

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, - - - - OREGON

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Tuesday.

Harry Clough is at the St. Charles, in Portland this evening.

U. R. Johnson, the hedge builder of La Grande, is in the city.

Mr. Polk Butler and H. E. Moore of Nanaimo, are in the city.

D. W. Collins and his three daughters, of Goldendale, are in the city.

Keep your eye on the big premium list for the exhibitors at the county fair.

Mrs. Fish, mother of Chief Judd S., returned to Portland this a. m., by Regulator.

Max. A. Vogt left for Spokane last night to attend his sick brother B. F., confined by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Green of Dufur, were in the city yesterday. THE CHRONICLE acknowledges a call.

Mr. D. L. Cates and family left by the steamer Regulator yesterday for their new home at Cascade Locks.

Sprague landing had three passengers on the Regulator this a. m. Messrs. R. and A. Tillotson and Wm. Thurston.

There are at the Cascades today fifty-five or sixty editors who will be in attendance at the annual session at The Dalles.

Some people who did not read THE CHRONICLE last night lost an hour's sleep this morning endeavoring to take the Regulator at 6 a. m.

Mrs. Chase late of 3-Mile, but who now resides in the city, has been very ill for over a week, but is now recovering under the kind care of friends.

Senator J. M. Dolph will address the people of The Dalles Thursday evening. A large audience will doubtless hear him.

Hon. A. J. Dufur returned from his visit to Portland Saturday, and after a pleasant reunion with his family connections and friends in The Dalles, left for Dufur on the stage yesterday morning.

The Dalles public school enrollment for the past month is reported by the principal as 428. The largest enrollment for the month of September in any previous year is that of last year, when 384 were reported.

Isaac Driver came in last night with a small team of four horses, loaded with wheat. There is nothing unusual about that, but as he made affidavit to it we have to believe that the load weighed 6,800 lbs, and he came over Tygh hill without doubling up.

The Hunt road, as it is known in the Inland Empire, is now the Washington and Columbia river railroad. It is perhaps the only railroad in the country without bonds or stock. It is the personal property of Mr. C. B. Wright. The road has 167 miles of track, and will be nearly 200 miles long by the time it reaches the Snake river. It is now operated by the U. P. Ry. Co.

Mr. A. M. Patterson, of the weekly Heppner Gazette, was the first of the Eastern Oregon delegation to reach The Dalles. He arrived on the 4 p. m. train yesterday, and proceeded with the committee by steamer Regulator this morning to meet the delegations at the cascades from Portland and beyond.

A newspaper man in Scott valley has, it is said, invented a hand press remarkable for its capacity in turning out papers. Now if some other genius will add an attachment that will increase a circulation with rapidity, the country editor will call down blessings upon his head. We submit the proposition to the convention.

One of those foundationless reports that obtain currency sometimes without any source traceable, recently reached here to the effect that Ben Pratt, a former resident of this county, had been hung in the Okonogon country. Letters to friends on 15-Mile, from a son of Mr. Farrington, says the report is wholly untrue. Mr. Pratt is alive and well, and is engaged in carrying the mail out of Waterville, Wash.

Scarcely did a runaway horse ever fix things up for a first class lode, better than the old gray gelding that draws the cart of a Portland box factory did a few days ago. About 12:10 p. m., he stood by the curb on Morrison street nibbling his nibble of oats, hanging in a feed sack under his nose, when the Telegram says: "Something started him," and he made a graft down the street. At the intersection of Second he collided with a delivery outfit, which he proceeded to climb over. He turned his wagon upside down, threw the driver out, dragged the outfit half a block and nearly stamped the horse to death. Then he turned around, and described circles, semicircles, parallelograms, and, finally, struck a hypotheuse with his feet based on the other horse's stomach.

In the fray both cart and wagon were smashed all to pieces; the delivery horse was nearly killed, and the driver was shaken out of his boots, but the box factory horse which caused all the trouble settled down at last to finish his oats.

Folk & Co., the extensive, and exclusively correct, directory publishers in the Pacific Northwest, are about to issue a directory of Baker City. The Dalles will have a Polk directory when the town is ripe for one. Mr. H. M. Clinton, the manager of this firm, is an old resident of Oregon, well known to many citizens in all parts of the state as having been for a number of years connected with the press, his last effort in this line being that of manager for five years of the Evening Telegram at Portland.

This is the day set for the arrival at Chicago of Maj. Magone, the sage of Grant county, at one time prominent in political affairs in the state. He left John Day July 4th, on foot and alone, intending to complete his long walk today. Although 82 years of age he passed Omaha ten days ago, hale and hearty, having walked every mile of the way and to a press reporter said he would not ride a foot of the distance if given $1,000 to do so. On the trip the major stops at the best hotels and attracts a good deal of attention. He carries many letters from officials and prominent citizens of Oregon to prove he is no impostor. He is extremely temperate in all his habits, never having drunk a drop of liquor nor smoked a cigar or pipe. The object of his trip is to show the people of the country that a man past eighty years of age can be one of the boys if he wants to, particularly if he hails from the Inland Empire of Oregon.

From the Daily Chronicle, Wednesday.

Mr. W. K. Corson, is in Portland.

Notice the new ad. today of Pease & Mays.

Secretary Tozier is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. M. Briggs.

Hare and Penoyer now lie together and Weaver leads them.

Bro. Westerfield, of the Lafayette Leader, is a guest of Judge Bradshaw.

Dr. Logan was called to Grant last night to attend the family of Mr. McCoy.

Little Miss Emily, daughter of J. B. Crossen, is quite ill at her father's house.

German Lutheran service will be held next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. at the chapel on Ninth street.

W. H. Frazer whose lost watch was advertised yesterday has found out where it is.

To our brothers of the Press: If you have not THE CHRONICLE on your ex. list, put it there now.

Miss Anna Peter & Co. made a handsome display of trimmed goods on opening day. Call and inspect. See new advertisement.

Mr. H. S. Cheesman now has three benches running in his boot and shoe factory and repair shop, No. 60 Second street.

Miss M. Montgomery, of Albany, is in the city attending the Press Association, and is the guest of Mrs. C. F. Stephens.

Winans is a beautifully located Summer Resort, and is abundantly supplied with resources for manufacturing. See advertisement today.

Mr. W. Lord drove into the city today with a load of Klickitat wheat, and seemed to handle the reins about as easy as a "hired man."

Senator Dolph passed through the city at noon today. He speaks at Heppner tonight and at the court house in this city tomorrow night.

Everybody is invited to attend the reception at the Court house this evening. The ladies committee specially request that citizens generally attend.

A few days since Mr. W. Ross Winans, of the new town of Winans, Hood River valley, killed two fine large black bears. The skins will make beautiful robes.

Hon. W. McD. Lewis died last evening at 5 o'clock, from a complication of diseases, which have kept him confined to his bed constantly for several months past.

Editors are attracted by the beautiful appearance of some of our second street business houses, notably that of Prinz & Nitschke, and the elegant display, prepared purposely for Editors' Day, at Pease & Mays.

It is quite apparent to any one not wholly blind to the fact, that the Goble railway project, the steamer Telephone, and the U. P. R. all belong to the "system." Keep your eye on this for a fact, brothers of Astoria.

When the dispatch was read in the Press convention this morning announcing that Wasco had taken 11 of 13 premiums for fruit at the exposition, a burst of enthusiasm showed that the boys of the quill were with us today.

Maj. Magone got into Chicago on time yesterday. The dispatch says the old gentleman is in fine health, and says he had a pleasant trip all the way. He will return back by rail after the dedication, so as to get home in time to vote.

Luigi Bono, an Italian rag-picker, was found dead in a basement on Crosby street in New York yesterday. The health officers fear that this means cholera.

David Creighton made a dash at the Editors with three watermelons, the aggregate weight of which was 97 pounds. Mr. Brooks arranged them thus for exhibit:

Table with 3 columns: 30lb, 28lb, 39lb

These melons grew on soil 1500 feet above sea level, without rain or irrigation.

Capt McNulty's assistant at the wheel yesterday was one of The Dalles most excellent young ladies, who has taken quite a fancy to piloting, and is already familiar with many points along the river, Iva Point, 13-Mile Point, the Old Man of Wind Mountain, Bears Statue Point, etc., a knowledge which increases the interest in a trip very highly.

When your stove is full of paper, etc., the accumulations of a summer, light them as far from the flue as possible if you want to create a fire alarm and smoke your neighbors out, as was done by a neighbor for our Express benefit this forenoon. Otherwise, touch the match just as close to the flue as possible. That consumes the pile and it goes off in smoke about its own legitimate business.

The programme for today includes the business sessions of the convention, visit to Celilo, and formal reception this evening at the Court house, to which the public generally are cordially invited to be present. The exercises will consist of the formal address of welcome by Mayor Mays, the response by President Noltner, and an address on "Country Journalism," by Col. Pat Donan. Attendees may expect a feast of good things in Col. Donan's address, equal to an evening with Bill Nye.

The ladies' committee on floral decorations, on board the steamer Regulator yesterday, were very highly complimented. They prepared five elegant pieces, the largest one representing a printer's frame, with cases filled with choice flowers, such as The Dalles only can produce. They prepared 150 bouquets, also, so that all could be provided. "O, the language of flowers," and how it did talk for The Dalles, the Inland Empire, an open river, and, and, and, well; everything so charming. This committee consisted of Miss Iva Brooks chairman, Mrs. Gourlay, Misses Ione Ruch, Caroline Booth and Grace Michell.

Dr. Snedaker, located over The Dalles postoffice book store, is now prepared to administer vegetable vapor for the painless extraction of teeth. Call and try this vapor and be convinced that it is a wonderful thing for suffering humanity.

Dr. Snedaker is also now fully prepared to do what is called "crown and bridge work," which is the insertion in the mouth of artificial teeth by means of gold bands, thus avoiding the use of a disagreeable, bulky plate in the mouth. Crowns and bridges are used extensively in the east, and if properly made and adjusted, are a source of the greatest comfort to a person both in appearance and utility.

Col. Pat Donan, whom everybody will want to hear tonight at the Press Association meeting, wouldn't miss this trip for anything. He is a loyal Georgian, but avers that Georgia couldn't compete with Wasco for such fruits as is to be seen at the 11th Hour Exhibit in the grand jury room today. The cream of Wasco fruit must be seen at the exposition where Wasco has taken eleven of thirteen premiums today. Watch for the report of our horses at La Grande this week. Take into consideration our matchless autumn weather, our majestic Columbia, our gigantic water power, the Inland Empire has all the elements of health and wealth and prosperity.

The meeting was called to order at 9 o'clock. By courtesy of Bro Leo Peterson we have the following report:

Communication was read from the Oregon City Enterprise in reference to the erection of a monument for Dr. McLaughlin, "the father of Oregon." Referred to the legislative committee.

Communication from Orville Dodge, publisher of the West Oregonian, was read and referred to committee on resolutions.

Report of the committee on the president's address was referred to the committee of finance and fraternity.

Committees were filled by the president in lieu of absent members.

Report of the secretary on deceased members was read and placed on the minutes. Deaths during the year were Mr. Ed. Casey and Mrs. A. Noltner, wife of the president of the association.

The report of the committee on rates for legal advertising, fixed 50 cents per line running five weeks; 65 cents per line for advertising running seven weeks. Adopted.

The committee of finance report that proceedings of 1891-2 be published. An address "Oregon Journalism" was read by Col. Eddy, and was received with enthusiasm.

From the Daily Chronicle, Thursday. Tennyson is dead.

A valuable carriage horse belonging to Hon. M. A. Moody, died last night.

Mrs. J. W. French left The Dalles today by steamer Regulator and S. P. R. for California.

Twenty-seven members of the association take a sleeper here at midnight for Spokane.

Bro. John Brown, of the Arlington Record, was compelled to return home last night—not by anybody in The Dalles.

Senator J. N. Dolph, and other republican speakers, will address the citizens at the Court house this evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

Editor Ashbury, of the Canyon City News got here in time to see the convention adjourn, but he is having his share of the fun and will go to Spokane.

Justice Shutz returned from Salem with his sheep-skin this noon, having been admitted to the bar, and is now entitled to the appellation attorney-at-law.

The populists are going to have a meeting on the 8th for the purpose of making arrangements for speakers to stump the county during the present campaign.

Phil Brogan tells of an almost unheard of incident in the life and character of sheep. A fine buck got into DesChutes a few days ago, and swam the stream. Swimming sheep are not very plentiful.

Col. Pat Donan has written a book on Astoria. In presenting the writer with a copy Col. D. said: "I cannot conscientiously recommend the literary part of it very highly, but the illustrations and binding will please you."

It is wonderful what an influence Cleveland fields. Patterning after his Falls River refusal to take a drink of wine with a lady, Capt. Moffett, Noltner, Harding, Campbell, Gault, and other democratic members of The Dalles convention, haven't touched a drop for stomachic sake since coming here.

The Wasco Exhibit.

Mr. Brooks added very considerably to the display of Wasco productions at the grand jury room yesterday. The exhibitors were:

- H. Klindt, The Dalles. Four varieties of beans, planted the last of August; Early Rose potatoes; the O. K. Mommoth; Snowflake; sweet potatoes; Spanish pea nuts; white radishes; turnips and carrots; one Fottier drum cabbage, one Wakefield, one Marguritte. Also two varieties of potatoes, which are well matured.

Joseph Wingfield, 8-Mile. One lot Pride of America potatoes, one lot Burbank seedlings, one lot Pierces discovery, all monsters; one lot Yellow Danvers, extra fine; one lot Yellow Dent corn, very fine; one very large carrot, yellow, short.

L. L. McCartney, The Dalles. One lot Muscat grapes; one lot Rose of Peru. The sweet potatoes, Spanish pea nuts, radishes, turnips and carrots, exhibited by Mr. Klindt were planted just before the 4th of July. The cabbages shown by him were grown on ground that had had a crop of wheat hay cut off of it this season before planting.

It should be known and understood that these productions do not come from patches here and there necessarily. There is 45,000 acres of land within twenty miles of The Dalles that will grow Muscat grapes to perfection. There is also 95,000 acres in Wasco county that will produce the Rose of Peru, and other varieties, equal to any place in the United States of America.

The Awards.

Following is a report of the fruit awards at the Portland exposition yesterday. Dr. J. R. Cardwell, Dr. O. P. S. Plummer and Henry E. Dosch were the committee on awards, and their decisions did not evolve one single appeal. Wasco county was awarded the prizes given the county making the finest and largest display of fruits and the most artistic display. These were the individual awards: Finest and largest display of fruit, C. P. Heald, Hood River; of dried fruits, Dr. O. P. Plummer; of apples, C. P. Heald; of pears, Sam Creighton, The Dalles; of peaches, Frank Creighton, The Dalles; of grapes, Mr. Cushing, The Dalles; of plums and prunes in glass, A. Anderson, The Dalles; of fruit put up in glass, A. Anderson; of preserved fruit put up by a lady, Mrs. J. DeJansman; second and finest and largest display of apples, W. H. H. Morgan, Sauvie's island; six best plates of apples, W. H. H. Morgan; of peaches, Frank Creighton; of pears, Sam Creighton; three plates of finest and largest varieties of apples, Henry Prege, Hood River; of pears, W. H. H. Morgan; finest and largest bunch of grapes in glass, F. A. Seajest; largest cluster of grapes, John Shram; largest peaches in glass, A. Y. Marsh, The Dalles; best display of figs in glass, Captain E. L. Pratt, Salem.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

The county fair is the next big attraction on the tapis. Save your choicest products and come in for some of the liberal premiums.

Columbus Day.

Our county school superintendent has sent to every school teacher in the county the president's call for the observance of Columbus day on October 21st, preceded by the following note: "I enclose you the official Columbus day programme. It is hoped that you will arrange with your pupils to celebrate this day. The president of the United States in honor of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America has designated Friday, October 21st, 1892, as a general holiday. I beg to suggest that Columbus day and its associations present a most opportune occasion for impressing a lesson of courage, perseverance and loyalty upon the rising generation. The president proclaims that on that day let the people, as far as possible, cease from toil and devote themselves to such exercise as may best express honor to the discoverer and their appreciation of the great achievements of the four great centuries of American life. Columbus stood in his age as the pioneer of progress and enlightenment. The system of universal education is in our age the most prominent and salutary feature of the spirit of enlightenment and it is peculiarly appropriate that the schools be made by the people the center of the day's demonstration. Let the national flag float over every school house in the country and the exercises be such as shall impress upon our youth the patriotic duties of our American citizenship."
