Every true friend of Ireland and her cause will rejoice to know that the earnest efforts to restore harmony in the divided forces of those who should stand as one man for the land's advancement bid fair, at last to be successful. No man better represents the feeling with which the present situation of politics in Great Britain is viewed by Irish Americans generally than Hon. P. A. Collins, who, with characteristic zeal and devotion, is doing youman's service in Dublin for the attainment and maintenance of unity. No man realizes more olearly that if this be absent the advocates of no cause, however noble, can hope to win success. Whether the new parliamentary elections shall be held in June or next autumn, or deferred until another year, the duty of the friends of home rule in Ireland and throughout Great Britain is equally plain, unmistakable and orgent. They must forget all bickerings that belong to the past, and set aside every personal ambition that stands in the way of that coming together which, for the sake of a multitude of interests, is so imperitively called for. The sooner dissensions are healed the pearer will be the hour of triumph. Once united at home, the friends of the cause beyond the seas will rally enthusiastically and generously to their support. They have the best right to demand and insist that this union of hearts and hands for the menaced welfare of "the old dart" shall be delayed no longer.

It was telegraphed vesterday as an astonishing thing that an association of servant girl anarchists had been discovered in Minnesota. The only astonishing thing about all that is that such a ment. Servant girl anarchists! The world is full of them, How many ladies have gone into the kitchen and found that in a state of anarchy? the Methodist conference, just closed at Omaha, was the singing of ten deaf and led in the sign language by their teacher, these familiar hymns. The effect was thrilling, and, indeed, almost overwhelming. Their expressive gestures and serious countenances made the scene full of genuine pathos, and no sermon from any preacher has so elegantly preached the gospel to the people as these unfortunate people have done by their silent singing in pantomime. They have been an attraction at all of the recent evening entertainments.

The president is a man of ready wit. While on his way to Rochester, where he spoke on Memorial day, he made a brief address at a little town called Watkins. He was introduced by an ex-postmaster, who named him, with a great ing's stage. It will not surprise us if flourish, "William Henry Harrison." The president turned the mistake happily with the following remark: "Some caustic joker, satirizing that pride of family which characterizes the Old Dominion, said the families of that state reminded him of the potato plant, the best part being underground.'

The democrats in this county have elected the sheriff, clerk, county judge and county commissioner. It is believed that Smith of Sherman county has beaten McDaniel for joint senator. Watkine and Bradshaw will have a close race for the circuit judgeship, with the chances in favor of Bradshaw who may be able to overcome Watkins' majority of about 159, when Crook county is heard from.

A German anatomist has recently annonnced the fact that after a careful examination of woman's knee he has found that it is unfitted for the maintainance of a standing poeture. It can hardly be doubted that the Australian ballot law has proved, in the Returns From Wasco County so Far main, satisfactory to the people, but, as might have been expected, its first trial has been attended with difficulties that ought to be greatly diminished here-Batered at the Postoffice at The Pailes, Oregon, after. In every precinct defective as second-class matter. ballots were found in the boxes and in some cases these amounted to a considerable per centage of the returns. Numbers were unable to prepare their their ballots so as to comply with the law, and it was impossible for the judges to make anything out of them. But the law effected some good; it threw the ward striker, who used to peddle prepared ballots for the man who had the bigest sack, completely out of employment. It made it practically useless and unprofitable to fill voters with liquor and while in that condition march them to the polls and have them vote the ticket placed in their hands, and it must have greatly diminished the practice of purchasing votes. Whatever faults have been discovered in its operation, and there were more than one, can be easily rectified by the next legislature.

> The Lewiston Teller thinks it is "high time" that the people of that section 35. should use every endeavor to secure the opening of the Nez Perce reservation. The allotment will be finished this year and by the time congress could take action in the matter it will all be completed ready for a disposal of the remainder to actual settlers. Speculators are watching for the opening, settlers are watching the event and railroads are on the alert. The reservation is the key to the stimulation, and now that the allotment will soon be in shape to finish the work, it is to the interest of Lewiston in particular to see that something is done immediately toward pressing the matter upon the attention of congress.

This idea of the nobility, the humanitarian character of Tree-Trade, has made many Free-Traders. Some people, especially Mugwumps, think it is "philosophical" to be cosmopolitan rather than patriotic. For our part, we must confess that Garfield's position is good enough for us: "For the present the world is divided into separate nathe world is divided into separate na-tionalities, and that Divine command and 357, Shelly 524. still applies, 'He that provideth not for discovery should cause any astonish- his own household hath denied the faith and is worse than an infidel."

> Later-Returns from Prineville precinct, Crook county, which arrived this afternoon, give Bradshaw a majorfty of 134 over Watkins. The estimated majority for Bradshaw, in the county, is placed at 250. This would give Bradshaw a district majority of over 100. There can be no doubt of his election.

Returns have not yet arrived from Crook county and the election of circuit judge cannot be determined till they arrive. They are expected on the even-Judge Bradshaw is the victor.

The bogus reformers in Multnomah county, known as the "citizens' party" made a stubborn fight and bave gained a substantial victory. The reformers had the "sack" and they used it generously while "Jim" and "Joe" had no sack and got left. Political success in Portland depends largely on the size of one's sack.

The above is not a complete vote of the county. But it is all that has been received today. It is pretty certain that the democrats have elected the sheriff and county judge. Republicans elect the assessor, school superintendent, surveyor and coroner, and possibly clerk and treasurer. They claim the legislative ticket also. The contest between Judges Bradshaw and Watkins is close. Wasco gives Watkins about 150 majority, but reports from Sherman may throw the result the other way. Judge Ben-For Prosecuting Attorney, 7th district nett has a large majority in this county. So has Mr. Ellis and Mr. Chamberlain.

THE STATE.

Everybody is at sea. As the Oregonian says, never since telegraph lines connected the widely separated counties of Oregon has there been a general election in the state about which so little could be given to the public on the following morning as the one held yesterday. Without doubt both congressmen will be republican. Judge Bennett's opponent has run ahead of his ticket in western Oregon, and last reports favor his election. Fifteen precincts in Multnomah give Ellis 1,619, Slater 990, Moore 1,599, Bennett 1.009, Chamberlain 1,320, Webster 1,594. The count is slow, and returns from the state are meagre. Chamberlain is probably elected.

Further Returns

The following is a summary of the votes of the five precincts of Mosier, Antelope, Wamic, Bake Oven and Oak Grove, which had not arrived at, the time of going to press yesterday. This leaves only one precinct, Baldwin, not reported as the judges did not send in a suplementary sheet. Baldwin precinct cast only 25 ballots. It is said to have gone republican but it is not believed MINNKAPOLIS, June 9 .- The convention assembled slowly at the appointed hour. It is thought an attempt will be made to retire the convention and have the contests settled on the floor of the convention, in order to get a test vote as to the strength of rival candidates.

The chairman of the committee on credentials asks for further time, and says the committee is still in session, but hopes to be able to report at 8 p. m. Senator Cullom offered a resolution to the effect that the Columbia exhibition be considered a great national undertaking, and that congress take such action as may be proper to carry this consideration into effect.

A recess was then taken until 8 o'clock this evening.
