

AND NOW THEY LIE

A Mexican Dissected While Still Alive.

THE BUTTE DISASTER AFTERMATH

Railroad Men Knew Powder Was Stored in the Burning Building—Insurance Was Very Small.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 18.—The people of Mexico are greatly excited over the dissection of Antonio Vangose, while still alive. The supposed corpse sprang to its feet shouting, "Don't kill me!" whereupon the dissector endeavored to put back the pieces of flesh and sew up the incision. The man was a genuine corpse in two days.

The Butte Disaster.

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 18.—Hour after hour the disaster has been putting on more distressing proportions. The real weight and extent of the terrible calamity will never be known. The list of the known dead has swelled to 53, and there are at least four in the hospitals who cannot recover, John Sloan, Charles Ashton, W. L. Miles and William Bow. Others were fatally injured. To the list of missing Charles Hoffbauer was added today. A few hours before the explosion he was up town and purchased a new pair of shoes, which he had under his arm, has been found a quarter of a mile away from the scene of the catastrophe, but not a fragment of Hoffbauer has been found.

Including the list of 53 today are four of the missing firemen—Dave Moses, Samuel Ash, P. J. Norling and Ed Sloan—but not Hoffbauer, nor any other of the missing. No doubt many were blown to atoms who will never be heard of.

Among the debris was found a number of letters addressed to William Moffett, 463 Tremont street, Boston. The letters were from Canada, and were signed Ambrose Allen. It is supposed he is among the victims. A number of bills from the lumber company to T. Mackie were also found. Another letter found was one from Portland, Or., signed E. C. Smith. Only a portion of the letter was found, and the letter closed with: "If you see P. C. W. give him my best regards."

A portion of a body has been found, supposed to be that of J. D. Cameron, fire marshal, but the identification is not certain, there being nothing to distinguish it but a belt which was exactly similar to that worn by the assistant chief, whose body was also unrecognizable.

Every hour brings additional reports of the injured. Fully 100 have been heard from, many being in a serious condition. Evan Evans was on the scene directly after the first explosion and started to assist in removing the injured. When the second explosion occurred he was picked up and carried some distance in the air, and far from the scene. All his clothes were torn from his body, but the only injury he sustained was a punctured right cheek and a cut in his left side. The flash was seen and the concussion of the explosion severely felt at Belgrade, on the other side of the mountain range and 85 miles from Butte.

Coroner Richards had impaneled a jury, but County Attorney Wine was not satisfied with its complexion, and ordered it discharged and another, made up of representative business men, is to be impaneled. The dead bodies were viewed and an inquest of them postponed until Monday, owing to the unsettled state of public feeling. Funerals of the dead firemen will be held tomorrow. All business will be suspended, and the public officials and military and civic societies will participate. The work of relief was set in progress today and nearly $12,000 subscribed.

It is significant, in looking for the cause of the explosion, that nearly all the railroad men who were employed about the Montana Central yards, fled when the fire began. Most of them knew there was a large quantity of powder stored in the neighborhood, and they informed everybody they met to that effect. There was but $6,500 insurance on all the property destroyed, outside of that owned by the railroad companies. Although the owners of the warehouses where the explosions occurred state they had less than 150 pounds of giant powder in their buildings, it is estimated by mining men who are familiar with explosives that at least twenty tons of powder were in the house. The law limits the storage of powder within one mile of the city limits to 150 pounds, but the penalty for its violation is only a nominal fine. The citizens of Butte, however, are determined to fix the blame where it belongs, and the investigation and the inquest will be thorough.

Revolution in Greece.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—At the banking house of the Rothschilds it was said today a telegram had been received on the stock exchange saying a revolution had broken out in Greece.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Greek consul here has heard nothing of the insurrection in Greece, but a dispatch received in Paris says disturbances occurred last evening in front of the chamber at Athens, and the situation is said to be grave.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—A rumor that a rebellion had broken out in Greece is current upon the Bourse in this city, and at Vienna and Berlin. Nothing has been received direct from Athens on the subject.

The latest bourse rumor includes a report of the abdication of the king of Greece, Georgius I. The report, however, is not confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Mr. McGarr, our charge d'affaires at Santiago, Chili, has informed the state department a new ministry was announced there December 7, and had since been installed. The cabinet is liberal, composed as follows: Ramon Barros Luca, minister of the interior and chief of the cabinet; Luis Barros Borgone, foreign relations, worship and colonization; Osvaldo Renjiff, justice and public instruction; Manuel Salusti Fernandez Hacienda, treasury; Carlos Rivera Tofre, war and marine; Elias Fernando Albane, industry and public works.

Secret Treaty Alliance.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Jan. 18.—A Guatemalan envoy who had arrived here brought, it is reported, a proposition for a secret treaty alliance between Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua, primarily against Mexico, but if there is no war with Mexico, to attack, conquer and direct Salvador. His success is unknown. The press predicts a revolution, due to the bad state of business, financial difficulties of the government and increasing taxation. Many people are moving to Salvador.

The Wrecked Union Bank.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Jan. 18.—Shareholders of the Union bank last night elected as directors, to replace those by whose mismanagement the failure of the bank was brought about, five keen business men. Four of the ex-directors owed $1,750,000 on overdrafts and exchange, of which the bank loses $1,000,000 hopelessly. The bank is expected to pay about 60 cents on the dollar when wound up. This will take two years.

Hurricane in the Fiji Islands.

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Jan. 18.—Advices from the Fiji islands report that a terrible hurricane swept over the whole group, doing great damage to shipping. Lives were lost and a number of buildings destroyed and plantations ruined. Five churches at Suva collapsed. The Anglican church was unroofed. Some of the bonded stores were wrecked, but the sugar mills were not injured.

Porto Rico Sugar Goes to Canada.

MADRID, Jan. 18.—Porto Rico has asked that it be not included in the modus vivendi between Spain and the United States upon the ground that Porto Rico sugar goes to Canada, not the United States. Some deputies, it is said, intend to attack the cabinet, accusing the ministers of having yielded to the menaces of Cleveland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Colonel Marina Pinto, who came from Salvador several months ago to join General Antonio Eseta, has gone to Paris to consult with Carlos Ezeta and negotiate funds to overthrow the Salvadorian government. BAYONETS WERE USED Militia Forced to Charge the Strikers in Brooklyn.

TWO MEN AND A WOMAN WOUNDED

Strikers Are Thought to Have Made Arrangements to Confer With the Railroad Officials.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 19.—Three thousand men are under arms in Brooklyn tonight. Rioting has been the order of the day, and the strikers had some serious clashes with the militia. In many instances non-union men were badly hurt, and so fierce were the attacks of the strikers tonight that the soldiers had to resort to the bayonet. Several strikers or sympathizers were bayoneted, and the situation is considered the gravest that has confronted the authorities for many years. The board of mediation and arbitration has given up its attempt at reconciling the two factions. Commissioners Robertson and Purcell have, apparently, abandoned any hope of effecting a compromise.

Rumors were abroad throughout the day that the elevated road men would go out in sympathy with the surface men. It is stated by elevated leaders that it was not unlikely that a general strike would be ordered Monday. Grand Master Sovereign is expected in Brooklyn tomorrow, and will attempt to do what the board of arbitration has failed to do—conciliate the presidents of the roads. There was a conference of police captains tonight, and it was decided to rigidly enforce the excise law tomorrow. Superintendent Campbell, of the police, tonight issued a statement that he had been notified that the Brooklyn Railroad Company will put their lines in operation tomorrow. The superintendent of police, in conjunction with the militia, will make special preparation for the opening of this line. Notice is given that a further force of the militia will not be ordered, the impression having obtained tonight that the strikers had made arrangements to meet the railroad officials on their own ground.

The militia at the Jamaica car stables were forced to charge a big mob three times since 6 o'clock this morning. The first time the strikers gathered around the stables in the streets and jeered the soldiers. Colonel Eddy, who was in charge, drew his men up in line and gave an order to charge. The mob was driven back to the houses on the opposite side of the street, and fell pell-mell through the doorways and down cellars, and, in fact, wherever they could find a place of escape. One person, Charles Wilson, was injured by being stabbed in the back with a bayonet. He was taken to a hospital established by Assistant Surgeon Belcher in one of the empty carhouses, where his wound was dressed. At 7:10 a. m., and again at 1:15 p. m., the militia charged the mob, which had become again threatening. The strikers and their friends who had begun to gather in front of the carhouses, jeered the soldiers. There were several personal encounters between the guards and the mob, which began to close around the carhouses. Colonel Eddy called on his reserves, formed them into line, stretched them along the street for a distance of 250 feet, and then gave the order to advance. Some of the strikers and their sympathizers took issue with the militia and stopped to argue the point. The temper of the crowd necessitated a charge. Again the soldiers advanced on the mob and drove it from the street at the point of the bayonet. A second man was wounded. His name is Thomas Nolan, a compositor. He fell and was struck on the knee with a bayonet. He was removed to his home.

Late tonight, before the talk of a conference, the strikers rioted for three-quarters of an hour in the vicinity of the car stables on Jamaica avenue, in the twenty-sixth ward they hurled bricks and stones in every direction. The military scattered the crowd time and again. Several men and women were wounded. Eugene Williams was stabbed in the back by a bayonet. Phillip Tighe was also stabbed by a bayonet. A woman, whose name could not be learned, while attempting to pass through the line, received a similar wound by a guardsman, whose bayonet was pointed in the direction of the fleeing crowd. The militia drove the rioters down Alabama and Georgia avenues several times, chasing them for four blocks. Several ambulances were sent to the scene, and at one time the situation was thought serious.

The Sale Confirmed.

CORVALLIS, Or., Jan.—The recent Oregon Pacific sale was confirmed today. December 22d the road was sold to Bonner & Hammond for $100,000. January 4th the court convened in special session, at which time objections to the confirmation were presented and final action in the matter postponed, at the instance of Vallis Nash, representing an English syndicate which proposed to deposit $50,000 as an earnest that at least $200,000 would be offered at a resale. Mr. Nash expected to be in a position to make the necessary deposit today, but failed to do so for the reason, as he claimed, that the mails had been delayed by storms on the Atlantic.

Mr. Nash and Mr. Watson today filed objections to the confirmation, alleging, principally inadequacy of price. Judge Burnett, for the purchasers, objected to the filing of objections at this time for the reason that the time for so doing had elapsed. The court allowed the objections to be filed, and then read three telegrams from New York parties, asking that the confirmation be delayed or that a new sale be ordered. He further said that Mr. Clark, the present receiver, had informed him that the road would no longer pay running expenses and had run behind during December. While there might be something in the objections just filed, he did not think it would be advisable to postpone the order of confirmation or order a resale, and would therefore order the sale to Bonner & Hammond confirmed.

This announcement brought forth a round of applause from the spectators. Attorneys Nash and Watson filed notice of appeal. An order was made, however, instructing the sheriff to turn over the property to the purchasers, they to assume all liabilities incurred since December 22d, the date of purchase.

The Oregon Pacific went into the hands of the court October 26, 1890. During this time Colonel T. Egenton Hogg, E. W. Hadley and Charles Clark have presided over the destinies of the property with varying success. Eight different times it has been offered for sale by the sheriff and only three bids made. At no sale was there any competition in the bidding. Colonel Hogg bid $1,000,000, and failing to complete the purchase, forfeited $25,000. The Blair-Wharton faction bid $200,000 and the sale was set aside. Lastly Bonner & Hammond took the road for $100,000. The proceeds of the sale will be applied, first, to the court expenses, which are estimated at $15,000; next to the payment of delinquent taxes, aggregating in the neighborhood of $60,000. There are about $10,000 in receiver's certificates, issued under the Hadley administration, for insurance, which were given priority of payment. This last item may be contested, but local attorneys are of the opinion that it will be impossible to defeat their priority. This will leave about $15,000 to discharge $1,250,000 of obligations contracted while the road was in the court's hands. All parties in interest will probably contest for priority of payments.

Edwin Stone has a power of attorney from Bonner & Hammond, and is now in charge of the property, although the necessary documents have not been signed. To an Oregonian representative Mr. Stone said tonight: "Charles Clark, late receiver, will be retained as superintendent for the present at least, and no change will be made in the personnel of present employees. The road will be operated as heretofore, until the arrival of Mr. Hammond, who is now in New York, and is expected to reach Corvallis within the next two weeks."

TROOPS IN KENTUCKY

Have Been Ordered to Be Held in Readiness.

NEEDED AT MOUNT STERLING

Both Fatally Wounded—A Marshal Murdered by Robbers—Stabbed With a Pocketknife—A Burglar is Killed.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 21.—Adjutant Sharley has received a telegram from Colonel E. H. Gather, of the Second regiment, state guard, ordering him to have in readiness 40 members of company D., of this city, until Tuesday. The colonel has been telegraphed to for particulars, but none have come, and the officers of the militia here do not know what the trouble is. One theory is that the troops will be wanted at Mount Sterling during the sitting of the circuit court, which begins there today. It is said that detectives have fastened the lynching of Tom Blair on 15 men, and that they will be indicted by the grand jury. It is said that Mount Sterling officials have received threatening letters declaring that the town will be burned unless Blair's murderers are punished. Blair was taken from the Morgan county jail January 1 and hanged by a mob. He was charged with the killing of Captain J. L. Bomar, in Mount Sterling, but was acquitted on the trial.

A Fourteen-Story Building Falls.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—During the heavy wind storm today the Dearborn building, corner of Clark and Monroe streets, was wrecked. Timbers were blown from position, and falling fourteen stories, buried two men and injured a number of others. J. D. Burke, ticket broker, is thought to be fatally injured. Others seriously injured are: A. J. Donaldson, clerk, shoulder crushed; Frank Woodwary, teamster, arm crushed; William Luyvis, printer, scalp badly bruised; H. H. Irwin, clerk, dangerous internal injuries; George Bey, stenographer, head badly cut.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—About 2 o'clock a 30-foot flagstaff on Kingsley's hotel, opposite the government building, was torn from its base and buried into the street, dangerously injuring Edward Harper, an expressman. It was thought his skull was fractured. A heavy plate-glass window in the Hartford building, at Dearborn and Madison streets, was blown in. James Henson was struck by a large section of glass and cut almost in two. He died in a few minutes.

No Appropriation to Be Made for Reprinting Treasury Notes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—An important meeting of the house appropriations committee was held today in which Secretary Carlisle took part at the request of Chairman Sayres. The conference was over the adoption of a policy by which the secretary hopes to put into circulation an increased volume of silver certificates of small denominations in place of treasury notes. The committee decided to strike from the sundry civil bill the stipulation that for several years has been added to the item, providing for printing treasury notes to replace those received at the treasury.

The Chicago building bill passed the house by a vote of 197 to 51.

In the senate today Lodge offered a resolution declaring the United States should keep a warship at the Sandwich islands, and that measures should be taken for the construction of a cable from San Francisco to Honolulu and for annexation of the Sandwich islands to the United States. Blackburn objected to its present consideration, and the resolution went over. At 2 o'clock the Nicaragua canal bill came up, but was also set aside for the consideration of the urgent deficiency bill. Hill discussed the elimination of his amendment relative to the income-tax questions.

Catherine Ging's Murderer.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 21.—The trial of Harry Hayward, for the murder of Catherine Ging, was formally begun today. Harry Hayward went to his seat blithely, as if entering the theater. He chewed gum vigorously, and played with his spaniel while waiting for the proceedings to begin. W. W. Irvin, already well known from his connection with the Homestead and Debs' cases, and John Day Smith, a local attorney, represented the defendant. County attorney Frank M. Nye, the humorist, and Alfred H. Hall are the prosecutors. It was deemed significant that the attorney of Claus Blixt sat upon the prosecution's side of the table. Soon after the proceedings began Miss Julia Ging, twin sister of the murdered woman. Took a seat not six feet from the prisoner. The county attorney moved the case of Blixt be reset for February 5, and this was agreed to by Blixt's attorney. It is believed the work of securing a jury will consume a week.

His Windpipe Severed.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21.—A serious cutting affray occurred in this city at about 5:30 o'clock last evening in a saloon at the end of the Central-avenue electric line. Two carpenters named Taylor and Vaughn, while drunk, quarreled at their boarding house on Flower street, and adjourned to meet at the saloon named to fight it out. Taylor, who is the larger man, was getting the best of the fight, when Vaughn pulled a pocket knife, stabbing Taylor in four places, once in the throat, barely escaping the jugular vein, but severing the windpipe. Another blow was in the back, making a wound three inches long and four inches deep. Two bad cuts were also made in the right arm. Taylor's injuries are pronounced serious. Vaughn was arrested.

Opium Smuggler Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Deputy Surveyor Ruddell and his assistants in the government service were successful, Saturday night, in unearthing frauds that have for some months been suspected. The government officers found 30 five-ounce tins of opium concealed in the trunk of John Clifford, a fireman of the donkey engine on the Alameda. It is suspected that fireman Charles Johnson, of the Alameda, is the chief conspirator in the smuggling. The opium was seized and Clifford was arrested, but Johnson has not yet been found.

The United States supreme court will dismiss the case, and will say that it is not a federal question, and that it has no jurisdiction in the premises.
