

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, OREGON LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Tuesday. The maximum temperature today was only 70°.

Sheriff Thomas A. Ward is now at headquarters. The police force remains under Marshal Maloney as before.

Geo. W. Roland has been appointed Notary Public by Gov. Pennoyer.

Mr. F. F. Laughlin expects to go to Portland tomorrow on business.

County Assessor Joel W. Koontz filed his bonds today and took his position.

J. F. Stanleys was re-elected street commissioner today on the first ballot. Dr. Candiana, of Cascade Locks has been elected justice of the peace, and can now be hailed as judge.

A fire at Dufur yesterday destroyed a dwelling. Fortunately the wind was slight to prevent its spreading.

One reason there were no more trades represented in the procession, material for decorations could not be had.

Wm. Lemon, who broke his collar bone yesterday by falling from a fractious horse, is under treatment by Dr. J. Sutherland.

Mr. John Irwin has changed his residence permanently from Linkville to The Dalles, and is now living on his Chenoweth farm.

W. S. Turnbow has left at THE CHRONICLE Curiosity Shop, a curious petrification of wood. It was found seven miles below The Dalles.

County court was in session today, Judge Geo. C. Blakeley presiding. Three new American citizens were turned over under the naturalization laws.

The river this morning stood at thirty-three feet and five-tenths above zero. Falling slowly. Temperature of the weather at The Dalles was 70°.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairfowl, of Portland, returned home on last evening's train. Mrs. Fairfowl has been the guest of Mrs. J. S. Schenck during the past week.

Jas. B. Crossen who continues in business at the old stand, says the price of marriage licenses has not advanced. Deputy Ed. Martin and J. A. Crossen remain as before.

The common council met this forenoon, and the new city officers, including those re-elected, took upon themselves their new duties. The mayor's message, and financial reports, will appear tomorrow.

J. F. Snedaker, D. D. S., has located permanently in The Dalles, and offers his services to the public in need of dentistry. Office in the Chapman building, Second street, room 12, over The Dalles National bank.

If you don't want to incur the displeasure of the very worthy street superintendent of The Dalles, keep your paper litter at home. After a day or two in dusty sooty Portland, The Dalles seems like a paradise with her clean streets.

The American Central Railway company is the title given to a new organization incorporated with $20,000,000, which is said will build from San Francisco to Boise city. If that be true it must pass through Eastern Oregon.

Chairman H. J. Maier of the Fourth of July committee, wishes THE CHRONICLE to publicly announce the gratitude of the committee to all who in any way assisted to make the celebration yesterday the decided success which it was.

Miss Ward, who accompanied Mr. McD. Lewis to Salem, speaks in high terms of Conductor Miller. The train was two hours late leaving The Dalles, but the gap was closed so near that at Troutdale, Miller held the S. P. R. train, by wire, and connection was made at East Portland. Such incidents in life as this, sends grateful blood thrilling through the human frame.

All the health and pleasure reports are not located in Wasco county. But we have several localities unsurpassed for pure air and water. In the heart of the Cascade mountains there are several resorts inferior to none on the coast offering attractions to those who would escape the heat of summer and revel in the cool breezes that are wafted from old Pacific.

Fifty-seven shares in the Prineville land and live stock company will be sold in The Dalles on Saturday, in order to close up an estate an estate. The property is situated partly in this and partly in Crook county, and is one of the best paying properties in the county. It will pay some of our residents who have money to invest to look after this sale.

The management of the Portland Industrial exposition is desirous of securing for their exposition this fall all the exhibits which are to be sent to the Columbus worlds fair. Exhibitors will find it to their interest to first place their samples on exhibition at Portland since it will not only contribute to the success of the Portland fair, but will materially aid them in shipping and preserving it. Such exhibits will be well cared for until the exhibitors are ready to forward them to Chicago. This arrangement offers great inducements, and our people should recognize the fact in a substantial way.

From the Daily Chronicle, Wednesday. Jollify. Ring the bells. Blow the whistles. Get out and shout. The Cascade locks will now be finished in two years. Why not have a little bit of a blow out tonight. A sort of jollification meeting.

The river is slowly receding. Salmon fishing is improving up this way this week.

Mr. P. M. S. Briggs returned from Chehalis today.

Of course you will see the democratic candidates photo today, on the second page.

Mrs. Mary Laughlin leaves today to take up her summer residence on Long Beach, Ilwaco.

Mount Hood Hose team entertained their friends last evening in several bumps of extra dry Moom.

There are some attractions in Pease & Mays' new ad this afternoon. Briggs can't keep everything for the window-see.

Read and reflect over the new ad. of Stoneman & Fiege, on the third page. Only exclusive boot and shoe house in the city.

Mrs. Frank Sels, daughter of Capt. J. W. Lewis, who has been visiting her parents in this city, returned to her home in Canyon city yesterday.

Mr. M. J. Anderson, of Dufur, is in the city today. He bears evidence of close contact to the flames, while assisting at the Dufur fire on Monday.

Don't get alarmed if the fire bells ring out tonight about 9 o'clock. It will be simply joyousness over the final assurance that the cascade locks is to be finished.

A dispatch was sent to Washington immediately, extending grateful thanks to the delegation in Oregon for their untiring efforts in behalf of an open river.

Julius J. Wiley took hold this morning as steward at the Umatilla house. Julius is a very careful and painstaking caterer, and will fill the bill to a notch in this hospitable caravansary.

The Dalles citizens band will enliven an open air meeting tonight, on Court street, in rejoicings over the assurance that the cascade locks will be completed by contract within two years at least.

The murderer Wilson has been located, and if alive, possibly has been captured before this. Probably Pum Kelly will not interest himself in the future safety of the scoundrel as he did in the past week.

County court is in session today with a full bench, commissioners Kincaid and Darnelle sitting with Judge Blakeley. But little if any record work has been completed today, but the court is getting into business trim.

The 4 p. m. yesterday's passenger, and the 3 a. m. today's passenger, came in at 7:15 this morning. Time was lost by a burned bridge east of Huntington. These newfangled smoke stacks appear to be an expensive luxury.

One of the curiosities of life is to witness a quarrel between a deaf and dumb couple. They more than make up in gestures what they lose in words. And their actions certainly speak their anger more forcibly than mere words could.

Stock Commissioner Roberts, for Wasco county, tendered his resignation today to the county court. Hon. W. H. H. Dufur, for fourteen years largely identified with stock interests, is a candidate for the position, and has a very substantial non-partisan application in support of his claim.

County Clerk J. B. Crossen was served last evening with the legal documents notifying him that James M. Huntington is to contest the right to possession of that position. The document is a voluminous one, and recites that in nearly every precinct in the county errors were made. According to Mr. H.'s statement, he was elected by a very large majority.

Deputy U. S. Marshal A. G. Johnson had a very unpleasant duty to perform last week. He took D. W. Aldridge, former editor of the Prineville News, on a warrant issued out of the United States court to Portland on an indictment found against him and charging him with having published and mailed obscene literature. Aldrich was fined $50.

From the Daily Chronicle, Thursday. County court is still grinding away on local matters, without formality.

Three wagons loaded with immigrants from Washington, crossed the ferry yesterday.

Mr. Jim Harkleroad of Des Moines, Iowa, is spending a few days in the city, and is the guest of Mr. G. W. Johnston.

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. Eli Sutcliffe, will be pained to hear of the death of their little one at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., yesterday, of brain fever.

A Trout Lake camping party consisting of Messrs. Frank Cram, Easterbrooks, et. al., left The Dalles today for a three weeks outing.

It is claimed that Mr. Paul Mohr, and his associates, will have the dalles portage railway completed in time to connect with the cascade locks. The plan involves trans-shipment from the upper Columbia to ocean craft at The Dalles.

The engagement is announced of Mr. Edwin Gould to Miss Sarah Cantine Shady, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George F. Shady, of New York.

Col. Sinnott, of the Umatilla house, has a strong backing for the position of stock inspector, but it is understood he will not stand in the way of Hon. W. H. H. Dufur.

The Baker City Democrat seems to think the beef market is all right. In whom does it put its trust? With the butchers, whose sales on the block never decrease in price.

After all said and done, a great many people would not be surprised to learn that the murderer Wilson has at no time been out of Portland since he was turned over to Sheriff Kelley by Sheriff Sampson. Pum can stand it if the people can.

There are said to have been some three or four thousand dollars bet in La Grande on the senatorial contest, and that the money has not yet been given up, there being a report there that the election would be contested. The losers may as well settle.

The box of elegant Royal Ann cherries from the Columbia River Fruit Co. lands that Mr. L. Hubbard sent to Buffalo, N. Y., arrived there in prime condition and attracted marked attention and many complimentary notices were made on account of their beauty, size, flavor.

Our sympathies are extended to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. and Lulu Stevens on the death of their infant son Le land Hermann. The funeral will take place tomorrow from the residence on the bluff, at 4 o'clock p. m. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

It is of no use to go to Europe for rest. Mr. Lowenberg, a citizen of Oregon, who has just returned says there is more fatigue and discomfort from a five hours ride in Italy than is experienced in making the trip from Portland to New York. The trans-Atlantic steamers, are floating palaces, and every comfort can be enjoyed on them.

The Portland wheat market is reported extremely quiet. Little is being offered from either section, and the export demand shows no improvement. The situation abroad has undergone no material change. The Liverpool market, while firmly held, is inactive; option trading continues quiet, but prices and generally better. Cargoes remain more or less neglected. Eastern markets show some improvement.

THE SECOND CELEBRATION.

Cascade Locks Jollification at The Dalles Last Night.

A regulation old-time Fourth of July celebration was indulged in by The Dalles people last night, on receipt of the news from Washington that the river and harbor bill had passed congress, and that the cascade locks contract system was retained. Both bands, the Regulator and Dalles City, were out and discoursed fine music, while Messrs. E. Jacobson & Co., and M. T. Nolan opened their Fourth of July preserves, and bomb, bomb, followed bomb, bomb, with an occasional sparkling balloon, frequent explosions of rockets and the burning of flash chemical fires which set the people ablaze with enthusiasm. Between the music of the bands, the firing of rockets, bombs, etc., Judge Bradshaw, Capt. John W. Lewis, and others, got in a few opportune speeches from the balcony in front of Snipes & Kinerslys store, and all taken together, as a friend wrote to Hon. Binger Hermann: "There was not a soul in The Dalles last night but was glad that Mitchell, Dolph and Hermann represent Oregon in the nations capital."

And Still They Come.

It is a pleasure to hear that a party of gentlemen from the East contemplate coming on an excursion to our city about the first of August for the purpose of examining fruit, mineral and other lands in this vicinity with a view of investing therein. We are informed that they are men of strong financial standing and that their impressions, favorable or otherwise, will have great weight on their return home. It is reasonable to suppose that their taking this trip is the result of some of the praise and enthusiasm shown by their friends who visited The Dalles a month or so ago and went away well pleased with what they had seen. We would like to see our citizens extend to these gentlemen a hearty welcome on their arrival here and at the same time endeavor to bring their attention to some of the great resources of our country. There is a strong rivalry among the people of other cities to outdo each other in conveying to visitors a favorable impression of everything that will serve to enrich or enhance the value of their homes, and which, aside from general hospitality, cannot help but result in much good. Would it not be well for our own people to practice the same prudence and then take note of the results as time works them out?

The wool market in San Francisco is reported quiet. Desirable wools are firmly held. Defective stock receives scarcely any notice. San Joaquin, six months' fleece, fair to best, 10@15c; foothill, 15@17c; northern, choice, 18@21c; Nevada, 13@17c; Eastern Oregon, 10@17c; valley, Oregon, 18@20c.

Safe at Last. Col. N. B. Sinnott received a dispatch from Hon. Binger Hermann today which settles the cascade locks question. It says: WASHINGTON, July 6.—River and harbor bill finally passed today. Cascade contract and appropriation retained. Ship railway rejected. BINGER HERMANN.

Before the chalk on THE CHRONICLE bulletin board was dry, a crowd collected and many congratulations were expressed.

The Dalles may now be practically considered at the head of navigation for whaleback steamers.

The biggest flouring mill in the world will now go up here and numerous other leading industries will soon make this a center of business, attractive alike to the investor and home builder.

The Water Commission.

The water commissioners met today at their office on Court street, and reorganized for the coming year.

C. L. Phillips was chosen president, and Hugh Chrisman, secretary.

Dr. O. C. Hollister, J. O. Mack, W. A. Wilson and Hugh Chrisman will hereafter act in the places filled previously by Messrs. Hugh Glenn, A. S. Macallister, M. T. Nolan, and Max Vogt.

Mr. Vogt having tendered his resignation, the place was filled by appointment of Mr. Hugh Chrisman. The others are new members, elected at the recent city election.

The new board consists of Messrs. J. C. Nickelsen, H. C. Neilsen, Hugh Chrisman, J. O. Mack, Dr. O. C. Hollister, C. L. Phillips and W. H. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson has not yet qualified, however, and Mr. Macallister will hold over, until he does.

A Serious Accident.

Geo. Pierce, who was nearly killed by the explosion of giant powder with which he was celebrating the 4th at Hood River, was a night watchman in the employ of N. P. R. Co., and as such entitled to benefits of the hospital. It was certainly, in his case, a very fortunate circumstance. He was accompanied to St. Vincents hospital Monday evening, by Dr. Logan, of this city. His left hand was blown off, and the lower third of the fore-arm had to be amputated. The right hand palm was badly lacerated, and the center finger blown off. One eye seems to be gone, and he may possibly lose both. He was considerably burned on the chest. It is a very unfortunate case.

All Bills Paid.

The Fourth of July committee met last night and audited all the bills. As it usually happens, in such cases, the committee has generally to go down in their individual pockets and make up a deficiency. In this case the generosity of The Dalles public met all expenses, and the committee, as well as the public, are largely paid for the investment. At no time in the history of the celebrations of July 4th has a committee met with more hearty response. This is in part perhaps owing to the fact that the dear people did not know who the committee was to "squander" this money. Now that the affair is all over it may not be amiss to say that Mr. Lochhead, Jud. S. Fish, H. J. Maier, Sam Campbell, M. T. Nolan, E. Jacobson and D. C. Ireland were the fellows who did the graft. If the public is satisfied "we the committee" should be likewise pleased, but as to any future celebration committees, pardon us, but it is the unanimous expression of this committee to be excused.

Current Topics.

It is said the California fish commissioners are desirous of joining with the Oregon fish commissioners in establishing a hatchery on Williams river in Southern Oregon.

The Cincinnati convention may not have been particularly hilarious, but we infer that not all the delegates were sleeping soundly at night.

Ivy on Walls.

A friend recently called attention to a case which he thought subverted our view that the ivy growing on walls tended to make them dry rather than damp. On looking at the case we find that the wall was covered with the Ampelopsis viticill, or, as it is called, Japan ivy, and that the vines had been suffered to grow over the shingle roof of the house some four or five feet from the gable end, and that the spouts and other water conduit were completely choked by this growth of vine and filling up with leaves.

It is no wonder that a house should be damp under such circumstances. It should not be forgotten that the vines on walls must never be allowed to reach the roof or clamber in the gutters, but must be confined entirely to the vertical surface of the walls on which they grow. The innumerable number of small rootlets absorbing moisture continually generally make walls so dry and hard that it has been found at times in the Old World, when necessary to take down a building, almost impossible to do so on account of the extreme hardness of the mortar, which has been kept dry for so many years through the agency of these roots. The case we have referred to shows how often a good idea may be spoiled by reason of the thoughtless manner in which the idea is carried out.—Mechan's Monthly.

Hawk and Snake at It. Mrs. W. P. Lasitter had an unusual experience a few days ago. As the story goes, she saw a large hawk descend to the ground. As the hawk did not rise after a short time she decided to investigate. On approaching the place the hawk arose and perched upon a tree near by. In a few minutes it descended again. Mrs. Lasitter proceeded to the place and found that the hawk had tackled a large blacksnake. Its talons were fast in the snake and the snake so entwined about the wings and body of the hawk that the latter could neither disengage itself from the snake nor rise with it. Mrs. Lasitter took advantage of the situation, and arming herself with a club killed both hawk and snake. —Oviedo (Fla.) Chronicle.

Contents of the Hopewell Mounds. The report of the exploration of the Ohio mounds by the World's Columbian expedition survey, under the direction of Professor F. W. Putnam, the field work being in charge of Warren K. Moorehead, says there were 36 mounds in the group, of which 15 were explored. There were found 7,392 flint disks, a 16-pound ax, 1 Pacific coast stone bowl, 7 platform pipes, 3,300 sheets of mica, 7 by 8 to 12 by 15 inches; 50 copper spool shaped objects, 5,000 beads, 900 pearls; 10 altars, some of which were taken out entire; 500 wolf, bear and panther tusks and 120 human skeletons, besides a vast number of miscellaneous objects.—American Antiquarian.

Ayer's Pills

May always be relied upon as a certain cure for liver troubles, constipation, sick headache, biliousness, dyspepsia, jaundice, and rheumatism. Unlike most cathartics, Ayer's Pills strengthen the stomach, liver, and bowels, and restore to these organs their normal and regular action. Taken in season, they check the progress of colds, fevers, and malaria. Being purely vegetable and sugar-coated, Ayer's Pills are

Family Medicine

I know of no better remedy for liver troubles and dyspepsia."—James Quinn, Hartford, Ct. Capt. Chas. Mueller, of the steamship "Felicity," says: "For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels, and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them, and with good effect, for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia."
