

THE GRANGE.

Lecturer Hayes' Respon^d to the Mayor's Welcome.

The remainder of the session of the Grange will be secret. The response of H. E. Hayes to the mayor's address of welcome was briefly as follows:—

Progress of Husbandry means agricultural progress. Upon agriculture depends the welfare of all classes. The future welfare of this great section depends not on great corporate thoroughfare, but on the development of its great river, all are interested in its being speedily opened.

The Grange is a school, the farmers' rally, in which they are learning rapidly. Among the farmers are found the wisest statesmen of the times, and in the Grange is where they are educated.

The farmers we want such laws as will give a margin of profit in the hands of the producer. The people must have the power of veto. At the present time of appropriation the tax rate is to reach almost three per cent., giving little or no margin of profit.

In our Grange we discuss our monetary system, our taxation system, the transportation question, and, indeed, all questions that affect our prosperity as a people.

We must see to it that those who till the soil have a title to the same, for when the tillers own the soil, they will defend their country, educate their children and assist in making the whole country prosperous.

There is no class more to be depended upon for an open river than the agriculturists.

After listening to Mayor Mays' eloquent address of welcome, Lecturer Hayes' response, and Master Boies' usual address, the Grange took a half-hour recess. After recess the Grange met in secret session and listened to the report of the treasurer, committee on Freeman's work, committee on credentials, and the committee on agricultural colleges. Dr. Casto, in making the report of the agricultural college committee, said that there has been 281 students enrolled in the institution this year. Ninety-six of the students are young ladies, while 185 are young men. One hundred young gentlemen live at Camborn hall, and 20 young women live at the girl's hall, while 161 find board and lodging in the city of Corvallis on adjoining farms. Forty-two are taking the agricultural course, and are taking the mechanical course. Eight are taking the household economy course.

After listening to some suggestions from John Medlar, the Grange proceeded to consider some financial business, and afterward heard the reports from several counties which were referred to the proper committees.

Several resolutions favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver were referred to the committee on legislation. A resolution favoring a law that will allow women the privilege of signing petitions for or against saloon licenses, was referred to the same committee. A resolution favoring the re-enactment of the postage tax law, another favoring the election of U. S. senators by direct vote of the people, and many similar ones were offered.

The Grange then took a recess until 7 p. m., at which time the unwritten work of the order was exemplified.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

After opening exercises, considerable time was absorbed by the reading of the minutes, secretary's report, reports of committees, and the Lecturer's report. A resolution favoring no exemption of taxation, and others were laid on the table. Hillary's resolution regarding the coinage of silver called forth several eloquent speeches.

Some committees on condolence were appointed, and some standing committees made reports.

Friendly greetings from the W. C. T. U. were read by one of the sisters. It was ordered that the greetings be spread over our minutes and that a suitable response be made.

Some amendments to the by-laws are offered by different members.

After considerable profitable discussion the Grange took a noon recess.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Grange opened at 1:30 p. m., and after disposing of a few resolutions, listened to an excellent address by Hon. M. Boies, who is president of the Oregon Agricultural College, and also director of the Oregon Experiment Station. Prof. Boies explained the workings of the college and station and told how each is supported. Several questions were asked by different ones and answered by Mr. Boies.

Some resolutions were then offered by Dr. Casto of Clackamas county.

As the eyes and noses were called considerable time was consumed in voting several propositions.

Report of by-laws committee was referred back to committee.

Time for selecting place of meeting next year was made a special order business for tomorrow at 10 o'clock p. m.

Hillary presented a resolution favoring United States ownership and control of the Nicaragua canal.

Motion to reconsider a vote on one of the proposed amendments to by laws was not sustained.

The Wednesday evening's session was very short owing to the fact that other

NOMINATED AUDITOR.

Ivan Humason on a Trip to the Interior Recalled in Hot Haste.

Ivan Humason of the firm of Streiberg & Humason, druggists, Portland, was in the city last night and went to Portland on the early morning train. Mr. Humason has just been nominated auditor by the democrats of Portland, but at the time that gentleman was en route to Lake county with 100 head of blooded stock to be placed on the stock ranch, and in blissful ignorance of the honor thrust upon him.

A messenger was at once dispatched from Portland to notify him of his nomination and overtook him at Button Springs sixty miles southwest of Prineville. At Prineville the messenger was besieged with questions as to what he wanted of Humason and he was forced to tell them, or fancied he was, that he had just been appointed collector of customs in place of Lotan. The excitement among the Prineville people was intense.

Mr. Humason says that the farmers are jubilant all over that country over the exceptionally fine prospects for crops. The desert is covered with a rank growth of grass and water is plentiful. Grass is so abundant in all parts of the country that stock eat all they want and lie down for long intervals. Last Saturday a heavy snow fell south of Prineville and a bucket of milk froze solid over night.

HON. W. R. ELLIS.

Member-Elect for the Fifty-Third Congress of the U. S.

A new law firm in Heppner is that of Ellis, Dawson & Lyons. The two last-named are new-comers and will be known in future by their merits. The senior member is

HON. W. R. ELLIS.

The efficient member-elect of congress for the newly-formed seventh judicial district of Oregon. Mr. Ellis is a man of pleasing address, and is young enough, being only 43 years of age, to make for himself a great name, entering congress, as he does, at an earlier age than the great majority of national representatives. He is the son of James Ellis, and was born near Moreland, Montgomery county, Indiana, April 23d, 1850. His mother's maiden name was Susan Stone. Both father and mother were Kentuckians. His father died in November, 1851, and four years later his mother married Joseph Roberts in January 1855. In April of the same year the family removed to Guthrie county, Iowa. Here Mr. Ellis was brought up on the farm, doing farm work and going to school four months during each year until 18 years of age, after which time he taught school and worked on the farm until he was of age. He then entered the Iowa Agricultural college where he remained almost two years. He entered the law department of the Iowa State university in September, 1873, and graduated in the class of 1874. In January 1875, he began the practice of law at Padora, Iowa, and was elected and served as mayor of the town during that year. In June 1876, he removed to Hamburg, Iowa, where he followed his profession and engaged in newspaper work. He was elected city attorney in 1878, and served two years. Immediately after the expiration of the term he entered upon the duties of mayor, to which office he had been previously elected. He was married March 31st, 1880, to Miss Jennie B. Edwards, who died in January 1882. In March 1883, he came west and taught school in Walla Walla county, Wash., until 1884. He then went to Heppner as principal of school. In April, 1885, he began the practice of law again. In March of the same year, upon the formation of Morrow county, he was appointed first school superintendent. In December of the same year he was appointed by Gov. Moody as district attorney of the newly formed seventh judicial district, was elected to the same position in 1886, and re-elected in 1888. He was nominated by the republican party in 1892, and elected as a member of the fifty-third congress. He married his present wife, Mrs. Ida J. Scott, at Walla Walla, Wash., June 16th, 1885. They have one child, a son, Edgar B. Ellis.

OUR CASCADE LETTER.

A Plea for Double the Present Service of the Regulator.

CASCADE LOCKS, May 24, 1893.

The ancient saw "more rain more rest" does not apply to the locks. Work goes right along despite the Cascade-concentrated Oregon mist; and as for the rain, it keeps right along, also, doing business at the old stand.

The railway to the Herman creek quarry has been completed, and the quarrymen are busily getting out very superior rock, a gray basalt.

Supt. Hobart, of the state portage, has taken all needful care of the state property, so that there is very little danger of any of it being carried nearer to Salem by the fresnet. Nothing short of a mandamus can move it under its weight of ballast.

Our people miss the boats very much, and I am asked to put in a special plea for more service. If the Regulator could make two trips a week, say Wednesdays and Saturdays, it would help them out very much. Our butcher has been getting all his beef cattle up the river, and feels cramped now, and others all along the line, who have been prospering under the benign influence of cheap freights and squarer service, join in asking for the boats. If two trips a week are impracticable, then let the Saturday's trip be an all day one, starting earlier in the morning and staying at the Locks until 4 or 5 o'clock. This would give your people a regular excursion day; time to visit here, and a good day at any of the beautiful landings on the middle river for fishing, etc. Camping would be encouraged and a fine business built up. Excuse our suggestions, but we are true friends of the Regulator line. The U. P. would be doing double its business in Oregon, if it had paid more attention to its way points in the state. This is too big a country to be bottled up, and the folks who help to uncork it will help themselves as well as the country.

The hills back of town were covered with a new coat of snow yesterday morning.

Messrs. Day have ordered an electric light plant and work will be pushed day and night as soon as it is placed in position.

THE HILLSBORO Democrat was destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss, $3,200; insurance, $1,800.

Chauncey H. Snow, journalist and civil engineer, is dead, aged 60. He assisted in the construction of the Hoosac tunnel, and rendered valuable engineering services to the government during the war.

A party of old pioneers proposes to make the trip from Payallup, Wash., to Chicago on a flat car, which they will fit up with a cabin for a kitchen and for use on rainy days. They will be gone eighty days, thirty of which will be spent in Chicago.

The Portland clergymen who went to Astoria to investigate the charge of promiscuous kissing of females preferred against Rev. R. B. Dilworth, of that city, arrived at the conclusion that there is nothing wicked in kissing, though, perhaps, it is a trifle indigest, sometimes.

The distressing computation is made that the human system contains 10,000,000 nerves. What is the use of letting the nervous man know that he is really about ten times worse off than he thought? There will be no living with him if he finds out the real gravity of his condition.
