NEWS OF THE IVANHOE

Probable Fate of the Missing Vessel.

WENT DOWN WITH ALL ON BOARD

The Ship Was Seen in a Fierce Gale in Distress, and Then Suddenly Disappeared.

SEATTLE, Nov. 2.—The lumber schooner Fanny Dutard, Captain Peterson, arrived at Port Blakely yesterday. She reports that the missing Ivanhoe, with F. J. Grant, ex-minister to Bolivia, on board, probably sank on the afternoon of September 30.

"We left Port Blakely," said Captain Peterson, "on September 26 last, bound for Santa Barbara with lumber. We sailed out under a light wind and arrived at the cape on the 30th, where we found a strong southeast wind blowing. We saw a tug tow out a ship that same evening and drop her off the cape. That night it rained very heavily, and there was about a 60-mile-an-hour wind coming up over the ocean. About 12 o'clock I think it was, that same night we saw a ship to leeward of us. It continued blowing heavy from the southeast all night, and kept on till about 11 o'clock of the morning of the 30th, when it moderated. A ship was in company with us, but too far away for us to make out her name or what her cargo. She appeared to have a terrible list to starboard. At about 12:30 o'clock I was on the port tack and the other vessel was on the starboard tack, distant. I think, about four miles. She was apparently heaving to with lower topsails. We could see that something was wrong with her, for her list was in the wrong direction, I was not concerned much about her, for I expected we would run nearer together soon, and, having been up most of the night before, I went below about 1 o'clock and turned in. Twenty minutes later, or, as nearly as I can tell now, at 20 minutes past 1 o'clock, my first mate, Harry Staunton, came below, and, calling me, said that the ship had disappeared. I hastened on deck at once. The horizon was clear, and the ship had disappeared as if by magic. After looking for her from the deck without seeing her, I ran up into the rigging and swept the horizon in the direction the vessel had before occupied, but there was not a sign of her presence visible. I then kept the schooner off for 20 minutes to see if any ship's boats appeared on the water, or if any wreckage of any kind could be sighted. We could see nothing of this kind, so I went to work and hoisted the schooner again in double-reefed sails, but while we were in the vicinity we could see nothing of any boats or wreckage. The latitude we were in, as shown by the schooner's log, was 47° 53', longitude 127° 01' west, Cape Flattery bearing N. E., 3/4 E., and distance 95 miles."

It appears that Captain Peterson had not heard that the Ivanhoe was overdue, and probably lost, until he got back to Port Blakely, when hearing it spoken of, he at once connected her with the ship he saw founder at sea. The Fanny Dutard, instead of towing, sailed out and did not reach the cape till the 29th, one day later than the day the Ivanhoe is reported to have been cast off by the tug Tice. A storm is reported to have risen the evening of the 28th off the cape, and the Ivanhoe must have been unable to make any headway against it and remained close reefed not far off the cape.

Captain Peterson had no means of knowing if the vessel he saw on the afternoon and night of the 29th was the same that was near him on the morning of the 30th, but the presumption is that it was one and the same ship, and that ship must have been the Ivanhoe. She was a full-rigged vessel, without distinguishing features.

Capture of Fort Arthur.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 2.—It is announced here that the investment of Port Arthur by the Japanese forces by land and sea has been completed, and a forward movement of both Japanese armies in the direction of Moukden is being rapidly pushed. A portion of Field Marshal Count Oyama's force will attack Kir-Chow, on Gulf Lia-Tung, which is occupied by Chinese troops. Meanwhile General Nodzu's advance column is approaching Fung Wang, a fortified town on the main road between Wi-Ju and Moukden, to which all the Chinese troops retreated after leaving their positions north of the Yula river. The Japanese expect to defeat the Chinese at both places and then unite their columns before the walls of Moukden.

Rumored Trouble at Peru.

VICTORIA, Nov. 2.—Rumors have been afloat the past few days that the Pacific squadron had been ordered to Peru, that the British consulate at Callao had been attacked by revolutionists, and that members of the consul's family had been murdered. Although these reports cannot be traced to an authoritative source, the fact that H. M. S. Champion and the flagship Royal Arthur leave today for Callao would imply that there is some foundation for them. There has been an urgency about the movements of these war vessels during the past few days that can only indicate that their mission south is at least of important if not serious nature.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Inquiries made at the admiralty and foreign offices today show no orders have been issued for the British warships to depart from Vancouver or elsewhere. It is asserted no information has been received at these departments of the revolutionary trouble in Peru.

Newspaper Comment.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—All the French and German papers pay a high tribute to the memory of the czar, and especially praise him for maintaining the peace of Europe. The Krues Zeitung says: "He leaves an army such as a Russian ruler never before could boast, powerful and ready for battle."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The czar was self-willed, dogged and abrupt, but just. He abhorred all foreign influence, but especially that of Germany."

Chinese Victory Reported.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 2.—The native papers announce that the Chinese troops have re-taken Kiluen Chong after heavy fighting. The Japanese are said to have been driven out of that place with a loss of 3,000 men. It is reported on good authority that the Japanese are leaving Port Arthur and vicinity and are proceeding to join the main body of the Japanese troops marching upon Moukden.

Only a Case of Jim-Jams.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—August H. Appiarus, the grocer and liquor dealer taken into custody yesterday while barking, snarling and otherwise acting like a dog, was more violent this morning, and was placed in a padded cell. The doctors have diagnosed his case as that of delirium tremens, one of Appiarus' friends stating that he has been in a state of intoxication daily for two years.

McKinley's Dozen Speeches.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—Governor McKinley spoke to 45,000 people, making about a dozen speeches, today. Last night he went from Sandusky to Erie, Pa., by special train, and spoke there this morning to 2000. The country within a radius of 50 miles from Erie, was represented by large delegations. Tonight he spoke at Akron, to a crowd of 6000.

He Blames Cleveland.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2.—In an interview today ex-Governor Waller said: "Cleveland is acting like a great big boy. When the party is in danger personal differences should be cast aside. By his failure to support the party in New York, Cleveland has lost the respect of the democrats of the country."

Gresham Lost His Vote.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Gresham was prohibited by his physician from going to Chicago to vote today. The secretary had taken the trouble to go to Chicago and register, and was greatly disappointed to be compelled to lose his vote.

A Heavy Sentence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—James Coyne and Thomas O'Keefe, two young men, were sentenced to twenty years in the state prison by Judge Belcher this morning for beating and robbing an old woman named Mary Haggerty of $6.50.

Li Hung Chang Deposed.

NANKIN, Nov. 5.—An imperial decree has been received by the viceroy of Che-Kiang province to proceed to Tien-Tsin and relieve Li Hung Chang of the seals of acting vice-royalty of Chi-Li.

Killed His Mother and Father.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Without any provocation, William Gipps, a railway car inspector, shot his mother to death and fatally wounded his father today. He escaped.

A GRAND OVATION

Senator Hill's Reception at His Old Home.

COLORADO'S GOVERNOR FOR WAR

Cleveland Puts Up a Small Sum for the New York Campaign, But Rather Late.

The Funeral Cortage Will Pass Through a Wall of Cossacks.

LIVADIA, Nov. 3.—Arrangements have been completed for the removal of the remains of Alexander III to St. Petersburg. They are unusual and extraordinary. The minister of war will have the Russian army guarding the cortage the entire distance.

As the minister of war states, these large bodies of troops are to form guards of honor along the route. Every bridge over which the train carrying the imperial remains is to pass, will be absolutely in control of the military. At all large stations segments of infantry will patrol. All demonstrations of affection will be made in the rear of the living walls of troops.

From here to Odessa the train will pass through a continuous line of Cossacks. Trains will pick up these men and leave them at unprotected points, while the remains lie in force in Odessa. Movements of the forces began last night. By Sunday night the roads will be controlled by the war office.

These precautions are the result of nihilist threats and a plot that was unearthed at St. Petersburg. That some of the plotters would blow up the imperial trail with its dead and attendant living members of the czar's family, if the opportunity presented, there is no doubt.

Since the embalming of the czar's remains yesterday, the palace has been completely surrounded by palace dragoons. No strangers are permitted to approach the palace.

The czarina is completely prostrated. It was observed during the latter part of the czar's illness that the czarina's hair had become streaked with white.

Tonight it is said that Princess Alix, after the funeral, will go to Moscow on a visit to her sister, the Grand Duchess Sergius.

Claims of the Leaders.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Little work remains at congressional committee headquarters of either of the great parties before the battle royal Tuesday. Naturally the democratic chairman, Faulkner, and the republican chairman, Babcock, and the populist chairman, Taubeneck, all claim the next house, and are ready to prove their assertions.

It is noticeable, however, that Babcock is the most boastful, and by far the most extravagant in his estimate. He asserts his canvass shows that there will be 252 republican members elected, making a majority of 74.

It is evident that Faulkner believes the democrats will have a majority of seven or eight, although he will not allow himself to be pinned down to the exact number.

Taubeneck thinks Babcock crazy and that Faulkner shows sign of the same disease. Taubeneck is more certain than ever of the populists obtaining the balance of power and have already buried both of the old political parties.

Waite Preparing for War.

DENVER, Nov. 3.—Considerable uneasiness prevails in Denver over the outcome of the elections in this state Tuesday. Governor Waite has absolute control over the police department in this city, and he has not hesitated to intimate that any attempts to make fraudulent count or illegal voting will result in trouble. He has issued, secretly, a notice to the military and artillery companies to be in readiness to respond to his orders.

The sheriff has sworn in a large number of deputies to meet any intimidation by the police.

At Fort Logan, federal troops have been furnished full rounds of ammunition, and all preparations have been made for quick entrance into the city should a riot be started. It is generally rumored on the street that Governor Waite will make some pretext to cause the vote of Denver to be thrown out.

Princess Alix Will Not Have to Anathematize Her Own Faith.

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—A dispatch to the Tagblatt from St. Petersburg says rings were exchanged yesterday between czar Nicholas and Princess Alix. The funeral of the late czar has been fixed for between November 16 and 20, and the wedding of the czar and Princess Alix will take place a few days later. It is expected the czar will, upon this occasion, grant an extensive political amnesty.

A short time before the death of the czar he decided that the required anathema could be omitted from the document attesting the Princess Alix' abjuration of her former faith, after which the princess signed. The imperial proclamation was publicly read at Livadia today. People are swearing allegiance to the new emperor. The body of Alexander III will be embalmed.

Messages of sympathy and condolence continue to pour into the Russian embassy here and at Paris, Berlin and Vienna.

Special services to celebrate the accession of Nicholas II to the throne of Russia was held today in the palace church. It was attended by the czar, czarina, queen of Greece, Duchess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, Princess Alix of Hesse-Darmstadt and the grand dukes and grand duchesses now at Livadia.

The California Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—A special to the Call from Washington, says: "The democratic congressional committee today received letters from every congressional district in California. The tenor of these reports show that the democrats of California have almost a hopeless fight on their hands as regards the state ticket. They concede that English will be defeated in the third district, and that Geary has a hard fight in the first, and will probably lose. Caminette may pull through in the second district, according to these advices, and Judge Maguire will probably be elected in the fifth. Loud and Bowers will both be returned, with a chance for Bowman, populist, in the Los Angeles district."

Hill's Great Ovation.

ELMIRA, Nov. 3.—The ovation given Hill tonight at his old home was never equaled in the history of the state. A special wigwam was built for the speech. There were 8,000 people in it, many hanging on the rafters like monkeys, with 10,000 outside.

The crowd removed the horses and pulled the carriage through the streets to the wigwam. Hill was introduced as the "Pride and hope of the democracy of the nation."

Japanese Strategy.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A Shanghai dispatch says that the report that the Japanese army is on the eve of taking Port Arthur is regarded as a ruse on the part of the Japanese. It is thought probable the Japanese second army intends forming a junction with the main army and capturing the Chinese who are retreating from Chien-Lin-Chen, after which the combined forces will proceed to Peking.

Cleveland's Faith in Democracy.

ALBION, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Robert L. Thatcher, of this place, a lifelong friend of Cleveland, publishes a letter from the president, in which Cleveland says: "I am enough of a democrat myself, and have enough faith in the democracy of those who profess allegiance to our party to believe that in the face of the common enemy we shall present a united and solid front."

Princess Alix Joins the Greek Church.

LIVADIA, Nov. 3.—Czar Nicholas has issued this manifesto: "Today occurred the holy anointment of our bride in accordance with the orthodox ritual, to the comfort of ourselves and the whole of Russia, our bride receiving the name Alexandra Fopodorovna, with the title grand duchess and imperial highness."

Quiet at Headquarters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—All is quiet at the political headquarters of both the republicans and democrats today. The work of the canvass was finished Saturday. The republicans claim Morton's election by 55,000, while the democrats figure a 21,000 plurality for Hill.

Cleveland Digs Up.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Chairman Hinkley, of the democratic state committee, this morning confirmed the statement that Cleveland had contributed to the democratic congressional campaign fund. He says the president sent two checks, one of which was for $400.

Resolved to Declare War.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—A cabinet council was held at the palace of Elysee today, at which it was decided to submit to the chamber of deputies resolutions declaring war against Madagascar, and demanding credit to carry it on.

All One Way.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—The chairman of the republican state committee says he believes the republican majority in the state will reach 200,000 majority.

Van Scribber—"Do you like to see yourself in print, Miss Dashaway?"
Miss Dashaway—"No, indeed, I never wear anything cheaper than China silk."

MASSING AT PEKING

The Chinese Commanders Ordered to the Capital.

MUST DEFEND IT AT ALL HAZARDS

Will Follow in the Path Marked Out By His Father—Hovas Will Submit Only to Force.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A Shanghai dispatch says the Chinese troops under General Sung have evacuated Chin Lien Cheng, and now occupy a mountain pass on the high road to Peking. Orders have been given the military commanders to defend Peking at all hazards. The Japanese army is marching northward, aiming to get behind General Sung's army. It is expected all foreigners will be requested to leave Peking within a fortnight.

Cannot Stop the Japanese.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A Shanghai dispatch says the Chinese government, despairing of stopping the progress of the Japanese in Manchuria, has stopped discharging supplies of rice for the Chinese troops at New Chwang. Many Chinese steamers have been placed under the German flag.

Chinese Officers Degraded.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A Shanghai dispatch says by imperial edict Prince Kun, uncle of the emperor, has been appointed to supreme control of the military affairs of China. By the same edict, General Weh, charged with cowardice in withdrawing from Ping Yang and of embroiling the pay of soldiers, has his command degraded. Admiral Ting also will be deprived of the honors recently bestowed upon him. The feeling of uneasiness in Peking is increasing.

Did Not Care to Raid.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Dispatches from Tokio say the plan of the Chinese raid upon the Japanese coast has been abandoned, and orders have been issued to remove the torpedoes from Tokio bay. Navigation to the harbor is now declared free. The decree forbidding the sale of gunpowder in Japan has been canceled.

Messages From the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 5.—The reply of the czar to the message of homage from the senate and holy synod are published. To the first body he says: "I am assured of the feelings of devotion which the senate has expressed towards me, and I have no doubt I shall have its co-operation in the service of my dear country and in the path marked out by my ever-lamented father."

To the synod the emperor addressed the following remarks: "I earnestly thank you for sentiments of sympathy expressed to me at this moment of deep sorrow, and inspired by ardent love for my departed father, I shall devote all my strength to the service of my dear country and to the orthodox church."

The czar and Prince and Princess of Wales will leave Livadia Thursday noon, arriving at Moscow Saturday, where the body of the late czar will lie in state throughout Sunday. The body will be taken from Moscow Monday to St. Petersburg, where it will lie in state seven days.

Requiem Service in Berlin.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—An impressive requiem service for the repose of the soul of the late czar was celebrated today in the church of the Russian embassy. Emperor William and Prince Leopold were present in Russian uniforms. Prince Hohenlohe, chancellor, the cabinet, royal and other princes, the diplomatic corps and leading military officials were present. Count Schouvaloff, Russian ambassador, received Emperor William at the entrance to the church and escorted him to a place of honor. The emperor and all present held lighted tapers.

The Czar Like His Father.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Boris Nurok, brother-in-law of the Russian minister of finance, Serge Witte, arrived yesterday on the French line steamship La Bourgogne. He sailed from Havre before the death of the czar, and heard about it at quarantine. He said he was much shocked, as he had been led to believe by bulletins in Paris nine days ago that the czar was improving. He said he knew the czar personally. His successor, Mr. Nurok says, is much like his father, and will pursue his father's policy of trying to preserve the peace of Europe.

The Administration Estimate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—The following Washington special appears in this morning's Examiner: "It doubtless will astonish the politicians of the country, particularly those in New York, to learn that the figures in possession of members of the administration show the possible defeat of David B. Hill for governor by 30,000 plurality. It is not claimed that these figures are the result of any special canvass. They are based simply on information that could be obtained without unusual effort and a general knowledge of the situation in that state. In estimating the probable vote in New York for governor the administration have not confined themselves to one method, but have made a comparison of the general vote of the last three years and a detailed statement of the probable county pluralities. These tables are in possession of officials so close to the president that it is quite certain they have been shown to Mr. Cleveland. If any one has supposed that the interest of the administration has been confined solely to congressional district fights, and that the complexion of the next house has been alone a matter of moment, he has been misled. Every move in the battle of the governorship of New York state has been followed closely by the president, whose keen interest has been shared by his cabinet, particularly by Secretaries Lamont and Bissell. Private Secretary Thurber has kept himself thoroughly posted on the New York situation, and the probabilities have been gone over again and again."

Forecast of the Result by Different Parties.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The Inter Ocean prints the following forecast of Tuesday's election from its Washington correspondent: "It can now be confidently stated without fear of injuring plans which have been made, that it is the expectation of the republicans that they will have a majority of the next house. Conceding everything to the democrats said to be conceded to the extreme verge of conservatism, and making no claim in some of the southern states where the republicans have a right to believe that they will be successful, it is maintained that the republicans will certainly cut the democratic majority down to 38; that they will probably have a majority of 10 for protection and prosperity, and that they possibly may have a majority 46. Without going into details by congressional districts, this estimate by states is as follows: Total number of representatives 356; democrats, 155; republicans, 159; probable republicans in addition, 24; doubtful, with a strong probability that many of them will be republican, 18."

Incorrect List of Voters.

FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 5.—It has been discovered that the great register of the county, just printed, fails to record a number of names of citizens entitled to vote, and the omissions are so numerous and serious that it is more than probable that the election will be invalidated. The chairmen of three party committees, the republicans, democrats and populists, held a meeting yesterday and decided to have a supplement issued in haste, containing all the omitted names discovered up to this morning. There is little doubt that the trouble has arisen from careless clerical work, and that the printers are not responsible, but the situation is very grave as it stands."

Militia Assembled at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 5.—A special order has been issued by Governor Stone that the Third regiment of the National Guard of Missouri assembled at the armory tonight in this city, and remain under arms until after election. The cause of the order is said to be a fear of a collision between the American Protective Association element and the rougher portion of the Catholics, between which two factions the feeling is already very high.
