THE DALLES, - - - OREGON

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Tuesday's Daily.

Beneath the trees was swinging low a hammock in the shade. And seated there a college youth, next by his side a maid. The tree hung down protecting limbs. "I was surely not asleep," he thought, "since no one was in sight, he thought, to try and steal a kiss."

The maiden blushing, murmured "Don't." And watched the eyes leaves drop. "Mischievously he asked, 'Don't what?'" "Why, don't," she said, "don't stop!"

April showers in May. The funeral of F. W. L. Skibbe's little boy took place today.

A knockdown took place on the streets about noon. No arrests.

The river has risen a foot and a half in the last twenty-four hours.

The wool arrival today is in excess of any day of the season.

Messrs. Saltmarsh & Co. will ship a car of fat cattle this evening for the Sound market.

The Wasco warehouse is very full of freight for the interior merchants. The Baldwin Sheep and Land Co. have over 600,000 lbs. of wool this season, and is storing it at that warehouse.

The executive officers of the U. P., passed through the city en route to Portland this morning. They made a short halt and visited the old shop plant and other holdings of the railway company.

Mrs. Power, wife of the station agent at Mosier, is a good marksman, and has shot with a small rifle all of the numerous squirrels that have been around the station.

E. C. Drews took a number of excellent photographs of the Gessan Verein picnic Sunday, which are all well done. The exposures were of various lengths, two to five seconds, and some were instantaneous.

It is reported on good authority that the D. S. Baker has had a permit granted by custom authorities to go over Cascades on the 4th prox., at which time she is said to undertake the perilous voyage over the Cascade rapids.

Mr. James Elkins and son of Albany arrived on last night's boat with some fine stock. He goes to Crook county to look over his stock interests, and will in the meantime gather a portion of his best bloods and take them to the Eastern states this summer. Mr. Elkins is one of Oregon's early pioneers, and one of Linn county's leading men.

The express office, next door to THE CHRONICLE, is not by any means doing a small business. Mr. Hill, the enterprising and affable agent, though small in stature, is a Goeben for business. He informs us that the receipts for money orders have nearly doubled in the last year. The office is being repapered and the interior will soon present a very attractive appearance.

As a result of Mr. Reynold's purchases of cattle in this section, all the steers will soon go out of the country. He has bought all the two and three from the stockmen here, except from Sam Todd. The steers, about 300 head or over, will be received at W. S. Thompson's ranch here about May 25th and delivered at Condon the following day. The boys will commence rounding up the steers about the beginning of next week.—Fossil Journal.

Wednesday's Daily.

Fourteen loads of wool were delivered at the Wasco warehouse today.

The river at Umatilla is $4\frac{1}{2}$ feet higher than it was last year at this time.

The Regulator will make a trip to the Cascades and return on Saturday.

The Spokane Review thinks Cleveland's idea of reciprocity is embodied in this sentence: "You put me in, I'll keep you out."

The water has attained such a height in the river that the steam ferry boat lands without trouble at the foot of Washington street, near the Waldron stone building.

The recorder's court is running very light. There has been but two arrests so far in the month, one for drunkenness and the other a hobo, who was jailed in last night.

It may be that Fiske, who won the medal contest here, will be rejected on account of physical disabilities. If this is the case, his alternate, E. Neele Johnson will be selected.

A private letter from Salem verifies our report of a few days ago that the decision as to the location of the asylum will be withheld until the result is learned of the injunction suit of the Soldiers' Home.

Ripe strawberries were seen on sale today at Campbell Bros.' confectionery store, which were raised near Crater's point this season in open ground by A. Field. These are the first of the season from this vicinity.

The total amount paid by Morrow county this year as bounty for squirrel scalps is $1,846. In place of a bounty, Gilliam county invested in $200 worth of strychnine which was not enough to go around among the farmers.

Mr. J. A. Gulliford of Dufur called on the CHRONICLE today. Mr. Gulliford was unfortunate enough to have a run-away on Monday last, while out on the farm. The horses took fright and ran with a harrow, which was attached to them, and was seriously injured.

A bicyclist rode through the town last night from the east. He is agent for the Swift bicycle and is thus proving the merits of the machine.

A beautiful gold medal was presented last night to William Scott for bravery. On one side appears a reproduction of the Regulator, showing the swimmer in the water after the drowning boy, and on the other is neatly engraved the names of the donors.

The Chemical National Bank, to which was given the exclusive right to do business on the world's fair grounds, failed, carrying many deposits of foreign visitors and exhibitors. This is a shorter road to their pockets than the mere charging them for the shows within the show, and more net profits realized.

Doe Sing, one of the most intelligent of our Chinamen here, called at the CHRONICLE office today for information about the Chinese question. He was much surprised to learn that the Geary law had been declared constitutional. Doe laughed at the idea of there being a war, though agreeing that if Chinese are deported Americans will undergo a similar experience in China. He is hopeful that the matter will be adjusted with the lapse of time, satisfactorily to all concerned.

Thursday's Daily.

A gentleman found four bee trees west of Dufur a few days ago.

A map of the townsite of Kingsley has been filed with the county clerk here.

Mr. Truman Butler has accepted a position as purser on the steamer Lurline.

A light frost was seen at 15-Mile yesterday morning. It was too light to do any damage.

Hepler, a Crawford county, Kansas, village with a population of 800 was reduced to ashes early yesterday morning.

Mrs. Bachelor's house, on Rock creek, above Mosier, was broken open early this week and ransacked. A revolver was stolen.

Seeding and planting is now nearly done and the Oregonian can now take a chair, sit out on the front piazza, and watch 'em grow.

The Guitar and Mandolin club last night serenaded Neele McCloud, on the event of his marriage, from the balcony of the Umatilla house.

Sheepmen count on the wool yield of Oregon bringing in 17,000,000 pounds this season, as in many localities the bands of sheep are much larger than in former years.

Some of our young men have formed themselves into a tennis club and fitted up a court on the Williams property on Fourth street, where they expect to spend very many pleasant hours at that delightful game.

One of our Chinamen thus delivered himself: "Big man at Washington heap sabbe; make em laws no good; all Chinamen stay here; no register; too muchee d—m what you call em; Chinamen heap smart; he all light."

W. H. Fraser, of the New England National Building and Loan Association, is in the city. He is here for the purpose of establishing a branch of the association in The Dalles, and establish therewith a local advisory board.

A handsome doll in Garretson's store window is to be given to the one guessing its name at the coming Good Templar's entertainment May 29th at Fraternity hall. If the name is not guessed, it will be sold to the highest bidder.

A LIVELY ROW.

Followed This Morning by a Laughable Incident.

A row occurred last night at Wiseman's saloon wherein Tom Strickland, a tough character, had a racket with "Rocky" the bartender. He threatened to kill him, and began throwing whisky glasses, the cigar lighter, etc., at the head of "Rocky." After being hit twice on the head, "Rocky" commenced to get a little wrathful, and grabbing a gun, ran around from behind the bar saying: "Now you have threatened to kill me, if you don't go out immediately I will shoot you." At this juncture Officer Gibbons opportunely arrived and arrested Strickland, taking him to the city jail. Some time in the night he escaped out of a small hole.

A humorous incident occurred in this connection. A crowd gathered looking at the twisted bars and the small hole through which it seemed miraculous any ordinary 140 pound man could escape, and Thos. Joles, believing that holes in general are larger than they seem, offered to bet $20 that he could get through the same hole. The bet was promptly accepted by W. E. Garretson.

Joles, who is one of our largest men and who could get the portfolio of state if he tried, just for ponderosity, pulled off his coat and started in. First he thrust one leg through, which shut out the daylight completely. Then he tried to push his head through, but the hole was one size too small. With a despairing glance downward at his stomach, he wheeled around and said: "Take the stakes: I'm no eel."

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly.

MOSIER MUSINGS.

Alex. Watt Dangerously Wounded With an Adz.

Hoing weeds and doing some tardy planting is the order of the day.

Rev. Frank Ireland will deliver a sermon in district No. 52 next Sunday, giving the infidels a scoring and proving the benefit of Christian discipline.

A new store is to be started here in connection with the postoffice by J. Mosier. A blacksmith shop is also to be erected near the depot soon.

Alex. Watt was dangerously wounded last week while using an adz. The tool slipped, entering the calf of his leg, entirely severing the large artery which communicates the blood to that member. He was over a mile from home, and in attempting to reach there had proceeded but a short distance when he nearly fainted from the loss of blood. He raised an alarm and Rev. Mr. Stark hearing him, mounted a horse and went to the rescue. Mr. Watt was taken home, every thing done to staunch the flow of blood and a doctor summoned. The wound proved to be a very dangerous one, but with proper nursing he will be about before long.

A. Daggett, while attempting to make the station in a new boat recently built, on Tuesday, came very near being capsize. Mr. Daggett is not much of a boatman, which fact he acknowledges, and while in the center of the river the wind came up, tossing his boat in a fearful manner. How he reached land he does not know, but he thanks his lucky stars that he got there, and declares that he prefers to enter the "pearly gates" by land.

In Justice Court.

In Justice Davis' court yesterday, in the case of the State vs. John Prall, it appearing his bondsman was not sufficient surety for his appearance, and that the defendant was about to leave the state, he was rearrested and brought into court, where he entered a plea of "not guilty" to the charge of unlawfully taking and attempting to take fish. His bond was raised to $100, which he was unable to furnish, and was remanded to the custody of the sheriff. He afterward withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty, and was fined $10 and costs, amounting to a total of $27.30 which he paid and was discharged.

In the case of Owen Williams vs. Clint Thomas, Mr. Thomas settled everything promptly and the case was dismissed.

Forcing From the Sewer.

A Chinese garden at the foot of Federal street has been one of the features of First street for many years. Its proprietor has been uniformly successful in raising for the markets the first vegetables and garden truck. A weed is never permitted to attain a growth of more than two or three inches and unusual care is given the garden. But his success is due chiefly to a cause which an American would disdain to employ, for at the upper end of the garden is the outlet of one of our principal sewers, and the filth and pollution that daily flows from it is used to enrich and force the growth of the seeds he plants. An atmosphere hangs over this patch of ground that would sicken a white man and he would soon die if he breathed it as continuously as does John Chinaman. But the aforesaid John seems to thrive upon it, and he goes on enjoying life and adding daily receipts to his unquestioned hoard of wealth.

Sailed the Sea Thirty-Eight Years.

Capt. A. P. Loud is a prominent resident of Hampden, Me. For 38 years he sailed the seas, and upon retiring from that calling was appointed by the U. S. government to superintend its interests in the Alaska seal fisheries, a position he held five years. In speaking of his experience he says: "For several years I was greatly troubled with nervousness and pain in the region of the heart. It was almost impossible for me to get rest and sleep. Physicians from New York to San Francisco did me no good, but Dr. Miles Restorative Nervine and New Heart Cure speedily and completely cured me. I owe my present excellent health to them."

Work of Cattle Thieves.

Wm. Floyd of 5-Mile has lost a large part of his cattle in the last several months from thieves. He has lost so many, in fact, that it has grown to be a serious matter. No trace can be found of the thieves, but it has been found that his cattle have been driven somewhere across the Des Chutes to some secret rendezvous of the robbers, and there re-branded. Cattle have even been stolen from out of the corral. He discovered the work of the thieves by a cow which he had missed returning, when the marks where it had been freshly branded over could be seen. He now offers $250 for the arrest and conviction of any or all of the thieves.

The Defaulting Postmaster.

In regard to Canyon City's postoffice defalcation the News will state for the benefit of all parties the inspector appeared unexpectedly Tuesday morning of last week, and began an investigation. A shortage of about $2,500 was found in the cash accounts. Deputy postmaster, J. L. Parrish, who was on a trip to Bear valley, was sent for. Upon his return he admitted having appropriated public money to his own use, but said he didn't think there was so much missing. The bondsmen are John Muldrick, D. G. Overholt, F. C. Seis, B. C. Trowbridge, Peter Kuhl and Ed C. Allen. They have made good the shortage and have assumed control of the office until an appointment can be made. Much regret is expressed that a young man with such promises of the future should go astray. But such is life.—Grant Co. News.

HE DIDN'T "GIT"

Until He Got Ready and Then He Took a Freight.

The hero of this sketch is one of our best known citizens. On a recent trip he stopped off at Halsey, and proceeding to the hotel, gave his valise to a clerk, and asked the landlord when a certain freight would go out. The Boniface said he couldn't go out on it. The irrelevant answer led to a discussion, which in turned to an ultimatum on the part of the hotel man to the effect that he could not eat supper there and ordered him to take his umbrella and grip and "git." But The Dalles man didn't "git" worth a cent. In fact he not only stayed, but got his supper and paid for it. The next experience concerned the train. As soon as the freight came in the following conversation took place:

Want to go to Albany.

No sir.

Got to go; important business.

Can't do it. Strict orders not to carry any passengers. (Train starts.)

Here is the fare and one dollar more.

You'll have to get off, sir, at next station.

I'll do it.

And he did it, but he got on again when the train started, and got on and off at every station until Albany was reached.

The above actual events show the force of character of Dalles people and their singular faculty of pushing things in defiance of all opposition. Verily they are hard to curry.

Recent advice says that the hotel man is armed with a double-barreled shotgun, and the conductor has secured a China car for a tow, with a bit of barbed wire to connect with his caboose.

Directory of Dalles City.

Mr. Frank Deye has perfected arrangements for the issue, June 20th, prox., of a Columbian Year Directory of Dalles City. Only two directories of the city have ever been issued—the first in 1883, by Mr. Thomas H. Ward, and the second, under his copyright, in 1884. Mr. Ward has extended the privileges of his copyright to Mr. Deye, so that the work is fully fortified against infringement or interference.

The directory of this year will be incorporated in and become a part of the history of Oregon, as it will mark an era in the state's progress, and stand for reference and comparison from now till the next Columbian year. It will include portraits of prominent citizens and pictures of many of the elegant private residences of the city, cuts of public buildings, churches and business blocks, histories of Wasco county and Dalles City, and other valuable information, general and particular.

The publisher is an old newspaper man and an artist, and in the latter capacity will make a majority of the drawings.

This is an enterprise that besides giving us a directory, which time and changes have rendered an absolute necessity, will add to the importance of the city. It will be placed in the principal hotels of San Francisco, Portland, the Sound cities and Victoria, and will be on file at the Oregon club in Chicago and in the Oregon building in the world's fair grounds. The work on it will be done in the city, and as a home product will be a credit to all concerned—publisher, printers, patrons and people.

Superiority of Foreign Productions.

A young man of The Dalles of German descent, recently married, has just had an experience which he acknowledges will serve as a lesson throughout all his after life. His name, for obvious reasons, is withheld, but we will vouch for the facts. Wishing to procure a meat cutter as good as that used by his mother in the old country, he sent to Germany for it, and in due time the machine came from across the ocean. After opening the box the first thing that struck his eye were the directions for using—in English and not in German, as he expected. But to cap the climax, a trade mark, neatly cast in the iron, read, manufactured in U. S. A. The machine had been imported to Germany and re-shipped across the ocean to Oregon, costing about twice as much as he would have to pay for it here.

Notice.

Owing to the present stage of water we have been compelled to discontinue through connection to Portland. Steamer Regulator will make a trip, Dalles to Cascades and return, every Saturday. Through business will be resumed as soon as possible. D. P. & A. N. Co.

Crop-Weather Bulletin.

WESTERN OREGON.

Weather—The rainfall for the week has ranged from a trace to .18 of an inch.

Crops—The fall-sown wheat is knee high of good color, well stood and well rooted; early spring sown grain is up. Oats have an increased acreage. Rye is heading out in most of the counties. The peach crop has been somewhat injured and curl leaf is more pronounced than usual. Strawberries are in full bloom and in the southern counties they are ripening. Cranberry culture is being increased, those now out are doing finely; the same in Coos and Clatsop counties. The hay crop promises to be very heavy; early grasses are heading out; clover is unusually heavy. Pastures are excellent and stock is improving.

EASTERN OREGON.

Weather—Warm clear weather has prevailed during the week; in some of the interior counties non-injurious frosts occurred on the 9th and 10th. Correspondents all agree that no more favorable weather could have prevailed; no rain is reported to have fallen except an occasional sprinkle, the mean temperature ranged from 48 to 56 degrees.

Crops—The favorable weather has caused vegetation to make rapid growth. Peaches are somewhat injured, and will not be a full crop. Other varieties of fruit are fully up to the average. East and south of the Blue mountains the fruit buds are swelling, but few are in bloom. Summer fallowing is about done. Fall sown rye is heading in Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam and Morrow counties. Fall wheat is from 4 to 10 inches high and spring grain is coming up. Some wheat is jointing. Wire worms continue to do damage in Sherman county. Cutting of hay on Columbia bottom lands has commenced. Sheep shearing is nearly done in the Columbia river valley counties and an extra good wool clip has been secured. Wool is now being hauled to the warehouses. Ditches are being prepared for irrigation in Malheur and Harney counties. Peach and cherry trees are in full bloom in Lake county. Advancement in the season has been made, but vegetation and farm work is in Grant, Crook and Klamath counties behind that in the other counties.

Rivers—There has been a steady rise in the Columbia and tributary rivers during the past week. The river at Portland is today 16.3, an higher point than ever before at this date in May when higher water followed in June. The rivers will have a steady continuous rise for next six days, when for a few days they may become stationary.

Sheep Notes.

Thos. A. Rhea, who has been around among Morrow county sheep men this year, gives the following information: W. S. Small of Miles City, Mont., and J. N. Wadson of Calif. have bought 12,000 head of sheep, the former 6,000 yearlings, which he will ship from Wallula, the latter 6,000 two-year-olds, to be shipped from Reno, Nevada. Jas. Wright of Tacoma bought 5,000 head from Blake & Clay of Gilliam county for the Sound market. Mr. Bedgar of Pendleton has also purchased 5,000 head of sheep from parties in this section. Mr. Rawson of Red Bluff wants 3,000 to 3,500 ewes, to be driven overland to Montana. Frank Boyd of the same place has bought 200 ewes and lambs from Wasco parties. Sam Kinsman has bought 4,000 to 5,000 for the Sound market. Ed R. Bishop, cashier of the National bank of Heppner, has bought 10,000 head or more for an eastern driver. We are informed that buyers are looking this year, now that our prices are more reasonable, and it is likely that but few sheep offered for sale will remain at the end of the season.—Heppner Gazette.

High Water Statistics.
