LOCAL BRIEFS.

Wednesday's Daily.

Crushed rock is being filled in on our main streets to good advantage.

The Prineville News wants to trade subscription for a baby buggy.

The snow on the summit of the Cascade mountains is said to be about ten inches deep.

The school children abstract chalk from the school rooms and make fences and the sides of buildings look hideous.

The staves were all closed this afternoon in respect to the memory of their deceased fellow tradesman, Mr. Geo. F. ...

Andrew Pearson renounced his allegiance to Sweden today and henceforth belongs to the land of the screaming eagle.

There is a general report on the streets that the repeal bill passed. This is incorrect. While the silver senators are surrendered, several days will yet be required before a vote is made.

It is reported the threshers in Sherman county have all quit running, while there is yet a great deal of uncut grain lying in the fields. This has resulted owing to the rains and consequent damp weather.

Miss May Miller will not be here on Sunday, instead of Saturday, as announced yesterday. Mr. Frank Miller will, however, make an ascension and the following day both himself and lady will go up, probably in separate balloons, as the company have a larger one than they used last Saturday.

A balloon costs about $500, and from two to five trips is all that is safe to be made with one. Mr. Miller consequently lost money Saturday, as his collections were short of $25, and other expenses are considered, as has been and car fare, it will plainly mean that The Dalles don't like inflated values.

The Mignonette Dancing Club will have a dance Thursday evening at Frater hall. Members should be prompt, the music will commence at 9:30 o'clock. The change of evening is made to accommodate a number of members who leave for Portland Friday morning.

Number 34, three days after Halloween, a masquerade party will be given, which promises to be a pleasant one. The committee in charge wish it that no one will be allowed on the floor unless in masque, so everybody had begin originating their costumes.

Franklin Deye, who forged a check for $100 on Judge Moore of the supreme court, when dissipated and nearly arrested, and passed it on to Mr. Anderson of the Fan saloon, plead guilty and the lightest sentence of the law, two years at the pen. He made a nice little speech to the court, waiving time and asking immediate sentence. He is an newspaper man on the coast, is well educated, understands several languages, a fine talker, elocutionist, stump orator and penman.—Salem Journal.

Thursday's Daily.

Though we have won the racing race, we will not long see much of it. Nor jump on those now down. Yet Duraven has it squarely. 'Tis excessive to bow! Where the hat is reported to have fallen on the low!

Indian got drunk on cider yesterday and was calabossed.

A large number of people attended the opening of the auction sales last night at Harris' store. Prices ruled very low, but a large number of sales were made.

The Mignonette Dancing Club will have this evening at 9:30 o'clock. The dance is made late because the Workmen are meeting in the hall during the latter part of the evening, but expect to be through by the hour named.

A large party from The Dalles will be for the exposition in the morning. They will stay up for the train, whiling away the time in dancing and merry-making, as the hour is particularly unpropitious for the average Dallesite.

The social hop to be given by the Pyanthemum club next Friday evening will be postponed until next Tuesday the domino party to be given Halloween eve. The invitations issued for today's hop will be held for Tuesday evening, October 31st.

The Union whist club will meet at 8 o'clock, arrangements having been made to secure the hall for that evening. The first regular meeting will be on next Wednesday evening, Nov. 1, and the club will be entertained by Mrs. and Mrs. Blakeley.

Frank Miller, who will make an ascension Saturday and Sunday, has followed a dangerous profession for seventeen years. He has had falls and broken legs, but says that he is never happier when riding to and from the earth. It has become such a fascination for him that he would not relinquish it. Most balloons get careless with time, but every ascension he examines his balloon closely to see that it is not rotten and whole every where.

Diphtheria is prevalent in the neighborhood of North Yakima.

The Regulator nowadays is kept very busy by reason of the wheat traffic.

Dr. Harmon shipped 47 head of cattle today from Saltmarsh's stockyards.

Balm air and clear skies—this for the information of our Willamette brethren.

To build the fire or let wife build it, that is the question which cooler weather thrusts upon us.

The large quantities of wheat being shipped and placed in storage rather belie the reports of great disaster by rains.

The Mandolin club will amuse those who attend the counting of the beans and inspection of the guesses at Pease & Mays tonight.

Fall grain is being sowed at a lively rate throughout the country, the rains having fitted the ground in excellent condition for seeding.

Mr. F. W. L. Skibbe is the latest convert to the anti-Chinese agitation and has discharged all the Chinese employes of his hotel. He now employs white help exclusively.

The country press are mentioning Judge A. S. Bennett for gubernatorial honors. If there is another democrat in the state who can win on that ticket besides Penoyer it is Mr. Bennett.

About twenty ladies and gentlemen left on the train for Portland this morning. It was a long train, but was not crowded with passengers, like No. 1 yesterday. It left here at 7 o'clock.

Pease & Mays have sold over 1,000 tickets for the guessing contest which concludes Saturday night. On that evening the beans and pumpkin seeds will be counted by the judges in the presence of the contestants. No goods will be sold during the evening.

Mr. D. Burns was bitten in the hand by Mr. A. Buchler's dog this morning while trying to "shake hands" with him. The wound is quite deep, being bitten on the back and palm by the dog's incisors. The wound was cauterized and it is thought no serious injury will result.

The Wasco News is a convert to the hog plan. The News says: It would be a good idea to get a few thousand head of hogs to fatten on the spoiled wheat which is scattered so promiscuously around. If this could be done the farmers would come out on top in the spring. If the pigs cannot be had in this country ship them from some other state. It will return immense profits.

Reports as to the damage done by the unusually heavy and prolonged rains during the early part of the month are conflicting and while undoubtedly the loss in some isolated cases may reach as high as 50 per cent, yet the average loss will prove finally to be under 25 per cent, unless the rain should set in again and at once. Another week of dry weather ought to see the last of the wheat crop gathered.

Mr. George Williams' team took a lively spin down Main street this afternoon, with a load of 38 turkeys. The tongue broke and plowed along the street, but singularly enough did not catch. Turning at the corner of Court and Second they were stopped a block beyond by one of the horses falling down. No damage was done and no turkeys were lost.

A Yakima Aerolite.

Three years ago, on November 11th, an aerolite fell in this valley and was located by Richard Sisk on the Wenas. In its descent it threw off small globules of fire and presented a novel sight. The exact spot where it fell could not be located until Friday last, when it was taken out of the ground. A large crowd of curiosity seekers have been viewing it since it was brought to the city, it being on display at Col. Taggard's. The meteor weighs exactly 12 1/4 pounds, and very strongly resembles a cinder. Imaginative spectators maintain that an angel's face is plainly outlined upon one side of the concave formation. The reporter, however, could not see it. The stone, or ore, or whatever it may be called, is quite magnetic, although it has been imbedded in the earth for three years.—Republic.

Young America and the Parachute.

Young America of The Dalles, as has before been remarked, are progressive. Nothing in the show line ever visits the city without they get up a counterpart in miniature. They have become inspired with the recent parachute jump and have imitated it by tying the four corners of a handkerchief with pieces of cord and attaching a rock to where they join at the other end. They then wad it up and throw it in the air as far as possible, when it comes down as gracefully as a swan sailing on the bosom of a lake.

A Word to Ladies.

Ladies who desire a beautiful clear skin, free from pimples, boils, blotches and other eruptions, should commence at once to use Dr. Gunn's Improved Pills. They will also remove that heavy look about your eyes and make them bright, and will cure headache from whatever cause it arises. Remember you are only required to take one small pill at bed time, which is coated with pure sugar and will not gripe or produce any unpleasant sensation. Sale at 25 cents by Blakeley & Houghton. 3m

Bounced the Heathers.

During the past few months the Pacific coast generally has got into a fashion of bouncing the Chinamen, and not to be a whit behind her neighbors The Dalles has entered the ranks as an anti-Chinese sympathizing town. A Chinaman was installed this morning at the rock crusher to saw wood. He had sawed just one stick when a "delega-

HOPE FOR THE SETTLER.

Mr. Hermann's Letter to Capt. Lewis and the Prompt Reply.

From a letter received from Congressman Hermann dated Oct. 18th, there appears to be more hope for the relief of the settlers. The actual quotation is as follows:

"By a good hard tug I think it is probable that another relief for settlers can be gotten through. Mr. Ellis tells me that some people are protesting against another relief. Is this for the actual settlers only?"

Mr. Lewis has replied as follows: "My dear Mr. Hermann—I was very glad to get your letter of the 18th inst., and to learn from it that there is a probable show for further relief for purchasers under the third section of the act Sept. 29th, 1890. God knows they need it."

The sheriff of Sherman county told me ten days ago that his people would lose $300,000 on account of the unprecedented wet spell. The threshers have quit work and are housed up, with half the crop left standing in the fields or in stacks. A further extension for two or three years is absolutely necessary, and the repayment of the $1.25 excess is a matter of simple justice.

If the new definition of settler (one who actually lives on the land) is to be accepted as final, any relief for actual settlers only would benefit a very small percentage. To illustrate: A settler claiming under act of Sept. 29th, 1890, makes homestead entry of one quarter section and at the same time applies to purchase under the third section of the act another quarter section, or 160 acres. How in the name of truth is he to prove actual residence on both quarter sections at the same time, especially if, as is the case in numerous instances, the two quarter sections are not contiguous, his proof of actual residence is confined to the particular quarter on which he seeks to make proof."

The answer of Capt. Lewis betrays the deep interest that gentleman is taking in the cause of the settler. No one is working with more zest, more efficiency and more speed than is our register, as will be seen from all his correspondence, which we have been permitted to publish. He has the facts well in hand, and applies them where they will do the most good. An intelligent congress, grasping the facts as they exist, and as represented by John Lewis, can do nothing less than grant the time asked for, and this it is evident Mr. Hermann has some reason to hope for.

A RHEUMATIC SUFFERER

Decides That the Remedy is Worse Than the Disease.

A well known citizen of The Dalles, now a fisherman by occupation, has been troubled a great deal lately by rheumatism. This morning the rheumatic twinges were unusually acute, and he concluded to adopt an old remedy which has been buzzing in his head for about a week, viz: that a bee sting is a specific for rheumatism. Imagine a certain lady's surprise, then, when this morning, he appeared before her, and dramatically throwing off his coat, said he was going to cure himself.

"How?" inquired the lady.

"Just wait, and you'll see," he answered. And with that air of calm superiority which every man can't help showing when he thinks he is in possession of some fact not shared by the gentler sex, he stalked over to the bee hive, and thrust out a hand. Soon a bee alighted on it, and he pressed it with the other hand. In went the sting, but he never flinched.

"Didn't that hurt you?" (solicitously).

"No," he somewhat untruthfully replied. Another settled on his cheek, and again he drove it home. Another on his arm, another and another.

"Stop!" pleaded the lady in alarm, beginning to think he had suddenly gone demented.

"Well, I guess that will do," said the sufferer and then he detailed the plan for his action.

"And do you feel better now?" she asked.

"Well, I can't tell yet. The rheumatism seems to have disappeared, but I can't tell for sure until these everlasting stings quit paining me."

KANGAROO COURT.

Strikes the Sheriff for 50 Cents Under Penalty for Non-Compliance.

OFFICE KANGAROO COURT. THE DALLES, OCT. 26. By order of the Kangaroo Court of the County Jail of Wasco County: To T. A. Ward, Greeting: You are hereby notified that an order has been made this day fining you fifty (50) cents, the same to be paid into said court by noon on the 26th day of October, 1893, to be used in purchasing tobacco for occupants of said jail.

This order is made because you fail to bring to this court men competent to pass examination, not one of whom has for some weeks past had sufficient money to pay the weekly assessment levied by this court.

Failure to comply with this order will be considered contempt of court and you will be dealt with accordingly.

MELL KYLE, Judge. PETER SCROSS, Doctor. Attest: CHESTER COLE, Sheriff. By TOM PRIOR, Dep'y Sheriff.

An Unmitigated Falsehood.

With regard to numerous statements set forth by Mr. Bancroft about the crayon exhibited by me at the fair, which he claimed (among other things) was a bromide and made by Stringer of Portland, I have this statement from Mr. Stringer to offer:

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 23, 1892. D. C. HERRIN, The Dalles: DEAR SIR—YOUR of the 21st at hand. In reply will state that I never made a 2x27 crayon, air brush or point crayon for you, or any other kind of a picture of that size at any time. Yours truly, A. R. STRINGER.

Any one desiring further assurance can see the original letter and the crayon at the gallery. The other statements made by Mr. Bancroft are equally as false as this one. D. C. HERRIN.

HE DID THE SAME.

Bill Nye Gets Fooled for Once in San Francisco.

Here is a good thing on Bill Nye, which, we believe, has never before been aired by printer's ink. Our readers are aware of the fact that Mr. Nye visited this coast a few months ago on a lecturing tour. While in San Francisco he undertook to chaperon a Boston literary party and he put on considerable "dog" in doing it. He never lost any points in scoring his superior knowledge of San Francisco, especially in the way of domestic economy. The Bostonese, in fact, were educated in a few days to believe that Bill knew all about San Francisco hosteleries, and they trusted him implicitly. The whole gang, Nye included, were stopping at the Palace hotel, where as most people are aware, the cost of existence is somewhat high. Sam Davis, the notorious wit and cheerful liar of the Carson, (Nev.) Appeal, approached Nye one day and said: "Look here, Nye, of course its business for you to stop at the Palace; that's all right enough, but if you knew how to live in San Francisco, like us newspaper jockeys you could be saving a good many dollars every day. A few of us are going to dine this afternoon at a French establishment, and I would like to have you join us." Nye promptly accepted the invitation. Then Davis went to the Maison Riche and fixed things with the cashier. When the party set down to dine Sam, as host, asked the privilege of ordering the dinner, which was a most elaborate affair, even for a French hostelry, including from relishes to cigars, fully seventeen courses. When the dinner was concluded the little procession marched to the cashier's counter, where Sam very ostentatiously asked, "Well, garcon, how much do we owe you?" "Two dollars and fifty cents," replied the cashier.

When they gained the street Nye could hold in no longer. "Great Moses and Aaron, Davis, why that dinner is truly a revelation to me! Why, do you know that a good meal for myself alone at the Palace costs me as much as you paid for all of us." "Well said Sam quietly. "I told you you didn't know how to live in Frisco."

Nye did just what Davis expected he would do. He lost no time in saying to his Bostonese friends: "You people outside of the newspaper world don't know how to live in San Francisco. Dine with me tomorrow afternoon, and I'll show you how to get a superb dinner for a song." And the Bostonese dined with Nye at the Maison Riche. Bill selected item for item the same dinner that Davis ordered, and when it was over Nye, at the cashier's desk, asked in a tone louder than was necessary, "Well, landlord, what is your bill?" and the cashier suavely replied, "Eighteen dollars and seventy-five cents, Monsieur."

Nye paid the bill and never said a word about it to Davis, and Davis never told Nye that the dinner he ordered cost exactly the same sum.

A Stove that Burns Straw.

A straw burner is the latest novelty on exhibition in The Dalles by Messrs. Geo. Burlingame and Ralph Rowland. The straw is packed in a drum, which is attached to any cook stove or heater. It requires from eight to ten pounds to fill it, and lasts about from two to three hours. An even heat can be kept up and the fire can be thoroughly regulated by a damper. It is needless to say it was invented by a man living in a prairie state, a Swede by the name of Gortanner being the inventor, who lived in Dakota. If it acts in all respects as well as is claimed for it, it will be a blessing to many farmers in Crook, Sherman and other counties, who now have to haul their wood oftentimes seventy-five miles.

Earth to Earth.

Rev. Mr. Adams, of the United Brethren church of Dufur, conducted the funeral services of Mr. Geo. F. Beers today at the Congregational church. The speaker spoke feelingly of the life and character of deceased, saying among other things that he died without an enemy in the world, and that it was eminently fitting that tears mingle with the flowers strewn upon his casket. Few men living can honestly claim that they have no enemies. It requires a life of such forbearance, such virtue, such charity and such Christianity that there is scarcely a person who can meet the requirements. But such a man was Geo. F. Beers. The funeral was one of the largest in the history of The Dalles.

Announcement.

Having bought out A. J. Moses' lease in the livery business, formerly owned by me, I am now prepared to furnish livery on short notice and feed stock by day, week or month.

Thanking my old customers for past favors I would like to see them again at the old stand, East Second street. C. L. RICHMOND.

WAKE UP.

If you wake up in the morning with a bitter or bad taste in your mouth, Languor, Dull Headache, Despondency, Constipation, take Simmons Liver Regulator. It corrects the bilious stomach, sweetens the breath and cleanses the furred tongue. Children as well as adults sometimes eat something that does not digest well, producing Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Restlessness, or Sleeplessness—a good dose of Regulator will give relief. So perfectly harmless is this remedy that it can be taken by the youngest infant or the most delicate person without injury, no matter what the condition of the system may be. It can do no harm if it does no good, but its reputation for 40 years proves it never fails in doing good.
