HELP TO RESTORE CONFIDENCE

The New York Recorder would like to impress upon the mind of every one of its readers the fact that he or she can and ought to contribute individually to restore business confidence and quicken the return of good times.

It is not really so much a question of currency as of confidence. The business of the country, by far the greater portion of it, is not done with metallic money, but with paper and credit and confidence.

Congress can, and we believe it will do a great deal to strengthen the vast fabric of credit and confidence on which business activity always has rested, and always must rest by stopping promptly the issue of paper moneys on a faise short weight basis of intrinsic value.

The people themselves must do the rest, and every man should do his personal share toward the great patriotic work of re-establishing confidence

Every man who believes in his country and wants to promote the speedy return of good times should resolve to observe these rules:

Spread no evil reports and believe none until you have verified them at first hand.

Look on the brightest side of every event, whether it be notice of a bank suspension or the report of a cholera ship arrived at quarantine, and refuse to accept the darkest version of it.

Ill you have money hoarded and owe debts, pay up those debts and put so much money in circulation.

If other persons owe you money and von know them to be solvent and honest people who can and will pay if they are not crowded and forced to realize on their assets at a shameful sacrifice, don't growd them.

If every reader will lay these few sample rules to heart and go to business and work resolved to put them in force the increased momentum given to the movement now on to restore confidence and revive business will be very great.

total of individual confidences. If you are pure inventions?" want to see general confidence, set the example of being confident yourself.

Miners are leaving Butte by the hundreds for South Africa. Last week 400 tickets were sold to parties bound for the mining region of that distant country.

A very good argument for better roads is found in the fact that when the roads are in the worst condition of the yearthe winter and spring-grain and other farm products bring the highest prices. Let the good work go on.

Every American exhibit of manufactures at the world's fair is a tribute to the protective tariff policy which has built up the productive industries of this country in competition with the established manufactures and the cheap labor of Europe.

Trouble is anticipated in Kentucky over the new law providing separate cars for whites and blacks. The negroes don't like it. They should reflect they may be just as exclusive as the whites, and not allow any "poor white trash" in evils. their cars.

The agitation against crinolines was ill-advised after all, and now that the newspapers have quit talking about it, the results are not at all as were anticipated. The skirts have not increased and they look very neat and pretty.

Philip of Mecedon said an army of deer with a lion in command is better than an army of lions led by a deer. The great difficulty in the way of securing the passage of the repeal bill is the insincerity and incapacity of Dan Voorhees as a leader.-Walla Walla Union.

It is estimated that a million and a half of time, and a great part of the remainder have been reduced to a narrow living. These men, unused to diplomacy, unskilled in political trickery, though slow of thought or speech, are quick in action. It does not require much argument to prove to these men, narrowed by privation and want, that the rewards of toil are not commensurate with what they deserve, and when a state of unrest is engendered all along the lines, it will take but a spark to ignite their passions which will lead them to wrest from others by force what they have been deprived of by circumstances. These fears are not groundless, there is much of realism in them, and no watchful observer can controvert it. The senate should take counsel of the agitated condition the country is now in, and do a little more law-making and less jaw-swinging.

Just to see if it was possible for the prisoner to effect an escape, Sheriff Combs offered him $5 if he could unlock the jail door with his newly made key. Moore at once accepted the offer, and in less than five minutes, by the means of a wire and small sticks, he was on the outside of the jail. For this display of ingenuity Sheriff Combs kept his word and compensated the prisoner with a $5 bill.

The United States in the Lead as a Manufacturing Country

Our Industrial and Commercial Progress as Compared with That of Foreign Nations — A Splendid Showing.

R. H. Edmonds, a journalist of Baltimore, one of the most eminent authorities on the conditions of recent progress in the United States, contributes to the Engineering Magazine an interesting and valuable paper entitled: "A Decade of Marvelous Progress," from which a few conclusions are extracted:

The United States is now the leading manufacturing country of the world. We have far outstripped all other na-tions in the magnitude of our industrial operations. It is almost lucomprehensible that in ten years the inrease in capital invested in manufactures should exceed the total invested only twenty years ago. The value of our manufactured products increased about 60 per cent.; add 60 per cent. to the output of 1890 and we would have 813,700,000,000 in 1900-but that is too much to expect.

The same rate of growth in mining interests in this decade as in the last would make our mineral output in 1900 nearly $1,200,000,000, while a smaller percentage of grain, only equaling in volume the total increase 1890 over 1880, would bring the figures to over $050,000,000. If our coal miners add to the output of 1890 as it. many tons as they added to that of 1880, ignoring in this the percentage of growth. 217,000,000 tons will be the for all. Wishing you prosperity, a production of 1900. No other country in the world ever advanced in popula tion and wealth as the United States development of our foreign and domestic trade and commerce and of our industrial interests is steadily broaden-

Contrast our position and condition with Europe, with resources surpassing those of all Europe, with wealthcreating possibilities in soll, minerals, timber and climate unequaled by Europe and practically without limit to their profitable utilization, with a homogeneous population of 65,000,000 people unvexed by the arbitrary regulations of half a dozen different goveruments and free from the drain of standing armies, the United States justly commands the wonder and admiration of the world.

Great Britain is no longer the manufacturing center of the world, for we have taken the foremost position in that line. Its vast iron and steel business is yearly increasing in cost of production, while ours is decreasing. It cannot meet the world's growing demand for iron and steel because it cannot increase its production to any great extent. It produces less pig iron now than it did ten years ago. Much of its ore it imports from distant countries Its cotton is all imported. It spends Persons calling for same will give date about $750,000,000 a year for foreign food stuffs.

A LONG LEASE.

Thirty Acres in Hebron Provided For for a Term of 9,900 Years.

A lease for nine thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine years in this country, at least, is rather a rarity, although the term of ninety-nine, or even nine hundred and ninety-nine, is not uncommon. John Peters, the parson, says the Norwich (Conn.) Buletin, gave in 1735 to "The Venerable Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts," for a globe for the Church of England society in which afterward came into the posse sion of the parish of St. Peter's church in that town, as the successor of the Church of England there. On May 25, 1795, the parish leased this land to S. W. So says Hebron So says Hebron land records, vol. ix., p. 264. The present occupants would be somewhat surprised at a demand for the grain of pure silver, but the old contract still mains on the record.
