A DYNAMITE SCHEM

London Police Make An Important Discovery.

THEY FIND A TIN CAN FULL

The Owner Came From the United States—French Troops on the Frontier.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—In connection with the arrest of a man at Hamstead yesterday, the police searched the rooms of a man named Schneider, just arrived from the United States. He saw them coming and decamped. They found in the room a tin can containing 24 pounds of dynamite in cakes. Before opening it, it was immersed in a cistern, where it fused and foamed over the sides of the receptacle. It was then dispatched to the government explosive laboratory. There it was ascertained that it contained fuses and all the apparatus necessary for explosions, and that it would have had a terribly destructive effect. The police expect to make a large number of arrests in connection with the affair, as they believe they have discovered a genuine dynamite plot.

The Irish nationalists scout the idea that Schneider had anything to do with the British physical force section. They believe his name is enough to stamp him as a German anarchist, probably from New York or Chicago, supplying anarchists in France, Austria or Spain with explosives.

The Evening Standard adds to the excitement by announcing that the police have discovered several bombs in a well safe in the West End.

DOLPH AFTER GROVER

The President Arraigned on the Hawaiian Affair.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—In the senate yesterday Senator Dolph addressed that body on that part of the president's message relating to Hawaii. He began by expressing his surprise at the utterance of the president in his message. Dolph said he could not conceive it possible the administration had determined upon the forcible overthrow of the existing government and the restoration of a corrupt and licentious queen. If such had been the intention of the administration, the expression by the press of the country of almost unanimous public opinion against such a course, he believed, would have changed the purpose of the administration and have caused the president to modify his instructions to the American minister to Hawaii.

Dolph read a part of the reference of the president in his message to Hawaii and asked whether the report of the personal representative of the president acting under secret instructions and conducting an ex parte examination was entitled to more credence than the official report of the former American minister to Hawaii, and of American naval officers and representatives of the Hawaiian government to this country, and of information received from the Christian and intelligent persons of Hawaii since the revolution.

Troops on the Italian Frontier.

ROME, Dec. 5.—Riforma publishes a letter which affirms that there are 40,000 French troops echeloned between Nice and Barcelonnette, with large advance posts within a few yards of the Italian frontier. Along the same line the French forces are being gradually advanced toward the frontier. There are immense quantities of war material at their disposal, and they appear to be prepared for a sudden attack. The writer calls the attention of the Italian government to the seriousness of this situation.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Disaster that Would Result from the Tariff Bill.

Washington, Dec. 1, 1893.

The Cleveland tariff bill has been before the public four days and the most careful study fails to find one single redeeming feature therein. It would, if enacted a law, turn over the cream of the American market, the finest in the world, to Americans in exchange therefor glittering promises of an increase in the foreign trade of the United States, promises which are not believed in even those who have made them. It is admitted that free wool would put an end to the production of wool in this country and that free iron ore and coal would cause foreign coal and iron ore to be used exclusively in the neighborhood of the Atlantic seaboard and that American iron ore and coal will be used nowhere except at places so far in the interior that the freight rates will allow them to compete with foreign products.

These are only specimens of the manner in which American industries have been treated by this bill. The same holds good throughout the bill. There is hardly a single industry of any consequence in the United States that is not struck at in some way. And as if that were not evil enough to be contained in a single bill, this one changes the method of imposing the duty upon many of the articles which it leaves upon the dutiable list from specific to ad valorem, a system which has been condemned by nearly every secretary of the treasury the country has had as one that encourages fraud and puts a premium upon deception. The bill is dishonest in every way. While purporting to be a tariff for revenue its makers estimate that it would produce $50,000,000 a year less than the McKinley law. It leaves the sugar bounty, which the democrats claimed to oppose on constitutional grounds and provides for its continuance eight years, dropping a quarter of a cent each year. The question naturally arises, how can a bounty of 13 1/2 cents be constitutional if a bounty of 2 cents was unconstitutional?

There is, however, one consoling thing about this bill. It is so utterly bad and vicious that it cannot possibly become a law in its present shape, although Mr. Cleveland's power may be sufficiently strong to force it through the house without amendment, but of that there are doubts. The constituents of democratic members who will feel the reductions in wages and loss of employment will make themselves heard and felt as soon as they are brought to a realizing sense of the injury to themselves that is contained in the bill. Many believe that the bill has been made public in its present shape to feel the public pulse and that the feature which prove most obnoxious will later on be eliminated or modified by a democratic caucus. The report of the republican minority of the house ways and means committee, upon which work is now being pushed, promises to be a document that will make republican converts by the thousand. It will probably be ready by the last of next or the first of the week after.

The democrats of the ways and means committee are still undecided about a single feature of the internal revenue bill, which they will have to prepare to meet the big deficiency created by their tariff bill. They wish to include the income tax, but so many vigorous protests have been filed against it by leading democrats that it is not certain they will.

Secretary Herbert, not having a son to take care of, has introduced a new variety of nepotism by appointing his son-in-law chief clerk of the navy department.

It is certain that Mr. G. D. Johnson, of Louisiana, who was the only democratic member of the civil service commission, did not enjoy his Thanksgiving dinner. Cause why? He was promptly removed from office by Mr. Cleveland this week. Mr. Johnson has ever since the democratic administration came into office acted as though he thought it was his duty to stand by the most outrageous violations of the civil service law, in favor of democrats, rather than to enforce that law. He has been going from bad to worse in that direction, and when the time came to prepare the annual report of the commission, which is now in the hands of Mr. Cleveland, there was an open rupture between him and his republican colleagues, and he refused to sign their report and wrote one of his own. That brought matters to a crisis and Commissioner Roosevelt told Mr. Cleveland that he would not remain on the commission if Johnson did. And Johnson didn't. Prof. Proctor, of Kentucky, has been appointed to the vacancy.

GROVER BACKS DOWN

Thinks He Will Give Up the Restoration Act.

NEW INSTRUCTION SENT WILLIS

President Will Lay the Entire Matter Before Congress with Full Information.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—The Examiner's Washington correspondent telegraphs that he has succeeded in securing some inside information in reference to the administration's plans in dealing with the Hawaiian question. The purpose of President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham now is not to attempt to restore Queen Liliuokalani by force, but to lay the entire question before congress and secure the sanction of the legislative branch to any new move on the islands. Definite instructions have been sent to Minister Willis not to take any decided action until further instructions are sent him. It seems certain that new instructions have been sent him to this effect by the Corwin. It is believed now that the president and secretary of state, from information received from Willis, have decided that the queen cannot be restored without force and that this course cannot be followed without the sanction of congress.

Grover and His Instructions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—In its editorial comment on the Hawaiian situation this morning, the Chronicle says: "All that we can see and judge is that Mr. Willis has found that he cannot carry out his orders, and that he is awaiting further instructions. But it was Mr. Cleveland's duty to have told congress as much; to have communicated the nature if not the text of his instructions, and for his neglect in this regard he should be called to account."

The Call has this to say: "Suggestion was made some days ago that Minister Willis needs reeving. He spreads over too much space. When he assumes that Grover Cleveland holds the fate of the islands in his hands, he forgets that Grover Cleveland voluntarily relinquished the right of control over the islands which was offered the government of the United States. Undoubtedly the minister may order the marines to be landed to protect the lives and property of American residents, but if this force is so directed as to pull down one government and set up another, somebody will have to answer."

Hitt's Hawaiian Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Hitt, ex-chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs, today introduced two resolutions bearing on the Hawaiian policy of the government, the first calling for the papers in the case and the second as follows: "It is the sense of the house that intervention by the government of the United States, its representatives or armed forces in the affairs of a friendly and recognized government, to disturb or overthrow it and to substitute a monarchy therefor, is contrary to the policy and traditions of the republic and the spirit of the constitution."

Hot in Peru.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—A cable from Lima says: "The legation of Ecuador, as well as the consulates of that republic here and at Callao, have been closed, and the minister of Ecuador and the consul at Lima have taken refuge on board the British ship Hyacinth. Citizens of Ecuador now in Peru have been placed under German protection. The delimitation of the frontier of Ecuador and Peru will be submitted to arbitration."

He Saw the Sea Serpent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The steamer American, Captain Voge, arrived this morning from Rotterdam. The first officer reports sighting a sea serpent December 2. The serpent was apparently fully 100 feet long and thrashed the water with its tail like the propeller of an ocean steamer. It is colored a darkish brown. It was only in view a few minutes.

BELLINGER'S RULING.

Important Point Against the Indicted Smugglers.

TELEGRAM.
Judge Bellinger has thrown a cannon ball into the smugglers' camp by announcing in open court that he is convinced he erred in the ruling made in the Dunbar trial that conviction could not be had on the evidence of accomplices without corroborative testimony. The court said:

"In that case I ruled that there would be no conviction without the testimony of other than accomplices. I did this without investigation. I have since investigated it, and I find the testimony of an accomplice is sufficient evidence for the jury to convict if they believe the testimony is true. I make this statement now so that counsel will not be taken by surprise. I am satisfied I made a mistake in that ruling, and I hasten to correct it at the earliest possible moment."

The ruling, which Judge Bellinger stated was made in error, was that on which he based the instructions in his charge to the jury that conviction could not be had on eight of the fourteen counts in the indictments against Dunbar, because there was no testimony corroborating that of Blum, Garthorne, Jackling and Berg, who were accomplices, and it was on the remaining six counts in the two indictments that the jury returned the verdict of guilty against Dunbar.

NEWS NOTES.

The president has nominated J. B. Doe of Wisconsin to be assistant secretary of war.

The Brazilian cruiser America, bound for Rio from New York, was disabled by some unknown member of its crew and will be delayed several weeks.

A heroic statue of Gen. James Shields was unveiled in Statuary hall in the national capital yesterday. General Shields was a hero in the Mexican war, and also in the rebellion. When Oregon was a territory in the early 50s he was appointed governor of the territory by Franklin Pierce.

The annual report of Attorney-General Olney was admitted to congress yesterday. It calls attention to the rapidly increasing business of the federal courts, and says the two most important decisions of the supreme court during the year were those on the Chinese exclusion act and hat trimming cases, the former as establishing a principle, the latter on account of the claims which may arise under it against the government, estimated at from $10,000,000 to $80,000,000.

The United States grand jury in Portland have made a report to the court, that they have found nineteen indictments in addition to those reported, against opium smugglers. Among them are Attorney Giam, O. Holman, Major John Wilson, who is now in British Columbia, Captain John Ross, of the steamer Wilmington and lately of the steamer Haytian Republic, Attorney P. J. Bannon, J. E. Marks, law student in Holman's office, C. J. Mulkey, ex-special agent of the U. S. treasury department.

After 10 days' confinement in the county jail, O. P. Mason and Ben P. Watson were released yesterday on $7000 bonds furnished by Mary Mason and George Ham. The imprisoned publishers of the Mercury did not look any the worse for their confinement. The bonds on appeal to the supreme court for a new trial were in each case $1000, and $1000 each on the last indictment returned against them, wherein they were charged with publishing a malicious article upon C. F. S. Wood. The total amount of bonds furnished there was $4000.

Too Much Salary.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 6.—In the United States district court this morning Judge Dundy denied the application of the receivers of the Union Pacific to fix their salaries at $18,000 each per annum. The court also ordered the receivers to deposit funds only in United States depositories. They were instructed to turn over to the treasurer of the road sufficient funds to operate.

His Forthcoming Message on Hawaiian Affairs.

ALL CORRESPONDENCE TO BE GIVEN

Theories Advanced That the President Will Recommend Forcible Restoration.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—It is not certain yet what course the executive will take in response to the resolution of the senate calling for information on the Hawaiian episode. The information will be given, but whether as a formal response to the senate resolution or in a special message from the president, which takes no note of the resolution has not yet been determined. The information is prepared and can be sent in at any time. It was apparently put in shape to accompany the president's forthcoming special message before the resolution passed the senate yesterday. There is excellent authority for saying that Minister Willis' present orders are to employ no force of arms. It is probable the instructions by the Corwin are for him to proceed in his effort to persuade the provisional government to allow Liliuokalani to be restored. It is intimated from a responsible source that the ex-queen declines to go back on the throne unless by consent of the provisional government leaders, or a guarantee of protection by the United States. There had been theories advanced that after hearing again from Minister Willis, and learning positively that the queen cannot be restored, except by the use of the United States troops, the president will present to congress the case of the queen as a wronged monarch, whose government was overthrown by this government, and assert that it is now the duty of the United States to restore the former condition even by using force. This is the idea advanced by the friends of the administration.

A TRAGEDY ON SHIPBOARD.

An Obnoxious Bully Killed by a Utah Stockman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Advices have just been received by mail from San Blas, Mexico, to the effect that on the afternoon of the 18th of last November, James F. Cully, a steerage passenger on board the steamer City of Sydney, from San Francisco for Panama, was shot through the brain with a revolver by Albert Spinich, a stockman of Utah, who was also a steerage passenger. It appears that Cully was of a very obnoxious, bullying disposition, and took offense because Spinich wore spectacles. After abusing Spinich he started up from the supper table saying, "And you with the glasses I'll fix;" advancing at the same time in a threatening manner. Spinich immediately backed away, drawing his revolver as he did so, and when Cully was within striking distance he fired. The captain of the vessel exonerated Spinich from all blame, and Cully's remains were buried at sea the following morning. On the day after the burial Jose Jacintho de Brun Costa, an elderly passenger, became a raving maniac in consequence of having witnessed the tragedy, and when the steamer reached Mazatlan he sprang overboard and tried to swim ashore. He was with difficulty rescued and taken back to the vessel.

Thousands of People in Chicago Without Food or Shelter.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—The distress among the unemployed is so great that every night 4000 find lodgings on the cold floors in the corridor of the city hall. These are only a few of the great number who have no place to sleep. Five hundred sleep in the chairs in the Pacific Garden mission. From 1,400 to 1,500 find lodgings on the stone floors in the cells in the police stations. Last night it was announced that eight churches will be thrown open to furnish lodgings for those who have no other. The men will be given a cup of coffee and rolls in the morning. This action was forced upon Christian people by the fact that for the last month the unemployed and unsheltered thousands have been crowding around engine rooms in buildings and other places where there was heat and shelter, begging for a place where they might be protected from the cold. Herry Monroe, superintendent of the Pacific Garden mission, brought these facts to the attention of the churches with the result above stated.

Nicaragua and Honduras Fighting.
