SUNK IN THE EARTH.

A Florida Lake That Vanished from Sight.

Where Small Steamboats Used to Be a Thriving Traffic There is Now Nothing But a Few Small Pools of Water.

There was recently printed an account of the disappearance of Alachua lake, in Florida, a lake that was so well established that a steamboat line was maintained on it.

The overflow from Newman's lake forms a large creek named Prairie creek, which wended its way through Payne's prairie to Alachua sink, one of the curiosities of the state.

For several years the lake has been gradually lowering. The elevation of the water above sea level as given by the Savannah, Florida & Western railroad some years ago, is sixty-four feet.

Witchcraft Still Flourishes. A correspondent of London Notes and Queries says that "it is said that the belief in witchcraft is rapidly dying out, with other ancient superstitions."

Paper Wheels. A Pullman car is much easier to ride in than one of the ordinary cars. You attribute this to the superior springs, perhaps.

When you have tried so-called remedies for dyspepsia, headache and biliousness, with no benefit, let your next trial be Simmons Liver Regulator. It has never failed in relieving and curing.

GALLANT SOLDIERS.

DAVID MCCOY, of Redlands, Cal., has just celebrated his one hundred and second birthday. He was a soldier in the war of 1812 of Col. R. M. Johnson's First regiment of Kentucky volunteers.

The duke of Connaught's promotion to the rank of full general has been received after a period of nearly twenty-five years' active service.

GEN. RUTTS SAXTON, U. S. A. (retired), has been awarded a medal of honor for gallant service against the confederates at Harper's Ferry in May, 1862.

ANCIENT TITLES.

The Jewish title rabbi meant master or teacher. The most dignified title among the Hollanders was Stadtholder.

The word captain, so often used in the Bible, simply means officer. The name Ptolemy was adopted as a title by the later kings of Egypt.

The shah of Persia pretends to date his title back for a thousand years. Moses appointed judges for the Jews to aid him in the administration of justice.

The Jewish scribes were the lawyers, registers and notaries public of their nation.

The most splendid and substantial title of the middle ages was that of doge of Venice.

The title prince is from a Latin word signifying leader, and dates from the Roman empire.

The judges who governed the Jews were for the most part the heads of their families or clans.

The centurion, as the name implies, was the commander of a hundred men in the Roman army.—Globe-Democrat.

INDUSTRIAL POINTS.

The annual manufacture in Europe at the present time, according to the latest statistics, is something like 1,850,000 square yards of lookingglass.

TWO BASKET mills at Dover, Del., turned out 3,000 peach baskets per day during the summer. The work is done with great ease, rapidity and precision.
