THE DALLES, OREGON

Clubbing List.

The CHRONICLE, which gives the news twice a week, has made arrangements to club with the following publications, and offers two papers one year for little more than the price of one:

	Regular price	Our price
Chronicle and N. Y. Tribune	$2.50	$1.75
Chronicle and Weekly Oregonian	3.00	2.00
Chronicle and Weekly Examiner	3.25	2.25
Chronicle and Weekly New York World	2.25	2.00

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Wednesday's Daily.

License to marry was issued today to William Rankin and Annie Parser.

A number of friends took possession of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crossen's home last night, and made them glad they were alive.

Mr. David Garrison brought to this office this afternoon several varieties of wild flowers, picked on the hill back of town. The purple iris seemed to be the most abundant.

With the season of '94 and its terrible floods past, and the Oregon legislature incapable of harm, the owners of fish-wheels can breathe easier and prepare to get even for last year's terrible losses.

Floyd Harmon's bear, which has been taking a sleep for a couple of months, is again alive. He had his appetite with him when he woke up, and he certainly looks as though the winter had not agreed with him.

The first wire of the new telephone was stretched this afternoon, the work being commenced at the corner of Washington and Third streets. It is expected that the line will be completed within a month, but at the very latest it will be in operation by April 1st.

A telegram from Salem this afternoon at 3:30 says: The house has indefinitely postponed all fish bills, and no changes will be made in the fish laws this session. This settles the attack on the fishwheels for another two years at least, and settles it right at that.

The weather is warm and spring like, most too much so for the safety of the fruit. The buds are already beginning to swell. Our climate is, however, not very uncertain and wild flowers in February are not uncommon. So that while an early season always brings more or less risk to the fruit crop, the chances are largely in favor of it coming out all right.

A hunter near Sylvania, Georgia, writes to the Atlanta Constitution, a description of a strange animal he found in the swamp. It had a head and bill like an immense duck, a body like a lizard, legs like a turkey, only larger. It made a noise between the quacking of a duck and the hissing of a snake. The report does not state the brand of snake poison the hunter had with him.

Some of the papers submitted by the applicants for teachers' certificates were very fine, but there were two questions that not one applicant answered correctly. The first was "Who was the first territorial governor of Oregon?" One answer was Moody, which was as near correct as any. The other question was, "Who are the present cabinet officers?" One answer was "All good men," which would entitle the applicant to be marked 2 on a scale of 10.

In McClure's Magazine for March the new remedy for diphtheria, which promises to reduce the most malignant of diseases to comparative harmlessness, will be described in its manufacture and application, and with numerous pictures, by Dr. Hermann M. Biggs and Dr. William H. Park. The writers, through their official connection with the New York City Board of Health, are personally engaged in the production of the diphtheria anti-toxine, and write, therefore, from the fullest information.

Thursday's Daily

It is E. J. Collins, Son & Co. now. Union Whist Club will be postponed for one week, on account of the ball.

There was a light rain last night, just enough to make the ground sticky.

Miss Alma Schmidt and Mr. Long will assist Mr. York in furnishing the music for the Smith Bros.' dances.

Are you going to the masquerade? Why, of course, wouldn't miss being there to guess who is who, not for anything.

A Mr. Frazier of Pendleton has a pacing horse known as Jap, with a record of 2.12. Salisbury is trying to buy him, but it takes $5,000 to do it.

The steamer Dalles City did not connect with the Regulator yesterday as expected. The reason was the breaking of a hog-chain just as she was ready to start.

Mr. Eugene Gordon wishes to sell his household furniture, carpets, cooking utensils, etc. This is a rare opportunity to secure a bargain. Inquire at Pease & Mays.

Those who attended the social given by the young people of the Congregational society at the home of W. S. Myers last night were not in the least disappointed in the pleasure afforded them. Everyone joined heartily in the games, as well as in the lunch, and on departing expressed a desire to attend many of the same nature.

Mr. J. P. Gilhouse leaves tomorrow morning for Kahoka, Missouri, and will go by the Southern Pacific route. He expects to be away for five or six months.

Justice Davis has about thirty cases on his docket, mostly suits for the collection of notes given for insurance. He ought to be able to job-lot the whole business in one suit.

The East Oregonian says "that the carpenters are adding much to the appearance of Mr. Lowell's residence in Pendleton." Evidently he does not take much stock in the action of the caucus bolters.

There is going to be a big crowd at the masquerade tomorrow night, and there are going to be more maskers and finer costumes than ever seen on a like occasion in this city. There is going to be fun, and you want to be there to see it.

The contract of the Day Bros. expires on the 1st of March, but as it provides that in case of high water the time shall be extended, the talk of the contract being forfeited is all foolishness. The high water was certainly here last summer, enough at least to comply with that provision of the contract.

The local items have reached a deadlock, and the discouraged reporter can't jar one loose from either side. When gentle spring shall come, and the roads get good, it may be possible to run one or two good items down occasionally, but just now they are an unknown quantity, and hard to catch.

There is some talk of the legislature compromising on Governor Moody for senator at the last moment if the anti-Dolphites remain firm. This latter part of the program is quite certain, and if Mr. Moody's chances of election are as good as the chances of the bolters standing firm, he will be the next senator.

The lower house of the California legislature has passed a bill prohibiting the wearing of hats or bonnets in public places of amusement. Both houses have passed the bill prohibiting the manufacture, sale or distribution of cigarettes. This latter bill passed the senate by a unanimous vote, and the house by a vote of 54 to 12.

Senator Smith's bill providing for regulating the railway traffic between this point and Celilo was the special order in the senate for this morning at 10:45. This bill ought to pass, but it is not at all likely that it can escape both Scylla and Charybdis. If it passes one house, the other will kill it, and indeed there is some doubt as to its constitutionality.

A militia regiment in the north of Ireland usually drilled in a level field close to the side of a river. One day the drill sergeant, who was given to blustering, and was by no means choice in his remarks to the men, met a young recruit coming late to drill. "You're late again," roared the sergeant. "Go down to the river and fall in!" "Oh, no," said the recruit; "I wish you to understand that I did not enlist in the Coldstream Guards."

Mr. N. Harris has a couple of very attractive little figures in his corner window. One is a gay little danseuse, standing daintily on one toe, and kicking her robe a la Cerito, just enough to expose the point of a pretty little foot, and the other a gentleman from Africa, an acute brunette, dressed in black tights and picking a banjo. These are very pretty figures, but the most attractive figures about Harris' store are very small ones that indicate his prices. Examine both and see.

Friday's Daily.

The Western Union is having new poles put up through the city, and they are fine ones too.

The special meetings, which have been carried on for the past month in the M. E. church, closed last night.

This has been a perfect spring day, one that would make good old father George glad he was alive, if he was alive, to celebrate his birthday.

The literary society will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Congregational church. Members will please notice the hour of meeting, and endeavor to be present promptly at 7:30.

The Knights of Pythias masquerade at Arlington, the night of the 19th, was largely attended and was a decided success. Quite a number went up from this city to attend it.

The Daughters of the Revolution are holding a continental congress in Washington. These ladies must be getting quite antiquated and yet we did not see Susan B. Anthony's name in the list. This being a legal holiday, although not a non-judicial day, but little if any business is being transacted in or about the courthouse. The great American flag was on top there today, a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Postmaster Crossen stood manfully at his post until after 1 o'clock today, oblivious of the fact that it was a legal holiday. Strange how long it does take a democrat to catch on to any knowledge that has to be gained by reading. Isn't it?

Owing to it being a holiday the telegraph office was not open this afternoon, so that the only news came by telephone.

We did not get the full vote in detail, but Dolph lost two more votes and Williams did not gain any. Patterson of Marion left Dolph and voted for Lord, and Mintie of Clackamas left Dolph and voted for Fulton.

The masquerade tonight is going to attract the largest crowd ever gathered on a like occasion in this city, for those who do not go in character will attend for the purpose of watching those who do. There will be some very handsome costumes, and there will be lots of them. Don't forget that the grand march commences at 8:30 o'clock and not a moment later.

The Astoria delegation have made a hard fight to pass a law prohibiting the catching of salmon by wheels. Wednesday the whole collection of fish bills were indefinitely postponed, but yesterday by some means Curtis got one of these anti-fish-wheel bills up and had it passed through the house. It is not probable it will get through the senate, but if it should the governor, if he is at all just, would not sign it.

The Salem Statesman today comes out strongly for Lord for senator, but says while it is for Lord first, it is for a good republican rather than that no election should take place. This is the view of every sensible republican in the state. It is certain that Dolph cannot be elected unless he is elected by democratic or populist votes, and there is not much danger of that, as he is a red rag for the wild members of both those parties.

Mr. Parrot is over from Goldendale. He is trying to be a father to a flying machine, and we hope that like the great state of Oregon it will volat alis propriis. Mr. Parrot is confident that his machine will fly and has promised us a cabin passage to Goldendale and return as soon as he gets his machine perfected. Someone has said that the great trouble with flying machines is that they all have a defective flew, and that seems to be the size of it.

They Get Office.

Governor Lord made the following appointments yesterday:

Regents of the state agricultural college—W E Yates of Corvallis, H B Miller of Grant Pass, Benton Killin of Portland. Regents of the state university—A Bush of Salem, S P Sturgiss of Pendleton, S H Friendly of Eugene. Regents of Mcnouth normal school—Benjamin Schofield, A Noltner and O F Paxton of Portland. Regent Weston state normal school—W G Lyon of Helix. Brigadier-general Oregon National Guard—Charles F. Beebe of Portland. Trustees Oregon Soldiers' Home—S B Ormsby of Argenti, B F Alley of Florence, William Galloway of McMinnville, John P Robertson of Salem, Henry Rust of Baker City.

Did Not Go.

The legislature did an immense amount of work yesterday. Under the rules each member was allowed to call up one bill and put it upon its final passage. Quite a number were passed, but a few were unceremoniously squelched. Among the latter was the bill providing for holding a constitutional convention, Lyle's bill for the creation of Sutton county was another measure that failed to get through. McGreer's bill fixing a bounty for destroying wild animals, died without the bounty. Bancroft's bill permitting divorce where either party was insane, was lost.

Dolph Loses Two.

The vote at Salem today showed a prophetic change, Dolph losing two votes which went to Williams, and Williams losing one which went to Waldo. Speaker Moores and Senator Hobson were the members who abandoned Dolph. The vote was as follows: Dolph 39, Hare 10, McAllister 1, Williams 30, Waldo 2, Raley 6, absent 2.

Tomorrow being the last day of the session it is probable some changes may be made, of which those of today are but an indication.

Real Estate Transactions.

The following deeds were filed for record today: Phillip M. Kistner to Sophia Kistner, the neqr, neqr, sec 29 and nwqr, nwqr, sec 28 and e/2, seqr, sec 20, all in tp 4 s, r 12 e; $1. United States to Phillip M. Kistner, same property as described above; patent. E. B. McFarland and wife to P. Brogan, sr., lot 2, block 7, in commissioner's plat of Dalles City; $1500.

Hauling Freight.

Six teams left here yesterday morning for Corvallis, taking down a car load of potatoes for Hall & Son, which will be shipped to San Francisco by way of Yaquina. Chas Croner is in charge of the teams. They will load back with sugar for the same parties. It is found to be quite a little cheaper to haul freight from Corvallis here by teams, even at this time of year, than to ship by rail.—Eugene Register

And yet the railroad commissioners claim that they have influence with the railroads, and power enough to correct abuses.

Good Judges.

In New York state recently a dairy-fair was held, at which the celebrated Orange county butter, in all its golden beauty, vied with the products of the creameries and dairies of the greatest of butter-making states. To award the prizes a practiced dairyman, a way-up creamery manager and a professor of chemistry, the learned man of some agricultural college, were selected. They tasted, microscoped, tested, smelled, cut, broke and examined the butter from all these boss buttermakers; and then they retired to consider their verdict, which was, that for color, flavor, grain, smell and appearance, the best butter on exhibition was that of entry 146. And it was oleomargarine that the heartless sinner fooled them with.

Real Estate Transactions.

The following deeds were filed for record yesterday afternoon and today: L. L. McArthur and wife to Nellie F. Bolton, lot on Fourth street, 60 by 100 feet; $3,600. J. W. Morton to Pearl Morton, lots 1 and 2, block 3, Winans addition to town of Hood River. W H Taylor and wife to John A and James E Taylor, the neqr of seqr, sec 10, tp 1 n, r 13 e; $1 and love and affection. W H Taylor and wife to Martha E Clark and Catherine A Morgan, the seqr of seqr, sec 10 and neqr, neqr, sec 15, tp 1 n, r 15 e; $1 and love and affection. United States to A Strachan, lot 5 of nwqr, sec 30, tp 1 s, r 13 e; patent. Also e/2, neqr and n/2, seqr, sec 28, tp 1 s, r 13 e; patent.

Temple Entertainment.

Harmon Temple, No. 4, will give its annual entertainment on Tuesday evening, the 26th. Among the many interesting features of the program will be a military drill by a class of young ladies, under the management of Mr. J. M. Patterson, and last, but not least, will be the good night drill by an infant class, under the management of Miss Louise Ruch. Admission—All over 12 years, 15 cents; under 12, 10 cents. A cordial invitation to everybody.

Advertised Letters.

Following is the list of letters remaining in the postoffice at The Dalles un-called for Feb. 23, 1895. Persons calling for the same will give date, on which they were advertised: Bromley, W H Brooks, Wesley Bulson, David A (2) Daffron, John De Tea, O Espinosa, Senator Don Erickson, John Halfpapp, Anna Hansen, H M (2) King, Cora Logue, Miss M McKenney, O J O'Brien, Mrs J W (3) Sager, Wm Tobin, Robt Waters, Ortha Wood, S B J. A. CROSSEN, P. M.

Pay Your Taxes.

I do not expect to hold the delinquent tax list much longer before advertising the property assessed for sale. All persons owing taxes had better attend to the matter at once and save expense of sale. I find also that quite a proportion of the lands upon which taxes are delinquent are under mortgage. It will be to the interest of mortgagees to look into the matter. M. V. HARRISON, Special Tax Collector.

No Change at Salem. The legislature varied the monotony of the joint session today by taking two ballots for senators, the result being the same in each. The votes were Dolph 41, Williams 29, Hare 10, Raley 7, Huston 1, paired McGinn and McClung. There remain but two days of the regular session, and the agony will soon be over, as it is not probable the session will be extended.

After voting for Lowell for several ballots, just as a bid for the Umatilla county votes, the bolters seem to have settled down on Williams. Everyone who knew anything of the situation at all knew that Lowell was not in it. Baker was imported as good senatorial timber, and he was, but we do not need any foreign products now. Mr. Lowell wants to be in this country long enough to know that four-bits equals the fifty cents of his native heath, even though the ratio is not maintained at 16 to 1 before he thinks of accepting the senatorship.

James J. Corbett says: "Inside of two years there will not be a club in the country, and pugilists will be fighting in barns and fields for purses of $100 and $200 just as they used to. The newspapers are responsible for it." Corbett gives the snap away, for if as he asserts the pugilists are willing to fight in the fields for $100, it is a pure waste of good money to hang up $20,000 in order to let them fight in a parlor. We think though that Corbett is mistaken. In a few years the pugilists will be doing all their fighting in the newspapers.

Mr. Fred G. Wonder will arrive from Portland Wednesday and will have a fine selection of masquerade costumes, which may be seen at Prinz & Nitschke's Thursday and Friday. Call early and take your choice.

Bay City, Mich., furnished a remarkable example of Christian unity last week, in the form of a joint meeting of Protestants and Catholics. On the platform were six Catholic priests and twelve Protestant ministers, besides a hundred representative citizens of many creeds and denominations. The meeting opened with the repeating of the Lord's Prayer and ended with the singing of "America," and the object of determining the possibility of Christian fellowship and harmony seemed satisfactorily obtained in the delightful fraternal spirit that prevailed.—Signal.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Wednesday.

Theo Nicolai of Portland is a guest of the Umatilla House.

Mr. Charlie Early of Chenoweth, Wash., was in the city today.

Mr. Kenneth McRae of Dayville is registered at the Umatilla House.

Miss Aimee Newman, who left on the early morning train yesterday for Portland, was telegraphed the sad news of her father's death, and returned last night, accompanied by Mrs. Solomon.

Friday's Daily.

Mrs. J. H. Mosier is in the city.

T. L. Masters was over from Goldendale yesterday.

Mr. L. E. Morse, Hood River's postmaster is in the city.

Mr. John Lewis, after a few days' visit here, returned to Portland this afternoon.

Mr. David Newman arrived today from Southern California, coming on account of the death of his father.

Mr. Jos. Freiman, formerly of this city, came up from Portland yesterday to attend the funeral of Mr. Newman.

Miss Maie Williams returned to Portland on the afternoon train, accompanied by Miss Marden, who will spend a week or two with her.

Mr. Andrew Dufur, mayor of the city of that name, was in The Dalles today, he tells us the roads are in very bad condition, he being four hours in coming in yesterday; but that a weeks good weather will make them all right.

MARRIED.

In Chicago, Saturday, February 16, 1895, Mr. C. J. Pease of Chicago, and Miss E. Maud French of this city.

The bride was one of The Dalles sweetest and most charming young ladies, and the young gentleman who won her heart is indeed fortunate. The poet Hood in the poem "Fair Inez" expressed the sentiment that all who knew the bride will feel, on learning of her marriage to the "stranger from the East," and did it so gracefully and so fully that it seems but plagiarism to say anything at all. Just read that little poem and see if we are not right.

At the residence of Mr. Geo. Darch of this city, Feb. 20th, by W. O. Curtis pastor of the Congregation church, William Rankin of The Dalles and Miss Annie Parser of White Salmon, Wash.

BORN.

In this city, Thursday, Feb. 21st, to the wife of E. J. Collins, a son.

She—Papa is saying that you stay too long when you call on me. He—All right. I will not come so early after this.—Indianapolis Journal.
