HONOLULU'S ALIEN ELEMENT. From its very announcement the symptoms of depression, so pronounced in the early summer, are again apparent. This is no free trade country. Again pronounced against it, but, undismayed, the democrats keep bringing it up for perennial inspection. They should let it alone, and if they cannot resurrect some other old issue that stands a better chance of adoption, set their wits to work and make a new one. In consequence of the projected bill, wool immediately tumbled to nothing. Free wool was of course looked for and is much regretted, but free wool means a complete transformation of the industry, the relearning of the whole business, and the re-equipment of our mills. Before the domestic manufacturers can adjust themselves to these new conditions under these proposed rates of duty the foreigners will have had opportunity to possess themselves of the domestic market. There will be an interval of a year or two in which they will have things all their own way in this market, and in erty valuation of $35,500,000 in the the meanwhile a considerable percentage of existing machinery will retire permanently from business in despair at the future prospects. The rate of wages in those mills which do operate will be lowered from 20 to 30 percent. The bill minority in the islands as a whole, but is a terrible blow to the wool industry.

Mutton sheep are in good supply and $1.75 to $2.15 per head is the market range.

The hog market shows a decline in prices. Yesterday a fine lot of fat porkers were sold at $1.40 per 100 pounds on foot. The top figures, a leading dealer told us today, would not exceed $4.50 per 100 pounds. His opinion was the farmers were rushing deliveries of pork beyond present requirements and were they to hold until after the holidays better prices would be obtained.

The grain market is unchanged so to speak, although it was somewhat off, as buyers were loath to put out money on the small margin in sight at present prices. In eastern markets reports say there is a firm undertone.

THEY LOST THE WRONG MEN. It Was Only the Good Sallors Who Deserted the Foreign Boats.

The number of desertions that actually occurred while the foreign ships of war were here has not been published, but since no complaint has been heard from the commanders generally the number cannot have been large. Down at Old Point Comfort, just as the ships were weighing anchor to move up to this city, a reporter of the New York Sun asked the captain of one of the English ships how many men he lost in Virginia.

"Only four, sir," said the captain, "but they were the wrong four. When we dropped anchor here I called np a number of men that I had had my eves on for a long time, and I said to them: 'Look here,' I said, 'you're a bad hot. You're always making trouble aboard ship. I'll tell you what I'll do with you. I'll give you five shillings apiece if you'll cut and ran when you go ashore here.

"That's what I said to them, but they're with me yet. You can't get rid of had pennies like them. They'd rather stay and stir up mischief. It's the good men that we lost, and more of them take French leave in New York. It's the ambitious, push-ahead fellows who think they'll get to be Vanderbilts if they have half a chance those are the kind that turn up missing every time.
