

The Weekly Chronicle.

DALLES, OREGON

LOCAL BREVITIES. Friday's Daily.

They lived a life All free from strife And when he came to die He said: "My dear devoted wife, Just one request make I."

"This," he said, "With drooping head, (Voice loving as before) Please do not weep Till I am dead And creep on the door."

A fine lot of horses went down on the regulator this morning.

County court is in session and expects adjourn about 5 o'clock tonight.

The morning whistle at the shops is now at 7 o'clock mornings, instead of at 8.

How many things there are to laugh in this world to the girl who has pretty teeth and dimples.

THE CHRONICLE will be placed on sale I. C. Nickelsen's from today. Five cents buys the condensed news of the world, and Wasco county's share in it specially.

Arrests of Chinamen will be made in Washington today to test the Geary act. There is a good deal like a colt. Somebody has to break it to find out whether it is any good or not.

"Hammer and nail" social will be on Wednesday evening at the Methodist church. Ice cream and cake will be served and the usual good social time doubtless be enjoyed.

The warehouses are making preparations for large receipts of wool which they expect soon. Space is being condensed all the room possible saved for use in wool commences to come in.

August Smythe and Fred Dee, two sons of Klickitat county, had an altercation Tuesday, resulting in Smythe drawing a pocket-knife and made a vicious stab at Dee with it. The thrust was ward off by Dee throwing up his arms, when Smythe cooled down. The knife was over the occupancy of range arrests.

The proceedings of the 12th annual campment, G. A. R., held at Pendleton, April 13, will be ready for distribution in about 10 days. This is a new feature in the affairs of the G. A. R. in this state, as it has usually heretofore taken from four to six months to get out the proceedings of these annual meetings.

A Seattle resident who has been visiting in Salem, went home recently and said the following to a Seattle paper: Salem is the funniest town I ever saw. They pave the streets with mud down here. When the mud gets deep in one place they shovel it upon a wagon and dump it out so as to have the mud the same depth all over town."

The Dalles Lumbering Co. are running their mills on full time. There is a large quantity of snow remaining on the ground around the mill property, and it is melting quite fast.

Dennis Bunnell's new sign is a novel creation. It is in the shape of a letter and when the wind strikes it takes a blast from a weather bureau man's hand gauge. A moderate breeze shows the number painted on one side "Dennis Bunnell" and on the other "Pipe Buns."

In Justice Davis' court yesterday, the case of C. L. Richmond vs. Wm. Riley was compromised. Mr. Richmond paying the costs. Another suit was entered against Wm. Riley by Dan Baker for the recovery of $77.65, and attachment issued. The case of Geo. Nowak vs. W. E. Rinehart on a contract is set for today at 10 o'clock.

Gov. Penoyer telegraphed an answer to President's dispatch to watch out for trouble over the Chinese exclusion act, as follows: "I will attend to my business; let the president attend to his."

The promise of Penoyer is quite encouraging, in view of the fact that we are walking with bated breath for a decision on the asylum location.

Saturday's Daily. We were an air of mystery That puzzled and perplexed And lover-like with jealousy His anxious heart was vexed. But with grim determination He removed all further doubt For with each faculty alert He called and found her out.

Summer has come in earnest. Travel on the trains is very light. The town is unusually quiet for Saturday.

The water in the river raised 8-tenths of a foot since yesterday morning. Wall street is quieter today, and after having subsided again almost to normal tone.

J. Crandall, the architect, has had his house and intends to put on elegant front addition.

The seats for the Baptist church are let last night, and they are being let and put in place today.

The first strawberries of the season were let today at Campbell Bros. They had a quick sale at 40 cents a box.

The editor of the West Side has discovered that a Rochester lamp is one of the very best means for popping corn, and is ahead of a bed of coals, even.

The demand for popcorn will be largely increased owing to the discovery.

There are less than $150,000 Chinamen in the United States anyway—quite an insignificant total to make so much fuss about.

Andrew Velarde is working today on raising and straightening up the old Snyder restaurant building on First street.

A Mr. White from Washington, loaded 26 horses on the Regulator this morning from the landing on the opposite side of the river. They are destined for Portland.

The state grange meets in The Dalles on the 24th of this month. Representatives will be here from all over the state, and even Idaho and Eastern Washington will be represented.

Great numbers of sardines abound in the Columbia, and an Astoria man is going into the business of packing them, though he is not over sanguine of making great profits on the venture.

An order has been issued by the postmaster general providing for the establishment of a branch postoffice at the World's Fair grounds, to continue during the entire period of the exposition.

Remember the "hammer and needle" social Wednesday. The gentlemen are expected to hem aprons and the ladies drive nails, the most expert being selected by a committee. The hardware merchants report a brisk demand for nails and the dry goods men are getting short of needles. The contest will be interesting.

L. P. Southworth of Nebraska recently sent two crews of men to gather sheep throughout the country. They were reinforced today with a shipment of wagons, horses, tents and all equipments, and are at present quartered at the city stables. The sheep are for the eastern markets.

Two farmers who sold out and went to Webfoot last year are keen to come back. They are satisfied and more than satisfied, and now want to get their places back and shake off some of the fungi that has grown upon them in webby, washy, wet Willamette.

Monday's Daily. He sat at the dinner table With a discontented frown; The potatoes and steak were underdone And the bread was baked too brown; The pie was too sour, the pudding too sweet, And the roast was much too fat. The soup too greasy, too, and salt, 'Twas hardly fit for the eat.

"I wish you could eat the bread and pie I've seen my mother make; They are something like, and 'twould do you good. Just to look at a loaf of her cake." Said the smiling wife: "I'll improve with age—Just now I'm but a beginner. But your mother has come to visit us. And today she cooked the dinner."

The river is 18.1 above low water and steadily rising.

Considerable wheat is endangered in the lowlands along the Columbia.

The steam shovel gang are now located at Mosier and will be there all summer.

A carload of stall-fed cattle from the lower country will be shipped tonight to Portland.

The funeral of Mrs. Fields was largely attended yesterday. She was conveyed to the Odd Fellows cemetery.

People are flocking to Southern Oregon to the mines. There will be lively times in Jackson and Josephine counties this summer.

The ladies of the Glee Club will please take notice that the place of meeting for tomorrow night has been changed, and they will be entertained by Mrs. Garretson.

Mr. John Elton who has the contract for building the Christian church, has the frame work all up with the exception of the rafters. It is his intention to have the edifice enclosed by the 20th inst.

The "hammer and needle" social Wednesday promises to be fully as interesting as any of the numerous church entertainments given by our enterprising ladies. It will be productive of much laughter and good fellowship.

Last Friday a number of bulletins in the Chinese language were posted up, which were eagerly perused by the Celestials. We are not versed in that language, and as the Chinese would not translate them, we are unable to give our readers the text.

T. Mack and J. H. Burns were sentenced at Oregon City to the penitentiary for life, for murdering a Chinaman. The criminals are both boys under 21 years of age and they just killed the Chinaman for fun and did not seem to realize the enormity of their crime until after they were arrested.

Mrs. Wingate has had the picket fence in front of her premises moved farther back, and a trench dug, preparing to building a substantial stone fence. The grounds of this property are among the most beautiful and picturesque in this city, and its effect will be greatly heightened by the stone work.

Emanuel Meyer has returned from Washington, where for some time he was endeavoring to secure for himself the appointment of collector of customs for this port. He says that none of the Oregon applications for office have been taken off the files yet. The only applicants for the office of collector who had ample recommendations, were Mr. Meyer and Mr. Black. The former is confident that Mr. Lotan will be displaced before long, but thinks the other republican incumbents here will serve out their terms.—Oregonian.

Trade Possibilities.

Prof. Garner has made a big success of his monkey business. He writes from Africa that he has succeeded beyond the extreme of his expectations in learning and recording the language of the simians. He has written down phonetically about 200 words, and thinks there are about 30 words that he has not succeeded in catching. He has taught a chimpanzee to say a few words in Maori, and a gorilla to converse to the extent of 20 words in Fijian. If this be true, the simian vocabulary must be quite as complete as the chinook, and since that mongrel language was sufficient for the carrying on of an annual commerce involving millions of dollars, there is a reasonable expectation that within a few years the thrifty Yankee trader will be carrying on trade relations with the monkeys of Africa and South America, and swapping rum, tobacco, beads and ornaments for the products of the forest and the jungle. It is also within the range of possibilities that the king of the chimpanzees may yet be received at the court of St. James.—Spokane Review.

Poisoned Dough.

A rumor reached this office last week that an attempt had been made to poison Wm. Gibson, who lives in the Gorman Butte neighborhood, on the John Day river. Mr. Gibson lives alone and does his own cooking, and before going out for the day he prepared some dough so as to have it ready for baking in the evening on his return. The same evening when he came home he commenced preparations for supper, but not liking the appearance of the dough, he threw it outdoors, and prepared some fresh dough. Shortly afterwards a dog which ate some of the dough that had been thrown out died from the effects of it, and several mice and rats also died after partaking of the dough. It is therefore surmised that there must have been poison in the dough, but how it came there unless by criminal means, has not yet been made clear. This is a very serious matter and it is to be hoped that more light will be thrown upon it.—Moro Observer.

The Fish Exhibit.

The closed salmon season has somewhat delayed the work of preparing the fish exhibit to be made by this state at the world's fair, but three carloads will go forward within a few days. President George T. Myers, of the Oregon world's fair commission, is hard at work on this exhibit, with the assistance of Captain S. S. Douglas, the taxidermist, who is preparing the exhibit of aquatic animals. The collection includes a monster fur-bearing seal, weighing 1,500 pounds, which was caught at Tillamook. There is also a live crocodile and a hair seal. The preserved salmon are the largest that could be secured in the United States, being as long as three feet and nine inches in diameter. There will be about 50 or 60 salmon in all.—Telegram.

The Chinese Passive.

The Chinese at The Dalles have refused to register, without exception. Wednesday a red button magnate was in the city, who communicated to them something of the reasons why they should not do so and the wishes of the Chinese government in the matter. That they are fully and generally informed is not a matter of doubt. President Cleveland has given it out that he believes the law unconstitutional. It will be as well, perhaps, that the Geary act sink into oblivion, the sooner the better. Until the time under which the treaty now in force expires or a mutual agreement is made between the two nations, prohibition against the Chinese cannot be legally enforced.

Joe Sylvester.

Joe Sylvester, smiling, handsome, irrepressible, is in the city again with his advertising wagon, fine horses and greyhound. Joe is a frequent visitor to The Dalles, where he is always welcomed by a large circle of friends. He is a native of Hungary, but declares he is an American at heart. His hair is as long and fine as a woman's, which he says is for advertising purposes, and whatever may be said about "long-haired" men, etc., the locks of Absalom are a pretty feature of Nature's adornments. When Joe mounts the seat of his varnished, sign-becked advertising wagon, cracks his whip over the heads of his spirited double team, the sight is a very pretty one and attracts general attention.

Birthday Party.

Little "Billy" Johnson, the 5-year-old hero who figured alone in a runaway a few weeks since, celebrated his fifth birthday by a party yesterday, at which the following little folks were guests: George Johnson, Clara Hall, George Obar, Lulu Blakeney, Mamie, Jenny, Judy and Henry Fortin, Eddie Francisco, Maggie Stevens, Bunnie Briggs, Ned Briggs, Lena Sandrock, Bruce Johnson, Joe Johnson.

Funeral of Mrs. Field.

Rev. O. D. Taylor will conduct the funeral service of Mrs. Mary Field at the home of her son, Adelbert Field, at the Crate farm, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. She will be buried at the Odd Fellows' cemetery at 3:30 p. m.

The Chinese Advised.

A Telegram reporter in an interview with Col. Weidner, collector of internal revenue, asked: "What is the circular of the Six Companies?" "It is a circular ordering them to ignore the law entirely. A translation of it is as follows: From the Six Companies to our Chinese Brethren in Astoria: You are forbidden to register with the white officials, or to have anything to do with them. Our imperial government is watching this matter and protecting our people. We have engaged Mr. Riordan, the San Francisco lawyer, and another in San Francisco, one in Washington, the United States capital, and one in New York. May 5th four prominent Chinese brothers in New York are to be arrested by the government for not registering, and their case will be tried by one of the high courts in the country May 12th. Our minister has asked the president of the United States not to arrest any other Chinamen in this country because they do not register until this case is tried. The American president has graciously said: "Let this be so." You will, therefore, not register under the heaviest penalties if you disobey.

County Commissioners Court.

The county commissioners have been in session several days. The following is the list of the more important business transacted:

Petition of Paul Paulson and others for a trail for county road to the Columbia river at the mouth of Eagle creek, granted. Petition of Geo. Warner and others for road commencing at the quarter post between sections 29 and 30 south to base line of township 1 north, range 10 east, ordered to be surveyed by Surveyor Sharp and the owners, and report at next meeting. Petition for county road commencing on the road near the southeast corner of section 12, township 5 south, range 12 east, west on section line three miles; passed. In the matter of county warrants in the hands of the clerk for more than seven years, ordered that notice be published, as required by law, to all persons having warrants in their hands, and ordered to present same for payment within 60 days from the let of July. Allowance to militia for armory rent, $16.66 to each company from May 1st. Liquor licenses granted to S. W. Patterson and C. V. Lane, Antelope. Petition of Joseph Southwell for vacation of the county road on premises, denied.

Birthday Party.

A large number of intimate friends of Dr. W. E. Rinehart assembled at his residence to honor to that gentleman's 35th birthday. The host was pleasantly remembered by the gift of a handsome oak stationary rocker, upholstered in green plush. Whist was the rule of the evening, the first honors being won by Mrs. W. P. Morgan, and second by Mrs. H. S. Wilson. The merry-makers did not adjourn until 12:30 o'clock. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Goulay, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Beall, Mr. and Mrs. Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lord, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Blakeley, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Pease, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Crandall, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crossen, Mr. and Mrs. F. Bayley, Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw, Miss Cooper, Miss Ruth Cooper, Mr. J. Hostetter.

New Fish Boat.

The old scow Garfield has been remodelled into a fishing boat, and will soon be taken to her fishing grounds. The fish wheel is the largest on the river of any fish boat, being 16 feet wide by 30 feet in diameter. This has 3,000 pounds of iron in it, and 1,700 feet of lumber. It is so adjusted that it will have a sweep underneath of ten feet.

Fiske Wins.

The board of examiners for the West Point cadetship composed of Hon. W. R. Ellis, member of congress-elect, Troy Shelley, school superintendent, and H. S. Wilson, attorney, finished their labors at 10 o'clock this morning, resulting in the selection of Harold B. Fiske, a son of the late Dr. Fiske, who was a member of the medical college at Salem. Fiske is 21 years of age. He was one of the applicants for the cadetship three years ago at Salem, and scored second in that contest. His alternate is E. Neale Johnston who is a son of Col. W. H. Johnston, formerly a pay-master in the U. S. army. Both young men are fine scholars and very bright young men.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Hon. W. R. Ellis left for Heppner today. Mr. Raymond Davis of Portland spent today in our city. Mr. Edgar Husbands of Mosier is in the city on business.

Jean Gilman went to Morrow county on the noon train today. Mr. John Roth of Kingsley, a prominent farmer, is in the city.

Rev. O. D. Taylor returned from a ten days' trip to California today. Fred Houghton and wife left for California on the 4 p. m. train last night.

Mr. J. A. Gullford of Dufur called today. He informed us a fine rain fell in that section last night.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Gilman of Dallas, Polk county, are in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith French.

Bishop Morris is in the city. W. E. Garretson returned from a coast trip today. Dr. Chas. Adams of Glenwood is in the city today.

W. C. Alloway took a flying trip to Portland last night. Thos. M. and J. Parish of Waldron called on THE CHRONICLE this morning.

Mrs. F. D. Clark of Tacoma is visiting her brother, B. S. Huntington, of this city. Miss Maggie Furnside returned to her home in Portland by Regulator this morning.

C. W. Gilhouse of the firm of W. E. Gilhouse & Bro., left today for Chicago and the east. Jas. L. Slipp of Portland, city passenger agent for the Southern Pacific, was in the city today and paid THE CHRONICLE office a pleasant call.

Hon. W. R. Ellis passed through today. Newell Harlan of Mosier came in town today. J. H. Mosier is in town today from Mosier.

Mr. Geo. Nolin of Dufur is visiting the city today. Mr. Geo. Young, one of the large sheep men of Baker Oven, is in the city today.

Hon. Geo. A. Liebe and family returned from Astoria on the midnight train last night. A. Crum, of California, arrived in The Dalles yesterday and will remain on a visit about six weeks.

J. R. Steele and wife went to Hood River yesterday, proceeding up that stream about sixteen miles. Mrs. Steele, whose parents live there, remains for a time.

Fine Prospects.

The crop-weather bulletin Monday will say: The weather conditions for the past week have been very favorable for the growth of vegetation. Reports from the farming districts of Wasco and Sherman counties are most encouraging. Frequent rains, with more or less sunshine, have caused the grain to make fine root and stool well. The last few warm days have had a stimulating influence on it, and it is pushing ahead with vigor very satisfactorily. In some localities out-works are reported, but in no case have they done serious injury. Present indications point to the fact that these counties mentioned will produce the largest yield of grain ever gathered in any former year.

In Klickitat valley the season has been more backward, but for all that its product will more than average up on its former record. The fall and spring sowing is looking first-class.

One thing worth remembering is that the present promises a fabulous wheat product never equalled before. What the result will be, will be determined later on.

The fruit interests are very encouraging, and the outlook is full of promise for an abundant growth of all kinds.

A Singular Find.

Not long ago there was dug up in Ashland a curious stone with some dim and crude inscription, or marks, upon it. It being shown to an old Oregon pioneer, he pronounced it a temanevas stone, worn as a breastplate by the ancient Indian priests. It has holes in the upper corners by which it may be hung upon the priest's neck. It carries upon it a picture of the sacred wigwam, and at one end of the wigwam stands the totem pole on the top of which a little flag was hung that warned the evil spirits off while the priest performed his divine functions in the sacred house or wigwam. This temanevas represents man probably very near the beginning and may even coincide with the breastplate of the Ephod, worn by the ancient Jewish priests; so that the picture of the wigwam on this may represent the primary ancestor of all the temples or houses ever dedicated to divine purposes in the world and all flag and liberty poles of all ages and countries may possibly be the lineal descendants of the original totem represented on the stone. Probably this Ashland stone is the only one of the kind now extant in the world.—Ashland Tidings.

Glad He's a Methodist.

Rev. Ford, the evangelist, says: "When a fellow has done his best, then some fellow jumps up and wants to down him. The preacher who brings things to pass is often the object of persecution by those who have been most benefitted and who should stand by him. From what seems to be floating in the air in certain circles we are glad we belong to the M. E. church."

The Cigarette Law.

The cigarette law bids fair to become as notorious as the Iowa and Kansas liquor cases, and it is currently reported that the American Tobacco company or in other words, the cigarette trust, proposes to test the validity of Washington's anti-cigarette legislature and expects, on the grounds of a decision of the United States supreme court in the Kansas liquor cases, to avert the effect of the law. The court decided that the state could make no law prohibiting the sale of liquors, bearing the government stamp, in the original package. It is contended that each package of cigarettes is an original package, and it is claimed that a similar law in Texas is being evaded on these grounds.

The Wool Market.

C. G. Roberts, a prominent wool buyer, well known throughout Oregon, states that the market for this year is extremely problematical, and there is no one who has any information that would enable him to prognosticate, even approximately, upon the prices that will be paid. The only thing that can be said with any degree of certainty is that it will probably be low. There has been a vast over-production of woolen goods, and the Boston market now is over-supplied. Buyers here have given the largest amounts for wool ever paid in any section, and in some instances have had a hard time to come out whole, but this was due to the fierce competition among the buyers and no one but themselves can be blamed.

Raising Cranberries.

J. O. Stearns of Lower Alsea, is the pioneer cranberry farmer of the Yaquina country. He has now under cultivation half an acre, and has contracted with parties for setting out another acre, and they are now engaged in the work. Forty thousand vines are required to plant an acre. W. H. Hulz of Beaver creek has secured 20,000 plants of Mr. Stearns to be put out this spring, and Judge Blue and Henry Denlinger of Yaquina have each obtained a small supply of plants for experimental purposes. It takes about four years for plants to begin to bear. As the growth of cranberries is limited to certain latitudes, it will be impossible to overstock the market.—State Journal.

MRS. ELMIRA HATCH.

HEART DISEASE 20 YEARS.

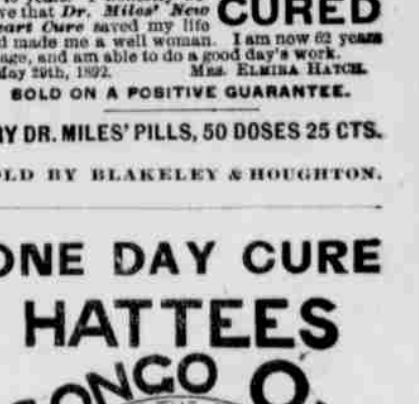

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. Dear Sir: For 20 years I was troubled with heart disease. Would frequently have fainting spells and smothering at night. Had to get up or get out of bed to breathe. Had pain in my left side and back most of the time; at last I became dropsical. I was very nervous and nearly worn out. The least excitement would cause me to faint. I was also much troubled with fluttering. For the last fifteen years I could not sleep on my left side or back until I began taking your New Heart Cure. I had not taken it very long until I felt much better, and I can now sleep on either side or back without the least discomfort. I have no pain, smothering, drowsy, no wind on stomach or other disagreeable symptoms. I am able to do all my own housework without any trouble and consider myself cured.

Elkhart, Ind., 1908. MRS. ELMIRA HATCH. It is now four years since I have taken any medicine. Am in better health than I have been in 40 years. I honestly believe that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure saved my life and made me a well woman. I am now 62 years of age, and am able to do a good day's work. May 25th, 1892. MRS. ELMIRA HATCH.
