THE DALLES, - - - OREGON

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Friday's Daily.

I cannot sing the old songs, she sang. It wasn't true, for splendidly she sang them. As well as many new. And as she left the instrument, with brightly bounding eye, with outstretched hands to her we went. And thanked her for the use.

Cholera has started in Russia.

Five-hundredths of an inch of rain fell last night.

The river gauge marks one foot and two-tenths above zero today.

The Portland police force is being cut down owing to lack of funds.

The surrounding hills have changed their coat of brown for one of green.

A contemplated addition to C. L. Phillips' house, to be built soon, will make this one of the handsomest residences of the city.

The insane asylum commissioners went through on the train last night to Salem. They will shortly return and visit The Dalles and Heppner.

From Mr. A. S. Roberts, who resides near the summit school house, it is learned that farm work is progressing very satisfactorily, and that all kinds of stock are doing well.

The people of the county are contributing money to bear the expense of witnesses in Cal Hale's trial at Ellensburg. This is laudable, as it is the settled belief of 99 out of every 100 of the people of this county that Cal Hale is an innocent man.—Arlington Record.

A man who stops a paper because there is something in it that he does not like should be consistent and get up and leave a hotel table if he happens to discover on the bill of fare something that does not suit his taste. He should be just as consistent in one as the other.

Letters received from Mr. Isaac Joles, of the Sand Creek Mining company in Harney county, report about two feet of snow at the camp and that the weather is quite cold, consequently mining operations are held in check. The company have a valuable location and undoubtedly will be well rewarded with a season's mining.

J. F. Moore, of Prineville, it is learned from dispatches, is an applicant for register of the United States land office at The Dalles, as is also J. L. Story, of this city. The latter gentleman has the indorsement of all the prominent democrats of Oregon save one, and the bar and supreme bench as a body, besides many leading republicans.

State Food and Dairy Commissioner Luce has established an office in the Marquam building, Portland, and recently inspected milk from some of the dairies there. It was found not to come up to the requirement. Mr. Luce will make a number of inspections of milk from all the different dairies in the county and will then visit the dairies throughout the state.

Mrs. Shaw, who is under arrest at Canyon City for complicity in the murder of her husband by F. W. Gallin, is a daughter of Mrs. Lucinda Harper, formerly a resident of Long creek valley, but now at Crawfordville, Or. Gallin is a German, and is suspected of the murder of the man found in the millwheel below John Day last summer.

The Railway Age and Northwestern Railroad has issued a statement showing the construction of railroads among which the lines in Oregon upon which work will be done are: Albany & Astoria, surveyed in 1891, 103 miles; Astoria & Eastern, 120; Columbia River & Astoria, surveyed, 60 miles; Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern, under construction, 70 miles; Portland & Poguet Sound, 185 miles; Rogue River Valley, 25 miles; Siuslaw & Eastern, 80 miles; total, 703.

Saturday's Daily.

I propose that we build at Chicago, and insure against possible loss by fire, or flood, or embargo. A palace of Oregon rooms.

And then we might make an exhibit of some new old law-books, you know unless there's a law to prohibit. Lead men from attending the show.

Although our expenses were double, this rare exhibition would pay. For surely 'twere worth all our trouble if we could but give them away.

Washington has prohibited the sale of cigarettes.

Mrs. Peters wishes to postpone this evening's meeting of the Alki club.

A case of diphtheria is reported in Thompson's addition in the family of Andrew Larsen.

The thrilling notes of the meadow lark are heard in the land and the robins are "nesting again."

A new sidewalk, 180 feet long, has just been laid to the corner of Fourth and Washington streets.

Tomorrow is Palm Sunday. At the Catholic church there will be blessing and distribution of palm at 10:30.

You may talk about the tariff, but there is nothing that will cause a rise in dress goods so quickly as a mouse.

Most flattering reports are being received every day of the encouraging prospects for fruit all over the Northwest.

A number of workmen under Wm. Ridgely, manager of the party, arrived from Portland today, and securing a four-horse team, went to the Wapinitia neighborhood to engage in the work of the new Juniper flat ditch.

The combined weight of the eight cabinet members is 1,555 pounds. The Cleveland cabinet averages up pretty well in avoidapols.

"Lazy-sick" is the Indian's title for spring fever. Hood calls it "that tired feeling." Whatever it is it is now the season for the ailment.

J. S. Skinner of Polk county was swindled Wednesday out of $2,500 by bunco men. When he opened his little tin box it contained nothing but gravel.

W. W. Fleming of Morrow county caught a coyote in a trap which escaped by pulling its foot off. As it trotted away on three legs it yelped 144 yelps a minute.

The announcement of Judge Deady's death in THE CHRONICLE last evening occasioned general sorrow from the many friends and acquaintances of the deceased in this city.

B. S. Pague has mailed to the voluntary observers of Oregon, blank forms to be used for reporting the general crop-weather conditions during the coming summer. These reports will have a very good effect and furnish much interesting information.

W. H. Turner, of Goldendale, is out with a petition for the purpose of raising funds to complete the boring of the artesian well which was started last fall just south of the city. Mr. A. Howard and Mr. S. E. Hornbrook have each given $50.00 to see this good work go on.

Monday's Daily.

The East End is very lively today. Immigrants are constantly arriving.

Nye and Burbank appear at Pendleton April 7th.

It is said that a certain lady is the delighted owner of a hoopskirt outfit that she occasionally dons in the sanctity of her own chamber, but is afraid to tackle the street in it.

All hail will now be given the Chinese pheasant, and every farmer in Oregon should tote to have it protected for a hundred years. The discovery has just been made that it feeds on wild oats.

The asylum commission are expected to arrive here Wednesday or Thursday. While passing through on their way to Salem, their attention was directed to the Irvine place, and they professed great surprise, saying they had no idea it was such a fine place.

Chas. L. Schmidt, is now proprietor of the Red Front grocery store, formerly operated by John Booth. This store has the reputation of being the best in town for a complete stock of fancy groceries, and has besides a thorough line of all other kinds of goods and green groceries.

While Mrs. M. Harlan, leading her little 3-year old girl, was returning from a neighbor's this morning she was chased by a vicious cow, which nearly caught her before she reached a place of safety. The cow, at last accounts, was still at large, and we may have a casualty to report later.

Mrs. Ada Unruh will speak at the M. E. church tonight; subject "Our National Sin." Tomorrow night at the Congregational church Mrs. Unruh will give one of her very entertaining "chalk talks" for the children and their friends. Come out, children, and bring all your friends, big and little.

A. J. McHaley, of 8-Mile, arrived in town today. He reports that one of his sows has just given birth to seventeen pigs, which is the largest number of progeny ever developed in our country, short of a salmon. Mr. McHaley is one of the most successful hog raisers in the county, and has just ordered 20,000 feet of lumber for fencing, to be used for hog purposes.

Mr. H. Herbring returned from a flying trip to San Francisco last evening. He says it was rain, rain, rain during his stay in the city, and everybody was looking anxiously for better times and for another railroad. There were 7,000 empty buildings for rent and no one who wanted to occupy any of them.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Snipes & Kinsely.

DUFUR DOINGS.

Complete Roundup of the News and Gossip by Keno.

DUFUR, Or., March 20.—Dufur is now a city and a ticket was nominated last Monday night to be voted for on April 3d. It has already begun to get a move on itself and put on metropolitan airs.

An athletic club was organized within twenty-four hours after the city ticket was made out and would-be Corbets are now training muscles with the gloves that have heretofore been hardened only by using the ax and bucksaw.

Be it the title city or not that has caused the change, we have certainly run into a streak of higher civilization somehow.

It is rumored that there was a cock fight last night, between "Wasco" a well-known gamecock belonging to a prominent citizen, and a Portland bird brought here for that purpose. The meeting took place in a barn near the edge of town, and the marshal and eleven candidates for alderman held official positions during the contest. The birds did considerable sparring for wind, and then went into training for a fight to a finish to take place at some future date. These things, considered by some to be vicious and by others evidence of a higher civilization, certainly mark the change from a town to a city and we are strictly in it.

The directors of the Dalles, Dufur and Wamic Telephone Co. were here last week making necessary arrangements. They mean business and should be encouraged all along the line and in The Dalles, as communication by telephone between the country and city will be of great advantage.

Winter is staying with us so well that the roads are in a very bad condition and not much freight moving, but the farmers are not complaining, because they will have a good opportunity to test ground with plenty of moisture in it this season. Many are plowing their dryest grounds, however, in spite of bad weather.

Coughs and colds are the order of the day, and there is more sneezing than singing going on at present.

My attention was called recently to Hon. T. R. Coon's article on the rise and fall of Cascade county in the Glacier, in which he gave the "gentleman from Tygh county" a rub. We are something of a liar ourselves, but are not in it against professionals; may call his attention to a few points in your next issue if allowed; however, just in a friendly way, understand, for am not much on the fight so long after the battle. KENO.

An Indian Burial.

An Indian funeral procession filed through First street this morning on the way to their burying ground above here. The corpses (there were two of them, presumably children, from the size) were wrapped in gunnysacking and suspended from poles, either end being supported by the shoulders of a squaw. Changes were frequently made by the pall bearers. They were absent about two hours, and, though they did not return to the inspiring strains of Yankee Doodle by a brass band, like the paleface, they chattered away as if glad that their sad duty had ended.

It is said the Indians have great natural love for their children and are inconsolable when they are lost by death. Mother Nature has been kind in implanting parental love in the heart of every creature, but she has been more considerate with the lower orders of animal life in shrouding the phenomena of death with mystery that they do not realize their loss.

McArthur the Man.

The friends of ex-Judge L. L. McArthur are circulating a petition, which is being unanimously signed, for that gentleman's appointment as U. S. district judge. The names of some half-dozen persons are canvassed for this position. But there is one man among them who ought not to be considered at all. His name is R. S. Strahan, and his appointment would be a scandal and a public misfortune. The reasons for this plain statement are ample. Strahan's habits and practices are such that President Cleveland, if he knew him, would reject his name with indignation.

The Mignonettes Disband.

Last evening amid mirth and music the Mignonette club expired, it being the last of a series of the parties for which the club was organized. A full attendance of the members filled the hall, and the programme, a little longer than usual, was enjoyed to the utmost. About twelve o'clock to the strains of a waltz the last set was passed through with and as the music ceased the club was no more. The music by Messrs. Birgfeld and Burchstorf was excellent. A pleasant diversion was a waltz played by Messrs. Garretson, Booth and Jameson on mandolin and guitar. The dancers will now have a rest and await the return of next winter.

A Pioneer Gone.

Hon. Benj. F. Burch, of Independence, Polk county, died yesterday morning of heart failure. Mr. Burch came to Oregon in 1845, and has lived in that county ever since. He has been one of Oregon's prominent citizens. This year is making inroads on Oregon's pioneer roll faster than we think.

Rich Diggings in Polk.

Quite a number of persons have staked out claims on a gold and silver mine discovered near Falls City, Polk county, and the proprietors now think they have a bonanza, relying upon the words of a Portland expert for said opinion. A shaft has already been dug and a rich vein exposed. If the assay comes any ways near the expectation, it will materially assist to develop that region to a remarkable degree.

The funeral will occur from the parents' residence tomorrow at 2 o'clock p. m. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to be present.

JUDGE DEADY DEAD.

He Died at 7:45 Today and Was Conscious to the Last.

PORTLAND, Or., March 24.—(Special to THE CHRONICLE.)—Matthew P. Deady, United States district judge, died this morning at 7:45. His dissolution was painless and he was conscious up to the last.

Matthew Paul Deady was born near Easton, Talbot county, Md., May 12th, 1824. His father was a man of fine education and Matthew attended his father's school until his 12th year. The family moved successively to Wheeling, Cincinnati, Covington, Ky., Rodney, Miss. and Belmont, O. Here Matthew worked hard as an agriculturist until his 17th year. In the meantime, possessing a natural taste for learning, he read all the books he could obtain, and acquired a very fair amount of information regarding American and English literature. Next, in 1841, he learned the blacksmith trade, working four years at the anvil. During the winters of 1843 and 1844 he attended the Barnesville academy, paying his way as he went, graduated in 1845, and obtained a certificate to teach, when, though barely 21 years of age, he gave universal satisfaction. He determined now on qualifying himself for the bar, and under the instructions of Judge Wm. Kennon, St. Clairsville, he soon developed that he possessed abilities of a very high order. In 1847 he was admitted, and in 1849 the young lawyer started across the plains with the object of reaching the Pacific coast. After the usual rough experience which men were compelled to submit to in those days, he stepped from his canoe on Nov. 14th and found himself on the banks of the Willamette river at the place where Portland now stands. He first obtained employment as a teacher, but in March 1850 "put out his shingle" and soon acquired a good practice. On June 1st, 1850, he was elected a member of the house from Yamhill county. Mr. Deady, at the close of the session, prepared for publication the laws enacted in 1849 and 1850. This was the first volume of the kind published in the territory. In the spring of 1853 he was appointed by the president one of three judges of the supreme court. He chose the southern district, and the next year purchased 320 acres of land in the Umpuquetta valley, where he established his residence.

He was a very busy man then, as he has been all his life. He organized courts in five counties in Southern Oregon and frequently wrote up the records with his own hand. He was never known to miss a session of his court or be absent at the time designated. On Feb. 14th, 1859, he was appointed United States district judge. He secured the location of the court at Portland, to which city he then removed, and has ever since lived there. In 1862, being appointed code commissioner for the state of Oregon, he prepared the code of civil procedure, which was enacted by the legislature substantially as he had drafted it. The general incorporation act was also passed virtually without change. At the request of the legislature he also formulated a code of criminal procedure, a penal code and a justice's code. In 1867 he was assigned by Justice Field to hold the U. S. circuit court in San Francisco. Among the well-known cases tried by him were those of Martinette vs. McGuire and McCall vs. McDowell. In 1885 he sat in the circuit court in the famous case of Sharon vs. Hill and wrote the decision of the bench. Judge Deady was a member of the Trinity Episcopal church and organized and has been the president of the Library Association of Portland since 1872. On June the 24th, 1852, he was married to Miss Lucy A. Henderson, daughter of a prosperous farmer of Yamhill county. Three children from this union are living—Edward Nesmith, Paul Robert and Henderson Brooke. The first two are prominent lawyers, and the last is devoting himself to medicine.

From this brief biography, it will be seen that Judge Mathew Paul Deady, is a self-made man, who has risen from the ranks to a position of prominence and honor. His name is a synonym for truth, uprightness and honor. He had a brilliant intellect, a noble bearing, and the suavity, kindness and benignity of a true gentleman. His services to his adopted state are universally recognized, and his loss will be severely felt throughout all the Pacific states.

ALBINA EXCITED.

Talk of Moving the Shops the Sole Topic of Conversation.

There is a great deal of excitement in Albina at present. It seems to be conceded by the shop men there that the Union Pacific will remove from the terminal company's shops, and preparations are even being made by some for removal. It forms the chief topic of conversation around the company buildings in Albina, and its influence is even being felt here at The Dalles, many railroad men at The Dalles discussing upon possibilities and probabilities. The abandoned plant here, which is capable of a force of 700 or 800, gives employment at present to only a handful of men, and there is a possibility that the Union Pacific intend transplanting their men, machinery and tools to this place, whence they left three years ago.

Jim Hill is in Portland and the rumor is that he is trying to get the control of the shops in question.

Mistaken Again.

The Telegram gives the particulars of a bunco game, in which John Furey and Peter Nohl were the conspirators and Hon. T. R. Coon, of Hood River, was the victim. The Telegram is mistaken again. Mr. Coon was not in Portland at the time of the alleged occurrence, and can easily prove an alibi. Besides, the gentlemen is not the kind of a coon to be bitten by bunco men, and he will hear with much interest the particulars of how he bet $7.50 on a big hand at draw poker, and went out after more money on a raise of $50, leaving his own hand in a sealed envelope and the deck on the table.

Social Entertainments.

The ladies of the Women's Relief Corps gave a social entertainment to the members of the G. A. R. at Fraternity hall on Saturday evening. An excellent literary and musical programme occupied the first part of the evening, after which refreshments were served. The programme was as follows:

Song..... Pearl Joles and Prudence Patterson

Recitation..... Ladies Glee Club

Song..... Prudence Patterson

Recitation..... Ladies Glee Club

Song..... Mrs. S. M. Briggs

Recitation..... Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Myers

Dialogue, Holland's "Bitter Sweet"..... Audience

W. R. C. Ode, "America"..... Audience

The programme was a most entertaining and instructive one, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

An entertainment was tendered the members of the Good Templars lodge Saturday evening by Mrs. Alice Frazer. Mrs. Frazer's home was filled with the guests, who spent a very enjoyable evening with games, music, and afterwards a toothsome lunch, to which all did ample justice.

Mrs. Ada W. Unruh a W. C. T. U. state organizer and lecturer, will speak in the Congregational church next Sabbath evening at 7:30 o'clock. Subject of address, "Our Boys and Girls." Mrs. Unruh is well known in western Oregon, and has been for the last two weeks in eastern Oregon. Every where she is spoken of as an interesting, witty and forceful speaker. The local union extend a most cordial invitation to all to come out and listen to the charming speaker. Mrs. Unruh will give a talk to the Sunday school at the M. E. Church on Sunday at 12:30. A cordial invitation is extended to all Sunday school children and workers.

Talk's cheap, but when it's backed up by a pledge of the hard cash of a financially responsible firm, or company, of world-wide reputation for fair and honorable dealing, it means business!

Now, there are scores of sarsaparillas and other blood-purifiers, all cracked up to be the best, purest, most peculiar and wonderful, but bear in mind (for your own sake), there's only one guaranteed blood-purifier and remedy for torpid liver and all diseases that come from bad blood.

That one—standing solitary and alone—sold on trial, is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

If it doesn't do good in skin, scalp and scrofulous diseases—and pulmonary consumption is only lung-scrofula—just let its makers know and get your money back.

Talk's cheap, but to back a poor medicine, or a common one, by selling it on trial, as "Golden Medical Discovery" is sold, would bankrupt the largest fortune.

Talk's cheap, but only "Discovery" is warranted.

MRS. ELMIRA HATCH.

HEART DISEASE 20 YEARS.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

DEAR SIR: For 20 years I was troubled with heart disease. Would frequently have fainting spells and smothering at night. Had to sit up or get out of bed to breathe. Had pain in my left side and back most of the time; at last I became dropsical. I was very nervous and nearly worn out. The least excitement would cause me to tremble and consider myself cured.

THOUSANDS also much troubled with fluttering. For the last fifteen years I could not sleep on my left side or back until I began taking your New Heart Cure. I had not taken it very long until I felt much better, and I can now sleep on either side or back without the least discomfort. I have no pain, smothering, dropsy, no wind on stomach or other disagreeable symptoms. I am able to do all my own housework without any trouble and consider myself cured.

ELKHART, Ind., 1898. MRS. ELMIRA HATCH.

It is now four years since I have taken any medicine. Am in better health than I have been in 40 years. I honestly believe that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure saved my life and made me a well woman. I am now 62 years of age, and am able to do a good day's work.

MAY 29th, 1892. MRS. ELMIRA HATCH.
