

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, - - - OREGON

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Friday. Isaac Joles has returned from his trip to the mines.

Dr. and Mrs. Eshelman arrived in The Dalles last night.

P. S. M. Briggs is taking in the scenes of his bachelorhood in Yamhill county this week.

Some really fine colts are in training at The Dalles track, notably Nehalem, owned by J. O. Mack.

Fred A. Young returned from Yakima today. He disposed of his band of 2,500 ewes and lambs at fair prices.

Ralph Rowland, Charley Corson and John Weigle left for Cornwell creek today, near Mount Hood, to be out about a week.

The county court room is a scene of busy study just now, where a score or more of teachers are undergoing examination.

Senator F. C. Reed, of Astoria, came up today and proceeded to Celilo. He will stop over at the Umatilla house to-night.

Queen Victoria lost a subject this forenoon, when Donald McFaddyn appeared before County Clerk Crossen and declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States.

Mr. C. B. Hungerford, of Saginaw, Mich., has been spending a few days delightfully in and about The Dalles, in company with his wife he took his departure for the east today.

The railroad commission has ordered the Union Pacific to put on another brakeman between Portland and Huntington. They thought the traveling public not sufficiently protected with only one brakeman on the train.

A. E. Dunham, of Cleveland, Ohio, has arrived in The Dalles and will become identified with the place hereafter, as general manager of the Columbia river fruit company's farms and business interests in this region.

Fred A. Young speaks in terms of glowing admiration of what is to be seen over in Yakima. He didn't try to keep his eye on Pasco, the exploded boom town, but all over Yakima his eyes feasted upon the fairest scenes of a paradise. It is certainly a great country.

Mr. Jackson, of Klickitat, who left for the east with a lot of horses for sale on the 29th of May, has just returned. The horses were poor sale, and for want of a market they pressed on to Richmond, Ind., where he left them in charge of his partner, Mr. Day, and returned to Klickitat.

Caroline, the dusky maiden who has been indulging in the whisky traffic with the sterner sex of her own race, was returned to the county jail yesterday, on sentence of $15 fine, by Judge Deady. She will probably stay in about thirty days and then be released, under the provisions of the pauper act.

Rev. A. C. Spencer will preach his farewell sermon in this city next Sunday in the court house, at 8 p. m., to which all are invited. He expects to leave, with his family, for Pennsylvania on next Monday, at 4 p. m., by the Southern Pacific railway, via Portland.

The Oregonian again reminds us today that Paul F. Mohr is getting out the railway iron from the wrecked Abercorn, north of Grays harbor. Over a year ago it was announced that this iron was to be laid down as a portage around the dalles of the Columbia.

"What has become of that project?" inquires a reader of THE CHRONICLE. Gone to seed, like similar promises. If anything is done at the dalles, it must be done by the state of Oregon.

A board of engineers has been appointed, in accordance with the terms of the river and harbor act, approved July 13, 1892, upon the obstructions in the Columbia between 3-mile rapids and Celilo falls. It will meet in San Francisco about October 17th, and will come up here shortly after. The board consists of Col. George H. Mendell, Lieut.-Col. Charles R. Sutter, Lieut.-Col. Wm. R. King and Major Charles J. Allen, all of the corps of United States engineers, and Messrs. Wm. R. Hutton, E. Porter Alexander and Virgil C. Bogue, civil engineers. The people of Eastern Oregon will be much interested in the report they may make.

B. C. Towne's Portland artist, Mr. Davis, succeeded in getting a series of ten handsome views of the Columbia river fruit company's farms up Mill creek. They show the old orchard, killed out from too much irrigation, and the new plants growing grapes on the very top of the highest hill, without a drop of water, in soil that was covered with brush and stumps last January. The plants were set out in March last. It is the idea of Mr. Linus Hubbard that if you have anything worth seeing—photograph it. From a whaleback steamer to a grape vine; and his idea is working a wonderful benefit to The Dalles. These views of the Mill Creek fruit farmers will have a similar effect no doubt in attracting attention to The Dalles. A photo can never be disputed. It speaks for itself.

One of the very best things to do, when a visitor comes to The Dalles, is to show him around. The first impressions of The Dalles and surrounding country is not flattering to the beholder, but we have yet to learn of the first case where the person has gone away from here displeased when the least bit of attention was paid to him. As a writer recently said, the world ought to know more of Oregon so as to prepare to come here. The trouble is they generally go to Puget sound first, spend all their money in a vain effort to make a living there, and then come here, dead broke, to find a country where a living can be made.

From the Daily Chronicle Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. E. Jacobsen are in Portland today.

Mr. Folco is adding an ice cream parlor to his East End resort.

The Condon region was visited by a heavy rain shower Wednesday.

The Oregon press association will meet at The Dalles September 28th.

About fifty Dalles German citizens are with the singers in Portland today.

Editor Brooks, of the Dufur Dispatch, paid THE CHRONICLE a fraternal visit today.

Mrs. O'Barr is preparing for winter by adding plastering to the walls of her hotel.

The popular bathing place in The Dalles is now off the Regulator wharf boat.

The breeze is refreshing today. Old Sol sends his rays straight down upon us, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Phelps are in the city, visiting Mrs. Phelps' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, of Heppner, went up to Cloud Cap Wednesday.

J. C. Parker, for many years justice of the peace for Burns precinct, died at his home there last week, after an illness of about one day.

Mr. Clarence O. Bunker is on a visit to his father in Portland, taking in Oswego. Miss Ouida, his sister, has just returned from a similar visit.

A London dispatch says members of the cabinet met at noon yesterday and formally agreed to resign. Most of the ministers will leave town today.

New wheat is being delivered at stations along the line of the Union Pacific. The receipts are yet small, but before many days teaming will begin in earnest.

Capt. Robert Grant, one of the expert seining fishermen of the Columbia, is at Celilo, near which place he thinks it will be profitable to introduce this method of catching salmon.

The county exhibit of fruits from Wasco is in the hands of a committee consisting of the secretary, Mr. Rawson, Frank Creighton, Alex. Anderson, Joel W. Koontz and N. Wheeler.

A disturber of the peace and quiet of The Dalles, late last night, was made to sheath his revolver and his angry moods at once and wend his way to the Hotel de Cross Bar for accommodations. He will plead this evening.

Some of the Condon girls just now do not follow the injunction of the doggerel about "hang your clothes on a hick'ry limb, but don't go near the water." They are just as fond of a dip in the Columbia as the members of the whiskered sex.

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary it is authoritatively stated that the output of grain in Umatilla county will be greater this year than ever before, the yield in many localities being entirely satisfactory in quality and quantity.

Cass Rogers, the well known Umatilla stockman, left for Dixon, South Dakota, yesterday, with a load of well-bred horses. He expects to find a ready market on account of the heavy grain crop to be handled in that section of the country.

Noting the arrival of the headquarters paraphernalia of the Third regiment, which have been moved from The Dalles to Condon, the Globe says: "Col. Lucas has received his commission, and as soon as the large army is completed, our city will present a very respectable military appearance."

Elmore, Sanborn & Co., whom we quote today on salmon, are grossly in error in their statement that the excess of 48,000 cases this season, as compared with 1891, is due to the large pack of steelheads by the Cascade and Dalles canneries. The fact is that the catch of steelheads at the cascades and dalles was considerably smaller than last year. The steelheads running poorer than either the blueback or the Chinook. Elmore, Sanborn & Co., should study their lesson better, before reciting it in public.

Yesterday Judd S. Fish, of the Umatilla house, set a man to work in the ice cave to sift over the saw dust preparatory to receiving another car load or two of ice this week. As the work was proceeding Judd happened in to see how things were going on when the shoveler informed him that he had dug up a half a ton of ice, a pair of ice tongs, a shovel, and some other things, that had been lost. "That's about as I expected," said Judd, "Keep on perhaps you may be able to dig up an express wagon and a pair of horses next; nobody can tell what may have been lost in this cave."

The idea of a league ball-player riding through Portland streets on horseback, in uniform, carrying a banner and blowing a fish-horn to attract attention and to try and draw an audience to witness the game. Verily, the national game has not many admirers this season in the consolidated city.

An entirely new element appears in American politics this year, and it is one likely to grow in importance. It is the Indian vote. Few people realize that the Indian, under the Dawes law, if he shall take land "in severalty," and this year, for the first time, the red as well as the black wards of the nation, will help elect a president. Across the Columbia the Indian has made his appearance in politics already. Peter Stanup attended the state convention in Washington as a delegate from Pierce county.

From the Daily Chronicle, Monday. Hon. C. M. Cartwright, of Hay Creek, is in the city.

Geo. W. McCoy, of Portland, is at the Umatilla house.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford have returned from their outing.

Kil-deer and plover make the air joyous with their notes now.

Fish wheels Alpha and Omega are now beached on the sands.

E. P. Koontz, of Tacoma, is visiting his father and family in The Dalles.

The plate glass for Keller's modern front to the store now occupied by Prinz & Nitschke, has arrived.

The wool packers Davis, Russell & Co., have packed their machinery and moved away from The Dalles for another year.

Tanglefoot Fly Paper, 40 cents a box, twenty-five double sheets; at Blakeley & Houghton's, 175 Second street.

Hon. N. G. Blackock, of Walla Walla, called at the land office today to leave another wad of his well earned money.

A burned bridge on the Short Line demoralized trains again yesterday. Those bridge burning locomotives are just immense.

Judd S. Fish returned from Mosier last night. Mrs. Fish, and little Miss Genevieve, remained the guest of Miss Dollie Mosier.

Mr. W. Lord is home temporarily from the beach. He proceeded to Goldendale this a. m., to attend the murder trial.

Mr. and Mrs. Branner, of Nansene, are off for a pleasure trip, fishing, hunting, etc., in the regions of White Salmon.

Sheriff Ward and Wilbur Kerns left yesterday for a drive to Portland today via the Baslow road. Mr. Ward's family accompany him.

A handsome French plate bevel mirror mantle piece for Judge Condon's new residence, came up by steamer Regulator Saturday evening.

F. G. Connelly has just arrived by buggy overland from Portland. He passed a lot of camps of people outing in the mountains near Mount Hood.

Mrs. Brown and Miss Annie Peter, for Ilwaco; Mr. John Filloon and family for camp, and Mr. McCartneys family for some point below, were among the passengers this morning by steamer Regulator.

Another white cultus was nipped in the act of putting whisky where and Indian could get it Friday night. This business might be very easily stopped if the U. S. Courts would only smother the culprits a few times.

Mrs. Harry Bulger was summoned to the bedside of her husband, Saturday. When the dispatch came Mr. Frank Roach started out into the country for her and they arrived in time to take the afternoon train.

Messrs. M. A. Moody, Judge W. Lair Hill, Fred Bronson, H. J. Green, W. K. Smith, Jr., Lieut. Taylor, Fred and Lon Joslyn, returned yesterday from a hunting trip in Klickitat. Mr. Moody's four-hand was the conveyance.

Judge J. L. Story, Hansen Butler and Judge S. C. Clark returned from their opal mine yesterday. They have struck it rich, and are satisfied. Judge Story says he is confident that it pays to send out honest prospectors in this country.

W. E. Garretson's little boy, Lyndon, had a fine present today from Alex. Gosfish, of 15-Mile. It was a young, lynx, and is as playful as a young kitten. W. E. thinks he will keep it as an assistant night watchman for Frank in the store at night.

The funeral of Mr. Thomas Oleson was largely attended from Masonic hall yesterday afternoon. The solemn and impressive ceremony of the fraternity of which he was an honored member, was observed. Mr. Oleson was one of The Dalles most highly respected citizens.

The regular teachers examination for certificates, conducted by Supt. Shelley last week, resulted in granting second grade certificates to J. M. Carroll and Julia Hill; third grade to Nellie Butler, S. H. Miller, Agnes LeDuc, Hattie L. McKay, Lillian Reavis, W. E. Laughlin, Dollie Mosier and Josie Hansberry.

Mr. Adam Appell, the South Bend chilled plow representative, with his greenback machine for "turning out" one dollar bills, came into competition here with J. B. Foster, of Chicago, who has a patent keg into which he puts hydrant water, gives the keg a turn or two and draws off a cocktail. These gentlemen much more than pay their way in fun; wherever they go.

Messrs. Baxter, Campbell and Woodworth, U. P. R. officials, are in the city today. It is understood that The Grass Valley railway is one of the chief topics.

A band of horses for the Regulator this morning missed on account of a charge of horse stealing preferred against the owner, who has a clear bill of sale for the animals, but the case had to be adjudicated. Justice Schutz dismissed the case for want of sufficient evidence.

Mayor Mays was in the city today. He has called a meeting of the citizens to take some action respecting the coming meeting of the Oregon press association. The meeting will be held Wednesday evening. He will not be able to be present, as his farm work is pressing, but hopes it will be a success.

The trial of John Green for the murder of William Dunn set for this week, will begin tomorrow at Goldendale. The Leader says: "If rumor is to be relied upon, and we have every reason for believing it, then it seems that some persons are trying to influence the witnesses in the case. Now if this is so, they should be made answerable for trying to influence the witnesses, and whoever it may be should receive the utmost extent of the law for their interference. This case demands justice on either side, the impartial public demand it also, in fact, the case will be watched exceedingly close to see that the money influence is not playing an important part in the case."

Headers in a few days will be superseded by threshers, so it will not be many weeks before wagons, to the number of one hundred and over every day, says the Leader, will be on the road to The Dalles with the produce of the abundant harvest. Every year a wonderful improvement is made in Klickitat valley, which is no doubt owing to the certainty of a crop. It is the industrious and painstaking farmers that came to this county without any means that have made themselves comfortable homes in a few years, and in a very few years longer there will be but a small number but what have built a substantial farm residence. May they live long to enjoy the fruits of their labor. Klickitat will be a prosperous and busy county from now on, for the hard and struggling times with the majority of farmers is a thing of the past.

The Dalles City Directory 1892-1893 is being pushed forward rapidly by its editors and publishers. It is a home production, printed by a local printing house; and, on that account, as well as by reason of the manifest convenience it will prove to every citizen, should meet with a generous patronage. The price has been placed at the low figure of $1 per copy. No pains will be spared to make it a credit to The Dalles in every respect. The editorial work, the typography, and the alphabetical and classified business directory will be prepared most carefully, so as to present to the public a ready reference book, reliable, well-arranged and statistically accurate. A double canvass of this city and of Grand Dalles will be made by the canvassers, so that no names of male or female adults shall be omitted. It is a necessary and meritorious work. Let us give the publishers every aid in our power. One of them is a local type-setter and the other an old-time newspaper man.

LADY ANALYSTS. They Play The Same Tricks Resorted to Here and Get Caught. The Portland Oregonian gives the following amusing account of a lady expert, or canvasser, who was playing the house-to-house sample test dodge in that city:

The city for several days has been canvassed by a company of women who have called at private residences for the ostensible purpose of explaining the superior merits of their baking powder through a series of alleged chemical experiments. A lady who has been annoyed by the agents determined to test the efficacy of the experiments and she brought out some of the baking powder they are advertising. The agent submitted the substance to the usual tests and called the lady's attention to the presence of alum, ammonia and various other alleged ingredients, which could be distinguished by a peculiar odor, the residuum, etc. The lady of course saw all these unmistakable signs of scollled impurities, and allowed the agent full swing to expand upon the merits of her own cooking powder. The agent finally inquired of the lady what brand of baking powder she had been experimenting with. "That baking powder," replied the lady, "is the same that you have been cracking up so high." The agent turned all colors, and beat a hasty retreat. Our informant has not been bothered with baking powder agents since.

Advertisements. Following is the list of letters remaining in the postoffice at The Dalles un-called for, Saturday, Aug. 13th, 1892. Persons calling for same will give date on which they were advertised.

The Old Times are Not In It.

While at our other store at Big Island, Va., last April, I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhoea. I never had it worse in my life. I tried several old-time remedies, such as Blackberry Wine, Paregoric and Laudanum without getting any relief. My attention was then called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy by Mr. R. C. Tinsley who had been handling it there, and in less than five minutes after taking a small dose I was entirely relieved. -O. G. BURTON, Harris Creek, Amherst Co., Va. Didn't Fancy the Change.

Press-Times. Private Iams has started to sue his late officers for making him play thumbs-up and shaving his head. Iams thinks he came too dern near being Iwas.

Saved a Woman's Life.

Mr. J. E. Thoroughgood, writing from Georgetown, Delaware, says: "Two teaspoonfuls of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved the life of Mrs. Jane Thomas, of this place." He also states that several other very bad cases of bowel complaint there have been cured by this remedy. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

A Public Meeting.

A public meeting of the citizens of The Dalles will be held at the Court house Wednesday evening, Aug. 17th, to devise ways and means for the entertainment of the editors and publishers of the state of Oregon, who will convene in this city Sept. 26th, holding sessions for two days. This editorial association can do a great deal of good to the future prospects, and will materially aid the work at the Locks and the prospective portage road on the Oregon side. ROBERT MAYS, Mayor.

"Dalles to Boston."

Have you seen the photos in The Dalles, Portland and Astoria navigation company's office window in this city? It illustrates the all water route from The Dalles to Boston by photos: 1st, of the steamer Regulator; 2d, of the steamer Dalles City; 3d, of the American ship Tillie E. Starbuck, laden for Boston with wool from The Dalles. It is only a forerunner of what is to be.

Current Topics.

The whale which stranded on North Beach recently is still there. The taxidermist for Washington, for the world fair commission, is endeavoring to mine the skeleton, but makes slow progress. When they arrive says a correspondent, a tunnel will be driven through the skull, which can be easily cut with a spade, and then a vigorous attack will be made on the blubber. If a band of Indians from Cape Flattery or thereabouts could have been turned loose on the whale when it first grounded, there would have been nothing but the bones left in a short time, but there is much more—much too much more. Prof. Hudson has procured a lot of giant powder, and will endeavor to blow the skull away from the whale. Cottagers hope that the next whale may go off to some sequestered spot to shed his incarnate carcass, or put off his change till the seaside season is over.

County Treasurer's Notice.

All county warrants registered prior to March 13, 1892, will be paid if presented at my office, corner Third and Washington streets. Interest ceases on and after this date. The Dalles, July 16, 1892: WILLIAM MICHELL, 7.18th Treasurer Wasco County, Or.

To The Public.

I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the public, as I do to my friends and patrons. I used it myself after other well-known remedies had failed, and it cured me in a few minutes. I recommend it candidly and cheerfully upon its merits, not from a financial standpoint, because I have others in stock on which I make a larger profit, but because Chamberlain's is the best remedy I know of for bowel complaints. There is no doubt about it, it does the work—James Forgy, Druggist, McVeytown, Penn. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

An Estray Horse.

A roan horse about six years old, with no brand so far as I can find, came to my place, June 6th 1892. At what is known as 12-Mile house, on the Canyon city road. The owner is requested to call and prove property pay charges and take him away. J. B. HUBBERT. Dated Aug. 5th, 1892. w.6t
