THE DALLES, OREGON

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Tuesday's Daily. Columbus stood an egg on end four hundred years ago...

Circuit court adjourned yesterday for the term.

The Portland city council now stands six democrats, four republicans and one populist.

Salmon is getting more plentiful. Mr. Stone reported a better catch last night than he has had so far this season.

In the suit of Floyd vs. Monahan, for recovery of a horse the jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff.

Rev. C. Buchler of Portland will preach in the German Lutheran church, on Ninth street, this evening at 8 o'clock.

The commencement exercises of St. Mary's academy will take place in The Dalles on Thursday, June 15th, at 2 o'clock p. m.

The salmon pack for the season to May 1st, according to the most reliable sources of information, is almost 80,000 cases, or about 24,000 cases short, last year's pack for the same time being 104,000.

A vein of coal four feet and two inches thick has been opened up eight miles from Albion in the Canas prairie country.

Portland parties are interesting themselves in the newly-discovered coal fields.

Wm. Walker and brother of Sherman county called this morning and report prospects very encouraging.

News comes almost daily of the drowning of fishermen at Astoria. These individuals take foolish chances to increase their catch of fish and thus often lose their lives.

Eugene A. Brackett, who was indicted by the grand jury in Grant county, quite a while since, for the crime of embezzlement, was convicted of the charge at the recent term of circuit court here.

Pat Kline of Pendleton raised two hogs here last July which weighed 670 pounds, and two others 650 pounds.

The high wind today lashed the waves of the Columbia into a fury, and the little sail boats tossed over them like cork, making the sport of boat riding quite exhilarating if a trifle dangerous.

Senator Cogswell's bill, making it obligatory upon the part of stockmen to record their brands, provides that all brands of cattle shall be recorded in the county where the owner resides or where such animals usually range; and no evidence of ownership by brand shall be permitted in any court of this state on or after Nov. 1, 1894, unless such brand shall have been recorded.

Wednesday's Daily. He was going to get her money. He was going to be a honey. As he couldn't be an earl.

The run of salmon is very good today. Travel from the east is very light these days. There will be a reaction in the fall.

The fourth of July will be postponed this year on account of the Chinese embargo.

A new postoffice is established at Penza, Crook county, with Byron J. Pengra postmaster.

The flouring mill is running full time on Klickitat wheat, which is being milled in daily.

Daniel Friedman has been appointed postmaster at Mount Angel, Marion county, Oregon.

Probate court was in session today in order to consider the final settlement of the Rogers estate.

The Wasco Independent Academy commencement exercises will be held on the 15th of this month.

Tomorrow evening a camp meeting will begin at Dufur and will be in session so as to cover two Sundays.

The Astoria Herald is agitating against fish traps, which it claims are unlawful and unnecessarily destructive.

Mr. C. E. Christman of this city has visited Rogue river valley and has deposited a large number of his celebrated fruit-driers to the fruit growers of that section.

The magic lantern exhibition in the mechanics hall Monday night for the benefit of St. Paul's Sunday school was well attended, and a nice program well carried out. About 125 tickets were sold. The magic lantern used is a very fine one which was bought by several of the Eastern Oregon Episcopal Sunday schools. The entertainment was managed by Rev. Pototwine of Pendleton, who was on his way to Portland to attend the Episcopal convention now in session there.

A young lady in The Dalles being asked to define the duties of a chaperone, said, "to keep her eyes shut at all times."

The body of Amos Bills, who was drowned in the John Day river May 30th, was found on the beach this morning about a mile and a half above town, and identified by Wm. Meter. An inquest was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon by Coroner Eastwood.

We are in receipt of the first number of the first volume of McClure's magazine published simultaneously in New York and London. As a literary journal its announcement promises excellence of a high order. Its corps of contributors are headed by Prof. Henry Drummond, W. D. Howells, authors of world-wide reputation. The contents of the first number is an evidence of its literary merit. Hammond's article of "Where Man Got His Ears," and Thos. A. Edison's "Edge of the Future," and "Count DeLesseps Today," by R. H. Sherard, are of special interest. The magazine is illustrated and its terms are $1.50 per annum.

Thursday's Daily. I pleaded long for the whispered "yes," which she long withheld, but oh, I wish to think how her name I'd bless if she'd only stuck to "no!"

Saturn will hold the place of honor this month as evening star.

Arrangements have been made to test the legality of the cigarette law in Washington.

The U. S. Land office officials in this city have been as busy as it is possible for men to be for the past few days, receiving filings on the overlap of the Northern Pacific land grant in this district.

There will be a meeting of the Alumni of the W. I. A. at the residence of Mrs. L. E. Crowe this evening at 7:30 o'clock sharp. A full attendance is requested as there is important business to come before the meeting.

That road above the Methodist church, which has been the subject of so much talk, is in an almost impassible condition. It would improve it somewhat if the loose rocks, old tin cans, etc., were thrown out.

Eugene A. Brackett, who was indicted by the grand jury in Grant county, quite a while since, for the crime of embezzlement, was convicted of the charge at the recent term of circuit court here. He was school clerk of Canyon City precinct and absconded after having squandered several hundred dollars of school money. Gambling was his ruin.

According to a law enacted by the last legislature it is unlawful to shoot upon or from the public highways. Another law not so apparently useless, is that persons driving stock along a public highway, leaving such road obstructed with stones, earth or other debris, leaving same to remain for twenty-four hours, is guilty of a misdemeanor, whose least punishment is $200.

The semi-annual session of the Sherman County Musical association will be held at Grass Valley on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 20th and 21st, 1893. The day session will be devoted to discussion of best methods of teaching, and other subjects relating to music. An instructive and entertaining programme consisting of songs, recitations, etc., will be rendered each evening.

The concert to be given Friday evening, June 9th, by The Dalles string band will undoubtedly be the musical event of the season. The entrancing strains of the violin, as interpreted by Prof. Birgfeld, are well known to all of our citizens, and it is just as well known that there is no dearth of talent to make a fitting complement. The highest class of music will be rendered; in fact, nothing less is ever tolerated by this orchestra, and the concert will be equal to the best in any city.

The following program will be given:

- Part I. Overture... Selection... Cornet solo... Part II. Overture... Selection... Violin solo... Mendelssohn's Wedding March... The program will be followed by a dance.

The Coming Man. "Got a pin?"

The reporter looked down at the urchin from whom came the innocent inquiry and there met a look of solicitude that prompted him to ask what he wanted of a pin. "Why, then you can see our show," said the little fellow. He was the spokesman, and the largest of a number of little boys ranging from 4 to 6 years, all of whom had more or less pins sticking in their pinafores. The pin was produced, and the show exhibited, which consisted of a number of pictures pasted in the bottom of a pasteboard box. Who will say that we have not in The Dalles growing business men?

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

John Booth Has Both Legs Badly Injured.

Yesterday morning Jos. Booth, aged 65 years, and employed as a carpenter in the Union Pacific works, met with a terrible accident. He was engaged at some work in the yard when a heavy transfer table came in his direction, striking both of his legs. One was completely fractured below the knee, and the calf of the other was so badly lacerated that it bore the appearance as if it had been chewed by a dog.

Mr. Booth suffered intense pain, and was conveyed to St. Vincent's hospital for treatment. He is a widower and has two daughters living in Albion.—Telegram.

Mr. Booth is well and favorably known in this city, having resided here for years, and is a member of the A. O. U. W. and K. of P. lodges of this city. From the report it does not look possible that he will survive his injury, and if not his body will probably be shipped to The Dalles for interment, as his wife is already buried here.

LATER—A dispatch from Portland, received by Frank Menefee, states that Mr. Booth died last night, and that his body will be shipped to The Dalles Saturday night, the funeral taking place on Sunday.

Hood River News.

Monday was the warmest day of this year.

Frank Soesbe is clerking for A. S. Blowers & Co.

Mrs. L. H. Adams of Portland is visiting at her father's, Mr. Pugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stewart of Portland are visiting at Mrs. Stewart's father's, Mr. E. L. Smith.

Mrs. S. T. Howe has let the contract to Lafayette Neff to build a summer hotel on her place one and a half miles southwest of town.

One hundred and forty-one crates of strawberries were shipped from here on Monday at an average price of twenty cents per pound.

Hon. E. L. Smith left on the noon train for Toronto, Canada, to attend the supreme lodge of A. O. U. W. On his return he will take in the world's fair.

Messrs. J. P. Watson, M. Biggs and M. Cogsdon started for the west fork of Hood River and Lost lake Wednesday morning to be gone till Sunday on a fishing tour.

Lee Morse has the contract for getting out 3,500 telephone poles for the Portland and Spokane Telephone Co. He and his men went to work on them last Monday on the west fork of Hood River.

The warm weather for the past week brought in the berry-pickers. On last Saturday there were some 200 arrived—some on the boat, some on the trains, others afoot, and some on horseback, and we noticed three on one horse.

Oregon Medical Association.

The Oregon State Medical Association will hold their annual meeting in this city on next Tuesday and Wednesday. The trustees of the Congregational church have kindly tendered the use of that edifice to the association. Dr. Rinehart, president, anticipates a very large attendance, coming as they will from all parts of the state. At the last gathering of the medical profession it was decided to change the place of meeting from Portland, where they have always met, to a point east of the mountains. Our city is famous for its hospitality, and she will cordially receive this association, consisting, as it does, of men of acknowledged learning and ability, whose capacity of appreciation is parallel with their influence for good. This meeting will be one of the most important ones ever held here or in the state.

A Singular Incident.

The old wood barge, which has been at Chenoweth landing for the purpose of piling cordwood upon for steamer use, broke away and drifted down the river unobserved some time ago, and it was thought it had gone over the Cascades. About a week ago it was found in a lake near Viento, having in some mysterious way, with a favorable wind just at the right time, pushed its way through some willows and thence to the upper end of the lake, where it was concealed from view from any point on the river by large trees. It is one of the most singular incidents ever recorded.

A Friend of Mr. Curtis.

I am quite sure you will find that the Rev. James Reob, mentioned in your dispatches and editorial of yesterday, is Rev. James H. Eoeb. He is an intimate friend of mine, and this action is perfectly consistent with all his antecedents. He is a thorough scholar and an able preacher, and is loyal to the Scriptures and to our evangelical faith. Congregationalists will be more than happy to welcome him back to our fold.

Washington Grange.

The opening exercises of the Washington State Grange took place this morning at White Salmon. One of the features of the occasion will be an old-fashioned barbecue. Those who left from here on the Regulator this morning were Mrs. C. T. Donnell, Mrs. M. E. French, Mrs. Van Anda, Mrs. M. Randall and daughter Edith, Mrs. Isaac Joles, Mrs. C. W. Deltzel, Miss Crist, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Deltzel, Judge Liebe, wife and daughter Tillie, Mrs. Maier, Bertie Butts, W. H. Butts, W. C. Ailaway.

COLD STORAGE.

A Good Chance to Make Money With Small Capital.

A cold storage warehouse would not be a bad investment for some enterprising capitalist to engage in at The Dalles. These have been fixtures in the east for many years, but only lately has the west taken to them, a notable example near home being Portland. This is one of the most universally prosperous institutions that could be found by the most careful seeking and gives many other persons of yet smaller capital a chance to gain by the fluctuation of markets between summer and winter. For instance, a man with a very little capital can go into a butter, eggs, and cheese speculation. He buys from the farmers and at once has the butter, eggs and chickens sent to the cold storage warehouse. He goes to the owner of the warehouse and gets a loan of 80 per cent. of the value of his storage certificates on payment of the storage and the brokerage fee for getting the loan. He gives a note for the loan, which the warehouse men endorse, and deposit with the storage certificates in their bank. With this money the buyer can go back and get more butter, eggs and chickens until he has enough stored to feed a country town for six months. The bank carries the loans on until winter.

Then when the rural supply of butter, eggs and chickens begins to diminish and the market prices increase the produce man gradually unloads his holdings, making sales from samples. As fast as he makes a sale he gives an order for the goods on the cold storage warehouse man. The cold storage warehouse man receives the money and takes up the storage certificates from the bank. When all the loans are taken up the produce man owns absolutely the rest of the things he has stored and he can do with them what he pleases.

Some produce men enlarge this speculation by making contracts with their customers by the year. They agree on a price from month to month, and at those prices they agree to furnish a fixed quantity. The market quotations may be higher or lower than the agreement. The produce man's profits come in the difference between the prices at which he buys in the summer, plus his warehouse bill and interest charges and the price he gets.

Occasionally perhaps, a man who tries to carry too much would fail, but where he agrees to deliver future eggs and chickens, he should have them in his cold storage warehouse at the time and make the price based on the market quotations of that day and the storage charge.

Mosier News.

MOSIER, JUNE 5, 1893.

As the Mosier tide seemed to be receding, I thought I could come in without danger.

The weather is very pleasant now, and many beautiful fields of grain are waving in the breeze, which is a joy to the owners, causing them to wear a smile.

A little over a week ago there was an ice cream festival at the house of Mr. Mosier for the purpose of raising funds to procure an organ for the newly organized Sunday school in district No. 52, which was quite a sackful; soon there will be another one. Instead of ice cream there will be strawberries. It is not expected that the guests will get fat or rich. There is much musical talent in some of the children in this district and it is desirable to give them an opportunity to improve it by placing within their reach an instrument.

The Rev. Frank Ireland has moved into his new dwelling on one of Mosier's eighty bluffs. This part of the city is settling up with some very good people, which is an honor to any neighborhood or community.

The Rev. Mr. Stark, superintendent of the Sunday school, an upright, straightforward man, bids fair to lead the Sunday school in paths of peace and harmony. It is hoped ere long to have a large band of Juvenile Templars, equipped with all the grace and refinement that go to make society attractive and agreeable. X. Y.

The Fruit Crop.

Now that a large fruit crop is assured, there should be immediate action in the matter of providing a first-class fruitdrier of sufficient capacity to dry the surplus product of the entire county, to be located at some point easy of access to the greater number of farmers of the valley. The establishment of such a plant will prove one of the most potent factors in the future progress of the valley in point of development and settlement, and there should be no delay in the matter.—Democratic Times.

Will Make an Example.

Mr. Wm. Floyd went to Hood River yesterday to take possession of a steer which had been stolen from him. The brand had been altered and the steer was sold to a Hood River butcher. Mr. Floyd will bring the guilty party to time, he says. These suits cost him something, but it is due to the community that these thieves be prosecuted.

MORO NEWS.

The Field, as Covered by Our Special Correspondent.

Mr. Edinburgh was buried at Wasco last Friday.

Mr. Munro Flora has rented the Farmers' Hotel.

Mr. Flora's brother-in-law, Mr. Slater of Lebanon, has moved to Moro.

The east wind has been blowing for three or four days, but the grain is looking fine.

Mr. E. D. Fowle, the wide awake life insurance agent from Seattle, is spending a few days in Moro.

Mr. Earnes Moore gave the band boys an oyster supper at his father's house Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. J. Thompson's sister, who has been visiting with her for two or three weeks, started for her home in the east last Friday.

Mr. Frank Peddicord and family from Emigrant Springs, visited his brother W. J. Peddicord and attended camp meeting Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Davenport, our general dentist, has purchased two lots in Moore's addition, opposite the Baptist church, and intends to build a neat dwelling house and find a nice housekeeper, we presume.

Camp meeting closed Sunday evening with a large attendance. There were no conversions that I heard of. Mrs. Golden of Goldendale was in attendance, also quite a number from different parts of the country.

Mr. Louis Hulbert is quite sick and was moved last week to the residence of Mr. Smith, where he can be sure of good care and medical attendance. By the way, Dr. Smith is putting up a good barn, and to judge from the numerous calls (not professional) that he makes to a certain house on the hill, we think he will soon build a residence as well.

Mr. S. E. Lindsey of Salem is stopping in Moro for a few days. He is selling trees for the State Capitol Nursery. Mr. J. B. Mowry gave him an order for one thousand prune trees. Mr. Lindsey also invested in one of Mr. Mowry's large town lots just north of E. M. Leslie's. We like to see men from other parts of the state come to Moro to buy town property. It shows that they have confidence in its future growth and prosperity. There is room for more.

Every one is in excellent spirits over the late decision of Mr. Hoke Smith in regard to the military land. Messrs. Messenger, Mowry, and others have gone to The Dalles to attend to the filing on theirs. More anon. Dos. Mono, June 6, 1893.

Crops and Weather.

WESTERN OREGON.

Weather—The past few days have been the warmest so far this year, and have been as warm as it usually is in mid-summer.

Crops—In the Willamette the peach, pear and apple crop will not be up to the average. In Southern Oregon a good fruit yield is expected. Some sections report fall wheat heading. Sheep shearing continues; good clips are reported, but there appears to be no market for the wool. Hops are growing finely. Strawberries are ripening rapidly and the market will be overstocked within the next two weeks.

EASTERN OREGON.

Weather—The fore part of the week was cool, cloudy, and brisk winds. The 5th was the warmest day of the year so far.

Crops—Fall wheat is now in boot. Spring grain is about six inches high. Volunteer barley and rye are heading. Rye wheat is nearly ready to cut. The correspondent in Tygh Valley, Wasco county, reports his rye as six feet high. This is quoted to show the growth. Wire worms are reported as yet doing damage in several counties. The pastures are fine and stock are in excellent condition. There will be no difficulty in securing an immense hay crop this year. If unfavorable weather conditions do not occur the harvest of cereals will be very large. Fruit is about an average, except peaches and cherries, which will be somewhat short. Early cherries are ripening at Hood River. Strawberries are ripe and very plentiful.

Rivers—During the week the temperature over the country drained by the Columbia, Snake and tributary rivers has been about or below the average; as a result the snow has been gradually melting, keeping the rivers at a standstill. The warm weather of the past two days will cause the snow to melt more rapidly, and the rivers to rise. While a flood is yet possible, it is yet not probable, unless the present warm period should continue for four or five days longer.

Memorial Day.

Memorial day of the Woodmen will be next Sunday, at which time services will be held at Sunaet cemetery and the beautiful monument in memory of Wm. Mitchell will be unveiled. A choice program has been arranged.

Dr. Gunn's Onion Syrup.
