THE DALLES, - - - OREGON

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Saturday's Daily.

"Man wants but little here below"
Will do to write in a book;
But he's always anxious to get all he can
By most any book or crook.

A landlady charges $8 a week for board, or 30 a month, and the boarder skips one day before the month is up, how much does she lose?

This morning was the coldest of the season, the thermometer reaching 21 degrees above zero. The day has been cold, and a cold night will follow.

The Good Templars will give a millinery and necktie social at the K. of P. hall Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Literary programme and refreshments. Admission 15 cents.

The Klickitat Leader announces that it will not publish any more issues. It has lived three years and a half, was bright and spicy, and we regret very much to lose it from our list of exchanges.

Mr. Isaac Joles has just returned from a goose hunting trip in Sherman county. Besides slaughtering a great number of geese he killed a magnificent specimen of the American eagle, measuring 6 feet, 2 inches from tip to tip.

The gentleman referred to by the Mountaineer as having run a feed yard was successful, while the attempt of the "An Arbor" "infant" fizzle in running a newspaper without his lost manuscript was a failure. Query, who has the best of it?

The young ladies are counting on a large audience at the academy this evening and have made preparations with that end in view. Don't disappoint them. Those who complain of not having any place to go where they can be entertained should remember they have a chance this evening. If you are Y's or wise either you will bring your fifteen cents to help on a good cause.

Penoyer's Thanksgiving, on which day he will pray for a silver lining to the present financial cloud, will be celebrated in The Dalles by the Mignonette dancing club. Their dance Wednesday evening promises to be the social event of the Thanksgiving period. Birgfeld's orchestra will play choice selections and those who do not dance can have a good time listening to the music and watch those who do dance.

Monday's Daily.

Last winter's coat he will not wear. Although a year ago this was new. His wife, with ever-watchful care, put things in it the mother to scare. To do it now he would not dare. It's stuck up, as with glue.

Snow fell on the Klickitat hills this afternoon.

November is April to a jolly man. A sunny heart carries its spring with it.

The Rowe Lumbering Co. will move their logging outfit today from Sprague to Lyle.

W. T. Kame and family left this morning for Montezuma where they will make their home.

The Nelson postoffice has been removed to Stevenson, the new wood shored town on the north bank of the Columbia.

The pay car will arrive this evening between 7 and 8 o'clock and disburse its usual welcome amounts to the knights of the road.

The A. O. U. W. is a flourishing order. In October there were twenty-three deaths in Kansas, and only two assessments ($2) from each member.

Rev. J. Whisler is again confined to his room by illness, and the preaching services at the Methodist church yesterday were consequently suspended.

An Examiner man has just finished canvassing the town for that valuable coast daily. He secured 70 names for the paper here and will strike for pastures new tonight.

A dispatch received today from a party in Baker City said that he saw Mr. McAtee in Union, a week ago Saturday. This is the latest information that can be gleaned as to his whereabouts.

A literary and musical entertainment will be given in the hall of St. Mary's Academy on the 30th inst. at 7:30 p. m. A rich treat is assured all who attend, or the sisters excel in anything of this nature.

The man who was found dead at Underwood's Landing was Adolph Anderson. Mr. Anderson located there about a year ago. He was about sixty years old. All indications show that he died from natural causes.

Green Arnold, who recently died in Union county, planted the first orchard on a 3-mile creek, near The Dalles, in '83. The ranch is now known as the Gore and Whitney ranch. He was a very prominent man in the early days of Oregon. Of a robust built, energetic and whole-souled, he was among the first of home-builders and defenders in the days when the Indians predominated in number.

A prize fight for a purse of $1,000 took place yesterday on John Donovan's scow Wasco on the Columbia river in mid-stream opposite Cascade Locks, between a stone cutter of the Locks and Mackin. The latter won in three rounds.

The young gentlemen of the Mignonette club are busy as bees. They are leaving nothing undone to make the Penoyer's Thanksgiving party an immense success. The party will have no reference to the last part of the governor's proclamation.

A young man who works for Wallace Faragher, while riding out on his horse Saturday evening, was crushed by the horse stumbling and falling upon him. As a result one of his legs was fractured, and Dr. Vanderpool summoned, who attended to the injury.

Dr. Rowland and a board of physicians leave Salem tomorrow morning for the several places in Eastern Oregon which are candidates for the location of the branch asylum. These places are Baker City, Union, La Grande, Pendleton, Heppner and The Dalles.

L. Rorden & Co. have on exhibition in one of their show windows, the finest collection of ornamental goods ever brought to this city. It comprises a facsimile of the celebrated Royal Worcester and Moorings wares, which are so much admired and sought after in Europe and the east. To see them is enough to provoke a determination to be an owner of some of them.

An exchange says that a lady went to a grocery store a few days ago for a peck of apples, taking as she supposed a fresh laundry flour sack. She held the sack while the clerk poured in the apples. A singular thing then happened. The fruit went through the sacks and rolled over the floor. On examination it was found that there were two holes in the bottom of the sack, both trimmed with embroidery. The young man faints and the lady sent a small boy after the apples—with a basket.—Skamania Co. Pioneer.

Tuesday's Daily.

In striving to gain wealth
We're apt to lose our health;
Then, to regain our health
We're apt to lose our wealth.

November weather is as fickle as April's.

A tremendous amount of rock has been got out at the Union street cut, which will keep the crusher busy for several weeks.

Farmers contemplating buying their winter's supplies should bear in mind that some fine bargains await them at Joles Bros. in teas and other staple groceries.

The rock has packed down firmly on Union street, where it has been filled, and makes a splendid road bed. Several loads of rock were hauled and dumped in the low places at the street corners by the expressmen. This is a good idea and should be continued, as it will dispose of the mud.

Mr. Leslie Butler, a well known grocery man of The Dalles, who has been in business about twelve years, has disposed of his store interests to H. H. Campbell of this city. The store has an excellent reputation for fair dealing and reliable goods, which will doubtless be sustained by Mr. Campbell.

A surprise party was given Master Ray Chase last evening. Those present were Willie and Guy McCully, Master Roscoe Chase, Master Rowland Wiley, Frank Chase and Archie Barnett, Miss Susie Chase, Effie Adams, Edna and Maie Barnett. After a very pleasant evening, including refreshments, the little guests dispersed.

Mrs. Wm. VanVactor, wife of a Goldendale merchant, while driving three miles above town Sunday, was thrown from a hack on to the rocky grade of the road, breaking her left arm and also dislocating her shoulder. She was bruised in a fearful manner about her body. The internal injuries are not believed to be serious.

Armory Hall is transformed into a place of beauty. The Mignonette boys have worked hard and decorated the entire building with flags and evergreen. The dance tomorrow evening has every indication of being one of the finest ever given in The Dalles. The boys expect to entertain their guests with an evening of solid enjoyment. All those who belong to the Mignonette Club must show their tickets at the door, as the door-keeper does not know who are members of the club. All others will bring their invitations.

Conductor Jack Laughlan, of the Union Pacific, made a serious mistake last night. He aroused himself from his sleep to administer some medicine to his 6-year-old son who was ill, and by mistake gave him a teaspoonful of carbolic acid. He discovered his mistake at once, and ran from his home in Albina to Dr. Boyd's office, barefooted and without coat or vest. Dr. Boyd went immediately to the residence, and by administering antidotes succeeded in saving the boy's life. It is thought today that he will recover, though his throat and stomach were badly burned by the acid.—Telegram.

FINISHED THEIR LABORS.

The Grand Jury Ask to Be Excused After Efficient Service.

The grand jury have concluded their labors and handed in their report, after a five days' session.

They found eleven indictments and six not true bills.

They examined the officers and prisons of the county and found them in a satisfactory condition and the books of the county officers well and neatly kept.

The report goes on to state: "The following financial statement was rendered us by the treasurer, showing the financial standing of the county on the 1st of November, 1893.

On hand Nov. 1, 1893, $6352.25.
Of this amount the following sums belong to the funds specified:
School fund.....$ 628.00
Warrants out covering the above amount.....
Road and bridge fund.....$1333.99
Warrants to be cashed on sight Due from Sherman county.....$44.90
Estray fund.....33.10
Estate fund.....545.39
County fund.....2966.87

Total.....$6352.25

We find the county jail clean and well kept. We find, however, that the floor of the jail is made of brick covered by cement and find that the same is badly worn, very rough and has many deep depressions in it. We therefore recommend that it be repaired and placed in better condition. We find that about the only ventilation there is for the jail is through the bars of the rear door of the jail, which opens into the jail yard. We also find that there is a door leading from the hallway of the court house into this same jail yard and that persons may pass into the jail yard in that way at any hour of the day unobserved and that it is continually done. When persons are in the jail yard they have free access to this rear door of the jail and it would be a very easy matter for anyone who was so disposed to pass a weapon to the inmates of the jail or furnish them with tools whereby they might make their escape. We think that this would be very dangerous to the jailer in case desperate criminals should be confined therein and it also renders the jail unsafe as a prison. We therefore earnestly recommend that some suitable measures be taken to render this matter safe.

The jury found the city jail satisfactory and have no recommendations to make regarding it. The report is signed by the foreman of the grand jury, Mr. G. W. Miller.

The World's Fair.

A visitor says: "It was worth going around the world to see the outside of the world's fair buildings and grounds. More than six times as much money was paid out as originally contemplated. Over 30,000,000 of dollars were expended. A revenue of more than $10,000,000 was received. 27,494,998 people passed through the gates from May 1st to October 30th. About 1,000,000 people visited the grounds before the opening—many will yet go. Had railways and the press on this coast been as loyal to Chicago as last October, doubtless 40,000,000 of people would have passed through the turn stiles. It is said it would take sixteen years to look at each exhibit one minute and that average visitors know less about more things than ever before; that the greatest and most wonderful show on the lake shore was "uneasy Chicago," whose only motto seems to be "move on." A railway train arrives there every minute. Evidently they have laid the corner stones for the most wonderful city dreamed of, having secured grounds and possession of money for parks, libraries, colleges, museums and art galleries larger and more varied than yet constructed."

Rim Rock's Observations.

A much and long needed improvement has been made by your street commissioner, Mr. Madron. On the road from the brewery to the city limits he has certainly done a good job, for the road is in better condition than it has ever been, and before Mr. Madron went at it it was in a terribly bad condition. Everyone who travels over it is well pleased with the work he has done, and I have been informed that there are some persons in The Dalles who have objected to any expense being put on that road. I hope they are few, for no sensible man could object to a bad road being improved where it is travelled by the people upon whom they depend for their bread and butter. But there are some men who would kick about the arrangements of paradise, or kick when being hung, but just on such an occasion we would delight to see such men kick and kick hard at thin air. I would also advise the city council if they are the parties who are responsible for the team tying affair, for their own good and the city's welfare to stop where they are and let well enough alone, for there is plenty of time in the distant future to put on metropolitan airs.

A SUNDAY IN NEW YORK.

Rev. Mr. Curtis Again Interests Large Audiences.

Large audiences greeted Rev. Mr. Curtis, in the Congregational church, both morning and evening. The morning sermon was of a practical nature on "The Value of a Good Reputation." In the evening he preached eloquently on "A Sunday in New York." Mr. Curtis attended three services while spending Sunday in that great city. He described them in a most interesting way and discussed the relative good contained in them. The first was a meeting of persons who called themselves disciples of "Ethical Culture." Their system of belief consisted of negations and Mr. Curtis said no progress ever resulted from negatives. Positive belief is necessary to growth and advancement. The second church he attended was that of Rev. Robert Collyer, the poet preacher of New York. His sermon inclined towards Unitarianism and his lovable personality in a measure atoned for drawbacks that Unitarianism, in his estimation, carries with it. The last service and the one which the audience could plainly see had charmed Mr. Curtis the best was the sermon of Dr. John Hall, pastor of the largest Presbyterian church of New York. Mr. Curtis said he represented the ideal of Christian hope and faith, compared to which all other religious systems were lacking. The text for the evening was "These Three Men," who represented respectively radicalism, individualism and historic Christianity. While writing of the service it would be amiss not to mention the excellent singing of the choir which consisted of eight finely trained voices. These were Mrs. Huntington, whose sweet tones have so long been heard at service, Mrs. Barrett, Miss Schmidt, Miss Campbell, Dr. Doane, E. G. Patterson, Balie Johnson, Vine Phelps and the organist, Mrs. Patterson.

Death of Linus Hubbard.

News has just reached here of the death in Buffalo, N. Y., of Mr. Linus Hubbard, which occurred last Saturday. The death is particularly touching. His residence in Oregon failed to substitute his love for his old home, and on his arrival there he busied himself in walking around, noting the changes which have occurred during his absence. The weather was inclement, and he caught a severe cold, terminating in pneumonia and his death.

Mr. Hubbard, while here, was an earnest and enthusiastic worker for an open river. He spent considerable time and money in the agitation. He was well and favorably known here, and news of his death cannot but prove a shock to all who knew the kind, courteous gentleman.

Sunshine comes, no matter how dark the clouds are, when the woman who is borne down by woman's troubles turns to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If her life is made gloomy by the chronic weaknesses, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, they are completely cured. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she has new life and strength.

"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful, invigorating tonic and a soothing and strengthening nervine, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor. For every "female complaint" and disturbance, it is the only remedy so sure and unfailing that it can be guaranteed.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

WHERE IS BEN M'ATEE?

He Was Last Seen at the Umatilla House, Nov. 1st.

The sensation of today has been the disappearance of Ben McAtee of Tygh. He was last seen on the 1st of November in The Dalles, where he had several hundred dollars in his pockets. He paid every bill that he owed in town, and paid his newspaper subscriptions to that date and stopped the papers. While in the Chronicle office he stated that he was going to square up and leave the country.

"Where are you going?" he was asked.

"God only knows," replied, Mr. McAtee.

Later he went to the Umatilla house, and announced that he was going to Cove, Union county. He took the night train and he has not since been heard from. His friends have received no reply to letters, and becoming alarmed have sent his description to the sheriffs of the different counties in Eastern Oregon.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Hon. F. P. Mays of Portland is in the city.

Miss Lulu Bird returned this morning from Chicago.

County Judge John Fulton of Sherman county, is in the city.

Mr. E. G. Eubanks of Oakland, Douglas county, in this state, favored this office with a very pleasant call last evening.

Mr. R. H. Darnielle favored the Chronicle office with a pleasant call today. He also presented us with some fine samples of potatoes of the Beauty of Hebron variety. They are simply immense in size. They were grown on hill uplands without any irrigation, save a slight sprinkle of rain in June.

Tuesday.

Mr. R. Booten, a stockman of Sherman county, is in the city today.

Mr. Jos. Turner has just returned from a business trip to Nebraska.

Sheriff Ward returned from Salem last night, where he had been with Strom.

Mr. E. C. Warren has returned from a three months' trip in the Willamette country, where he has been introducing the S. B. remedies.

BORN.

In The Dalles, Nov. 18th, to the wife of W. H. Glasius, a son.

Give the Horses Water.

A very kind act to the farmer and his horse would be the placing of free water troughs in two or three different places in the city where they would be easily accessible. The expense would be small, but would show a consideration which would please farmers and pave the way for a lasting friendship. Such acts as these are really profitable and it is surprising that watering troughs have not been built before. The hard-working laboring man very often curses his lot in what little time he has got left to think, but deprive him of a cup of water at any time he is disposed to take a drink, and he would howl with well founded indignation. The poor slave of a horse has no way of showing that he wants water and no way to protest if it is denied him, and the placing of these troughs are due from humanity to these dumb beasts of burden, for as it is a team very often is compelled to go without water from the time they leave home till they return. To repeat, THE CHRONICLE believes that the placing of these troughs would please the farmer, and urges the city council to take measures for their erection as soon as possible.

Advertised Letters.

Following is the list of letters remaining in the postoffice at The Dalles uncalled for, Friday, Nov. 17th, 1893. Persons calling for same will give date on which they were advertised:

About Ben McAtee.

Mrs. Luckey writes from Union that her husband, J. C. Luckey, saw Ben McAtee in Union on Nov. 2d, the day after he left here, and had a short conversation with him. He said he had intended to leave on the stage to see a man on business, but as the stage was gone he would go on horseback, and that he must have been misinformed as to the time of the stage leaving, as this was in the forenoon and the stage left at 2 p. m.

Mr. Geo. S. Krauss, who has been with me for the last eight years, will remain with Mr. Campbell. All those who have unsettled business with me can make settlement with Mr. Krauss in my absence.

I wish to thank those who have generously given me their patronage.

THE MARKETS.

Poultry and Eggs Advancing.—The Wheat Market Quiet.

TUESDAY, Nov. 21st.—The pleasant weather has not given any reason for an increase of trade in business lines. Locally the market is quiet in all its branches. In produce there is no change, either in supply or quotations from last report. The only scarcity to note is that of eggs, and dealers are paying 30 cents cash per dozen. Butter is dull on the market at former quotations.

The poultry supply is increasing, presumably on account of the near approach of the Thanksgiving season, and the market is weak in consequence.

Green fruit is in large supply and good keeping apples are quoted at 50 cents per box. Early winter at 40 cents per box.

The wheat market is quiet. The Dalles buyers are paying 43 to 46 cents per bushel for good merchantable and milling wheat. The advices from Europe and the eastern cities are such as to give the impression that there are no anticipations for an immediate improvement in prices.

Are your children subject to croup? If so, you should never be without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a certain cure for croup, and has never been known to fail. There is no danger in giving this Remedy in large and frequent doses, as it contains nothing injurious. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.
