Prof. Brown, of Chicago, principal of the Waeco Academy, arrived in the city Monday morning.

Mr. W. A. Cooper of this city, is employed on the Great Northern railway at Lake City, Montana.

Mr. A. Goldstein of Fresno, California, a former resident of The Dalles, is now in the city on a visit to his sister Mrs. Newman.

The wheat grown next to the store of B. Wolfe, in this city this season, without irrigation produced equal to eighty-five bushels to the acre.

Mrs. Capt. J. H. Burgoyne, of Vancouver, Wash., was a passenger on the Regulator last evening. She is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Hugh Farmer, in this city.

Mr. J. S. Cooper, the Chicago horse salesman, says there is now a good demand for horses in that market, and 5,000 head will be needed by the first of December.

Congressman Ellis held a reception in his car today as he passed through for Heppner. He still has his broken leg in a case, but is every other way in fine physical and mental condition.

Prof. Corbett proposes to retire from the prize ring after his animated controversy with Prof. Sullivan. He will probably receive a strong incentive to do so in about the ninth or tenth round.

The Hood River base ball club failed to come to time this forenoon, greatly disappointing The Dalles club, who were all ready to play. A practice game was played on the fair grounds, however, this afternoon.

J. L. Shirley, one of the leading farmers of the Inland Empire, at Union, passed through The Dalles a few days since, and while on the train sold his wheat, nearly 100,000 bushels, to Bork & Hamilton for 60 cents per bushel.

Chief Engineer Judd S. Fish wishes the members of The Dalles City fire department to meet at the council chamber at 8 o'clock this evening to discuss the invitation of the Volunteer Veterans to attend with them on Firemen's day, Sept. 5th, in Portland.

United States deputy Surveyors E. F. and F. H. Sharp, left for Columbia county today by steamer Regulator, to survey a new township west of Portland, near the summit of the Coast range of mountains. They expect to be gone about seven weeks. They took with them a new solar compass, purchased from W. and L. E. Gurley, Troy, N. Y.

The teachers institute will hold evening sessions at the Court house Wednesday and Thursday at 7:30 o'clock. There will be a debate, and an old-fashioned spelling school tomorrow evening. The evening following Prof. Ackerman will lecture on: "The culture which the common schools give," and Prof. Bigler on: "The moral training of children." Good music will be furnished. The public are cordially invited.

The house of Mr. Isaac C. Matney about ten miles southwest of The Dalles was destroyed by fire yesterday forenoon. Mr. Matney was at work outside on the farm, and Mrs. Matney had gone to a neighbors, so there was nobody at the house at the time, and the origin of the fire is unknown. Nothing was saved. The loss falls heavy upon Mr. Matney especially at this season of the year, winter coming on, and a new place to improve.

A correspondent writing to the Herald from Bake Oven, says Sherman county crops are anything but good. About a half crop of wheat is expected, but it will prove to be a great deal less. Threshing is now in full blast and will be over with about September 1st. Wheat averages ten and twelve bushels per acre and is selling at the railroad at from sixty to seventy cents per bushel. Barley is scarce farmers ask $1.25 and upwards for 100 pounds. Oats is almost an entire failure throughout Sherman.

From the Daily Chronicle, Wednesday.

U. S. timber inspector Bayard, is in the city, and will remain a few days.

The Heppner stockraisers have found a very profitable market in southwest Virginia, where Oregon horses command excellent prices.

All parties holding numbers in the crayon, at D. C. Herron's gallery, are requested to be present Sept. 1st, at 2 p. m. at the gallery.

Mr. Phelps has samples of Mr. Lentz Hood river wheat, which stood as high as a man's head, full, plump berry, and threshed sixty bushels per acre.

Justice Clark is to hear a case this afternoon of aggravated assault from the East End.

Mr. Hood is laying in some choice hay today. It came from Mrs. Chapman's place on Camas prairie, via. White Salmon, and the steamer Regulator.

The teachers of The Dalles public school will hold a reception, Thursday evening, Sept. 1st, between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Geo. P. Morgan.

Things about the East End begin to look brisk again. Eight teams loaded with wheat arrived today, and by the middle of next week the present dull appearance out that way will change to activity.

Michigan is considering the practicability of working her convicts for the benefit of good roads. Michigan's experiments in this direction will be viewed with very great interest by her sister states.

Mr. Frank Woodcock, who was so badly injured some time since by having a couple of saw logs roll on to him, at Lakes mill is able to be in the city today, but he is not yet able to do any kind of work.

Jackson Engine Co. have appointed delegates, and other companies in The Dalles department will do so; to attend Portland on Firemen's day, Monday next. It is estimated that at least sixty veteran volunteers will attend from The Dalles.

Prof. Smith tendered his resignation as principal of The Dalles public schools by dispatch from Salem today. It came at a very late hour, as schools are to begin on Monday next, and it makes the directors huddle to fill the place. The schools will open just the same.

Misses Louisa and Delia Michelbach, and Miss Emma Williams have returned from Mr. John Lewis' camp on Hood River, accompanied by Mr. Geo. Williams. When they left camp for The Dalles they had a big lot of trout which they distributed amongst friends.

At Leslie Butler's today were to be seen some of the richest colored and finest flavored peaches that have ever been seen on this coast. They were of the Crawford variety, and fifty-six of them filled a box. They were grown on the Columbia River Fruit Co.'s Mill creek farm.

Hon. C. M. Cartwright has reached Portland from his trip to Missouri, where it is said he made a few Weaver speeches, concluded that the country was safe, purchased a lot of fine thoroughbred sheep, and returned to Webfoot. The sheep will be taken to his ranch in Crook county.

If the campaign liars who started the report that Judge Gresham was about to take the stump for the third party ticket ever get into his court he will probably commit them for contempt. The campaign liars should steer clear of the judge. He has a great deal of jurisdiction over people of their class.

There are some pretty bad boys out at the east end, and the attention of the marshal is called to some of their wild capers. This forenoon as a Chinaman was driving into town some of these bad boys pelted him with rocks. He would have been justified in using them up badly, as he intended, but they got away from him.

The board of state reform school commissioners yesterday appointed Prof. M. W. Smith, of The Dalles, superintendent to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation, which takes place tomorrow. Professor Smith is a well-known educator, having been principal of The Dalles public schools the past five years. Mrs. Smith will be matron.

According to the Vancouver Register, George B. Markle, of Portland, has an option on the Vancouver, Klickitat and Yakima railroad. He recently made a trip over the line and has now gone east to make arrangements to buy the road, in which event the line will be extended at once to the coal fields, sixty miles distant, and thence across the mountains to Yakima.

To manufacturers like the Royal Baking Powder Company, the public is under a large debt of gratitude for the increased purity of articles of food sold at the present day. The reports of the official government investigations of baking powders show the Royal to be stronger and purer than any other. It is quite evident that neither ingenuity, science nor expense can in any way improve upon the Royal Baking Powder as now before the public.

From the Daily Chronicle, Thursday.

Mr. B. S. Kelsay, of Kent, is at the Umatilla house today.

Stoneman & Feige have the Young American school shoes.

Messrs. Alfred Luke, and B. F. Swift, of Wamic, are in the city today.

Farmers do not have time to come to town these days except on urgent business.

Another entertainment awaits you at the Institute meeting at the Court house this evening.

Messrs. Wm. McIntosh, W. J. Green, and M. A. Inley of Portland, are guests at the Umatilla house today.

In consequence of the interesting debate at the Court house last evening, the institute spelling school was postponed.

The Evening Blade, in Baker city, changed hands yesterday, Dr. Boyd having disposed of his interest in the paper to F. S. Lack.

Deputy Postmaster Chittenden will make a trip far up the Columbia next week, penetrating the regions traversed by the Great Northern.

Mr. S. W. Patterson has become proprietor of the Occidental Hotel at Antelope having purchased the interest of the late proprietor, Mr. N. Anderson.

A. S. Baty, representative of Zan Bros., Feldman & Cole, who called on our merchants a few weeks since, was kicked by a horse at Prineville recently, which came near laying him out.

Mr. E. D. McArthur, of Portland, was a passenger to Antelope this morning, where he goes to take a position as a salesman in the store of W. Bolton & Co.

Mr. J. W. Wilson, of The Dalles, leaves today for Snohomish, Wash., where he has already made arrangements to go into business with Mr. T. C. Clark, formerly of The Dalles.

A Boston literary paper has taken it in hand vigorously to work up a big subscription for itself, by the liberal use of Columbus day attracting popular attention to its position on the subject.

Hon. J. P. Wager, who has written the editorials for the Evening Telegram, of Portland, for the past year, has gone to Spokane, where he will assume the same position on the Chronicle, of that city.

Geo. M. Harrison and John Donohue have refitted and thoroughly renovated the Baldwin, and have opened it as a first-class restaurant. Both are known as deserving young men and successful caterers.

Mrs. Alice Houghton, the Spokane lady who made $400,000 in four years in the real estate business in Washington and Idaho, has been in New York, and the World is authority for the statement that Mrs. Houghton has made $4,000 in a little real estate deal during her visit there.

Nancy Hanks reduced her own record at Independence, Ia., to 2.05 1/4. The pneumatic tire, Budd Doble, and Kite Track were in it.

Congregational church meeting, preparatory to the communion, at the residence of Mr. Bela Huntington, this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock.

Nearly all the absent pleasure-seekers from The Dalles have returned. Rev. S. L. Brooks was amongst those who came back last evening. It is understood that he was camped at Whisky Flat.

East End Hose Co. No. 3: last night chose three delegates to attend the Veterans parade in Portland on firemen's day, Monday next. The delegates expenses are to be met by the company. A. J. Moses, Henry L. Kuck, and Wallace Fargher, are the gentlemen selected.

"Harrison-Reid and Protection, 1892," is the circle inscription of a tin plate, sent out by the American protective league. The plate is made from American tin, and bears these words on the inside of the bottom: "Protection's banner guards our land, from England's greed and pauper pay, and when I play Great Britain's hand, please take me for a blooming Jay."

Mr. Kenneth MacRay, of Dayville, Grant county, shipped four carloads, one hundred head of horses, from Baker city, via the Union Pacific, to Kansas city. Mr. R. L. Stone, a buyer from Kansas city, also shipped four carloads, purchased from horse raisers in Powder river valley. The lot were fine brood mares, averaging 1100 to 1200 pounds in weight. The prices paid were from $30 to $40 per head.

An ear of corn eight and one-half inches in length, six inches in circumference, well filled, is resting on our table today to say to all doubting Thomases "Wasco hills produce corn equal to Egypt." This is a sample from the hill-tops on L. M. Sterlings ranch, adjoining the Columbia River Fruit Co's land. It is from a volunteer ten acre field, and was never hoed, cultivated or watered. How is that for high?

It would be a valuable find to the fleece masters of the plains to discover some variety of grass which shall prove to be capable of growing in an alkali soil. On this depends the reclamation of hundreds of thousands of acres, which otherwise are likely to remain forever worthless. A California writer states that he found the dandelion or rye grass, lolium ferrene, growing thrifty on a piece of very bad alkali soil, where nothing else would flourish, and that it made good pasture. Bermuda grass is another that will grow in alkali soil and it has proved valuable for sheep grazing.

Teacher's Institute.

Thursday evening program for the teacher's institute at the Court house at 7:30 o'clock.

Music: Trio, "Sunlight."

Lecture: "The culture which the common school gives." Prof. J. H. Ackerman.

Vocal solo: "Sweet Eileen Machree."

Lecture: "The moral training of children." Prof. Frank Rigler.

Closing Address: Supt. Troy Shelley.

Ladies Chorus: "Those evening bells."

The Chronicle believes that it is unnecessary to answer fakirs of any kind, whose ambition it is to provoke a wordy war. Groundless and false charges against anyone, from even a man representing himself as a minister of gospel truths, especially when directed to members of another sect, in the vindictive style of bitterness belonging to the fanatical bigot, does not carry with them the conviction which should incite the intelligence of men to a discussion of the ridiculous and vulgar assertions.

The Sisters of Most Holy Names, whose lives have been devoted to good works and the kind offices of charity the world over, would nurse back to life the man who smote them with his vile ravings, or forgive him for his abuse of them, on the same principle which once actuated Christ himself to plead for his persecutors, as they knew not what they were doing. All who have a heart in them capable of sympathy with the unfortunate and sorrowing elements in humanity, can appreciate the position of THE CHRONICLE on this subject.

Every one of us will have an account, finally, to Him, who deals justly by all, and the sorrows caused by unlicensed speech, even though it be in a pulpit (so-called) may be punished as a crime.

Excursion Party Coming.

Mr. S. L. Brooks is in receipt of a letter from Rev. W. R. Butcher, informing him that Mr. Butcher is en route from Rock Island, Ill., to the west; Colorado, Utah, California and Oregon, and expect to drop in on The Dalles in three or four weeks. Mr. Butcher will be remembered as a former pastor of the Congregational church of this city.

He says the party is a family party of twenty-five, travelling by special car, headed by Mrs. Butcher's brothers. The letter bears date August 25th. A later postal card intimates the desire of the party to include, in their Oregon saunterings Cloud Cap Inn.

Shooting Begins Today.

Guard. A broad smile wreathes the countenances of all the sportsmen in the county, while game dealers and restaurant-keepers rub their hands together with complacency. The reason is a very obvious one. The open season for killing grouse, pheasants, Mongolian pheasants, quail or partridge, is from September 1st to November 15th. The open season for killing water fowl is from September 1st to March 15th. The open season for killing deer and elk bucks is from August 1st to November 1st, but the does may be killed from August 1st to January 1st. It is unlawful to kill spotted fawn at any time. After Wednesday of the present week, the aisles of the dim woods will reverberate with the crack of rifles and shot-guns.

Water Transportation.

This is the centenary year of the New York state canal, and the Press is now furnishing many interesting facts concerning these water routes, notably the Erie canal, which regulates the freight rates on all the railroads east of the Mississippi river, not only on the roads whose tracks run parallel with the canal, but upon those which run in the opposite direction. That was said several years ago, but Edward Hannan, superintendent of public works for New York, said in his last report to the state legislature: "Never before has such a violent and persistent war of rates existed between the trunk lines combined on one side and the Erie canal on the other."

The competition was commenced upon the opening of the canal this year, and was continued during the entire season until its close, when the rates were immediately advanced to more than double what they had been during the season." The immense traffic of the canals is shown by the following statement issued by the canal union: "Starting with the navigation season of 1837, 12 years after the canals were opened, and taking 20 years, to and including 1856, we find the total tonnage of the canals for that 20 years was 50,326,487 tons, of an estimated value of $2,586,495,277. During the 21 years last past, ending with the season of 1891, we find that the total tonnage of the canals was 106,844,756 tons, of an estimated value of $3,315,699,201. In the earlier period of 20 years the tonnage was less than half the tonnage of the later 20 years—just 57,518,272 tons less."

Baldness is either hereditary, or caused by sickness, mental exhaustion, wearing tight-fitting hats, and overwork and trouble. Hall's Renewer will prevent it.

TO THE WIFE OF D. L. CATES, in The Dalles, August 29th, a daughter.

Auction Sale.

In pursuance of an order of the county court, of Wasco county, dated July 15th, 1892, I will sell at public auction at the stock yard of W. E. Saltmarsh & Co., Saturday, September 10th, 1892, twenty-five or more head of horses, mares and colts belonging to the estate of W. J. Meins. They are all gentle horses, some of them broke to work. They will be sold for cash or approved security. Sale to begin at 2 p. m. sharp.

J. C. MEINS, Administrator, of the Estate of W. J. Meins.

Dated, THE DALLES, Or., Aug. 23, 1891. 7.23dwlm.

THE DALLES WILL GET IT.

Possibility That the big Government Gun Factory will be Located Here.

The Dalles has a friend at court, and we are advised that there is a very strong possibility that the government gun factory for the Pacific coast may be located here. The climate at The Dalles is just what is required for working steel and polished goods. Every point mentioned for the factory has the fatal objection of a damp climate, and none that has been mentioned which has a climate equal to this have the facilities for transportation such as The Dalles has. A Washington dispatch today says that before the Oregon senators leave for the Pacific coast they will probably insist that the board of officers, consisting of three army and three navy officers, be appointed to examine and report upon a site for the gun factory on the Pacific coast.

Heretofore it has been considered probable that this gun factory would be located at Benicia, but the officers of the various departments assert that the Columbia river and Puget sound are making an effort to secure the site. These officers say that a Pacific coast factory is absolutely necessary, on account of the number of guns and mortars needed for coast defenses, and the inability of Waterliet to supply them. They estimate that the Pacific coast will require 500 guns, and say there would be great military advantages in having a gun factory on the Pacific coast.

The Oregon senators believe that the Columbia river will be selected as the point for the location of this factory when everything is taken into consideration, but of course California and Puget sound will be active candidates. Already these sections have presented claims for the location, but it is expected that when the board is appointed Oregon will not be at all backward in presenting the claims of the Columbia. It is said that eastern Washington ought really to be more interested in the Columbia site than in a site on Puget sound, just as it is more interested in overcoming the obstacles of Columbia river navigation than it is in the construction of a canal at Seattle.

GENERAL READJUSTMENT. Promising Outlook for Spokane Under the New Deal.

From the Oregonian.]

If the Great Northern shall give Spokane seaboard rates, as reported, the entire rate system for the Pacific slope must be readjusted. Seaboard points, as a consequence, will be compelled to look more to ocean transportation, through which they will still have an advantage; but if Spokane shall get mileage rates she will be still more favored, since she will get many classes of goods at lower rates than the railroads will give to seaboard points. If the expectations formed of the Great Northern at Spokane shall be fulfilled, that city will soon obtain a splendid position in the trade of the interior, and will have a growth not hitherto equaled in its history. It is a central point, it is a common point on three great roads, and many local roads radiate from it. It is the center, moreover, of a great agricultural and mining region, and its water power gives it incomparable facilities for manufacturing industry. During two years past Spokane has been recovering from the effects of her disastrous fire and consequent hard times, and now she starts forward again. Within a few years she will be a finer city than Denver, since she has natural and other advantages beyond those which Denver ever possessed.

FLAVEL IS THE NAME.

Final Transfer of the Tansy Point Property.

An Astoria dispatch yesterday reports the largest single cash real estate deal ever transacted in the state of Oregon. Judge Carey and Fred Strong, of Portland, attorneys for E. L. Dwyer, P. J. Burke and N. G. Reed, of Boston, and S. H. Brown, jr., of Marblehead, Mass., have been working for the past three days with Hon. C. W. Fulton, of this city, attorney for Capt. George Flavel, on the transfer of the property on the west side of Youngs bay known as Tansy point, and comprising about 1800 acres. The price paid for the land was $350,000 and the deeds were signed and filed yesterday afternoon. The entire party left for Portland where they will meet the latter part of this week and organize a townsite and improvement company with a paid-up capital stock of $3,000,000. Messrs. Brown and Reed represent other eastern capitalists who were unable to be present at the transfer of the property. The new townsite located at Tansy point was named Flavel, instead of Termania, the prize name chosen by E. L. Dwyer several days ago.

The Seed is Being Sown.

The Dalles cannot very much longer be overlooked by capitalists who are seeking just such a place as this, in which to establish mills and factories. The editor of Wades' Fiber and Fabric, acknowledging the receipt of two photographs of wool scenes from Mr. Linnus Hubbard, writes for further information in reference to the building of a woolen mill here, and of the wool product of this section, which they wish to publish in Wades' Fiber and Fabric, which has no doubt the largest circulation among woolen and cotton mills of any paper published in the United States. Mr. Hubbard is now collecting these facts, and will be thankful to any person who has such information if they will aid him in the matter for the good of the city and county. It may result in the erection of a woolen mill and kindred manufacturing interests here.

An Interesting Meeting.

Those who attended the Teachers Institute meeting at the Court house last evening, listened to a very entertaining debate between chosen sides, under the leadership of Prof. C. L. Gilbert and H. L. Howe, upon the proposition: "Resolved that the country schools are doing more for the cause of education than the city schools."

Judges were first selected consisting of Judge Blakeley, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Morgan.

To Prof. Gilbert was assigned the affirmative, with the following named disputants: Prof. J. Barnett, Attorney W. H. Wilson, Editor John Mitchell, Prof. J. H. Ackerman, Miss Mary E. Frazier and Mrs. Mary Donnell. To Prof. Howe was assigned the negative, with disputants as follows: Prof. Knott, J. A. Haylock, F. G. Conley, Miss Charlotte Roberts, Mrs. Dr. Ingalls and Prof. Frank Rigler.

Speakers were limited to five-minute talks, and that the audience shared the enthusiasm of the disputants was evident from the frequency of the applause which greeted the good points scored on either side.

At the close of the debate another selection of music "Hark, 'tis the evening bell," was happily rendered by a choir, consisting of Mrs. B. S. Huntington, Miss Gertrude Meyer, Mrs. A. Varney, Miss L. Slutz, Miss Rose Mitchell, Grace Crandall, Matilda Hollister. Mrs. C. J. Crandall accompanying on the organ.

The judges then gave their decision in favor of the affirmative, and the meeting was dismissed by Supt. Shelly, acting president.
