RAILROAD HORROR

Two Trains on the Michigan Central Telescoped.

TERRIBLE SCENE OF CARNAGE

Large--Caused by a Faulty Airbrake.

JACKSON, Mich., Oct. 13.—One of the most frightful railroad accidents occurred here at 9:30 this morning. The second section of the Oswego special ran into the rear end of the first, telescoping the coaches, smashing the cars and crushing the life out of scores of people. In a matter of 20 minutes six bodies were taken out and the work had only begun. The wrecking train is just coming to the scene to lift the shattered cars.

The accident occurred while the first section was standing on the track. Some of the passengers were out on the ground, some eating breakfast, and many asleep. The telescoped cars were the first and second ones from the rear of the first special. No one could say how many are killed. All the undertakers and physicians and assistants on the ground are doing all they can, but the night is appalling. Every undertaking establishment in the city is overrun with dead.

The accident was not due to a misadjusted switch. Engineer Whalen, in charge of the section, says he saw the signal to keep back, but when he tried to stop the train he found the air brake would not work, making it impossible to stop. Whalen was badly burned and has one leg broken. All the dead and injured have been taken from the wreck. The dead number 17, the injured 52. Most of the dead are frightfully mangled. The wreck was one of the sections of a world's fair train of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western road, running over the Michigan Central tracks. Two car cars completely telescoped each other, and every person in them was either killed or injured. Willing hands once went to work, and as soon as possible the wounded were rescued and cared for, and the dead removed to the morgues.

So far 19 bodies have been found. The injured number 50 to 60. A large force is at work clearing away the timber. It is feared there are bodies beneath the cars. It is impossible yet to get a complete list of the wounded, as many were taken to private houses. The unknown babe has been identified as the child of Mrs. Anson Herrington. It is supposed the man and one of the unknown women are husband and wife named Buck.

PLEASED WITH HIS NEIGHBORS

The Male Owner of a Quarter of Land Refuses to Sell to the Ladies.

PONCA, Oklahoma, Oct. 13.—A few days before the memorable 16th of September, announcement was made through the press that Miss Annette Day was leading a colony of spinsters and widows into the Cherokee strip for the purpose of establishing a woman's settlement. Miss Daisy is a Kentucky woman who has taken part in all the runs by which lands have been settled in the territory. This time it was stated that she intended to found a community from which men will be excluded. Of the same mind and intentions were nearly 40 women, who had accepted Miss Daisy as a leader. During the rush and the excitement following the opening, these women, who had been waiting near Arkansas City, were lost sight of. It has since been learned that they were partially successful. They secured possession of three quarter-sections of good land or 480 acres, a few miles west of this place, on which they had begun permanent improvements. Alfred Vanderpool, who is doing missionary work in the strip, and who has just completed an overland trip from Enid to Ponca, reports that he found 22 of the Daisy colony settled on the three quarter-sections, where they already have two small houses and four tents. They have endeavored to buy out the man who encroached the off quarter of the section on which they are located, but so far have been unsuccessful. He evidently is too well pleased with his neighbors.

A Joke That Was No Joke.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 13.—Miss Elizabeth Clark, who was selected to represent Virginia at the Confederate reunion at Birmingham, Ala., and Dr. Taylor, who resides on Hampton Roads, this city, were unwittingly married by Justice of the Peace Haskins at a social gathering at the Taylor cottage. ## ARE FORCED TO SURRENDER

The Quorum in the Senate Has Been Broken.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—In the senate this morning at 1:40 o'clock the quorum was broken by the refusal of certain silver democrats to vote. Voorhees rose and said he felt he had done his duty in the matter, and moved an adjournment. The motion was unanimously agreed to, and in an instant the senate chamber was deserted, after a continuous session of 38 hours and 40 minutes.

Still in a Turmoil.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—[Special to THE CHRONICLE]—There is great difficulty with the telegraphic wires, which were prostrated by the storm, but an hour ago one wire was got in working order. The scene in the senate today is a repetition of that of yesterday. Fall-busting is the order of the day, and delays are frequently occasioned by the calling of the roll, when the senators refuse to answer as their names are called.

STORMS IN THE EAST

Telegraphic Communication Cut Off at Many Points.

CLOSE CALL FOR JUSTICE BROWN

Damage at Savannah—A Repetition in the Senate of Thursday Night's Turmoil.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—[Special to THE CHRONICLE]—A fearful storm is raging today all over the east and south, along the coast line. Its influence is felt for 1,000 miles inland. All communication with New York, Washington and other eastern points is cut off on account of the paralyzed telegraph and telephone systems.

A Narrow Escape.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Associate Justice Brown of the supreme court of the United States was sitting at a window in the upper story of his house looking at the storm when the plate glass window was violently shattered and a piece of it struck him near the eye severing an artery. He would have bled to death, but for timely assistance.

The Storm in Georgia.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 14.—[Special to THE CHRONICLE]—A fearful storm raged here all last night and up to a late hour this morning, at which time it had reached its greatest intensity. All vessels, having been apprised of the coming storm, took time by the forelock and sought refuge in the harbor, but a number of houses were unroofed and much damage done.

In The House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—In the house, an agreement was reached to take a vote on the Chinese bill at 3 o'clock Monday. The banking bill will be called up immediately after the house is through discussing the Chinese bill.

Voorhees Will Try It Again.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Voorhees said to the Associated Press that he would at 6 o'clock this evening again ask the senate to continue in session during the night and keep it up until a vote is reached. He did not know whether he could hold a quorum, but it would not be his fault if one failed.

The belief is general that the house will accept almost any substitute the senate will adopt, and the majority incline to the opinion that the president will sign the bill when it shall reach him. The general belief is that when the bill is once signed there will be a speedy movement in congress looking to a recess until the beginning of the regular session, the first Monday in December.

The democratic members of the ways and means committee hope to have the tariff bill reported within a month and have it pass the house before the holidays. The greatest secrecy is enjoined on all the members who have the preparation of the tariff bill in hand. It looks very much as if iron ore will follow coal into the free list. Another ore that will probably be restored to the free list is lead.

NO DOUBT WRECKED

A Lake Steamer Reported to Have Gone Ashore and All Hands Lost.

CREW COMPRISED EIGHTEEN MEN.

Three Bodies Were Washed Ashore, One of Them Being Identified as the First Engineer.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The saddest feature of the lake storm which raged yesterday and last night is the reported loss of the steamer Dean Richmond, on the shore near Dunkirk. The first heard of the disaster was at 9 o'clock this morning, when the captain of the Helen T. reported having sighted the Dean Richmond off Long point, where she was laboring under difficulties. Later Captain Tierney, of the W. H. Stevens, reported that he sighted the Richmond in the middle of the lake, four miles this side of Erie. One of her stacks was missing, and while he was looking the other stack and a spar went by the board. She was laboring heavily in the trough of the seas, as her steering gear had become disabled. Since then nothing has been seen or heard of the vessel. It is thought she must have gone down with all on board and a cargo of merchandise from Toledo to Buffalo. She belonged to the Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas line. The crew consisted of about 18 souls.

A dispatch from Dunkirk this evening states that three bodies were washed ashore a few miles from there. One was definitely identified as that of John Hogan, the first engineer, of Port Huron, Mich. A boat bearing the steamer's name was found later, and some barrels of flour which formed part of her cargo also drifted to land. She must have gone down off Lighthouse point.

UNION PACIFIC RECEIVERSHIP.

Effect of the House Resolution on Its Relations With the Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The resolution passed by the house, relating to the receivership of the Union Pacific railway, and calling upon the attorney-general to inform the house what legislation, if any, is necessary to secure the indebtedness of that company to the government, may result in important developments in the relations of that company and the government. The relations between the government were materially altered when the road went into the hands of a receiver. Not so much from a legal standpoint, as by the Thurman act the government obtained a lien of all the properties of the company, but the insolvency of the company renders it impossible for it to discharge its obligations to the government when they mature. It gives the receiver, under common law, power to convert assets into cash, and empowers him to issue receivers' certificates to operate the road. Some of the bonds mature in 1895, and if matters with the road go badly under the receivership, the result might be to throw the government's claim and all other liens into court, with the inevitable effect of great loss to the government's interest.

A Tramp Held Responsible.

JACKSON, Mich., Oct. 15.—At the coroner's inquest into the Michigan Central wreck, which will be held tomorrow, Fred T. Slater will testify that he saw a tramp standing on the platform of the car next to the engine in the second section of the train. The cook behind the engine that connects the air-brake was found turned immediately after the wreck, which prevented the air-brake from working. It is believed the tramp wanted to get off the train before it pulled into the station and turned the cook, thinking it would make the train slack up.

Unprecedented Loss to Shipping.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The severity of the northwest gale that has swept the great lakes for the past 28 hours has not been exceeded during the season for the past 10 years. The list of wrecks in proportion to the number of vessels which were out in the gale is larger, perhaps, than in the history of the latter-day marine.
