NUMBER 22.

WILL NOT BE ARRESTED

Secretary Carlisle Orders a Stoppage of Proceedings.

THE MONGOLIANS WIN FIRST HEAT

Date of Arrest of Unregistered Chinese Postponed—Reasons for This Last Move.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The text of the order instructing United States officials not to arrest the Chinese who have not registered telegraphed from the treasury department today as follows:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, D. C., May 4.

The time within which the Chinese laborers, required by the act of May 5th, 1892, to procure certificates of residence, will expire on the 5th day of the present month, and it is evident from the partial reports made to this department by the collectors of internal revenue that in some of the states and territories large numbers of such persons have failed or refused to make application as required by the law, but until complete reports are received of the names and residences, those who have registered and procured certificates, and who are therefore exempt from arrest, cannot be officially known. The collectors of internal revenue and collectors of customs and all customs officers of the United States are therefore instructed to refrain from making arrests under the provisions of the sixth section of the act approved May 5th, 1892, entitled "An act to prohibit the coming of Chinese persons into the United States," until further orders and instructions from this department.

J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary.
The attorney-general supplemented this circular by instructing the United States district attorneys to defer proceedings under the act of May 5th, 1892, except under an order of court, until the necessary arrangements for the arrest, imprisonment and deportation of the persons accused can be perfected, of which due notice will be given.

HARRIS MUST DIE

Governor Flower Has Denied the Application for Clemency.

ALBANY, May 4.—Governor Flower has denied the application for clemency in the case of Carlyle W. Harris, the young medical student, of New York, convicted of poisoning his young wife, and whose trial attracted so much attention in the New York papers. He will be electrocuted next week.

Suggests Another World's Fair.

HADDONFIELD, Pa., May 4.—Jesse E. Peyton, known as father of Centennials, suggests the idea of holding a celebration at Jerusalem, to commemorate the 2,000th anniversary of the Christian era.

A meeting will be held next month at Philadelphia to discuss the advisability of such a celebration. Col. Jesse E. Peyton was the first person to suggest the event 1875 in commemoration of Bunker Hill, also the exhibition at Philadelphia, the erection of the Yorktown monument in 1891, the New York celebration in memory of the inauguration of Washington and the establishment of the government, and the world's fair at Chicago. Col. Peyton is about 75 years of age.

A Very Active Volcano.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Advises from Honolulu state that not for years has Kilauea, the big crater of Hawaii, been seething, boiling and bubbling as it was at last reports. Just before the Australia left Honolulu, Peter Lee, the hotel man at Hilo, came to the city and reported the volcano was disporting itself in a truly awful way. The lake of fire that for some years has confined itself to an area of about 12 acres in the innermost crater, has risen fully 10 feet, and now the whole middle center, of about 120 acres, is a mass of molten lava.

New Method of Identification.

DETROIT, May 4.—The perfect identification yesterday of the body of the late Dr. Eugene Sloman, of this city, bids fair to become famous in medical jurisprudence, as $25,000 insurance depends on the result. Dr. Sloman was drowned in Omaha last July. The insurance company demanded the privilege of investigating, professing to suspect something wrong. The work was conducted by three Detroit physicians, and a professor from Chicago. Decomposition had proceeded so far that all ordinary means of identification were impossible. It was learned that in Omaha Dr. Sloman had had considerable dentistry done, and that the dentist had made a chart of the teeth, and complete notes of his operations. He was brought to Detroit, and yesterday the body was exhumed. The teeth were examined, and a chart and description made that were identical with the records of the Omaha dentist.

Advertised the Fair.

No one questions but what the world's fair has been thoroughly and completely advertised. The one man to whom credit is principally due for this is

MOSES P. HANDY

Moses P. Handy, chief of the department of publicity and promotion. Mr. Handy has long been a man well known in newspaper circles and the hearty co-operation he has received from the press of the country indicates in a measure the personal popularity of the gentleman in charge of that department. Mr. Handy is a newspaper man, and made a reputation in that line in the east prior to his appointment. He is in the prime of life, a man of great ambition, executive ability and capacity for hard work.

THE CATCH OF SALMON.

An Increase of Thirty-two Thousand During the Past Month.

ASTORIA, Or., May 3.—During the last two days fish have been running well, and, though the stormy weather has prevented a heavy catch, the quality all around is very superior. Yesterday's average was 13 fish per boat; today it was a little over 12. The highest catch recorded today is one of 29 fish, weighing 652 pounds, which figure in bad weather is excellent. Thirty-two of Kinney's boats this afternoon brought in 438 fish. During April the total catch of the seven canneries on the lower river was 28,124 or 24,038 cases.

Cuban Uprising Over.

MADRID, May 4.—The news received here from Havana yesterday that the chief Cuban rebels had surrendered was received with an expression of profound relief in both political and financial circles. Spanish funds rallied 1 per cent today and Cuban stocks 4 per cent. The official dispatches continue to represent the separatist movement as completely checked.

Railroad Building Stopped.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., May 4.—Work on the new line of the Sioux & Yankton road came to a sudden stop this morning in Turner and Lincoln counties, 100 teams and 200 men being driven off by farmers through whose lands they were working. The payment for the right of way is not satisfactory.

The Afternoon Battle.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The afternoon battle blacked off a trifle in intensity. There were spasms of riotous bidding and selling, however, for a time; then the action again became more rapid. Rarely, if ever, in the history of the stock exchange were such wild fluctuations witnessed. While this condition existed, dazed brokers were throwing over stocks regardless of price. Foreign houses were quietly picking up dividend-payers. It is estimated that up to noon London's purchases aggregated fully 60,000 shares, consisting mostly of St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville, and Wabash preferred. This increase in foreign exchange caused a drop in sterling rates to 4.85@4.89, but money continued close at 11@12 per cent. The confidence displayed by foreigners caused the home operators to take courage and a general rally ensued.

Soon after the opening there was a renewal of yesterday's rumors that S. V. White ("Deacon") was in trouble in connection with Cordage. Before three-quarters of an hour after the opening the slump in that stock became too great for him to stand and he went down before the storm. The fact of the failure of the grain speculator, whose going to the wall a year or so ago in a grain deal on the Chicago board of trade caused such a sensation, was known on the street and found its way into the stock exchange room before the formal announcement was made therein. According to his own statement the Cordage deal is the chief element in his failure, but he is also interested in Chicago Gas. Cordage strangled him, but Gas suffocated him. He is unable to go on at present, though he might get up later on, he said.

WALL ST. TOTTERING

Three Failures Yesterday and Three More Today.

MILLIONS OF MONEY INVOLVED

Today Closes With an Easier Feeling, but the Uneasiness Not Allayed Owing to Other Disastrous Rumors.

NEW YORK, May 5.—[Special to the CHRONICLE.]—Wall street today is more violently agitated than it has been in history. Houses of world-wide fame and accredited responsibility are tottering and falling on every side, no less than six having failed since yesterday morning. Those of yesterday were Henry Alden & Co., who have large branch interests in Chicago; B. L. Smith & Co., and Schuyler Warden. The market closed with a decidedly panicky feeling and this morning there was a flurry when the Stock Exchange opened. Three failures were announced, those of W. L. Patton & Co., S. V. White and Henshaw & Co. of Boston.

12 m.—After 11 o'clock the excitement in the Stock Exchange abated somewhat, but fluctuations continued wide, and frequent buying offers appeared. Prices jumped three and four points at a time, but any pressure to sell was immediately followed by a break. The close was easier. One of the largest houses on the street is said to be in trouble and certain to fail.

The panic originated from the remarkable decline in the National Cordage stocks, superinduced in part by the recent heavy exports of gold. All stocks have felt the drive, some of the best railroad dropping at a remarkably rapid gait. Northern Pacific fell to 14½, but rallied a little at the close.

Saved by Coolness.

JACKSON, Miss., May 5.—The court of Brookhaven yesterday morning was to be occupied with the cases of ten white caps in jail there for shooting a negro and burning his cabin several months ago. The court had just opened when a mob of 100 men rode into town and surrounded the court house and jail, threatening the life of Judge Chrisman and all officers who dared to oppose them. They would let no one leave the place, and it was some time before the citizens of the town knew of the disturbance. The citizens finally went to the rescue, and the judge, knowing what was coming, used a pistol and led the charge against the mob. They retreated to the suburbs, and the town was in an uproar. The band of outlaws awaited the attack in ambush. Sheriff McNair telegraphed Governor Stone for guns, and with Adjutant-General Henry he went to the scene in person, carrying with him 40 Winchester and 2,000 cartridges. Since his arrival nothing has been heard. Frank Peyton, court stenographer, came up from Brookhaven at 5 p. m. He says that when the band took possession of the court house an important case was being tried. Lawyers, witnesses and auditors were horror-stricken. Judge Chrisman was the only man who kept his senses, and it was only through his coolness that the attacking party was repulsed, without the loss of a single person. But for the timely arrival of the militia companies from Wesson and the city of Brookhaven, Mr. Peyton thinks Judge Chrisman and several others would have been murdered.

Battle With the Yaquis.

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, May 5.—A courier arrived here yesterday, bringing information of an attack made by several hundred Yaqui Indians upon a detachment of 150 government soldiers who had been sent against them. The fight occurred near the Chihuahua state line, west of Sahuaraha, and resulted in a number on both sides being killed and wounded. The Indians were well armed and fought desperately, compelling the government troops to beat a hasty retreat without carrying off their killed and badly wounded from the field. The Indians have sent out word that no troops or strangers will be permitted to enter their country, and, as the government will send a large force of soldiers against them, a bloody campaign is expected.

The Umatilla Reservation Hospital.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The interior department will in a few days issue a patent to the state for land on the ceded Umatilla reservation for the location of a state hospital. Secretary Smith made the matter special today at the request of several Oregonians.

Some time ago the president set aside $8 per capita to be paid out of the Untilla fund, to the Indians of that tribe. At the request of Senator Mitchell, and the advice of the Indian department, the amount has been increased to $25, which will be paid the Indians in a few days.

Exposition May Be Open on Sunday.

CHICAGO, May 5.—A local paper declares positively the world's fair will be open on Sunday. It will be opened without formal action or formal announcement. It has been the rule to have them open Sunday, and Chief Tucker, of the bureau of admissions, receiving no orders to the contrary will continue the custom. He has made arrangements accordingly, ordering all ticket-takers and guards on duty.

VICTIMS FOR CHICAGO.

A Mother Writes to the Spokane Review in Warning.

TO THE EDITOR—It has been definitely ascertained that there is an organized company operating through our country who have taken a contract to furnish the brothels and hell houses of the city of Chicago for the season with 25,000 fresh young girls from the country. The greatest diligence must be practiced by parents and the greatest possible caution by our girls, for these vampires will come to them with soft speech, winning manners, and often wearing the livery of some benevolent organization. Very often they will appear in the somber hues of mourning and open their intrigue by appeals for sympathy in their pretended afflictions. They will not hesitate to use force if there is any chance for it. They will advertise extensively. There will be seen "Girls Wanted" in many of our papers, "good pay and light work." "Girls, beware! Yes, you are wanted; 25,000 of you! Fathers, look out! Your daughters are at a premium. No man wants his own girl made a moral wreck, no matter how many other girls he has helped to wreck. Most men have still honor enough left not to want to see their own flesh and blood degraded, even though they have not honor enough to keep from degrading other people's flesh and blood. Drugging will be extensively resorted to. Let no girl "take a drink" even of soda water or lemonade with strangers, or answer in person an advertisement that has not been thoroughly investigated by some personal friend whom you know to be trustworthy. This alarm should be circulated through all our country press. Will our editors give it attention.

A MOTHER.

The Army Bill Lost.

BERLIN, May 6.—The army bill was rejected today in the reichstag by a vote of 210 against the bill to 162 in favor of it. The rescript signed by the kaiser dissolving the reichstag was immediately promulgated, and the reichstag is now dissolved. The result of the vote on the army bill caused no surprise to the government. Caprivi attempted yesterday evening to rally the watering members to a support of the measure by offering to reduce the peace effective even below the number proposed in the amendment offered by Von Huene. The offer, however, did not gain a single vote. The last attempts at compromise having failed, Caprivi refusing to sanction the proposition to make two years' active service permanent, the kaiser became impatient of further delay, and proposed for a decision by the reichstag today. Hence a vote was taken at once, instead of being postponed until Monday. The failure of the army bill makes it necessary for the kaiser to defer for the present his projected reforms of the higher military commands and of the posts in the war office. Chancellor Caprivi has gone to Potsdam to offer his resignation to the kaiser.

Hurriedly convened meetings are being held in Berlin and other populous centers tonight. The promptness with which the reichstag was dissolved immediately after the defeat of the government was announced has taken everybody by surprise. Social democratic leaders are alone ready for an electoral campaign. Bebel, Singer and Liebnicht will leave Berlin tomorrow and begin at once to stump the country in behalf of the socialist candidates. In every district in which the socialists have a fighting chance candidates will be nominated, and the party expects with reason to have an increased representation in the next reichstag. The emperor will not allow the dissolution of the reichstag to interfere with the programme of his coming tour.

Eighty Lives Lost.

VIENNA, May 4.—The town of Kowal, Poland, 80 miles south of Warsaw, population 3,500, was swept by a conflagration. One hundred and sixteen houses, including the hospital and asylum, were destroyed. Three hundred families are homeless and destitute. Eighty people perished in the flames.

AWAITS HIS DEATH

Carlyle Harris Will Die by Electricity at Noon.

HOW HE PASSED HIS LAST DAY

After His Separated Parents Were Bade Goodbye He Devoted His Time to a Review of His Case.

SING SING, N. Y., May 7.—Carlyle Harris has said farewell to his parents and friends and all dear to him on earth, and now awaits the messenger of death. The last act in the strange drama of his life approaches, and while he shows a nervous apprehension and a full appreciation of the terrible thing that is to come to him on the morrow, no signs of breaking down are visible. He adheres to his oft-repeated declaration of innocence, and he passed the best part of his last day on earth not in communication with his spiritual advisers preparing for the great hereafter, but with pen and ink and paper, reviewing the past and seeking to place himself right with the world he leaves. He was a trifle more nervous than usual today, the situation having its effect upon him, and the man who allowed no sign of emotion to escape him during the scenes of the past months is at least showing that he is human. The prison physician saw Harris twice today, and said that while he was a little more nervous than usual, he could discover no signs of a breaking down. Mrs. Harris remained at her boarding-house today and did not go to the prison.

She took her last farewell of her boy yesterday afternoon. The scene was one of the saddest which has ever been witnessed within the grim walls, where all is sadness. The younger brother, Allan, also said good-bye yesterday. This afternoon Charles D. Harris, the father, accompanied by young Allan, went to the prison, and father and son met for the first time in years. Mr. and Mrs. Harris have lived apart for some time. Afterward the father took the train back to his home in Syracuse, leaving Mrs. Harris and Allan to wait here until all is over and they can carry away all that is mortal of their beloved. The last farewell to relatives having been said, Carlyle Harris devoted his time to writing a review of the chief events of his life and of what has been done by the courts, judges and governor in his case. All preparations have been made for tomorrow. The electrocution will take place about noon. State Electrician Davis has tested the dynamo and apparatus and found everything in order. The apparatus is the same which was used in the last two electrocutions here.

LOVED HER TOO WELL.

D. W. Hoskins Murders Ida Bennett and Suicides.

SPokane, Wash., May 6.—D. W. Hoskins, a demented man, driven mad by constant brooding over his unrequited affection for Captain Ida Bennett of the Salvation army, shot and killed her yesterday afternoon at 2:45 at the barracks and then turned the weapon upon himself with fatal effect. His last words, pronounced after he shot her and before he took his own life, were: "I killed her because I loved her, and I am as well off dead myself."

A deafening report followed and Hoskins fell forward on his face. Four members of the Salvation army saw the deed, but were powerless to prevent it. The weapon was a 44-caliber revolver loaded with Winchester rifle cartridges. The first shot penetrated the woman's heart, entering below her left arm as she stood with her left side turned toward him.

The suicidal bullet did its work with awful certainty. The muzzle of the weapon touched the right temple as it was fired, and the leaden ball made its exit just above the left ear. The concussion split the skull as if with an axe. Blood and brains were scattered over a space of 10 feet square, and as the man lay in his own blood, the greater part of his mangled brain oozed out on to the floor.

When Hoskins entered the barracks he was an avowed would-be murderer and suicide, for he had spent the forenoon writing letters expressive of his intentions. He held the revolver concealed under his coat as he went up the steps. Lieutenant Augusta Wechter, Berna Firstlans and J. C. Finstad were standing in the front of the audience room. Captain Bennett had entered the room at the right of the platform to get several copies of the War Cry. Hoskins walked straight for the platform. Finstad attempted to detain him, but he said, fiercely: "Don't lay a hand on me, or you'll drop dead."

Captain Bennett heard the words and opened the door, standing in the entrance with a bundle of War Crys in her arms.

"You wronged me and you know it," Hoskins shouted at her. As he spoke, he fired. The ball missed. He shot again. The War Crys fluttered loosely to the floor, and Captain Bennett fell. When Hoskins fell forward his life-blood dyed the papers, and formed a thick, red pool, extending on each side of the body.

The women did not even gasp. Her eyelids moved slightly, and she breathed her last.

Attracted by the sound of the shots, a morbid, curious crowd collected at the foot of the stairway, and before a policeman arrived to keep them back, many persons gathered about the bodies. The sickening sight seemed to have a strange fascination for many of them. Coroner Newman had difficulty forcing his way to the place where the tragedy occurred.

The woman was removed to the morgue first, and orders were given to have the body embalmed for transportation to San Francisco. Hoskins will be buried at the expense of Spokane county, probably, as no one has shown any interest in giving him a private burial.

SPokane, May 7.—The funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Episcopal church this afternoon under the auspices of the Salvation Army. The streets were thronged during the progress of the procession from the barracks to the church. Several local ministers took part in the services, which were very impressive. Many allusions were made to Captain Bennett's devotion to her work, and sobs were heard all over the house. The crush in the church was awful, and in the midst of a hymn the edifice began to settle and the walls to crack. Hundreds rushed out into the street, and there was almost a panic. The church is built on an insecure foundation, and the building settled four inches owing to the great weight.

Granite For the Cascades.

Major Handbury, United States engineers, has returned from a visit to the granite quarries of Day & Co., at Raymond, Fresno county, Cal., 200 miles from San Francisco, from which the granite for the locks at the Cascades is to be brought. He wished to see what progress was being made with the work there, and found that there was a vast amount of granite in sight, and that some blocks had been quarried out. Derrieks were in course of erection, and boilers, engines, etc., were being got together preparatory to doing a large part of the drilling by machinery. The spring has been backward there as well as here, and consequently not so much progress has been made at the quarries as might have been had the season been more favorable. Mr. J. G. Day, Jr., who has been at the quarries, returned to Oregon with Major Handbury.—Oregonian.

Six hundred and eight Chinese at Portland and aboard the Danube, were not permitted to land.
