OFFICIAL PAPER OF WASCO COUNTY.

That railroad accident, says the Telegram, is another that could have been prevented. If the fence law was properly enforced no cows would be on the track, and no disasters from such causes would result.

A striking case of youthful depravity has come to light in a 14-year-old girl of Tacoma, who is pungently described by her mother as "a holy terror."

One of the treasures of the Edison Phonograph works at Orange is a cylinder that was impressed with the voice of the late John McCullough, the actor, who died in a madhouse.

It is rumored that a tall building is to be erected in Chicago in which there shall not be a stone, brick or piece of timber. It is to be constructed of an alloy of aluminum and copper—ninety per cent of the former and ten per cent of the latter—in the form of sheets over a wall of steel frame fireproofing.

The Chronicle for more than a month, and without a second, has held that the scare on the wool market had no foundation in fact. It is agreeable therefore, to see such papers as the Portland Telegram swinging into line.

Our idea of pension reform is that it should commence with the "total disability" fellows who draw big salaries as public officials. There are many of these, some of them very rich, who draw $72 to $100 a month of the people's money when their private incomes run up into the thousands.

The Oregon democracy has had many serious afflictions, but the worst has befallen it with Dan Murphy at one end and Starr on the other.

No law ever upon the statute books of the United States has been more generally abided than the Sherman silver law, and none ever deserved more abuse.

A PROPHECY FULFILLED.

The Oregonian of November 9th contained the following prophetic utterance:

The country has decreed a change of fiscal and industrial policy in the most prosperous time it has ever known. This is largely the result of the immense foreign vote in the great cities.

There will be a rude awakening. We shall now have a free trade policy. We ought to have it. The country has voted for it, and the present generation should learn from experience what it means.

Except two small concerns, one at Corvallis, Oregon, and one in Michigan, every bank that has failed so far will pay depositors in full. Banks cannot afford to keep deposits in their vaults at all times, because there would be no profit in it, and timid depositors called for their cash, without notice.

If President Cleveland has accomplished anything so far it has not yet appeared on the surface. As an example of a do-nothing policy commend us to this administration. The president so far has succeeded merely in catching a few trout, besides the fatiguing work of turning some thousands of rascals out and putting sundry thousands of scoundrels in.

While in China Adolph Spreckels, a son of Claus, saw a brother of Miss Ah Fong, the Chinese lady who is engaged to marry Commander Whitney, of the United States steamer Alliance.

If the telegraphic report of Carter Harrison's speech at Chicago was correct, the mayor of the exposition city declared that the world would not have lost much if the Pilgrims had been lost at sea.

Not long ago when a young man was graduated at college, he usually began in his profession at the lowest round and at a very small salary.

MARKET REPORT.

THURSDAY, June 29.—The depression in business circles that characterized the former part of the season and the lifeless condition of trade, apparently have, in a measure, vanished, and the past few weeks have been encouraging to dealers and business generally.

Prices are generally maintained. The grocery and provision market continues steady without any apparent change in quotations.

In produce there is no change to mention further than the trade is well supplied with all kinds, including the smaller fruits.

Poultry is in large supply and broilers were sold yesterday at $1 per dozen. Old fowls are quoted at $2 to $2.50 per dozen.

The wheat market is decidedly weak on the coast. Foreign advices, while in some respects unsatisfactory, have an encouraging outlook.

The crop reports indicate a general shortage and a prospective demand for an additional supply of breadstuffs for 1893-4. Our United States crop bulletin for the week ending June 19th contains the statement that the average per cent will not exceed 78 per cent of acreage and prospective yield.

The live stock market is fairly active. Beef cattle are quoted at 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 cents. Mutton sheep are in fair request for export to Chicago at $2.25 to $2.75 per head with a looked for decline on account of larger offerings.

The wool situation is unchanged with one exception, and that is a weaker market in the east. Boston quotations of the 23d for Oregon wools show a decline of 2 cents per pound on all grades.

The situation continues unsatisfactory. Values of coarse and medium unwashed wools have reached a point at which buyers are showing more interest, but on all grades of washed wools prices are to a great extent nominal.

Western advices indicate a more general disposition to realize, but there is much irregularity in the views of interior holders and the movement of supplies to the seaboard is comparatively slow.

There is much difference of opinion as to what really is the "free trade" value of many grades of wool, but buyers are more likely to err on the side of undue depression than they are by paying more than the competing foreign cost.

Our Dalles market is weak, and it is impossible to quote prices other than to say offerings range from 8 to 10 1/2.
