An exchange says it's a wise stock that knows its own par—just now.

The mills all over the country are getting down to actual work. Senatorial windmills should accept the pointer.

Before our American editors abolish the English house of lords they should practice a while on the United States senate.

Forest fires in Wisconsin are said to cover over 200 square miles, and nearly $5,000,000 worth of standing pine has been destroyed.

When the glamour of newness wears itself out a little the Cherokee strip will be peopled by an industrious and intelligent body of men, the sharks, thieves and gamblers will be eliminated.

Pension Commissioner Lochren's annual report shows that there are nearly a million pensioners on the rolls, the exact figures being 966,012, and a net increase during the year of 89,944.

A few parsimonious ones are crying that to deport the Chinese will take a great amount of money. Suppose it does. If they remain they will send out triple the sum every year, never to return.

The Louisville Courier-Journal asks: "What are we to do with the overflow of Anglo-Saxon land greed, now that the Cherokee outlet—about the last arable lot of public land in this country—is overrun by claimants from five to ten deep?"

The Philadelphia Times notes that train robbing as a business pays best when carried on by small gangs. The twenty men who robbed the Lake Shore train at Kendallville had to share a $20,000 prize.

How softly and imperceptibly summer glides into autumn! A single day carries us over from the hot indolence of August into the cool, tranquil repose of September.

It is unquestionably the intention of the ways and means committee of the present house to reimpose the duties on sugar, tea and coffee.

In a short time, says the Albany (N. Y.) Journal, another mammoth locomotive, similar to the Empire State Express engine, will be turned out of the shops at West Albany.

From a London letter the following is gleaned about the English house of lords: "It was to be expected that the feebleness of age would be prominent in such a house. It was not that. It was the senility of youth, the wreck of middle life, the tottering imbecility of dissipated age that stood out all over the picture.

The Telegram says: Oregon woolgrowers should remember that Oregon wool never brought a better price than in 1870, when there was no protection on wool.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch calls attention to the fact that a large wall paper concern in that city is about to go out of business in order to deliver its trade to the National Wall Paper company of New York.

A few of the eastern mills and manufacturing plants that have started up during the last ten days are the Bridgeport (Conn.) corset factory, Amsterdam (N. Y.) broom manufactory, Bristol (Pa.) wall paper mill, West Superior (Wis.) wagon and carriage works, Lowell (Mass.) woolen mills, Richmond (Ind.) nail works, Oacoda (Mich.) saw mill, Meadville (Col.) miners and the New Philadelphia (O.) wire and nail works.

Conditions Generally Improving—The Wheat Supply of the World. TUESDAY, September 26—There is a marked improvement in business; in jobbing lines there is a better inquiry.

The grain market has undergone no change that has given any encouragement to the producer. The published reports which have been accorded to agricultural bureaus that the world's product was the shortest known for years, now seems to be all a great mistake and really the harvest for 1893 is large, and the reported deficiency to be made up is not well founded.

THE MARKETS.

The fruit market is steady and deliveries are large for shipment to Sound and mountain markets. The Earl consignments were unsatisfactory to shippers and they are resorting to other means for disposal which is meeting with more favor.

The rock crusher was started up Monday afternoon with Mr. M. M. Sayre, formerly of the Union Pacific shops, as engineer. The machine is a very powerful one, and the process of crushing is quite interesting to observe.

There is now a force of six men engaged in getting out rock and there is a pile of it on hand about six feet wide, three feet deep and 200 feet long, amounting to perhaps 1,000 tons.

AMERICAN RAILWAY UNION.

Missionaries of the Movement Hold Forth in The Dalles.

A mass meeting was held in K. of P. hall Sunday evening for the purpose of organizing a branch in The Dalles of the American Railway Union.

The missionaries of the movement are Mr. James Hogan, of Ogden and Mr. G. W. Howard, of Chicago. The former is a young man of pleasing address, 27 years old, who precedes Mr. Howard in speaking, telling of the primary principles of the organization, and introducing the veteran Howard to the audience.

He pointed out many irregularities in the existing brotherhoods, and told how they were obviated in the American Railway Union. The union favors the initiative and referendum method of legislation, and includes in its membership everyone drawing wages from a railroad company.

A lodge was organized at the close of the meeting and Messrs. Hogan and Howard took the train for Portland early this morning.

Tramps or Incendiaries?

Mr. James Johnson reports that while coming in town Monday he passed the smoking ruins of Mr. Kuykendall's house and barn, burned at an earlier hour. The Kuykendalls are absent from home and it is presumed it is the work of tramps.

A mile nearer town our informant observed that the windows in the Floyd schoolhouse were broken, the stove demolished, and the contents of the building, consisting of a Webster's unabridged dictionary and various books, scattered in the roadside.

Hood River Fair.

The citizens of Hood River are going to hold a horticultural fair Friday, Sept. 29th. From indications the fair promises to be a great success, and great efforts have been made in that direction.

Crushing Rock.

The runaway horses and wagon which were caught at Mr. Anderson's place belonged to Walter Semple. He had stopped on the Mill creek road to see a sick child and while in the house the team started.

The marine commerce of The Dalles was at its height last evening. Four scows heavily laden with cordwood sailed into port and, with one that was unloaded already, made five along the beach.

Couldn't Look a Sheep in the Face.

A man looking for work, in Ohio, said to a farmer: "Can you give me something to do?" The farmer said he had some sheep to shear if he could find a man who knew how to do it.

see how the man was getting along, but to his surprise found the shearer shearing the sheep from the wrong end. The farmer said, "This will never do; you told me that you understood shearing sheep?" "Yes sir, I told you so; but, since Grover Cleveland's election and the fall in wool, I have been ashamed to look a sheep in the face."

Juvenile Temple.

The unveiling of the juvenile banner on Saturday afternoon was quite largely attended and the exercises were a credit to the children of the temple.

A short and pleasing address was given by Rev. Jenkins of the Christian church, followed by the closing ode by the temple and the benediction by Father Barnett.

The banner was purchased by the temple, through the efforts of the superintendent, aided by the willing and hearty support of the children, instead of being a present to the temple, as stated in Saturday's Chronicle.

A Blackguard Sheet.

A contemptible little fly leaf known as the Goldendale Courier is striving to create bad blood between the two towns of The Dalles and Goldendale.

A Vancouver paper says that rival teams were endeavoring to spike their horse before the run at the freemen's tournament, in The Dalles, Sept. 4th. The Goldendale visitors say that they were treated shamefully at that place on that occasion, and the only words of praise, for hospitality and favors intended to visitors by The Dalles City that has been spoken or written, has been written by The Dalles press.

Gold and Silver.

The stock of gold possessed by the principal countries is as follows: United States $401,000,000. Great Britain 250,000,000. France 100,000,000. Germany 100,000,000. Russia 250,000,000.

Sam Burling and E. D. McArthur.

Sam Burling and E. D. McArthur, two of Antelope's young men, have received at this point a phonograph, with which they will travel throughout this and adjoining states. The express charges on the instrument were $50.

The Methodist church.

The Methodist church was decorated Sunday in honor of the return of its pastor, Mr. Whisler. The pulpit was had in floral profusion, while over the pulpit were the words "Welcome to Our Pastor" in large gilt letters.

George Ginstin brought into the Oregonian sanctum Sunday a bunch of grapes and said they were the first to ripen in Oregon.

Max Vogt brought in a mammoth stock of corn Saturday that is a fit companion for that furnished by J. H. Mosier last year. It is about the same height (14 feet) and has six ears of corn upon it, three of them being over a foot in length.

A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.

Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhea, etc., we become seary. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases.

MITCHELL NEWS.

A Slide Show—Billy Carron's Accident—Other Notes.

Mr. Misner's baby is quite sick again. Weather cloudy and cool; some rainfall.

Several families have moved to town with the intention of sending their children to school.

Mrs. Dr. Houk has been quite sick the past week, but is much better the last few days.

Eugene Lunny's baby suffered a serious illness the past two weeks, but at present is rapidly recovering.

The school at Mitchell is full to overflowing. About thirty-five scholars enrolled this week.

Justice was well meted out to some would-be men for showing their bravery by firing their pistols during church services. A fine of $10 and costs may be a good lesson to them.

West Branch camp meeting was a decided success. Eleven new members were baptized into the Baptist faith under the influence of the Rev. Mr. Baily of Ellensburg, Wash.

The 8th of the month snow fell to the depth of six inches on the mountains, and within two miles and a half of Mitchell there was enough of the "beautiful snow" to entirely cover the ground.

Yesterday Uncle Bob Carron met with an accident that resulted in the dislocation of his wrist and a serious break of his arm between his wrist and elbow. He had mounted his riding animal, which was noted for his quiet disposition, intending to ride to Mitchell.

The inhabitants of this place were astonished, almost astounded, by the grand display exhibited of the arts of a well-regulated show. The posters gave it out as one of the best that had ever visited Mitchell.
