LIZZIE BORDEN'S TRIAL

A Sensational Murder Case Commenced Yesterday.

THE EVIDENCE IS CIRCUMSTANTIAL

Accused of Murdering Her Father and Stepmother at Fall River Last August.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 5.—The trial of Lizzie Borden of Fall River, charged with murdering her father, Andrew Jackson Borden, and her stepmother, Abby Durfee Borden, an aged, wealthy and highly respected couple, on the morning of August 4th, 1893, began here this morning. The most eminent criminal lawyers of the state are employed, and the trial promises to be most interesting and probably sensational. The evidence is purely circumstantial. On the day in question, as far as is known, the only persons in the house were the old couple, Lizzie and a maid servant, Bridget Sullivan, who was outside most of the morning washing windows. Borden was out in the morning, returning between 10 and 11 o'clock, and it was only a short time afterward that Lizzie, after a short visit to the barn, called to the servant to run for the doctor as her father had been murdered. Shortly afterward Mrs. Borden was missed, and a search revealed her body in an upper room, she having evidently been killed some time before her husband. In both cases death resulted from blows from some heavy, sharp instrument, probably an ax, but the instrument of death has never been discovered. A certain discrepancy in Lizzie's stories and some other suspicious circumstances led to her arrest some weeks afterward and subsequent indictment.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.

Delegates to the Annual Convention of the T. P. Association.

PORTLAND, Or., June 6.—[Special.]—At the regular monthly meeting of the Oregon and Washington division of the Travelers' Protective Association the delegates elected to represent the Oregon division at the fourth annual convention of the Travelers' Protective Association of America, to be held at Peoria, Ills., commencing today and ending on the 9th, as follows: Thomas Murray Spencer, of Fleckenstein & Mayer; J. A. Waddle, of W. J. Van Schuyver & Co., Portland. Delegates—E. B. Moore, J. E. Aiken. Alternates-at-large—Ben C. Irwin, Will B. Glafke.

The delegates have been given special instructions to do all in their power to secure the convention of 1894 for Portland. The meeting at Peoria will probably be the largest gathering of traveling men that the country has ever seen, as twenty-seven states are represented in the association and all will send delegates. On the evening of June 9th, as soon as the convention has been adjourned, the delegates will go in a body to Chicago, where, on the following day, June 10th, they will take part in the festivities of T. P. A. day at the world's fair. The exposition management has made special preparations to make the occasion one of great interest to commercial travelers.

IS THERE NO END?

Dr. Lyman Abbott Preaches Upon the Briggs Case.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, in his sermon on the Briggs case yesterday at Plymouth church, Brooklyn, endeavored to prove that Dr. Briggs, and not the general assembly, during the last two years had defended the true Christian faith, and that it was not Dr. Briggs who was heretical, but the general assembly was the one whose logical result was infidelity. Dr. Abbott spoke of the battle which had gone on from the days of Moses down to the present between ecclesiastics and the prophets, the one maintaining that the institution is the essential thing and the other that the individual personal life is the essential thing, and there could be no religious institution without. He exclaimed: "Heresy! What is heresy? For one thing it is to declare that God is not the father of all mankind, and leaves no door of access to himself save the one door of a written word that was not completed till the human race had longed, cried and prayed for their father for 2000 years."

THE SEAL FISHERIES.

The United States Has Made a Good Showing.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Hon. Jefferson Coolidge, ex-minister of the United States to France, arrived in New York yesterday with his family on the steamer La Bourgoyne. Referring to the Behring sea tribunal at Paris, Coolidge said last night to a Tribune reporter: "Mr. Carter opened the discussion for the United States in an exceedingly brilliant speech, in which he claimed that seals were not really wild animals, but that they could be herded just as oxen can be herded, and that they live on our property all but a few months in the year, and never mixed with other herds. The English, on the other hand, rest their case on the old three-mile rule, and feel that they have the law on their side. Russia is taking no part in the discussion. The forgeries in the American case were so promptly disavowed and withdrawn that they have not prejudiced our case at all. In order to decide in our favor the tribunal will have to put in the law some new principle of international law, and I think there is a very fair prospect of their doing this. The new law formulated by them would undoubtedly be approved by all the nations. Even if they should decide against us, they will probably devise some means by which the seals can be protected and preserved, such as a closed season for instance."

Spokane Bank Closes.

SPOKANE, June 5.—The bank of Spokane Falls temporarily closed its doors this morning. The suspension is taken quietly. There is no run on the other banks.

The Bank of Spokane Falls was organized in 1879, and is the oldest bank north of Snake river. It has always been considered the strongest and safest bank in Eastern Washington. The hard times of the past year or so in Spokane, it is thought, has placed the bank in a tight fix for ready money. A. M. Cannon, the president of the bank, was an old-time resident of Portland, and has been long known and identified with the welfare of Spokane. He has many and diversified interests in that country and is reputed to be a millionaire.

Bascomb H. Bennett, the cashier of the bank, and son-in-law of Mr. Cannon, is also well known in this city, where he was raised.

The bank has a paid-up capital of $150,000 and a surplus of $125,000. There has been no statement made of the liabilities and assets.

Run on Chicago Banks.

CHICAGO, June 6.—In spite of the fact that the Illinois Trust & Savings bank remained open until 3 o'clock this morning to give anxious depositors a chance to draw funds, a new line began to form before 8 o'clock this morning, and at 10, the hour of opening, between 1,200 and 1,500 people were waiting at the doors with their savings books. The crowd was several times larger than at any time yesterday. The bank is considered absolutely sound. The assets are figured up at over $28,000,000 and its stockholders are estimated to be worth fully $150,000,000. At the other savings banks the runs which began yesterday seem to have increased in size.

World's Fair Rates.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The opinion is steadily gaining ground among railroad men that they have put their world's fair rates too high, and unless they lower them they will stand a chance of losing money. Letters by the hundreds are pouring in upon them on this subject and it looks as if there would be a change before long. The meeting of the Western Passenger Association was harmonious today, and the adoption of the agreement will probably be settled if the terms of the Atchison & Topeka are agreed to. It wants the Colorado roads to come into the association, a plan for cheap excursions to the world's fair, and a definite arrangement for the redemption of tickets. A committee is now working on this matter.

Fleeing from Cholera.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 5. — Reports from several cities of Asiatic Turkey say that the cholera has appeared in many districts and is spreading rapidly. Along the lower Tigris and the Shat-El-Arab rivers the people are dying by thousands. Whole villages have been deserted by those fleeing from the pest. The panic has become so great that few families wait to bury their dead, or even to nurse their sick, but flee to the next towns to escape the infection. The fugitives from stricken towns are spreading the epidemic with appalling rapidity. Letters from Bassora City say that 70,000 persons have fled from Bassora province alone.

The Anti-Trust Association.

CHICAGO, June 6.—In the anti-trust convention this morning a number of letters of regret were read. General J. B. Weaver, of Iowa, delivered an address. The committee on resolutions reported in favor of the formation of a permanent association, known as the Anti-Trust Association of the United States, consisting of three representatives from each state and territory, and the organization of auxiliary associations in each state and territory.

Wheat Lower Than For Years.

CHICAGO, June 5.—On the board of trade wheat worked off more than a cent, touching the lowest figure reached in this market in very many years. Large receipts in the northwest, flat cables, increase on ocean passage and fears of further failures are the principal causes.

It was a wild day. Failures and rumors of failures followed each other thick and fast, causing a panic among traders. At one time July wheat sold down to 65⅞ cents, a decline of nearly 3 cents. At the close there was a reaction of ⅝.

Examination of Applicants.

SALEM, Or., June 6.—[Special.]—The supreme court will examine applicants for admission to the bar in the supreme court room at the state house Tuesday, at 12 o'clock, June 6th.

DOWNFALL OF SACASA

People Celebrate the Event for Three Days.

THE COUNTRY IS BANKRUPTED

There May Be a Renewal of Difficulties Through Lack of Money.

NEW YORK, June 6.—A dispatch from Managua says: "After three days given up to general rejoicing over the downfall of Sacasa, whose departure was hailed with joy, the commercial houses have reopened and business is running along as if nothing had happened. It is feared, though, that there may be a renewal of difficulties, as grumbling has already begun regarding the method of dividing the offices. The conservatives have assumed a threatening attitude. The canal question is an all-absorbing one and will be brought before congress immediately after it assembles. The agents of foreign syndicates here will try to wrest a concession from the Americans, who, they assert, are really doing nothing. The existing government has not money enough to pay off those who fought for it, and they are engaged in robbing. Outside of the towns property is not safe. It is rumored among the revolutionists that Sacasa has taken more than $1,500,000 in cash out of the country, part of which he sent out over a month ago; another part his family carried away, and the rest he took when he left. The report is ridiculed by his friends. The advocates of annexation to the United States, or of an American protectorate, are daily increasing. This is one of the questions that will soon be brought before congress."

LA VALETTA.

Pope Leo's Feebleness Gives Rise to Speculation as to His Successor.

There is much speculation as to who will succeed Pope Leo XIII, who is growing very feeble. Among those mentioned most prominently for the place is Raphael Monaca La Valetta, Cardinal Bishop. He is 66 years of age, having been born February 23, 1827, at Aquila. La Valletta is the dean of the Sacred college, and has been bishop of Ostia and Valletri since 1889 and cardinal since 1868. Being of French descent, his candidacy would be especially pleasing to French Catholics.

LA VALETTA

A Profit of $2,350,000.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The largest real estate deal ever consummated in New York was put through yesterday afternoon, when the committee appointed for that purpose by the trustees of St. Luke's Hospital sold their entire Fifth avenue property for the sum of $2,400,000.

When the first trustees of St. Luke's bought it about 1855 it was in the outskirts of the city and cost but $50,000. As a hospital no taxes have been paid upon it, so that the profit of the sale is upward of $2,300,000 to the vendors, a remarkable instance of the rise in 40 years of real estate values in New York.

De Lesseps' Sentence to Be Annulled.

PARIS, June 6.—L'Eclair states that the court of cessation, to which Charles de Lesseps and associates appealed from the sentence passed upon them for corruption in the management of the affairs of the Panama Canal company, will annul the sentences, and order the release of the defendants. This statement is in accord with the reports current for some time to the effect that grave errors justifying the annulment of the sentences have developed in connection with the prosecution of the Panama cases.

The Loyal Legion.

ST. PAUL, June 7.—[Special.]—The order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, holds its seventh quadrennial congress here today and tomorrow. Rear Admiral John Jay Almy is the commander-in-chief of this organization, and is now 79 years of age. His name has been on the naval list, active and retired, over 64 years. He entered the service as midshipman when 15 years of age, and has cruised the wide world over. During the civil war he commanded the gunboat Connecticut, and distinguished himself by running down and capturing four notorious blockade runners and destroying four others.

REAR ADMIRAL ALMY

Bankrupted by Revolution.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, June 6.—The country has been devastated by the revolution, and a financial and commercial crisis is imminent. Business is at a complete standstill. It is doubtful if the present government will be able to maintain itself long. It is known that Bogran will make an effort to become president, and as he has not much strength with the people he will have to do so by means of a revolution. He is said to claim to have private and official backing from the United States.

Lord Stanley's Successor.

Recently appointed to succeed Lord Stanley of Prestoff as Governor-General of Canada, will assume his new position sooner than was expected owing to the resignation of Lord Stanley, is Lord Aberdeen, who is a comparatively young man, was in 1866 appointed by Gladstone to be viceroy of Ireland in which capacity he was exceedingly popular. He and Lady Aberdeen have been very active in the preparations for the Irish industries exhibit at the world's fair. He is a member of a number of religious and charitable organizations.

LORD ABERDEEN

CARNEGIE'S PREDICTION.

Believes the English-Speaking World Will Unite and Be Supreme.

Andrew Carnegie predicts, in the June number of the North American Review, issued today, the union of all the parts of the English-speaking world, and sets forth the advantages that would follow an Anglo-American combination.

Mr. Carnegie argues that all influences are now working toward a reunion of the separated parts of the English-speaking world. The Americans, Mr. Carnegie claims, differ less from the Briton than the Irishman, Scotchman, or Welshman. The marvelous development in recent times of the facilities of travel, he says, tends to bring into comparatively close proximity countries that are separated only by water. The delegate leaving Liverpool or Southampton for a conference at Washington would reach that city in just about the same time as the delegate from the Pacific coast, or as long as it took members from the north of Scotland to reach London at the time England and Scotland were united.

The factor which Mr. Carnegie deems most important in rendering political reunion possible and in his judgment inevitable is the telegraph, which brings the most widely-separated centers of activity into almost instantaneous communication. Without this agency, it might be doubtful whether one central authority could act for all the scattered parts, but with it, time is no longer to be taken into account, and distance means but little when all can instantly hear of everything that happens.

Canada, he says, would undoubtedly favor reunion. The United States would be favorably disposed toward it.

"Let men say what they will," says Mr. Carnegie, "I say that, as surely as the sun in the heavens once shonn upon Britain and America united, so surely is it one morning to rise, shine upon and greet again 'The Reunited States.'"

King George's Troubles.

The disturbance between France and Greece is said to be very serious, and a revolution and the overthrow of George I., of Greece, are feared. The enemies of the monarchy have seized upon King George's well meant, patriotic declarations that he would rather abdicate than allow foreign control of finances or a reduction of the coupon, as a weapon against himself, and proclaim that he is individually responsible for the financial situation. King George is the second son of Christian IX., of Denmark, and was born December 24, 1845. In 1863 he was invited to accept the throne of Greece. In 1867 he married the Princess Olga, daughter of the Grand Duke Constantine, of Russia.

KING GEORGE

Caught on a Trestle.

CHARLESTOWN, Ill., June 5.—Georgr Walters, a rich farmer, and his daughte Nellie were run down on a trestle near here yesterday by a Clover Leaf train while on their way home. In their endeavor to save themselves they jumped in the creek below. In the fall the girl was killed and Walters was badly injured.

The Alaska Salmon Catch.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The bark Nicholas Thayer has arrived from Karluk canneries in Alaska, after a passage of 21 days. Captain Peterson reports salmon quite plentiful and the prospects most favorable for a successful season.

Married a Rich Widow.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Mrs. Henry Field, widow of a wealthy capitalist of this city, was quietly married at noon today to Thomas Nelson Page, the well-known Southern writer, at the residence of Hon. T. B. Bryan, at Elmhurst. Their future residence is Washington.

The Sherman Law.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—A circular to all correspondents has been issued jointly by all the state saving banks and trust companies in this city urging immediate action to secure a repeal of the Sherman silver law.
