THE DALLES, OREGON

LOCAL BREVITIES.

His borrowing has caused a loss to him as well as me. For I have lost the money loaned. And he his memory.

The ladies of the Good Intent society desire to thank those who assisted at last night's entertainment.

Fargher Bros. shipped last night from Saltmarsh & Co.'s stock yards five cars of sheep to Troutdale and Sound ports.

Lieut. S. Collins has been detailed to examine the officers elect of "B" company. The examinations to be held within the next 15 days.

Mr. D. Farrington presented us with a fine lot of samples of apples grown on his farm 15 miles southeast of the city which are beauties. The trees were set out eight years ago on bunch grass land, and their growth is marvelous.

The electric light works propose moving the incandescent lights tomorrow, and those who have become accustomed to them will tomorrow night have to resurrect the coal oil can from the cellar or the still more ancient tallow dip.

The Regulator dock was last night packed with wheat in sacks, six deep. There was so much of it that it could not all be taken at one time, necessitating making a special through trip tomorrow. She will also carry passengers at excursion rates.

The Chrysanthemum club gave their second social hop, at their hall last evening, which was enjoyed very much by the members and friends of the club. The music was excellent and twenty couples tripped the light fantastic until a reasonable hour. The club knows well how to entertain, which was shown by the merry and jolly crowd that assembled with them.

Thirteen four-horse teams were awaiting their turn to be loaded at the dock at 10 o'clock this morning. Today is a lively day in the wheat traffic, a larger number of teams coming in from the country than any day previous. The streets present an animated appearance. It is estimated that 120 teams came into town this forenoon, which is ahead of any previous record.

The case of A. Bettingen sr. vs. John Bates is being heard today in Justice Davis' court. The action is brought for forcible entry and detainer, and involves the right to the possession of an estate. It will also likely develop to the question of title to real estate, which event, under our statutes, it will pass beyond the jurisdiction of a justice's court.

Prof. J. H. Clark, of Dayton, O., the world's greatest specialist on embalmment, was in the city yesterday. He is engaged to deliver a series of lectures all through next week at Portland, having been employed by the Northwest General Directors' Association, and this morning the gentleman, accompanied by Mr. J. C. Crandall, of this city, left for Portland. Messrs. Wm. Schell and I. C. Burgett will leave Monday and be present at the lectures. One of the band boys says that the man in last evening's paper concerning side talent is true enough, and pity it is true; that while there is plenty of good material in The Dalles they do not trust themselves and come out, negotiating employing outside help, and they usually pay out of their own pockets. This is bad. Every man owes something to his neighbor in social life, and even if he contributes more to his share there is never anything to be said.

Monday's Daily. The silver senators do not shoot oratorical rockets just merely for the fun of it. They're talking thro' their pockets.

A radish 2 1/2 inches in circumference, 17 inches long and weighing over eleven pounds, of the Black Spanish variety, was brought to us this morning by Mr. W. C. Clark. If it had been exhibited at the fair it would have been assured the first prize.

Mr. J. C. Lucky is in town today from the Warm Springs reservation. At the agency work has been commenced on a large residence building 30x36 with La for use of the agent. The present school building is being repaired and lumber for a new one, to be built next year, is being got out. It will be a very commodious building and will cost $12,000.

The fruit growers of this section will meet at the city hall Saturday at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of organizing and discussing methods. It is proposed that the meetings continue throughout the winter, and it is believed by spring the fruit growers will be so banded together as to receive the benefits of their labor themselves, instead of surrendering it to others.

Mr. Patrick Brown of 10-Mile died suddenly yesterday from the effects of overwork in trying to save his grain from spoiling, which had been soaked through by the late rains. Mr. Brown was a very industrious farmer and was universally respected by all who knew him. Eddy will arrive in The Dalles this evening on their semi-annual inspection of the lines of the Union Pacific situated within the state limits. They expect to finish their labors within ten days.

In the case of Bettingen vs. Cates in Justice Davis' court yesterday, it appearing from the evidence that the question of title to real estate was involved, the case was discontinued in the justice court and will be sent to the circuit court for further trial.

It seems the picnics are not yet all over. A number of Chinamen went out to their graveyard this morning, with roast pig, rice and other articles of diet dear to the Chinese palate, and enjoyed themselves in their own way. It is a sort of anniversary gathering in commemoration of their dead.

Like a Thief in the Night. Consumption comes. A slight cold, with your system in a scrofulous condition that's caused by impure blood, is enough to fasten it upon you. That is the time when neglect and delay are full of danger.

Consumption is lung-scrofula. You can prevent it, and you can cure it, if you haven't waited too long, with Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is the most potent blood-cleanser, strength-restorer and flesh-builder that's known to medical science. For every disease that has to be reached through the blood, for Scrofula in all its forms, Consumption, Weak Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all severe, lingering coughs it is the only guaranteed remedy. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy know that their medicine perfectly and permanently cures Catarrh. To prove it to you, they make this offer: If they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter what your case is, they'll pay you $500 in cash.

BRE'ER RAM WINS

In the Bull Fight Today--The Stock Parade, Etc.

The stock parade at 11:30 brought out quite a crowd of spectators. The procession of fat stock, including horses, cattle, sheep, geese, etc., passed up and down in front of the grand stand and elicited much enthusiasm. The stallions belonging to Robt. Kelley of Kingsley were a fine lot, and held their heads as if they knew how much they were being admired. All the premium awards were out and each one had either a blue or red ribbon tied to its head. The parade altogether was the best seen for several years.

After the exhibition the grand tug of war a la Espagnol was announced. The contestants were Oregon King, a blue ribboner, Pound Champion, wearing a red ribbon, and one that was nameless. After much parleying the animals rubbed heads and drew back and looked at each other, as if to figure out the situation. This round was given to Oregon King; time 38 seconds. The next three rounds resulted similarly. The fourth round was a straight contest. Oregon King and Pound Champion kissed and then proceeded to push one another off the track. At this juncture a ram belonging to Geo Snipes came on the scene and rushing in between the contestants scared them so badly that they both showed their heels and ran. The victory was awarded to "Broer Ram;" time instantaneous.

For the benefit of outside papers we will say that no blood was shed, and of that which remained unshed there was none of it had.

The judges have completed their labors and all premiums have been awarded. The list of prizes are in the hands of the secretary for rectification and will not be ready for publication till three or four days have passed. This afternoon the exhibits are being removed and this evening the fifth annual meeting of the District fair is over. While its success might have been greater, still considering the hard times and the late rains, it has been as good as could be expected.

NOTES. The judges yesterday were C. W. Rice, Henry Southern, James Woodcock.

Today has been another gorgeous one for the fair and has evened up for the bad weather during the fore part of the week.

Mr. W. J. Davidson remembered the newspaper reporters on the ground by giving them a bottle of home-made cider which took the premium. That's what all the exhibitors ought to do--turn over their exhibits to the newspaper men.

One of the prettiest parts of the parade this morning was a flock of four geese belonging to Mr. Johns. They marched stately along the track and elicited much applause. They are originally wild geese but have been trained till they are very tame.

Herrin's display has called for great praise on the part of the beholders. Each picture has been the object of interest and all the views carefully studied. Mr. Herrin has received eight first prizes at the hands of the judges. First collection of photographs; first collection of views; first specimen photographs; first specimen water color photo; first specimen oil painting. This was painted by Mr. Herrin himself and was the first one from his brush. There were also a first prize for a bromide photo and a crayon portrait of a little child. This last was exceptionally good and has received honorable mention in Portland as well as here. People are fortunate in being able to have such work done at home and shouldn't patronize these crayon fakirs who visit our town periodically.

GIRLS ON A TRAMP.

They Relate Some Startling Experiences to a Baker Reporter.

Two girls who looked very much like the breaking up of a hard winter walked into the Baker City depot hotel Saturday night and asked for a night's lodging. One wore a red waist and a polka-dotted dress, the other was in plain proximo white. They did not carry all the marks of every town between that place and Chicago about them, but they were travel-stained, with that stain of train which comes to those who go by the "box-car and steerage route. And yet in a way they had the appearance of attempted tidiness, but the odds were too strong against them.

The names given were Camilla Hanson and Betsy Cody. The tale told by the young women is a startling one. The two are tramps; they are feminine Hungry Hawkines, with all the attributes of a painstaking tramp. They tell a very interesting story, which is related by the Baker City Democrat as follows:

Four weeks ago, according to the story told by Betsy Cody, they started out from Chicago for the wild and woolly west, where Betsy asserts she has a brother who owns a farm. Chicago was a little too wicked for them, so they started for this section, where even homely virtue is appreciated.

"We managed to get on a coal car which had two hand cars in it," Betsy said in relating their adventure. "By and by a brakeman came along and wanted money from us. We had none and then he talked bad to us, and we got off as soon as the train stopped at the next station. There was no train for the west, no freight train until evening, and so we walked awhile and on the way struck a farm house for something to eat and got the run. We got some corn out of a field and ate it for supper. We slept in an outhouse that night and the next morning got on a freight car just behind the engine, where the sparks and smoke nearly killed us. The men saw us and told us we could ride in the way car, so we went back there.

"At Peoria we struck the salvation army, and were taken in by a woman soldier, who gave us something to eat. From Peoria we took a box-car to Galesburg, and from there we had the luck to strike a freight train and rode in another box-car all the way to Cheyenne. We didn't have to make so many stops from this time on, but came right through to Weiser City, Huntington, and here we are in Baker City."

A MUSICAL TREAT.

Herr Aamold and Local Talent Give a Splendid Entertainment.

An appreciative, but not very large audience, gathered at the Methodist church last evening to hear the Swedish violinist and local talent. The latter, it is needless to say, was of its usual high merit.

The piano duet by Misses Ione Ruch and Georgia Sampson was a rollicking piece, designed to put the audience en rapport with the nature of the feast prepared, and Herr Aamold followed with his "Yankee Doodle with variations." The Norwegian artist seemed in this to cover the whole gamut of musical sounds at one stroke, and at once established himself in the minds of the audience as a genius.

J. P. Benton followed with a fantasia on "Home, Sweet Home." The gentleman excelled himself in the effort, the succession of the fractional notes being so rapid as to excite wonder as to how it could be done. Herr Aamold again played in his remarkable style, and Miss Georgia Sampson next recited "Mona's Waters." The recitation is very thrilling and was given in her thorough dramatic style, with which a Dalles audience is familiar. "I Whistle and Wait for Katie" was the subject of a popular quartette next sung by Messrs. Alloway, Snowden, Magee and Haworth. After extracting what music there was in this out of it, Herr Aamold played another selection. He received an encore, after which Miss Maie Williams sang Tosti's "Beauty's Eyes." The lady has a voice of great depth and sweetness, and entranced her listeners with the exquisite melody of the piece.

The program concluded with some more violin playing by Herr Aamold. He is certainly remarkable. He is of spare build, and as he stands upon the rostrum, his curly locks waving with the undulations of his head, and every muscle alert with energy, it is plain that his whole soul is bound up in his work. The imprisoned spirit of music within his instrument bursts its bounds and, as if glad to be free, gives such sounds as are seldom given to mortal ears. His work on two strings is exceptionally fine, and from but the one instrument he actually brings forth a full harmony of sounds that it would seem could only be produced by several violinists playing at once. Aamold is superb.

Last Night's German.

The german given by the Mignonette Dancing Club was one of the pleasantest social events ever known in The Dalles. Fraternity hall was crowded with dancers keeping time to the exquisite music by B. Field's orchestra. The favors, which were neatly gotten up, were dispensed by Mrs. F. P. Mays and Judge Blakeley, and the figures offered a pleasing variety to the usual order of dancing. The german was skillfully led by Miss Bessie Lang and Mr. Robert Mays, jr. The Mignonette dances are becoming very popular, and the increased attendance last night shows they are well appreciated.

Died of Consumption.

A half-breed Indian named Simpson died on the Regulator Saturday evening while en route to Toppenish, Wash. He came from Vancouver and was accompanied by his Indian wife. He was in the last stages of consumption, with which he has been affected for nine months. A telegram was received from his father, who is chief of police of the Yakima reservation, to hold his body here until his arrival, and it is expected he will be here tomorrow morning. Dr. Hollister was summoned, but he was already beyond reach of medical aid.

Escaped From the Jail.

Albert Valentine, the boy prisoner in the county jail who is charged with larceny from A. A. Bonney at Tygh Valley several months since, escaped last night. Owing to his previous good behavior he was given the privileges of a trusty, which he had never abused up till last evening. He got a letter from his sister yesterday, and it is presumed became homesick and resolved to take the first opportunity to get away. He was let out the back gate to get an armful of wood, and shortly after Jailer Fitzpatrick, supposing he had gone in again shut the gate, shutting the prisoner out. It is not known where he went but he was seen shortly after near Dr. Shackelford's residence going in the direction of the wagon bridge. He will be recaptured again in all probability.

The Fair Closes.

The fair closed Saturday evening, after perhaps the best afternoon of racing seen during the present meeting. The attendance was very good and the weather perfect. The novelty race, in which the horses walked half a mile, then trotted a half and then ran the last half mile was won by Prince, Buck second; time 6:15. The three-quarter dash was won by Rockland Boy, Siretta second; time 1:20. The gentlemen's roadster race was won by Belle Rooney, belonging to F. H. Button of Hood River. McNerny's John Day was second and John L third. The judges during the day were F. P. Mays, John Irvine, C. W. Rice, J. S. Fish and E. N. Chandler.

The fifth annual meeting, in spite of counter-acting causes, has more than exceeded anticipations, and has done much better than the usual run of fairs this season.

A brother-in-law of Dr. Hollister living in Baltimore lately received a fine box of fruit from his Oregon relative, and, acknowledging the receipt, said he had received the box of "California fruit, which was the finest that ever passed his lips." The doctor replied that the fruit was raised within three-quarters of a mile of his door and wanted Oregon to have the benefit of the praise.

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this remedy has been taken as soon as a cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it's the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquifying the mucous and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No sale will cure a cold so quickly. For a few cents buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

In giving the account of the arrest of a tramp, the Albany Democrat says: "Upon being searched a handsome ladies gold watch chain was found in his possession. The owner can obtain it by calling on Marshal McFeron." If that happened in The Dalles all the ladies would be claiming the watch as they are all handsome.
