Dr. J. R. Cardwell of Portland, and C. P. Heald of Hood River, are in the city today in the interest of horticulture.

Hon. J. C. Leasure of Pendleton, will speak at the Court house in this city tonight. Music will be furnished by the Regulator band.

Building materials are reaching the sites of numerous new structures in The Dalles, and average beginnings is about a new house a day.

The silver bug and the presidential bee do not belong to the same entomological family, but the one is responsible for the other in a number of instances.

The accident to Mr. Ellis yesterday, near Arlington, by which his leg was broken in two places, will necessitate his retirement from the campaign.

The Tygh hill road has been formally opened to travel. The first parties to come through on the new grade were Messrs. J. W. M. S. and J. A. Zumwalt, and John Confer.

Solicitors for the Fourth of July celebration fund are meeting with gratifying success, and there is now no longer a doubt but that a fine celebration will be had in The Dalles.

Mr. and Mrs. Farley entertained an old school mate of Mr. Farley yesterday, Editor Gibbs from Norwalk, Ohio. He was returning from the editorial convention in California.

Major Ingalls returned from Portland on the noon train today. He will start in to write up Sherman county soon, as he has written Wasco, for the Resources of Oregon, published by authority of the late assembly.

Messrs. Steele, of Saginaw Michigan, and Van Anda, of Cleveland, Ohio, went over into the mountains north of The Dalles on Tuesday, timber cruising and while there the region was visited by quite a brisk snow storm.

A run of big salmon has set in at points along the Columbia below the Willamette. The Portland markets have displayed for the past two or three days as fine salmon as have ever been seen in the city. A dozen at a time can be seen, weighing very nearly 50 pounds each.

About twenty-five editors were enabled to make a trip on the Columbia yesterday by steamer Regulator from the Cascades. The have been through California, and to Puget sound, etc., and have had an enjoyable trip, but have seen no region to impress them more favorably than this.

Mr. Wm. J. Meins died at his farm on Ten Mile last night, aged 41 years. He was a native of Delaware county, N. Y. He has resided in Wasco county about eight years. The funeral will take place at 3 p. m., Sunday, from the residence of his cousin, Mr. J. C. Meins, in this city, on the bluff near the Academy.

That great good has been accomplished by The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation company, is a foregone conclusion, and those who have reaped the benefits are now in a way to study the object lesson which is taught them by an advance in rates by the Union Pacific people, during the temporary suspension of business occasioned by the rise in the river. It is a lesson which should be remembered, too; but—will it?

Walla Walla has a fruit growers organization which might be judiciously instituted in Wasco county. It is leading the Walla Walla fruit growers on the high road to success. At its meetings are discussed the questions of varieties, the preparation of ground, methods of cultivation and care, marketing, etc. The consideration of the last mentioned point led to making arrangements to send fruit and vegetables to the eastern cities. We consequently read that carloads of vegetables are now being sent daily to Spokane, Helena and other towns. The shipment of strawberries is now in progress. Later in the season Minneapolis and St. Paul will receive plums, prunes and pears from the Walla Walla orchards by the train load. This is business. Other localities may profit by the example.

Dr. Frank P. Vandenberg one of the expert chemists of Buffalo, is expected here tomorrow, and will remain some time in The Dalles, in the interest of Rev. O. D. Taylor and others of this city, and capitalists from Buffalo, who have become largely interested in lands and minerals in this vicinity. A temporary laboratory has been fitted up for his use in French's bank building. This is a step in the right direction, and it shows that the gentlemen in whose interest Dr. Vandenberg is engaged, have faith in the value of the hidden resources of this country. They are willing to spend money to find out where investments may be made with a hope of returns, and they are spending very considerable sums here and there, which give promise of future operations upon a scale of magnificence which will be a direct advantage to everybody in the country.

Dr. J. R. Cardwell is delighted with what he has seen in and about The Dalles today in the matter of orchards. That of the fruit company on Mill Creek was a revelation to him. He was not prepared, as thoroughly posted as he is; to realize the facts as they exist, respecting fruit in this vicinity. This afternoon he is taking in the scenes at Seufert Bros' orchard, in company with Mr. Schanno, and will go from there to Hood River this evening, and to Portland tomorrow. We are very glad that Dr. Cardwell has made this trip. It enables him to see for himself what no amount of descriptive reading could supply for a correct understanding of the situation, and it will have a good effect in other ways, as Dr. Cardwell is an authority on fruit in Oregon, and has a standing among men which carries weight in any statements he may make concerning such things.

James J. Hill, the Western railway president, related some time ago the incident of his conversation with the president of the Eastern railway, and added: "I might have continued to share his belief in the ultimate triumph of the railway over the steamship if I had not had occasion since that time to build and operate steamships for myself. These steamships carry 2,700 tons of freight on the present depth of water and make the run from Duluth to Buffalo in three and a half days at an average cost of $12 per day; this is equivalent to fifteen hundredths of a cent per ton per mile. This means that we are doing today on the Great Lakes for $1 what it costs the best railway in the United States $20 to do. In other words, the general conclusion may be deduced from these facts that the larger the carrier and the deeper the waterway the less is the cost of transportation." This may be considered a conclusive argument for an open Columbia river.

From the Daily Chronicle, Saturday. Some wool sold in The Dalles at from 11 to 14 1/4 cents a pound today.

Mr. J. R. Taylor, of Bellingham, bay, arrived in the city on the noon train.

Mayor Mays was in the city today attending to official and private business.

Minneapolis will be the political center of the country for the next week or two.

A rate of $3.14 per cwt., on wool from The Dalles to eastern points, went into effect yesterday.

Labor day was suitably observed in The Dalles, as a half holiday, wherever possible to do so.

Mrs. Printz left for the east today to be in attendance at the bedside of her mother, who is reported ill.

Miss Lillian Emerson was thrown from her saddle horse on Fifteen mile creek yesterday, and seriously injured.

Martin Donnell met with an accident in the pharmacy of Snipes & Kinnerly this morning, which cost him a suit of clothes. The phial that broke contained sulphuric acid.

The old marks coming back to The Dalles this season on wool sacks is prima facie evidence that the Regulator people are deserving more credit than they receive for fixing prices.

F. P. Mays, M. P. Isenberg, and Editor Gourlay addressed a rousing meeting at Dufur last night. J. C. Leasure spoke at the Court house in this city. Today will wind up the campaign.

Mrs. Smith French gave a tea last evening in honor of Judge Condon's sister, now visiting The Dalles from the east. The menu card was a handsome piece of painting by a young lady of this city.

Elder B. F. Bonney writes a sketch of the late Wm. A. Allen, of Eight mile, whose sudden death cast a sad gloom over circles where the deceased was best known, on the 28th, also pays a deserved tribute to the sons and daughters who mourn the father.

The average Dalles strawberry, for exhibition purposes this season, average sixteen to the pound. This beats the following record: "A fruit raiser on lake Washington, near Seattle, recently picked fifteen strawberries from his vines that weighed thirteen ounces and filled a large sized berry box."

The sad news was received here this afternoon of the drowning at Celilo today of Mr. A. Byers, a carpenter who has worked for Mr. Glenn since the Regulator was finished. He went to Celilo to work for Mr. Taft a few days ago. He accidentally slipped into the river from his work. He leaves a wife and child in this city.

L. Holden of Grass Valley, was run over Tuesday in Tygh Valley by a wagon, loaded with 1,200 feet of lumber. Mr. Holden had got off the wagon to pick up some hay that had fallen off, when the team started up suddenly and he fell between the wheels, the hind one passing over his stomach. He was placed in a buggy and taken to his home in Grass Valley, but the result of the injury, has not been ascertained.

The times are ripe for reform in county road building, and Wasco has set the example. At least that is what all say who have seen the work. There is no question in which all classes of people are more directly interested. The ordinary methods of road making and road repairing are only playing at road making. The iron horse has solid roadbeds, beautifully ballasted and bridged; but the faithful four-legged horse goes on miring and wearing out his life pulling the farmers wealth to market.

There are several changes to note in the Astoria newspaper field this week. The Daily Herald will suspend today, as the editor says he has lost all the money he has in the present venture and will try and recuperate in the publication of a weekly. The Talk has also ceased to prattle; but is followed by a new issue, called the Examiner. The old reliable Astorian jogs along about as usual, but not as a financial success. Nearly $50,000 has been sunk in Astoria newspapers in the past three years.

The heavens displayed a wonderfully grand scene which was witnessed by people of The Dalles last evening, for about half an hour before sunset. The sun formed the central figure, around which radiated two large circles, the outer one more luminous than the inner one, and at the angles; right, left and top, were exposed bright perihelion. The zenith shone brightly for a portion of the time, and all combined to make a picture never to be forgotten. Shortly after sunset, and before the shades of night had fairly settled over the earth, a large meteor appeared and exploded, with apparent observation of its fragments, north and west of the city, seemingly short of Mount Adams.

In the past few days several eastern capitalists have arrived in The Dalles, to look over the situation of affairs here, with the view of making investments. They appear to be pleased with the prospects, and we predict a boom for The Dalles, and country surrounding, before long, which will astonish the natives. Amongst those here now whom we have met and become acquainted with, are Dr. D. B. Cornell, and Messrs. E. Steel, and S. H. Blakely of Saginaw, Michigan, and Mr. John Argus of Buffalo, N. Y. To arrive today are: Prof. F. P. Vandenberg of Buffalo, Mr. Clark C. Foster of Saginaw, and others. This Chronicle extends the right hand in fellowship to these gentlemen, and wishes that they may be more than pleased with what they see about this region of boundless wealth and unlimited resources.

Speaking of the report that a branch of the Union Pacific will be extended to the mouth of the Wallowa river, a distance of twelve miles, work on which will be commenced at once, a leading shipper of Wasco and Sherman while in Portland yesterday, asked when the Union Pacific would make a similar move here. The answer was: "Oh you are too near The Dalles," Meaning by that reply that when the cascade locks are open, the Union Pacific railroad could not compete with the fleet of twenty-five or thirty steamers then to be seen along The Dalles water front daily from Astoria, Kalama, Portland, Oregon City, Salem, McMinnville, Vancouver, etc., as now seen at Portland, taking the products and manufactures of the Inland Empire to market, in exchange for commodities which we do not produce.

From the Daily Chronicle, Monday. Dr. F. P. Vandenberg, of Buffalo, is registered at the Umatilla house.

Dr. H. Felwider of St. Louis, is in the city visiting his sister, Mrs. Daniel Bolton.

The moonlight excursion by the ladies of the Good Intent, will be on the evening of the 10th.

Wool teams continue to find The Dalles. Some of these, in today, came from distant parts.

The death of Paul Henderson, of Dufur, occurred on the first of this month. Age 22 years.

Mr. J. O. Mack has returned from the turf meeting in Salem. He reports some fine contests and a generally joyous meeting.

Miss Lena McCown, and Miss Beard, Oregon city types of more than ordinary ability, are now employed upon the Gazette at Heppner.

Messrs. Seufert Bros. make their first shipment of one hundred crates of fine Wasco cherries today, for the Portland market. The stencil of Mark Levy & Co., is upon each crate.

Stacy Shown has wrought some wonderfully nice articles of jewelry. One of his latest is a finely mounted cougar claw, for his partner, Mr. Floyd, bearing upon it the masonic emblem, initials, and finished chasings.

Mrs. C. Frazier, one of The Dalles most prominent art teachers, left Sunday afternoon on a two weeks' visit to relatives in Independence, and during her absence will visit friends in Portland, Albina, Cloverdale and Monmouth.
