A USELESS COMMISSION.

The railroad commissioners are out accomplished. They are making claim to every reduction that has been made in freight rates, by any road in the state during their term of the office. No. commissioners claim it came from them. Those claims are as bareless as the fabric of a lover's dream. Last summer on account of the low price of wheat, and also because Receiver McNeill has a better idea of business than the old Union Pacific management had, the rate from nearly all points east was cut materially. The railroad commissioners claim to have caused this, but the truth is they knew nothing about it. General Compson was at the time rounding up the Oregon National Guard and having the day will soon come when they will a summer outing and taking a rest from ask in vain for justice of the devil they his arduous duties of assisting to entertain the superintendents of the railroads. Col. Eddy was in Washington attending a meeting of the National Press Association. Lydell Baker was hoofing it over Cleveland's Cascade forest reserve and the other member of the commission was just-drawing his salary. They did not even know that McNeill had thought of cutting the wheat rate.

They also claim the credit of reducing the rates from this point to Portland, when everybody knows that the opposition of the D. P. & A. N. Co. alone compelled this reduction. This is true and the proof is easily made. The rate on wheat from The Dalles to Portland, 88 miles, is 61% cents per 100 pounds. The rate on wheat from Biggs, 108 miles, or 20 miles further than from here, is 15 cents per 100 pounds. The distance is one-fourth greater, the price about two and one-third times as much. Now, if the railroad commissioners were able to compel the O. R. & N. to make a $1.30 per ton rate from here, why could they not compel it to make a corresponding rate from Biggs, Grant or Rufus? It they could have done it they have neglected their duty. The points named are large shipping points, forwarding the grain from Sherman county, which, by the way, raises one-tenth of the entire wheat yield of the state, and they should would mean not to exceed an 8 cent rate more, every day. The men were only paid for the time they were actually on the rails. If a man was forced to wait for even three minutes, while his car time. In the course of the day this docked time would add up to, sometimes a considerable amount, perhaps working man was small-a matter of Corporate greed is the rock upon with a fake report as to what they have which our good ship of state will yet not even a nucleus around which to several years, and it is supposed she matter what caused the reduction, the the workingman; instead of the flesh- came to it, and when it reached it the artificial man, the corporation, finds body.

Taking a man's time without paying him for it is the first step toward enslaving him, and is a much more serious offense than "taxation without representation." > > WHITEWASH.

The congressional committee appointed to consider the charges against Judge Ricks and report to congress whether or not he should be impeached, held a session Tuesday with Judge Rick present. After examining several witnesses and also listening to a statement of Judge Ricks, Mr. Harrison, one of the committee, offered the following resolution, which was adopted by a vote of 9 to 7:

"Resolved, That while the committee is not satisfied that Judge Ricks has been guilty of any wrong committed while judge that will justify it in reporting a resolution of impeachment, yet the committee cannot too strongly censure the practice under which Judge Ricks made up his accounts."

This resolution reminds us of a good old Mormon down at Provo in 1859. He had ten fat hogs, and like a good churchman sent one to the tithing house. Bishop Nephi Johnson soon after called on him and remarked that "The Lord curing a very grave suspicion ofta change has been good to you Brother Parrish, and you ought to give a hog to support the missionaries," so the second hog they have Lolted the caucus from "prin went to the tithing house. Another ciple;" to change their front now and visit by the bishop, and another request get back into the Dolph ranks can only sent another hog after the other two, by explained by "interest." They have have as low rates, comparatively, as The and this was kept up until the bishop burned their ships behind them. Much Dalles. A 61/2 centrate from The Dalles had nine hogs and Parrish had one. In as we regret to see Dolph defeated, we explaining the matter to a gentile, the cannot blind ourselves against the cog- structing the company's counsel to take from Grant, Ruius or Biggs. If the old man remarked that "He didn't think ency of the above reasoning or the fact the bishop was working him at all, but that his cause is in desperate straits. he did think that the Lord was awful fond of pork."

ast calpaign, and that silver was beaten, would drive all of Mitchell's Hermann's and Ellis' friends out of the Dolph camp, and would crystallize the opposition against him. THE CHRONI-CLE's warning, though heeded, came too contemporary undertook to drive its wedge butt end foremost, and has, as a natural consequence, a badly damaged

We naturally hesitate about criticis ing the course of the leading newspaper of the Northwest, for we are not egotistical, and have no pretensions to the erudition and the versatile intellect of the chief writer for that paper. We do know one thing, however, that that gentleman seems incapable of learning, a dozing mule. If the lesson will be heeded, Dolph's defeat, if he is defeated, this place. Some Guatemalans living in will not have been without some benefit.

The situation at Salem yesterday does not look hopeful for Dolph. He can hope for no vote outside of his party, unless Cogswell should take a notion that way. The question then arises, "Where can he hope to gain the necessary vote?" It will be difficult for any of those who deliberately bolted the caucus, after taking part in it, to get back into the Dolph ranks, for they cannot do so without inof opinion on financial subjects by an object lesson in finances. They claim egades that life would be a burden.

GOOD REASON FOR IT.

Brooklyn is wrestling with a strike that, large at first, is beginning to assume immense proportions. We have never believed in strikes as a proper means of correcting the grievances between employer and employe. The strike is always accompanied by violence, almost always by bloodshed and by suffering, and it is un-American. But there are a good many other things sible for them. The bolters are not for that are un-American. One of these is the submission to tyranny; and another Moore. They simply are for any one to is the forcing of freemen-the laborers beat Dolph. of the country-into a seridom that is little short of slavery, and in some respects is worse than that. Yet another, is the yielding to corporate greed. When a fleshless and bloodless corporation, with no body to kick and no soul to damn, that was begotten in legislative iniquity and conceived in municipal sin, yet with rights and privileges greater than that of the citizen, takes advantage of its incorporeal nonentity to cinch the public and enslave the laborer, there is no resistance that is un-American; no resistance that is not a duty. The cause of the strike in Brooklyn was, in one sense, a trivial matter, but the principle behind that cause was great. The street railways employ about 6,000 men. A scheme was hatched up, and was being enforced, that took from each of those men from a more, the extra vote coming from the cent or two to fifteen or twenty cents, or populist side of the house. that took from each of those men from a Senator Smith of Sherman county has introduced a bill entitled "An act to regulate railway traffic between Celilo and The Dalles." The object of the bill is to con.pel the O. R. & N. to haul cars between the points named, and upon the grading and laying of ties upon a switch from the main line of the O. R. & N. to the river, that company shall without foundation. Besides this, the furnish and place the rails thereon, and platforms of all three of the parties, at shall furnish cars on demand for conveythe last election, promised to abolish the ing such freight as may be offered. The bill also fixes the rates which may be watch for that vote and remember which charged by the company for hauling political party kept its promises on that cars. If the bill can be passed and made to stick, it would settle the matter of opening the river.

The senatorial fight at Salem begins to grow interesting. Dolph's friends still have confidence in his final election, but it strikes us that it requires considerable more grit to go back on the bolt than it did to go back on the caucus. One thing though is sure, and that is that if the bolters succeed in defeating Dolph they will have inflicted on the state of Oregon the greatest injury pos-Tongue or Fulton, they are not for from it.

A bill has been introduced in the senate providing for paying Miss Iva Templeton $20,000 for being injured while traveling on the public highways. The title of the bill does not convey a very definite idea of the manner in which the lady was injured, or the extent of her injuries. The only thing definite about the matter is the exact amount, expressed financially, of her injuries. It is really strange that the injuries received should have just amounted to that snug round sum.

The democrats of the legislature paid Judge Bennett a deserved compliment by giving him their unanimous vote for the United States senate. The compliment was the greater in that he not only got all his party vote, but one Something may turn up to save him, but if it does it will only prove the truth of the old adage, that it is the unpected that happens.

Judge Gaynor, of the New York supreme court, has handed down a decision to the effect that the street car companies of Brooklyn must operate their lines or forfeit their charters. He gave them until today to make an argument as to why a mandamus should not issue. According to this the street car companies will have to yield to the demands of their employers or suffer the loss of their franchise. The troops can Hallock, Mrs E now be sent home, and the companies can take a little taste of the laws which they always invoke-but never obey.

Senator Steiwer's bill to compel the board of state land commissioners to make a list of all state lands for which lieu lands may be selected, and to so conduct the management of that department as to make it possible for an applicant for lieu lands to get some knowledge concerning the same, ought to pass. As at present conducted the state land office is a close corporation, and the public this morning. must pay for any information it gets will pay no attention to the bill to create an official paper in each county of the state. The country press has competition enough now, and it is only right that every paper be given an equal show. The Oregonian wants this bill passed to trie Bitters and found relief at once. force the printing into the Telegram. The country newspapers have no use for that bill.

It is to be hoped that the legislature

Mr. Hoffman, of the house, has introduced a bill at the request of Hon. W. H. Biggs, providing that on the railroads of this state, wherever at any station or sidetrack the receipts of the company shall aggregate $25,000 a year, said company shall erect and maintain a depot and keep an agent. It is a just bill and at a glance the wide-sweeping nature of should pass.
