

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, OREGON

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Saturday's Daily. And how the honest team gives beautiful supply. To make up for the short weight in August and July.

Don't forget the mite social at the First Christian church tonight at 7 o'clock.

Mr. T. H. Johnston of Dufur indulged in a runaway recently, which resulted in the wreck of his buggy.

Salvito Anthony, a descendant of Salillo, was jailed today for selling ardent spirits to the thirsty red man.

A four horse team near the switch engine became frightened by the exhaust pipe morning and the leaders switched around nearly overturning the wagon, but no harm was done.

Mr. Honey will have opened his new store with a very attractive display, and has marked everything down to three prices. Call and inspect the clothing store.

Herrin Dufur fell backwards off the side of a shed Thursday, while imitating a recent parachute jump and broke his wrist. He was falling head first, and with great presence of mind threw his hand to save his head.

Unhappy lies the head that wears the crown. Mayor Kraft is investigating the impenetrable abilities of his working men, while Justice Schutz wants to know how soon that bullet proof cloth presented for the German army is to be on the market.

The following persons were granted certificates at the teachers' examination, which has been in session during the week: First grade, Miss M. G. Holler; second grade, Miss Josie Hansley; Miss Mary E. Shaffer, Mr. R. A. Denny; third grade, Miss Lillian Emergent; Miss Katie Davenport, Miss Jennie Smith.

There is a well developed famine in exchange in the city. Silver is hard to get and those who are so fortunate as to have any money are all gold bugs. Sometimes a bill remains unpaid because no change can be given, nor procured by diligent seeking. The banks are short, the postoffice hasn't got it, where the $10 silver per capita has been to "the dickens knows."

Monday's Daily. The prophet has a curious way. He wonders to perform. For he predicts a sunny day. And straightway comes a storm.

The weather is perfect. Circuit court convened this morning at the court house.

Three hobos and one drunk was the earlier's crop today.

Miss Maggie Scoules has been appointed postmaster at Andrews, Harney county, Or.

Reports throughout the country indicate that the farmers are putting in a tremendous acreage of wheat this year. A bold bank robbery is reported in this afternoon. No particulars have been learned, owing to the lateness of the hour.

The King's daughters will meet at 2 o'clock p. m., tomorrow at the residence of W. S. Myers. A full attendance is requested.

Mr. Wm. Doak, who resides on the north of Eight Mile, brought into city two monster carrots and some turnips which he raised on his farm near irrigation. One of the carrots, "Short Yellow," weighed 5 1/2 lbs and measured 19 1/2 inches. The large growth of these vegetables on the dry hill lands of this county is a marvel to the incredulous who think irrigation is absolutely necessary for the production of all crops.

Circuit court was convened this morning with Judge Bradshaw on the bench. The following attorneys are in attendance. H. S. Wilson, J. L. Story, W. Rantington, W. H. Wilson, (Disbarred attorney) E. B. Dufur, Frank Menzies, A. S. Bennett, R. Stott, of Portland, H. B. Riddell, E. Schuts, J. B. Nelson and J. W. Condon. The following grand jury was drawn, Geo. Miller, Geo. Udell, J. B. Manley, T. Sexton, M. M. Cushing, E. A. Laughland and Jas. Burlingame. The petit jury excused until tomorrow at 9 a. m.

Tuesday's Daily. Herrin has some new crayons and colors in Garretson's window this week.

Herrin's candy guessing Saturday for Marden and Miss Stanley tied, guessing 500, and there were 563 lbs of candy in the jar.

Mr. Warden Jud Fish spent yesterday looking for defective flies. While so engaged he found about 100 cans of coal with a lot of hay, and grain.

Correspondent asks: "How is the Dalles? Is it flourishing?" and Dalles not only sleepeth, but is flourishing. The flourish of trumpets will call it forth.

Articles holding tickets for crayons at Herrin's are requested to call as soon as possible and select frames and order same. It is but a short time until Christmas and there are nearly 100 tickets amounting to $100,000 on a Lake bank, received in payment for cattle recently sold by Crook county stockmen, have been returned protested, and it is feared they will not get their money soon.

The "Y's" will give a social at an early day. Look out for further developments. The object of the "Y's" is that of charity and any donations of clothing, etc., by individuals who have an interest in that line, please be kind enough to leave their offerings at W. A. Kirby's.

Mr. Harry Gilpin has bought a thoroughbred Poland China boar from Mr. Edward Judy, which he will take to his farm for breeding purposes. The hog is only two months old, and will weigh about 200 pounds. The sire weighs 800 pounds.

Mr. J. B. Haverly brought in some samples of potatoes yesterday which are superior to anything heretofore brought in. He says he can furnish a ton of potatoes, which will weigh from 2 1/2 to 3 pounds each. Mr. Haverly has raised about thirty tons altogether.

The Mignonette Dancing Club will give a grand ball on Thanksgiving eve, November 22d. Preparations are being made to make it the event of the season. Birgfeld's full orchestra will be present and every detail will be attended to in such a manner as to insure success. Over three hundred invitations will be sent out.

Mrs. Carrie Butler has the thanks of the Sun force for a basket of fine fruit and vegetables grown near her home in The Dalles, Oregon. Lecompton has long been called the "heart of the fruit growing region of Kansas," and justly too, but the Oregon samples brought to us exceed the Kansas products in size, quality and quantity.—Lecompton Sun, Kansas. The comment of the Kansas paper is very kind, but really the samples over which that paper goes into ecstasies are so inferior to others that they are but a poor representation of what Oregon can do in the fruit and vegetable line.

Criminal Cases.

The following is a list of the criminal cases, to be disposed of at this term of circuit court:

State of Oregon vs Irvin Taylor. State vs Mell Kulp. State vs William Hurst. State vs R. T. Grassman. State vs Mary Egan.

State vs J. W. Norton and E. C. Miller. State vs Albert Valentine.

State vs August Strom. State vs Lewis Caton. State vs Milton Akin. State vs Ed Gibson.

State vs Chester Cole. State vs the same. State vs Frank Watkins and R Brookhouse.

State vs W. J. Jeffers. State vs John Prall; appeal from justice court.

State vs Thomas Pryor. State vs Andrew Hendrickson; appeal from justice court.

State vs John Johnson; appeal from justice court.

State vs J. L. Lafferty; appeal from justice court.

State vs August Erickson; appeal from justice court.

Modern Railroad.

Railroad Conductor—Have the surgeons arrived?

Brakeman—Yes sir. "Is the hospital tent loaded?" "Yes sir."

"Plenty of chloroform, bandages, lint and amies in the baggage-car?" "Yes sir."

"Have you telegraphed to the doctors along the line?" "Yes sir."

"Is the wrecking train ready to follow right after us?" "Yes sir."

"Got a full stock of pine coffins?" "Yes sir."

"All aboard!"

Advertised Letters.

Following is the list of letters remaining in the postoffice at The Dalles unclaimed for, Friday, Nov. 10th, 1893. Persons calling for same will give date on which they were advertised: Arkook, Elias Brown, Mrs Carpenter, Ann Chamberlin, R T Clippell, C W Cooper, J R McDermid, H J Dodd, Geo Guibinger, John Hart, A Clem Johnson, Lester Koehler, Carrie Mc Lennan, M Punear, John Perkins, Mrs D H Pugh, J E Reid, Geo Sanders, J S Sperry, Rosa Miss Weigel, Christian Young, Jeny Young, Carrie, Miss M. T. NOLAN, P. M.

Endorsed by the Press.

In this skeptical age statements made before being credited are generally inquired into. People are always found (some one said) on the side where their interest lies. In view of the last named truth an endorsement from one who is not interested should be of double value, hence the following frank statement should be read with interest. GENTLEMEN:—This is to certify that I have used Krause's Headache Capsules with satisfactory results. I bought a box which cost me 25 cents and one capsule cured me of dreadful sick headache. My wife and myself have both used the medicine manufactured by the Norman Lighty Mfg Co. and we recommend them to the public as being just what they are represented to be. Respectfully, W. J. HUTCHINSON, Ed. Gazette, Pleasant Hill, Mo. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly.

AT THE CASCADES. The Quarry Giving Out and Many Stonecutters Discharged.

Mr. John Cates returned from an extended visit to the Cascade Locks last evening. It is learned that the contractors have been compelled to lay off a large number of stone cutters in consequence of the large supply of stone being worked up and as the quarries on Herrmann creek are nearly exhausted, there is no telling how soon or how long it will be before they are put to work again. A number of men have gone over to the Monahan quarry, near Sprague's landing, to examine and ascertain the quality accessible for immediate use. As far as known the rock is of excellent quality and the extent of the quarry is all that is necessary. There has been a large force put to work excavating between the upper bulkhead and the steamboat landing and the dump is being put in a fill near the government offices. This excavating is done at this time so as to avail of the opportunity during the low stage of water, and accomplish a work which must be done to keep in advance of construction. The work at the middle lock way is progressing very satisfactorily, and from present appearance the ponderous gates will be in position before the June rise.

Mignonette Masquerade.

A large crowd of young people filled Fraternity hall last evening in obedience to the summons of King Carnival. They came en masse and before the time of unmasking the spectators were kept busy trying to discover who were inside of the costumes while the maskers themselves were at a loss to know who their partners were, so complete were many of the disguises. The club is proud of the music they provide and last night the orchestra won much approval. All the disguises were excellent while some of them were very original and unique. Much amusement was made by the characters represented and a general good time fell to the lot of everyone. At a late hour the music ceased and the dancers wended their way homeward, or more truly speaking, in the direction where oysters were. The Mignonettes feel greatly pleased at their first masquerade ball of the season and it is safe to say that it was nothing less than a complete success.

Prendergasting Kreft.

Mayor Kreft has just received a threatening letter, written on both sides of half a sheet of note paper, and signed in shorthand. Nothing less than the mayor's life is demanded, as the letter states that unless the writer is furnished with a job inside of a very few days Kreft must die. Some of the larger members of the city council should be delegated to act as Mr. Kreft's body guard for a time, and a few special police might be detailed to hang around the residence and shop, and arrest all suspicious characters.

It is reported, also, that Judge Schutz received a letter of similar import to that received by the mayor, warning him to mete out better justice or he would receive a leaden plug. This letter was, of course, anonymous.

Appreciative.

The Skamania county Pioneer says: "The steamers Dalles City and Regulator, making daily trips from Portland to The Dalles, are doing a fine business. The establishment of this line has been a great thing to the settlers on the Washington side in two ways, financial and accommodation. The company have never been known to do business on an unfair basis. Although they have no competition on this end of the run they do not take advantage of the settlers and merchants along the river, as companies usually do in passenger and freight rates. At one time a trip from The Dalles to Portland was $6 and at the present time you can make the round trip for $3. The company will undoubtedly meet with success as they have the good will of the people along the river."

It is pleasure to note these kind words from our neighbor for an enterprise which should have the heartiest support. The Regulator was built as a relief from the extortionate charges of the Union Pacific, and is the first which has successfully baffled all efforts to crush it. Although it can scarcely be considered a paying investment, because not patronized by many farmers whom it was designed to relieve, it will stand between them and the Union Pacific until the locks are opened, when all danger of high charges will be ended.

County Commissioners.

The proposition of M. M. Cushing of $1,200 for keeping the county poor for the ensuing year, including board, clothing, medical attendance, funeral expenses, etc., was accepted. Also proposition for boarding non-resident poor at $4 per week, was also accepted, and bonds fixed at $2,500, contract to commence November 22d.

J. D. Tunny, Antelope, granted liquor license for two months, also to Lane and Patterson, same place.

Again in His Pulpit.

Rev. W. C. Curtis occupied his pulpit in the morning and evening yesterday, after an absence of several weeks among scenes and friends in the east.

In the morning he gave his hearers a fine discourse on the subject of "Suffering and its Ultimate Outcome." In his remarks he alluded to the lives and character in an eloquent and feeling manner of the late G. F. Beers and Dr. Rinehart, who had died during his absence. The scripture selected for his theme was from the 16th verse of the 14th chap. of Romans. The discourse was full of tenderness and sympathy for the bereaved ones, at the same time the Christian's hope of a glorious life in the future was beautifully brought out.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Strom Pleads Guilty—Valentine Recommended for the Reform School, Etc.

The grand jury this morning brought in three indictments, two against Chester Cole, and one against Albert Valentine for larceny.

Strom, the rapist, withdrew his plea of not guilty, substituting one of guilty, and he will be sentenced Friday.

The prosecuting attorney represented to Judge Bradshaw that it would be more fitting to send Valentine to the reform school instead of the penitentiary, and as he is under the required age, it is likely such disposal will be made of him. He is merely a boy, and has a bright, intelligent face.

The case is now on trial of John Thomas vs. C. L. Richmond and A. J. Moses, which is a civil action. The jurors are J. P. Ostlund, A. J. Linton, Wm. McHaley, Chas. Wing, J. W. Allen, G. M. Sterling, Dan Roberts, Ed. Smith, E. C. Dickens, Lemuel Burgess, A. Greenwood, J. L. Harper. Early in the afternoon a message arrived from S. Mile, with a note stating that Mr. McHaley's little girl is very ill, and he was excused, and the case will be tried with eleven jurors.

MITCHELL NEWS.

Minor Notes.—O. L. Boardman's New Barn Being Built.

November 1st potatoes froze in a tent in Mitchell.

At the present date (Nov. 7th) the weather is very warm and pleasant, and present indications are that we will have more rain soon.

Mr. Miesner's new house is now surrounded by a neat and tasteful paling fence, which adds very much to its cosy home-like appearance.

The city has done well in the erection of a very substantial foot bridge across the creek, which is a great improvement to the old one which threatened every one that passed over it an impromptu bath.

Mr. and Mrs. and little Sarah Oaks returned from Antelope this evening for a visit which must have been very pleasant, since they had gone to see Mrs. Oaks' mother, the first time in almost a year.

Mr. Sasser is making preparations for a barn on his lot in lower Mitchell. Hard times do not affect a steady improvement in this place. Every house in town is full, but if any one would care to come to Mitchell for a general betterment of themselves they need not be discouraged, a house, houses, barn or barns can be erected on short notice. Come on.

O. L. Boardman, one of our most worthy citizens, also proprietor of the Central hotel, is an earnest advocate and laborer for the general improvement of our little place, but which will be a big place when he gets the hills all torn down and all the uneven places filled up. Mr. Boardman means to excavate the hill eighty by one hundred feet and twenty-five or thirty feet high, and therein erect a barn on the improved style. The lower or under ground floor will be mainly filled with stalls; the second floor for hay and grain; the third floor, which will be for carriages and wagons, will be level with the street and a driveway will be so constructed that teams can be driven on to this floor, where will be a very convenient turntable, which will be revolved by the simple action of a light lever, and there is your team right about and ready to drive out again, but you will not do that; you will unhitch and take your horses down a broad stairway to the basement where they will be surprised by the savory odor of new mown hay. If we but had more men like Mr. Boardman our little city would soon be of some note. E. V. E. MITCHELL, Or., Nov. 7, 1893.

Are your children subject to croup? If so, you should never be without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a certain cure for croup, and has never been known to fail. If given freely as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is the sole reliance with thousands of mothers who have croupy children, and never disappoints them. There is no danger in giving this Remedy in large and frequent doses, as it contains nothing injurious. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

BEAUTIFUL WORDS. Resume of Dr. Swing's World's Fair Closing Sermon by Rev. W. C. Curtis.

Last evening a large audience were listeners to an able resume of Rev. Dr. Swing's celebrated world's fair sermon, "The Educational and Moral Aspects of the Fair." Mr. Curtis began by saying that among the notable things of the fair was the Cyclorama of the Bernese Alps, in which from an elevation of 7,000 feet (so represented) the beholder looked up and around upon a faithful picture of a sublime grandeur and beauty which from childhood he must have longed to see. It was next to the reality and produced all the emotions of reality, and yet it was earth and stone and paint only. One could hardly tell where the earth and stones and sticks left off and the paint of the picture began. His resume of Mr. Swing's sermon was like that cyclorama in this, that it was intended to create in the minds of his hearers the exact impression of the sermon; yet they might not always be able to tell just where his earth and stones and sticks left off and the work of the painter began. Then after a few appreciative words in characterization of Mr. Swing as a preacher he went on to say of the sermon.

The speaker said the fair had its moral defects and its virtues. Its virtues overbalanced the defects. The representation through the churches, the schools, and the printing presses had been the great power and influence that had given it its grandeur and admiration of the world. The Pagan philosopher looked on with amazement; its works of art, science and mechanical achievements were wonderful to him, which he saw as a result of our Christian civilization, all of it struck him with awe. He wished for the spirit's influence and power to give the Pagan the cause of such ideality and wisdom, and wished America would send messages to teach the gospel of industry to the Hindoo. They had searched for man's future, or where man was going to, but the American was more interested in making him stay. They had studied God through His works, and had found him, and now America was thousands of years ahead of the Pagan. England had covered the world with literature, France with art and Germany with music, and the church, the schools and the printing presses were carrying civilization and a higher moral life to the remotest ends of the earth.

Our city and what it represents—our whole western country—is in its newness. Yet it is growing to a greatness which will yet cause it to stand honored for true culture and moral life. The millions who walked through the streets of the beautiful white city would carry away ideas that would grow into their lives and bear fruit in beautiful forms and noble deeds and so the glory upon which they looked would live long after the great and beautiful palaces had crumbled into dust. The beholders must disperse and go back to their homes and apply the lessons of the summer to the nation's life and thus make more enlightened and more happy the republic which had enticed such sciences and arts from the wilderness.

A Hebrew general, who had led his army to great success, set a stone on the field of victory and carved on it the words, "Hitherto Hath the Lord Helped Us." We have greater generals in the army of love and peace who will see that this place where victory has waved her flags during this sweet summer has a suitable monument and inscription and before its walls we can declare in the name of our whole nation "Hitherto Hath the Lord Led Us."

Even the dismantling of the palaces should come to us as a part of the long deep instruction.

Coming in the time of the closing of nature's gates, when the flowers are taking back their color and perfume, and when autumn leaves are drifting before the cold winds of the approaching winter, the spectacle may well whisper to us that we too shall one day fade and die; but it will only be the taking down of the forms in which the interior truth and goodness and beauty expressed themselves. The soul—that is, the substance—of these will remain and still take shape worthy of the life to which we go—a thing of victory and peace and joy of which the gathered ideals of the world's culture and goodness are only symbols and pledges.
