

AWFUL LOSS OF LIFE

Sixty Miners Entombed by a C e-in, in Michigan.

ONLY THREE OF THEM ESCAPED

No Possible Chance of Rescuing the others--The Mine Flooded with Water.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Sept. 29.—It is reported this morning that the Mansfield mine, a few miles from Crystal Falls, caved in last night, killing 45 miners. The miners are buried under a heavy mass. There is no possible chance of their escaping alive. Rescuing parties are hard at work. Unless the imprisoned men can be reached in a short time they will be all lost, as the waters are rising fast and will soon reach them if they are not already dead.

The main shaft of the mine extends under the Michigan river, and the subsiding of the ground turned the stream into the mine, flooding it almost instantly. There were 60 men in the mine but 15 escaped.

It is now said that only three men escaped. They were in the shaft at the time of the accident, and were literally blown out by the rush of water and air. Thirty-seven are actually known to be dead. The mine is flooded to the level of the river bed. It is impossible for anyone to be alive in the mine.

THE REBELS SUCCEEDED.

Have Captured the Island of Santa Catherina.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—It is announced that the fortified island of Santa Catherina, Brazil, has surrendered to the rebels.

The surrender of Santa Catherina is looked upon as an important victory for the rebels, as it is contiguous to Rio Grande do Sul, which is not seriously disaffected. The rebel squadron, which went south from Santos after failing to effect a landing there, leaving a war vessel to blockade that point, has been off the island of Santa Catherina some time, and the surrender of Desterro on its west coast was announced, but was not believed, some days ago. The rebels are now said to be in full possession of the island, which is well watered, capable of being made a most important harbor and having a superb bay, where the rebel ships can provision and refit.

It will serve as a base from which the rebels will direct inland operations, as the rebel commander intends to carry on war on land and gradually, if possible, gather together an army strong enough to meet President Peixoto's forces in a pitched battle. Peixoto is said to be greatly annoyed and alarmed at this fresh success upon the part of the rebels.

A SENSIBLE GOVERNOR.

Reasons of Idaho's Executive for Not Attending a Bimetallic Convention.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 28.—Governor McConnell will not attend the Pan-American bimetallic convention at St. Louis, called by Governor Stone, nor will he appoint any delegates from this state. The governor said the object of the meeting was not in accordance with his ideas of true Americanism. Had this convention been called to promote bimetalism, as its name would imply, he would use every effort to have Idaho fully represented; but as the real object was a division of the United States into trade districts, or an arraying of the South and West against the East, he could not and would not endorse it. He said:

"We have had enough of sectionalism, and I cannot for a moment consider any proposition which would array one section of the United States against the other. The people of the New England States—in fact, all the commercial centers of the Atlantic seaboard—are against us on the question of bimetalism. We hope to convince them through reason that they are wrong; if we fail to do so, we bow to the inevitable, and are loyal Americans just the same."

The Dynamite Outrage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—It is quite thoroughly demonstrated that Axel Sorenson, the sailor whose name is on the false found filled with dynamite, did not explode the bomb in front of Curly's boarding house last Saturday night. The clerk at the hotel at which the valise was left says that Sorenson is not the man who left it there, and it is thought that his name was put on the valise as a trick to throw the police off the track of the real dynamite fiends. Through the chief of police is confident Sorenson's innocence, he will be held await further developments. At the coroner's inquest this morning William

Late Union of Early Loves.

Last week Editor Jas. M. Johns of the Arlington Record surprised a few of his friends by confidentially showing them a marriage license and a picture of his betrothed. The lady's name is Mrs. Biggs, and she resides in one of the eastern states. She is past the meridian of life, and has dandled grandchildren on her knees. Mr. Johns says each was the other's first love, before fate wedded them to other mates. The bride-elect was to arrive Saturday last and the ceremony was to be performed Sunday, but she failed to connect and the elderly swain met every train with his heart going pit-a-pat, a lump in his throat and a tear in his off eye. Mrs. Biggs had not arrived by Wednesday morning, but we hope that ere this appears in print she will be locked in the fond embrace of her "Jo." Suspense of that kind gets to be very hard, especially on an editor.—Fossil Journal.

Sheep Poisoned by Hundreds.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 28.—The Idaho Wool-growers Association has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who have been poisoning a large number of sheep of late in Owyhee county, or who hereafter distribute poison on the range. The state will probably add to the reward. Hundreds of sheep have been killed by eating saltpetre or a mixture of salt and strychnine sprinkled over the ranges. The sheepmen charge the cattlemen with the wholesale poisoning.

Women Candidates for office.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 29.—The populist county conventions have nominated women for offices in a number of counties in Kansas, and Attorney-General Little has been asked for an opinion as to their eligibility. In Leavenworth county a woman was nominated for coroner and in Anderson county a woman was nominated for register of deeds. Heretofore women have only held school offices.

Troubles in Brazil.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Brazilian legation in this city today furnished the United Press the following information received in dispatches from the government at Rio de Janeiro, bearing date October 1st:

"The insurgent squadron, under command of Admiral Mello, is still in the bay of Rio de Janeiro with its fighting elements weakened. Many of the members of the crews of the rebel warships are deserting daily. During the recent engagement between the land forces and the fleet the shore artillery damaged some of the rebel vessels. Two steamers that attempted to land insurgents at Santos and on the island of Santa Catherina were repulsed. The land forces are united to the government. Public opinion is wholly opposed to the insurgents."

The Rebels' Story.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A private cablegram announces that the rebel fleet at Rio de Janeiro bombarded that city all day yesterday, resulting in further damage to the city and great loss of life. Details as to the amount of damage and the number of killed ashore and afloat are not given; but it is presumed from the fact that firing was kept up all day the loss must have been considerable on both sides. The cablegram adds that famine prices for provisions prevail in Rio.

Will Be Shot in the Back.

BARCELONA, Oct. 1.—The approaching death of Pallas, the anarchist, who will be shot in the back next week, is being discussed throughout Spain. The police are well aware he has a number of sympathizers among a certain class of the population. This causes them to make a most thorough search for proofs of further outrages contemplated. The police have found positive proof that Pallas had accomplices among foreign anarchists. An Italian named Mancini was arrested today charged with being an accomplice.

Her mother arrived during the night from Los Angeles, where the funeral will take place this afternoon. There was no place on the body larger than two hands not burned. Miss Dewolf, the principal, was the first to control the girl, who was frenzied by pain and fright, and remove the burning remnants of clothing. The girl was 16 years old, bright, promising and a great favorite with the other pupils.

It is probable that the body will be disinterred. Physicians to whom the condition of the body and the symptoms have been described have no hesitation in pronouncing it a case of cholera. Eau Claire is on the path taken by emigrants to the Northwest. It is believed that the case came from germs left by these travelers.
