CASCADE NOTES

The Skamania Pioneer Speaks of the Improvements tietng on.

Warren's cannery is only running about one-fourth time owing to the scarcity of fish. Thos. Coyle has been continuously in the government employ for ten years at the Cascades.

The voice of the hamme and chisel of the stone cutter again rings in the air. It is about the most welcome sound that could be heard here.

D. L. Cates caught eighteen dozen trout last Friday afternoon up Herman creek. We are not mistaken-that is in the figures Mr. Cates gave us, it was eighteen dozen, no more.

Miss Ida E. Jones, the accomplished and returned to Washington.

J. G. and I. N. Day are getting the granite for the work here from their own quarry at Raymond, Calif. We are informed that it is a first-class quality of stone and will take the finest kind of a polish.

A little girl of Mrs. Daniels, who lives above the city was taken to Portland by Dr. Candiani, who in connection with Dr. McKenzie, of that city, performed an operation for the tuberculoses of the hip bone. The operation is a very difficult one and is pleasant news to know that the little child is doing finely and will undoubtedly thoroughly recover.

The dynamo for the electric light is here. It will furnish fifty lights 2000 candle power each. In addition to furnishing light for the night force that is to be employed after low water the owners will furnish light to the business houses of the city. Considering the size of the city it is doubtful if there is another town in the United States of its size that can boast of so metropolitan institutions as an electric light plant.

The Regulator has been a benefit to Skamania county above the Cascades. Her daily appearance in summer has relieved the loneliness of a spare population. Many an invoice of supplies she has brought to cheer the settler, many a landing made to oblige a single passen ger. The unanimous verdict of our peo ple would be "success to the Regulator." She is "a thing of beauty and a joy for

Dr. C. F. Candlani, with his charac teristic energy, has started another enterprise. He has leased two acres of land from Alex Watt for a term of ten years for the purpose of erecting a large pavillion and summer resort hotel thereon. Men are at work already clearing and grubbing the land and the enterprise will be pushed to completion. The present building located thereon will be enlarged and an additional story put on. It will be used as the hotel. A magnificent pavillion fifty feet in diameter will be erected for the purpose of holding dancing, lectures, sermons, etc. It will be lighted by electricity throughout and this will undoubtedly bring to our city a great many excursions and a large number of summer visitors who have long desired to see the much talked of in the early days government buildings Cascade Locks.

J. G. and I. N. Day have a thirty-ton engine on their track to the Herman creek stone quarry. It is their intention to have 350,000 cubic feet delivered here under the stone shed before Christmas. They have already quarried in one month over 20,000 cubic feet. The saw mili will be in full operation this week and in addition to the lumber for their own use they will manufacture all kinds of building lumber for the many homes that will be built at the locks this summer. We are informed that a steam shovel has also been ordered[for the purpose of getting sand gravel for the cement work. Two more concrete mixers will be added to the two they already have thus giving them a capacity of 400 barrels per day. As soon as the water lowers two gangs will be put on and work pushed day and night until the work is completed. The gentlemen who have gigantic contract are hustlers and evidently know their business.

PORTLAND, Or., Dec. 7, 1892. Messrs. O. W. R. Mig. Co., 325 Front St., city:

DEAR Stus-Owing to the heavy frost on the night of Dec. 5th, I sustained a severe fall when leaving my residence yesterday morning, falling the entire length of the front steps. I had to be assisted into the house, and upon examination found a severe bruise upon my left hip. Hearing of Congo Oll Leent for a bottle, and am happy to state that three applications removed the soreness and today I feel all right. It is truly a wonderful healer. Yours truly,

GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.

The System Governing Their Erection and Cost.

How the Plans for New Buildings Are Engineered and Put Through-Congressmen The Need of Proper Restrictions.

In many of our cities and large towns the most noticeable structure is the government building. There are now nearly four hundred such buildings senttered through the country. The number has been greatly increased in recent years, and the expenditure for construction has become a large nnal item in the appropriation bills of

In 1891 the amount expended on this account was more than four million eight hundred thousand dollars, which was one-fifth as much as all the ordidaughter of Mr. S. B. Jones, has re- nary expenditures of the government in ceived the appointment as postmaster of 1840. This great extension of the sys-Cascades. Her bond has been executed tem has taken place gradually, but the policy seems now to be firmly established

Within proper limits, says Youth's Companion, it is an extremely reason-ble system. In a little town the rent of a corner in a store for a post office amounts to almost nothing. The town grows, and the post office requires larger quarters—a whole floor on the street level in the center of business. The town transforms itself into a city. land and rents increase, and the expense for the hire of a building, which must be conveniently located in the very heart of the city where rents are highest, becomes large.

A still further increase of population, and now other departments of the govcrument begin to appear in the city. If It is on the coast or on the lakes, a deputy collector of customs is appointed The federal courts have business now and then in the city. At present on a buf ng is authorized by a separate act, by here is still some opportunity for log

All government building is done in for the superintendence and control of he treasury department. Piest, our ress authorizes the building and appr riates money for the site and the struure. Next a lot is selected, approve and purchased. Plans are made by the supervising architect, and the building m erested. The custodian-though he may be, and frequently is, the postmaser-is under the direction of, and reports to, the secretary of the treasury.

The reason for this is, perhaps, that were chiefly for the offices of collectors the treasury, and only incidentally

No doubt the engerness of communies to obtain a costly and ornamental omilding at the government expense has saused this system to be abused. Attempts have been made to lay down ertain conditions which must be satisfied before a town or city shall be formed to need a government building

Thus, it might be required that the population shall be so many, or the recipts of the post office so much, or that there shall be other uses than the posoffice for such a building. No such restrictions have been made, and whether a town is to have been a build ing or not is frequently a matter of favor, or even of accident.

Inasmuch as a government rarely takes a backward step in such cases as this, the chances are that hundreds of new buildings will be erected during the next few years.

A FIGHT WITH WILD DUCKS. Have a Desperate Battle with Birds Blown Out to Sea.

Capt. William T. Rernard and the steam tug Plymouth arrived from Box ton at Philadelphia a few days ago with three barges in tow, after one of the roughest passages ever made and more than the elements to contend with during the trip, having been attacked in the Vineyard sound, during the terrific hurricane of February 19, by a tremendous flock of wild ducks that had been carried from the land by the wind. They fought desperately against the side of the tug's house and powerful electric light on the masthead, which was the object that first attracted them. Mate Willard went on deck and was knocked flat by one of the infuriated birds, which flew directly at him, striking him on the breast. To substantiate this strange story told to a Press reporter Capt. Bernard saved twelve of the birds that fell exhausted from their struggles on the decks and they are now at his home. The Plymouth, after passing Chatham just before sundown on February 19, experienced heavy rains. Soon the wind veered to the northwest and blew a hurricane ac companied by blinding snow squalls. At nine o'clock at night Capt. Bernard and Mate Willard were both in the pilot house, when a fluttering noise was heard to windward. With the aid of marine glasses they could discern a huge dark formation moving directly toward them, and soon a flock of fully three hundred ducks made for the ves sel. They flew directly toward the electric musthead light and in striking the pole fell by the dozen to the deck. Some of the sailors were terrified at first by the fluttering noise, but on being con-vinced what it was went on deck and caught fully fifty of them and stowed them away in the fore peak. The birds were ravenously hungry, having been carried miles from the land in the teeth of the heavy gale. They could not fly I'lymouth were carried off to sea and Under such circumstances it is chenp- no doubt perished. For fully an hour citement on board the tug, and Capt. exact buildings than to continue to pay Bernard confessed it was one of the most remarkable experiences he had point it becomes a matter of economy ever seen or heard of in upward of a quarter of a century of sea life.
