LOCAL BRIEFS.

Saturday's Daily.
Medford is to have a new paper.
The newspaper at Mitchell seems to be slow about materializing.
Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw has returned from a visit with relatives in Portland.
Sheriff Driver went below this morning, taking Williams and Egan to the penitentiary to serve out their sentences of two years each.
Dan Maloney came in today and surrendered himself to Deputy Sheriff Kelley. We understand that he will stand trial, alleging that he acted in self defense.
At the Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday, Nov. 18th, at 7:30 p. m., the pastor, Rev. J. Whisler, will preach a sermon for young men. All young men are especially invited.
The ladies of the Methodist church will give a flower festival at Mrs. C. L. Phillips' next Tuesday afternoon and evening. There will be a short program. Admission 10 cents.
Yardmaster J. J. Hogan met with a misfortune this afternoon in getting his hand caught between the drawbars at 1:30 this afternoon. The palm of his right hand was badly lacerated, but Dr. Logan put it in as good shape as possible, and time and care will do the rest.
The board of regents of the Oregon State University held a meeting at Portland yesterday, created a chair of English literature and elected State Superintendent McElroy to the professorship. Professor McElroy is well posted in politics, as well as literature, and the fact that he is still to remain in the educational field will be satisfactory news to all who know him.
The streets are crowded with teams today, most of them having brought wheat to the warehouses. There are perhaps no more than on other days, but it being Saturday they have drifted into the city farther than their owners may do their trading. The weather being beautiful and the roads good has also caused the farmers' wives and daughters to visit the city to make purchases for the winter.

The weather bureau at Portland telegraphed this morning, at Uncle Sam's expense, that the weather for today and tomorrow would show occasional rains and warmer. The warmer got here all right early this morning, and a big black cloud threatened rain for hours, hanging over the hills west of town as though it couldn't quite make up its mind to come over and fall on us.
Dan Maloney this afternoon swore out a warrant for the arrest of Howard, an Indian, claiming that he is the one he bought the horses from which he was charged with stealing. Howard has been in the hopfields and over about Mt. Adams all summer, arriving here only a day or so ago. Another Indian is after Howard charging him with stealing a horse.
Receiver McNeill has been examining the survey for the boat railway, along with Major Post. Just what interest the receiver of the O. R. & N. has in the surveys of the boat railway is hard to discover, though the information, coming on the heels of his visit, that the white section hands had been discharged and Chinese put in their places, indicates that Mr. McNeill is preparing to meet the coming opposition.
Monday's Daily.
License to wed was issued today to Lonzo McWillis and Miss C. I. Butler.
The Union Dancing Club will give their second dance at the opera house Wednesday evening.
The case of the State vs. Maloney is set for trial tomorrow, following the Eccles-Davenport case.
There is a stray steer, 2 years old, red, branded I. C. or J. C., at the Cascade Locks. Who owns him?
According to the reports, the Methodist revival at Hood River is the liveliest affair of the kind ever held in that city.
Five gentlemen were up before the city recorder this morning, one of whom paid his fine, and the other four are engaged in cross-sectioning some cordwood for the use of the city.
Bob Fitzsimmons, the prize fighter, in a friendly boxing contest with Con Rlordan, struck the latter on the chin, and Saturday he died from the effects of the blow. Fitzsimmons has been arrested.
The case against Eccles and Davenport will not go to trial tomorrow, as stated elsewhere, for the very good reason that Judge Bradshaw sustained the demurrer in the case, and so it went out of court.

Quite a delegation from Friendship Lodge, K. of P., of this city, will visit the lodge at the Cascade Locks next Saturday evening, to assist in knighting some of the good citizens of that place, and enjoying a fraternal visit.
Rev. E. K. Taylor, of La Grande will preach at the Christian church tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock. Remember also the services by the Endeavor Society during the week. A cordial invitation is extended to all.
Judge Bradshaw got a hurry-up move on this morning, and after suggesting to the grand jury to do likewise, proceeded to regulate the attorneys. As a result there was a sudden sending for witnesses and preparation for trial by all of them.
There will be quite a large lot of freight up on the Regulator tonight. The new incline is about completed, and will be in operation by Wednesday night at the latest. All but heavy and bulky pieces can be handled and freight of all kinds will be received tomorrow, both here and at Portland.
Will Cates of 5-Mile sent four potatoes to this office Saturday that would go a long ways towards furnishing a winter's supply to one of the families of the desiccated districts of Dakota. Two of them of the late-rose variety were ten inches long by three inches in diameter, and the other two were as large if not larger but of a different variety.
The O. R. & N. Co. has re-considered its decision that it was worth as much to haul goods from The Dalles to points east of it as it was from Portland to the same points, and so has put up the old schedule. The board of railroad commissioners will discover this some time and claim they did it. The railroad has a fashion of sneaking up on the board and doing things without its knowledge.
Tuesday's Daily.
Honduras has demonetized silver.
Mr. Lyon, father of E. E. Lyon of Hood River died at his son's residence yesterday morning.
A fine lot of hogs were brought over from Kilekitat yesterday. They will be sent below today.
The Union Dancing Club will give the second dance of the series tomorrow evening, Nov. 21st.
A flock of sheep belonging to George Rannell were taken across the river to Kilekitat this morning.
In the case of Dalles City against Mary L. Booth, the court yesterday ordered confirmation of sale.
Winans Bros. are doing some very substantial work on their fish wheels and think that it will take more than a flood to remove them again. They have six to rebuild and the work will keep them busy until the fishing season next year.

In the case of Eugene D. White against C. P. Heald, objection to confirmation of sale was filed.
Saltmarsh & Co. are feeding quite a large number of hogs, which are now ready for the market. They are an extra lot.
The wheat receipts are falling off somewhat but from the amount received it is safe to say the total receipts for the season will amount to about one million bushels.
The dispatches state that the thermometer is ranging from zero to 16 below in Minnesota, which suggests that you don't want to miss the flower show here tonight.
The grand jury this morning brought in a true bill against Wm. O'Brien, charging him with the larceny of a watch. The court appointed J. L. Story to defend him.
Burglaries are reported from nearly every town in the state. A few doses of lead properly administered would go a long ways towards putting a check upon this pursuit.
Eugene and Portland played a game of football at the latter city Saturday, the team from Eugene coming from the State University. Portland won after a very hotly contested game.
The Regulator and Dalles City are now receiving all kinds of freight and in any quantity. It is to be hoped that those idle rumors about the boats tying up will not again get circulated. The boats will tie up when they are compelled to by the ice, and not before.
Myriads of little gnats, each with a little tuft of greasy-looking cotton attached to its body, have been observed on the warm days this fall floating on the breezes about the Rogue river valley. They are said to be the little moth of the woolly aphid—an injurious enemy of the apple tree.
Hood-River had a sensation last night culminating in the arrest of a man named Broadbent, on complaint of his wife, who charges him with adultery. He was brought here this afternoon, being bound over to appear before the grand jury. If he has any regard for his personal safety, he will make a strenuous effort to get into the penitentiary.
The flower show tonight on Rose Hill, at Mrs. Phillips' is going to be worth seeing, and it is going to be worth more than it costs by a whole lot. Ten cents is the price of admission, and people back in Minnesota where the therмомeter is below zero, would give ten times that much just to think of seeing flowers.

The Oregonian prints a dispatch this morning about a Chinaman being beaten here, and some other matters, and states that parties were arrested by Sheriff Plummer for robbing the till of Gus Bassett, a merchant. It is quite probable that "Dallas" has gotten its work in on us again, as there is no such merchant and our sheriff is not named that way.
If the goose crop of this season is not harvested within the next few days it will be the fault of Dalles nimrods. Yesterday Ike Joles and Wm. Young went up to Sherman county determined to bring home a wagon load and this morning two other outfits left for the same purpose. John Filloon, Dennis Bunnell and A. C. Stevens were in one wagon and Josh Hardy and another gentleman made the other load.
Whist and a Surprise.
The Union Whist Club met Friday evening at Fraternity hall, being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Hobson. It was one of the most delightful meetings ever held by the club. The ladies had put up a surprise by preparing an elegant luncheon, which they sent to the hall during the afternoon. At the proper time the surprise was sprung, and then the fun commenced. It was a genuine surprise, as not a person present except the ladies knew a thing about it; but Judge Bradshaw sprung another little surprise that was also entirely unexpected. He said: "I have often heard it said that no woman could or would keep a secret from her husband. Now, my friends, here is a splendid opportunity to demonstrate the entire and utter falsity of that statement. I propose now that every gentleman present whose wife told him in strict confidence all about this intended surprise and supper to step to the center of the room. I rely upon your honor, gentlemen, not to shield the guilty through either fear, favor, or hope of reward," and then he stepped to the center, followed by every gentleman present. The meeting broke up, however, without bloodshed.
Those present were: Mr and Mrs Hobson, Judge and Mrs Bradshaw, Judge and Mrs Blakeley, Mr and Mrs J B Crossen, Mr and Mrs A M Keisay, Mr and Mrs L E Crowe, Mr and Mrs W Lord, Mr and Mrs H Glenn, Mr and Mrs W H Wilson, Mr and Mrs S P M Briggs, Mr and Mrs E Gordon, Mr and Mrs O Kinersly, Mrs M E French, Mrs Hilton, Mrs Thornbury, Mrs Hudson, Miss Lay, Drs. Logan and Sutherland, J T Peters, H Lonsdale and H H Riddell.

PERSONAL MENTION.
Monday.
Frank Davenport, Wm. Eccles, R. P. Murray and E. C. Rogers are up from Hood River.
Miss Grace Sharp returned yesterday morning from an extended visit in Walla Walla.
Mr. George Barnes, Prineville's leading attorney, is in the city looking after some business in the circuit court.
Captain J. H. Ferguson and Mr. C. E. Markham, both of Hood River, passed through town this morning on their way to Sherman county, where they propose to slaughter a wagonload of geese.
Mr. C. A. Borders and family came down from La Grande this morning to remain a few days. Mr. Borders owns property here and formerly lived here, but is now in the employ of the O. R. & N. He goes on to Portland in the morning.
Tuesday
Mr. M. V. Harrison of Hood River is in the city.
Mr. George Young arrived in from Bake Oven this morning.
Miss Nellie Sylvester went to Portland today to visit her sister, Mrs. Oliver.
Mrs. C. S. White left on the early morning train for a visit with friends in Vancouver and Portland.
Mrs. H. Glenn, accompanied by Miss Mattie Moore, who has been her guest, left for Portland on the Regulator this morning.
W. C. Wills, member of the state board of equalization, was in the city yesterday, and left on the early morning train for Salem.
Mr. G. J. Farley went to Hood River this morning to attend the funeral of Mr. Lyon, his step-father, who died at that place yesterday.
Mr. P. S. Malcolm, grand master of the Masonic order of this state, is in the city, and will make an official visit to the local lodge, Wasco, No. 15, this evening at 7:30.
MARRIED.
In this city, Nov. 19, 1894, by Justice L. S. Davis, Miss C. I. Butler to Lonzo McWillis, both of Wasco county.
In this city, at the O'Barr House, Nov. 19, 1894, by Justice L. S. Davis, Miss Nettie May Smith to William Saxton, both of Goldendale, Wash.
DIED.
At Nansene, Sunday, Nov. 18th, Hiram, son of D. B. Gaunt, aged about 22 years.
Deceased was thrown from a wagon and hurt some five or six weeks ago, and soon after had a severe attack of typhoid fever, which caused his death. He was the son of D. B. Gaunt, proprietor of the Prineville stage line. The funeral will take place at Nansene tomorrow.
Just received one scow load of White Salmon oak wood.
17-19 MAIER & BENTON.
