

LOOD ON THE MOON

Secretary Carlisle Sat Down Hard on Dave Hill.

NEW YORK WANTS EVERYTHING

Discussion Upon the Contested Seats Begun in the Senate--No Decision Reached As Yet.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The Herald's Washington special says: Senators Hill and Murphy called on Secretary Carlisle yesterday afternoon.

"We want an office for this man," giving his name. "He is a good democratic worker and deserves recognition."

"Is that all you have to say in his favor?" asked the secretary.

"No, it is not," replied Carlisle sharply. "There are already more applicants from New York for places than it is possible to fill."

Suicide of a Defaulter.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—E. Amnden, formerly cashier of the Continental insurance company, who disappeared after a shortage of $1,000 in his accounts had been discovered, committed suicide last night.

"Cause of death, madness and despair. Be noble enough to give only these, the true reasons, to the press and public."

E. R. AMSDEN. Amnden was 42 years old, and lived in Oakland.

Fight in Brazil.

VALPARAISO, March 29.—Refugees who have arrived here from Bago tell a story of hard fighting between government troops and the revolutionists under General Tavares, who are besieging that stronghold.

These reports are only partly confirmed by the Herald's correspondent in Rivers.

A Mania of Suicide.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 29.—Shortly before 6 o'clock this morning, residents in the vicinity of the new postoffice building, which is in course of construction, were awakened by a loud explosion.

Seattle News.

SEATTLE, March 29, 1893.—[Special to THE CHRONICLE.—The people of this city were somewhat surprised when some of the creditors and stockholders of the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern Railway Company filed a complaint against the Northern Pacific Railroad Company and in the complaint set out facts on which they ask for a receiver to be appointed to take charge of the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern Railway Company's affairs.

CROP WEATHER BULLETIN, NO. 1.

The Initial Report of the Fifth Year Quite Interesting.

Oregon State Weather service for the week ending Tuesday, March 28, 1893. B. R. Pague, local forecast official, weather bureau.

INTRODUCTORY.

This is the first weekly bulletin of the 5th year of their issuance. In the past we have aimed, and it is hoped succeeded, to have the entire state thoroughly, promptly and accurately reported in these bulletins; the information which they contain is for the public, to be used by those who are interested, as the merchant carefully seeks information relative to the supply and demand of that which he has for sale, so much the more should the farmer, who produces, seek for information relative to the prospects, supply and demand of that which he produces.

To disseminate information at the world's fair, concerning Oregon's current weather and crop statistics, the Oregon world's fair commission have made arrangements with this bureau to have us telegraph on Tuesday of each week a brief resume of Oregon's weather and crops.

THE PAST WINTER.

Winter, so called, is yet with us. The temperature varies from 35 to 60 degrees, but the weather is cloudy and the rains are frequent, though not heavy.

Throughout the state the temperature is from two to five degrees a day below the normal and the rainfall is deficient for the period from July 1st last to date from 35 to 30 per cent. The winter was devoid of any marked low temperatures; about January 1st the lowest temperatures were recorded.

The snow was generally lighter over the stock country, and reports indicate the stock to be in good condition and that there has been a very small percentage lost. More were lost by being killed by coyotes and wild cats than those that died from the lack of food and shelter.

The acreage of wheat has been greatly increased, in some counties to a very large extent. The amount of wheat seeded, or that will be, will make an acreage larger even than the immense acreage of 1891, when it was 655,000 acres, from which fourteen million bushels of wheat were harvested.

PRESENT CONDITIONS.

Reports from all parts of the state show that there is not even an almond tree in bloom yet. In 1889, on March 22d, the peach, almond, cherry, apple and plum trees were in full bloom; in 1890 the fruit trees were in bloom on April 2d; in 1891 the buds were back-ward, but on March 28th many fruit trees were in bloom, and in 1892 on April 2d the fruit trees can be said to be in bloom.

Pruning of fruit trees is about done; but few orchards, if any, have been so far cultivated. The buds are swelling now, and in a few sections color can be seen on the ends. Present conditions and indications point to a most favorable fruit year.

The acreage of fruit has been greatly increased, this is especially true of peach, prune, pear and apple trees. Spraying has been commenced in Jackson county.

Very little plowing has been done so far this spring. The soil is very wet and quite cold. The rains considerably delay spring work.

The principal increase in this year's growth will be in wheat, fruit and hops; the latter appears to be very generally increased. Reports all indicate unusual activity in agricultural and horticultural operations, and both start out under the most favorable auspices for a successful year.

The cold, damp season, retarding bloom as it is, will materially assist the fruit production of the year; it prevents growth to grain, but allows of its storing and rooting.

While the present looks favorable for a successful year, it should be borne in mind that in years past, April frosts have injured fruit and a few days dry, hot winds in June have cut the expected yield in wheat from 30 to 10 bushels per acre.

LOST.

Tuesday an alligator pocket book, containing papers valuable only to owner. Reward if returned to C. J. Coatsworth Union street.

Ice cream, cream soda, soda water, etc., at Columbia Candy factory.

Sued For Libel.

Yesterday afternoon two suits each, for $50,000 damages, were filed and papers served on H. W. Scott, editor of the Oregonian, and the Oregonian Pub. Co., by the American Historical Pub. Co. and by G. E. Yerger, publishing a book entitled a history or story of Oregon, containing biographical sketches, cuts and engravings of some of the prominent men of Oregon to be edited by Julian Hawthorne.

Sad Result of a Blow.

Dr. Horace Patchen lies at the point of death, unconscious and paralyzed from the effects of a blow received in a friendly boxing bout with Eugene M. Keys, says the Tillamook Headlight.

A Serious Injury.

Dr. Rinehart returned this morning from Cleveland, Wash., where he was called to perform an amputation. The patient was Jesse Beck, the 16-year-old boy of C. M. Beck, who had injured the bones of his leg while skating.

Remains Exhumed.

Messrs. Crandall & Burget, undertakers, completed the exhuming of the remains of Mrs. C. J. Curtis today, and they will be taken to Seattle by this afternoon's train, under the supervision of Mr. L. Curtis, a son of the deceased.
