LOCAL BREVITIES.

Wednesday's Daily.

Mr. Blandford, the weather observer, predicts for today and tomorrow rain and warmer weather.

The old fire engine is home again after its disipation at Oregon City. Quite a number of the boys arrived home last night, and the balance will be up today.

The injunction suit against the board appointed by the legislature to locate the branch asylum in Eastern Oregon, will be heard by the supreme court at Salem tomorrow.

A bridge crew in charge of L. Neff came up from Hood River this morning, and will leave for Riparia this evening. The boarding cars, which have been in use for some time, needed repairs in the shape of new boxing, which they received here today.

The county commissioners' court is in session, the regular meeting beginning this morning. Quite a number of bills have been filed today but these will be held over until the November term, and only such bills as reached the clerk before 4 o'clock yesterday will be acted upon.

The regular subscription price of the WEEKLY CHRONICLE is $1.50 and the regular price of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is $1.50. Any one subscribing for THE CHRONICLE and paying for one year in advance can get both THE CHRONICLE and the WEEKLY OREGONIAN for $2.00. All old subscribers paying their subscriptions a year in advance will be entitled to the same offer.

Thursday's Daily.

Staats and Nolin will start their thrasher Monday morning next at Dufur.

Elder J. W. Jenkins will preach at Dufur Saturday evening and Sunday morning and evening.

Jos. H. Warner will be examined by the county judge and Dr. Hollister this afternoon as to his sanity.

Blakeley & Houghton have had their drug store thoroughly repainted by that master artist Paul Krefl. It is good for the eyes just to get a glimpse of it.

One by one the boys drift home from Oregon City, but as the tickets are only good until tonight, it is probable most of them will be here on the next train.

Henry Pitman broke his arm last Sunday morning his team running away and throwing him out on the hill near Enderbury postoffice.

Salvation Army Saturday night, dedication of the flags, Sunday night swearing in recruits at Congregational church. Everybody welcome.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Epworth League will be held at the M. E. church, Friday evening, Sept. 7th, at 7:30. Members are requested to be present.

George Nolin fell off his house at Dufur, but outside of tearing his thumbs received no damage. He was cleaning out a stovepipe and got the usual reward for such work.

But little wheat has reached the market yet, farmers all being busy thrashing. The price remains at 30 cents a bushel, though choice lots have brought 31 and 32 cents at the mill.

The case against F. M. Bean, of which we spoke the other day as being held before Commissioner Huntington, was dismissed after the evidence was all in. It seems that the whole matter is one of persecution instead of prosecution, and Mr. Bean is to be congratulated on coming out on top.

If the lady who put a notice in this family journal the other day stating that she wanted work in a small family and requesting those needing her services to call at Herrin's gallery, will call there herself she will find several dozen chances to go to work awaiting her. Mr. Herrin says she forgot to leave her address, and unless she can be found he fears he will have to go out as a hired girl to save his life.

John C. Hertz, the popular young merchant, gives notice today in our advertising columns of a special sale of neckwear tomorrow and Saturday. Just go down and treat yourself to a handsome tie and see your wife smile when you get home. It works just the same way on your best girl provided you have no wife. He has also some of the ties that bind our hearts in love, etc., and warranted to make your mother-in-law look pleasant.

The party consisting of Ed Martin, Charley Clark and Billy McCrum arrived home the other day from an extended trip to the southern part of the state. They went as far as the headwaters of the McKenzie river, and had a splendid trip. Mr. Martin tells us they only saw one newspaper from the time they left until they returned, and that was a copy of the WEEKLY CHRONICLE, which they found at Mr. Riggs' place, near the Three Sisters. The boys absorbed that paper, which is one of the reasons why they took on fat and caught fish. THE CHRONICLE is good to take whenever you find it.

Friday's Daily.

Don't forget Blind Tom at the Baldwin Opera House Monday night.

Blind Tom, the wonder of the musical world, at Baldwin's opera house Monday night.

The wool is getting pretty well cleaned out, so that there is plenty of room in the warehouses for wheat.

There was quite a heavy rain in the section between Bake Oven and Prineville Wednesday, just where it will do lots of good by starting the grass, and can do no harm, as there is but little grain raised there.

The planing mill and box factory belonging to the Oregon Lumbering Company at Baker City, were destroyed by fire last week. Loss $25,000. The same company owns a mill at Hood River and another at Chenoweth, Wash.

We have heard several persons express the opinion that the remains of Emil Schutz should be brought here for interment. It is probable that some time this will be done, as he has many friends here who will not soon forget him.

Jos. H. Warner was examined by Dr. Hollister and Judge Blakeley yesterday afternoon and pronounced insane. He has an idea that he is possessed of vast wealth and issues checks of large denominations to those who come near him. He will be taken to Salem tomorrow.

Hood River ought to have quite a number of carloads of apples to ship this fall. Last year about thirty carloads were shipped and there should be two or three times as many this year. Next year thousands of young trees will yield their first crop and then that section will begin to flourish. With $75,000 worth of strawberries and more than that amount of apples for shipment, the people down that way ought to be reasonably happy.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Murphy received a warrant from Portland yesterday commanding him to arrest F. M. Bean and —Horne, charged with opening mail belonging to another. This is a continuation of the case tried here the other day before Commissioner Huntington. It strikes us that Bean had better capitulate, the woman seems determined to have him and under the circumstances he had better marry than go to the penitentiary though in this particular case we don't blame him for taking the latter alternative. Some things are worse than being shut up for ten years.

John W. Watson and wife to C C Fallmins, 32 lots in Erwin and Watson addition to Hood River; $300.

John W. Adams to Edward Wilson, sec 14 sec 9, tp 2 s of r 14 e; $2000.

For a Kindergarten.

Mrs. Dunlap of Portland, who is superintendent of the Kindergarten schools in that city is visiting friends here. She is an enthusiast in her profession, and desires to meet the ladies of The Dalles before she leaves to talk over with them the advisability of organizing a school here. The Congregational church has been secured for tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and a cordial invitation is extended to all interested in the matter to attend, not as listeners to a lecture but in a friendly way talk over the situation, to the end that some understanding may be arrived at.

Blind Tom in Town.

The many admirers of Blind Tom, who were shocked by the report that he was lost in the Johnstown disaster will be glad to learn that the report was unfounded, and that Blind Tom is well and doing well. He will delight large audiences at the Madison Street Theater October 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th. He is as interesting as ever, and all who have heard him should hear him again, and those who have never heard him will lose a rare treat if they fail to attend his wonderful recitals.—The Conservator, Chicago, Ill.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is one of the few remedies which are recommended by every school of medicine. Its strength, purity, and efficacy are too well established to admit of doubt as to its superiority over all other blood-purifiers whatever. Ayer's Sarsaparilla leads all.

The Original Blind Tom.

Blind Tom, the old, original Blind Tom, who has been before the public for nearly forty years, and who is the musical wonder of the century, will give an exhibition of his wonderful talent at the Baldwin opera house Monday evening next. Blind Tom never had a moment's teaching, being indeed almost an idiot, and incapable of learning anything, but he has the most remarkable memory for music and anything connected therewith. His talent was first discovered by his mistress hearing someone playing on the piano and discovering that it was the little blind pickaninny, then 6 years of age. We append the following from the Cleveland Plaindealer:

"The Star theater was filled last evening, where the famous negro wonder, Blind Tom, accomplished many surprising things in the way of piano playing. While Tom did many things that were remarkable, the most wonderful was his playing of an air he could not have heard before. He invited any man in the audience to step on the stage and play any selection he chose and he would repeat it right after him. Mr. Wilson G. Smith, the composer, accepted the invitation and played one of his own compositions as yet unpublished, and of so recent a date that it has had no public performances anywhere. The blind negro sat down on the stool as soon as Mr. Smith had left it, and repeated it, every note being true and correct. He also played Gottschalk's Last Hope, Rossini's Moses in Egypt, and several other numbers. A peculiar part of his program was his playing two airs at the same time and singing a different song. He also repeated a speech he heard in 1860 delivered by Stephen A. Douglas, after which he played a composition of his own.—Cleveland Plain Dealer, March 11, 1889.

Some Dirty Lines.

The case of which we spoke a week ago has finally gotten into the courts, making its first appearance yesterday in Justice Davis' court under the title of the State against F. M. Bean, who is charged with seduction, committed on the serial or to be continued plan, and extending over a period of three years. Justice Davis had insisted upon the private prosecutor putting up the costs before he would entertain the action, so that when the district attorney moved to dismiss the action the court proceeded to collect the costs from her instead of making it a charge on the county. Last night the case took a new turn, being re-opened in the U. S. commissioners court, Mr. Bean being again the defendant and charged with opening a letter belonging to another. This matter was tried before Commissioner Huntington last night, the court being in session until 11 o'clock, at which hour it adjourned until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The whole matter belongs to Multnomah county, if it belongs anywhere, which we very much doubt, and the whole dirty washing should be sent there for renovation.

She Will Pay Her Debts.

The election yesterday in Klickitat county, Washington, was held to decide the question of validating the county indebtedness. It seems the county has issued warrants in a sum greater than allowed by the constitution, it being necessary to make the issue in order to carry on the affairs of the county. Reports from six precincts indicate that the debt has been validated by a large majority. The vote in these precincts is 245 for validation, 37 for repudiation. Unofficial reports from White Salmon indicate that there is a large majority in favor of paying the debt. We congratulate our neighbor on having escaped the disgrace the repudiation of her debt would have left forever upon her.

How Barnard Killed Hamilton.

The following account of the killing of Hamilton by Barnard at Condon, is clipped from the Telegram, being its correspondent's statement of the affair: "Monday morning at 10:40 Myron Hamilton was shot and killed at this place by James Barnard. Both are residents of the south end of this county. Barnard was tried and convicted here last spring for cattle stealing, and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. After being there a few days he was released by the supreme court for a new trial at Condon this month. Hamilton was a witness against him, and was at Sheriff Wilcox house. Monday, when Barnard rode into town, he put his horse in a stable, walked up to Wilcox's and shook hands with Mrs. Wilcox. He called Hamilton out, walked up the street with him, then back, and when near Wilcox's front gate, drew his revolver and shot Hamilton in the back of the head twice, once in the back and once in the left arm. One shot went by and struck the residence of G. W. Rinehart. Five shots were fired. Hamilton fell dead against Wilcox's gate. Barnard then ran to the stable, mounted his horse and rode out of town, waving his revolver at the citizens to frighten them back. A posse started in pursuit.

"News came in late last night that Barnard was, at 2 o'clock p. m., twenty-five miles from here, his horse nearly fagged out, and the posse within a mile of him. Barnard was within a mile of his brother Elmer's, Cant Zachary's and his brother-in-law, Brown's, beyond Butte creek and on West Fork.

"The Barnhards and Zacharys are the same chaps that earned fame in connection with the Roslyn bank robbery. Indictments were out against two or three of them now in this county.

"The coroner's jury returned a verdict of 'premeditated and deliberate murder,' and named James Barnard as the murderer."

Some Lawn Tennis.

Monday being Labor day Messrs. J. C. Hostetler and Fred Wilson took advantage of it to visit Tygh and settle a little matter of expertness in the lawn tennis line, between themselves and some of the players of the game at that place. Doctor Powne was expected to meet them but he being sick the visitors found their loemen worthy of their steel in Mr. Charley Powne and Mr. Keo.

The game resulted as follows: 1st set—Tygh... 6 The Dalles... 3 2d set—Tygh... 8 The Dalles... 10 3d set—Tygh... 6 The Dalles... 2 4th set—Tygh... 2 The Dalles... 6 5th set—Tygh... 6 The Dalles... 3 And so The Dalles was fairly beaten. Both young gentlemen are delighted with their trip, and enthusiastic in their praises of the Tygh citizens. They expect to play a return game here in the near future.

Concerning Blind Tom.

Burgfield, who will have charge of receipts, and hereby authorize him to refund everyone their admission; and will also forfeit $1000 besides if they produce any other than the genuine and original Blind Tom, of musical fame, who was born near Columbus, Georgia, in 1849, May 25th, and managed for many years by Col. Jno. J. Bethune, son of Gen'l Bethune, who formerly owned Blind Tom as a slave.

DELL M. WILLIS, Bos. M'g'r Blind Tom.

Probate Court.

The probate court was in session yesterday for its regular term, but as it is always open for the transaction of business not much accumulates for term time. The following business was transacted:

In the matter of the estate of Nancy Stanley, an aged and infirm person, it was ordered that the real property belonging to the estate, 140 acres, be sold at public sale on the premises.

In the matter of the estate of C. E. Haight, deceased, Mrs. P. J. Haight was appointed administratrix.

In the matter of the estate of E. E. Griffin insane, real property ordered sold at private sale.

Death of Emil Schutz.

A letter from the secretary of Hobah lodge No. 32, I. O. O. F., to Columbia lodge of this city, received yesterday brought the sad news of the death of our old townsman and friend Emil Schutz, at Canyon City, Monday morning at 2 o'clock. The funeral took place under the direction of the Odd Fellows, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Emil Schutz was one of God's own noblemen; the most genial, the most generous, the most charitable and the most unselfish of men. He was a pioneer, coming to California in 1850 as a sailor. His first venture in California was in unloading ships at which he made money rapidly, but spending with both hands he saved but little then he drifted into the mines at Yreka, and in 1862 went to Canyon City. He operated a stage line between that place and The Dalles, and finally located here. He was city marshal and so well did he fill the office that he was elected sheriff of Wasco county, at that time almost an empire in extent, filling the office two terms.

A short time ago he went to visit his son at Caleb being indisposed and believing the trip would be beneficial. About a week ago he wrote Dr. Logan that he was going to the hot springs and that if he was not better soon he would strike for home. Poor, genial, generous Emil! he has indeed, gone home. And at the glorious portals of the heavenly mansion, as he waits, unknown to him, the angels will see in both his rugged hands the evidence of generous deeds, of kindly charities, of acts unselfish, of other's burdens lightened and other's sorrows ministered to; of love, and sympathy, and tenderness as pure and deep as ever flowed from out the human heart. And these shall weigh against such frailties as he, being human, had, and will out weigh them full an hundred times.

Barnard Kills Himself.

The killing of Hamilton by Barnard at Condon caused intense excitement in that neighborhood, and a posse at once started in pursuit of the murderer. A telephone from Arlington this morning states that yesterday the posse had tracked Barnard to his brother's house, that as they approached Barnard placed a revolver against his forehead and blew his brains out.

We had quite a long conversation with Judge Bennett last night concerning Barnard. The judge had just returned from Portland and was at the Umatilla waiting for the train, being bound for Heppner. He had not heard of the killing of Hamilton, and was shocked at the news. He was Barnard's attorney and describes him as of a kindly nature, but disposed to be morbid. From him we learn that Barnard's wife had grieved herself to death over his troubles, leaving a baby of a few months old at her death. That he was devoted to his wife, and Mr. Bennett is firmly of the opinion that brooding over his misfortunes had unsettled his mind.

The dispatch in question states that Barnard said just before killing himself that there were seven other men he intended to kill the day he killed Hamilton, but that he could not find them.

Heppner Notes.

Circuit court convened at Heppner yesterday. The docket is light and will be cleared this week. The contest case of Hayes vs. Harrington was thrown out of court. In the case of Ed Hall, who was bound over to the grand jury from Lexington for buying votes, the jury found not a true bill.

What is beginning to arrive at the warehouses, and is of splendid quality. Reports from all parts of the county are that the yield is greater than was expected, 35 and 40 bushels being nothing uncommon.

Johnny—Pa, what's the difference between cannibals and other folks? Pa—Cannibals, my son, eat their enemies; other people generally go no further than to live on their friends and relatives.
