LOCAL BREVITIES.

Wednesday's Daily.

The curfew bell did not ring last night.

Fourteen horses were shipped on the Regulator this morning, eight of which will be sent to Sitka, Alaska.

Mrs. Phil Metcahan, wife of the state treasurer, died at Salem yesterday, after an illness of eighteen months.

Elder J. W. Jenkins will preach at Dufur Saturday evening of this week and Sunday at the usual hours.

The county court this afternoon changed the name of William Traylor of Hood River to William Haynes.

The last term of the circuit court was the least expensive of any held here for years. The bills from that source are conspicuous by failing to be on hand.

Major Morgan and the Irish Nightingale of the Salvation Army, will be here on March 12th and 13th. On the 12th there will be a coffee supper, on the 13th the major will speak on the "Secret of the Salvation Army."

Two Slaps, an Indian of the Umatilla tribe, got drunk at Pendleton Monday, and on his way home his pony bucked him off. In the fall a flask containing a small amount of whiskey was broken and a piece of the glass penetrated his femoral artery. The result was a dead Indian in about two minutes, but "he died happy."

Last year Clerk Jacobsen collected $553 tuition from non-resident pupils, as against $258 in 1893, and only $102.50 in 1892. It can be seen at a glance that our schools have obtained a high standing elsewhere: that outsiders indorse our course of studies, and are satisfied with the results obtained from patronizing our public schools. No doubt the number of non-resident pupils will keep on increasing in the future.

Alley's bill fixing the age of consent passed by the legislature takes effect May 24th. It is as follows: If any person shall carnally know any female child under the age of 18 years, or shall forcibly ravish any woman of the age of 16 years or upwards, such person shall be deemed guilty of rape, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than three nor more than twenty years.

John M. Fridley, an O. R. & N. bridge foreman, died in the hospital in Portland last Thursday. His funeral services were conducted in Pendleton Sunday. Deceased had no family. He came originally from Virginia where all his relatives now reside. Although word had been sent to them, no answer was received prior to the funeral. But his fellow workmen gladly performed this last service for one with whom for many they had labored for a common interest.

Mr. Lochhead, one of the board of fire delegates, called the attention of the engineer to the fact that the board had refused to allow the firebell to be rung for any purpose except fires or fire meetings, and so curfew did not ring last night. Since the immortal but misguided "Bessie" used herself as a clapper and swung her sandaled feet out the belfry window and twinkled her shinbones before the blushing face of the man in the moon, curfew has curfewed whenever it wanted to. But last night curfew did not ring, the boys were not executed and Cromwell did not show up.

Thursday's Daily

The deadlock in the Idaho legislature over the senatorial election was broken today by the election of Shoup.

It is reported that owing to the passage of the law creating a new judicial district no term of court can be held in Morrow county this spring.

Commissioner's court is in session, but has devoted most of its time to road petitions and matters of that kind, and to getting bills in shape for action. Tomorrow there will be a grist of bills run through the mill, that will come out warrants. The county judge and commissioners are trimming expenses down to a minimum.

There will be English Lutheran service by Rev. L. Grey on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, at 7:30, at the Baptist church, Sunday 10:30 a. m. in the chapel on Ninth street in German. Monday 1:30 and 7:30 p. m., in the U. B. church of Dufur, also there on Tuesday 10:30 a. m. A cordial welcome to all friends of the church by pastor and people.

Some of our exchanges have printed the statement that the pest house burned here was built by subscriptions given by employees of the old O. R. & N. This is a mistake. The pest house burned belonged to the city. The building spoken of was not burned, but is now used by the city and occupied by the persons quarantined on account of having been exposed to the smallpox.

The county assessor is getting ready to begin his labors, among which will be the taking of the census, together with the collecting of certain statistics. Every man will be called upon to give the number of his children, horses, mules, sheep, hogs, chickens and dozens of eggs, from which we judge that in Oregon all these things enumerated are considered members of the family.

The smallpox patient continues to improve, and although there has been a thousand rumors repeated a thousand times to the effect that the nurse who attended him has taken the disease, we have been unable to find any foundation for the story. It will be but a short time until all danger of his taking the disease is past. As a matter of fact the nurse has been vaccinated twice, or at least the attempt was made, but the vaccine would not take. This in itself means as a general thing, though not always immunity from the disease.

Friday's Daily.

C. E. Bayard announces himself as a candidate for the office of school clerk.

By request I desire to state that I will be a candidate for school clerk again.

E. JACOBSON.

Mrs. C. L. Phillips desires to announce that she has just received her spring stock of millinery, which she now has at her home. She will move the same into the rooms being prepared for her on Washington street, Monday or Tuesday.

The Wasco Warehouse Co. have on sale at their warehouse Seed Wheat, Feed Wheat, Barley, Barley Chop, Oats and Hay. Are sole agents in The Dalles for the now celebrated Goldendale roller mills flour, the best flour in the market, and sold only in ton lots or over. 9-tf

The committee of physicians appointed by the city council to select a site for a pest house yesterday agreed upon a site the other side of the old military burying ground, and the work of erecting a building was begun yesterday afternoon. The building will be 24 feet square, one story and will contain four rooms. It will be completed tomorrow.

The weather clerk seems determined to make amends for the deep snows he sent us in January and is furnishing a quality of weather that is above par. The result is that the city is duller just now than it has been for years, every farmer is at work with all the help he can get scratching the cuticle of old mother earth, and preparing to sow bread microbes and biscuit bacteria. The acreage promises to be large, and with a little rain two months from now the harvest should be a generous one.

Real Estate Transactions.

The following deeds were filed yesterday afternoon and today:

A B Jones and wife to R E Fewel, 6 acres in sec 36, tp 3 n, r 10 e; $300.

Jane Ferguson to Tiney A. Tapp, ne 1/4, sec 9, tp 5 s, r 12 e; $250.

These Can Vote.

So that all may know who are legal voters at our school election next Monday, we quote the law. Section 43 reads:

"In all school districts in this state with a population of one thousand and upwards, any citizen of this state shall be entitled to vote at a school meeting who is twenty-one (21) years of age, and has resided in the district thirty (30) days immediately preceding the meeting, and who has property in the district upon which he or she pays a tax."

A. O. U. W. Lodge at the Lodge.

Grand Master Brannan organized Cascade lodge, No. 69, A. O. U. W., at Cascade Locks, Saturday night, March 2d, with forty-one charter members. Officers elected and installed were:

V. W. Tomkins, P. M. W.; V. C. Lewis, M. W.; P. Walsh, foreman; F. E. Horton, overseer; G. P. Morgan, recorder; A. F. Kent, financier; T. C. Benson, receiver; R. McCartney, guide; F. R. Archer, R. G. Conners, H. S. Rising, trustees; C. F. Candiani, physician.

Stockholders Meeting.

THE DALLES, Or. March 1st, 1895. Notice is hereby given that there will be a stockholders meeting of The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation Co. at the Chronicle hall on Saturday, April 6, 1895 at 2 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing seven directors, and transacting such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

By order of the president.
G. J. FARLEY, Secy.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks for the kindness extended to us during our hour of sore trial. First, to the I. O. G. T. for their kindness and attention. Second, all the other friends who assisted us so kindly.

Virgil Bolton Dead.

Died—In this city, Thursday morning, March 7th, G. Virgil Bolton, aged 32 years.

It did not create surprise among our people this morning when the news reached them that Virgil Bolton was dead, for that event was expected at any moment. For months he has been but a shadow of his former self, for consumption had claimed him, and with remorseless and ceaseless energy had little by little robbed him of strength and vitality. Only his indomitable will kept him alive for the past two months, and though so weak he could hardly stand, he walked to the bank and home every day up to ten days ago.

He was born in Wasco county Jan. 26, 1863, being 32 years old last January. He graduated from the Wasco Independent Academy in 1881, and immediately accepted a position in French & Co's bank, remaining with that firm ever since, and being cashier at the time of his death. Last June he was elected mayor of the city, and for a short time brought to the discharge of the duties of that office his usual vim and energy, but failing health prevented him for the past few months giving much attention to the office.

Virgil Bolton was known by almost every citizen of the county, and outside of it his acquaintance was extensive, and wherever known his name was a synonym for probity. He had few enemies and many friends, sincere friends, whose tenderest sympathies go out to the bereaved wife and fatherless little girls in their great loss.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Carmel, aged 5 years, and Nonearie, aged about 18 months, his mother, three brothers, Zenas, Simeon and Wilbur and a sister, Mrs. W. A. McFarland.

The funeral will take place from the family residence Saturday afternoon, at 1 o'clock.

Last Night's Concert.

The concert last night at the Methodist church drew a large and appreciative audience, and was decidedly the affair of the season. To make individual mention of those who took part would be a task beyond our weak powers, for where all is excellent, who shall select that which is most so. The very best and sweetest voices in the city were heard, and when that is said there is nothing left to say, for, as is well known, The Dalles has some genuine talent in the musical way. That the audience enjoyed the numbers was evidenced by the encore following nearly every one, and that too with an energy and persistence that would admit of no refusal.

The two recitations, one by Miss Bessie French, and the other by Mr. N. Sinnott brought out generous applause, and with Mr. Sinnott the determination to have him out again compelled him to supplement "Cassius to Brutus" with a plain and unvarnished statement of the facts in the case of the duel between Mr. Shott and Mr. Knott, in which the heretofore hidden matters of that affair were brought to light and made plain.

Mrs. J. M. Patterson presided at the organ, and as she is perfect as an accompanist, contributed largely towards the success of the entertainment. Mr. C. J. Crandall is a master of the baton, and his work can always be recognized in the smoothness with which every program in his charge flows without a break.

Financially the entertainment was also a success, gathering in $50.

A Gem of His Kind.

There was a tramp in town yesterday that, as far as filth and looks are concerned, must have taken all the degrees, and a few side ranks. He was a Nyanza "nigger" of large proportions, with a head like a stonehammer or a churn, set with a fore and aft pitch of 45 degrees on a pumpkin vine neck. The longitudinal appearance of his head piece was elongated by short crisp wads of his kinklets tied up with strings. His clothing was—some of it, and that that he had with him was a sight. He had completed his tout ensemble with several old gunny sacks gathered from some scavenger's cart.

He was first visible in the eastern portion of the city, where, after gathering a half peck of "snipes," he crawled into the stock yards and was going to sleep with Saltmarsh's hogs. The hogs, however, raised such a racket about it that Saltmarsh went out to see what the trouble was, and discovering it, chased the dark brown epidemic away. He left some time during the night for Portland, where he will probably arrive today, and tomorrow we expect to notice in the Oregonian that those complaints against the crematory and Johnston street sewer in the metropolis, have again got into print.

Oregon Weather Notes.

From Weather Observer Pague's report of the weather for the year 1894, we glean the following:

"The coldest place in Oregon, as shown by the mean temperature, is Burns, Harney county, with a mean of 37.3 degrees and as shown by the minimum temperature which is 32 degrees below zero. Bandon, in Coos county, had the lowest maximum temperature, viz: 78 degrees.

"The snowfall was unusually heavy during the year, the heaviest being at Hood River, in Wasco county, where the total amounted to 135.5 inches—over 11 feet. Joseph, Wallowa county, had 61.5 inches; Baker City, 56.6 inches; along the coast there fell from 1 inch at Gardiner to 15 inches at Astoria; in the Willamette valley and in Southern Oregon from 4 to 29 inches fell. The greatest of all events occurring during the year—due to meteorological conditions—was the flood in the Columbia and tributary rivers. In June the rivers rose from 6 to 20 feet higher than ever before known, and did considerable damage.

New Seats Needed.

Anyone who has recently paid a visit to the Central school in this city could not well avoid noticing the seats in the different rooms of that building. The seats were put in there years ago, and are built of heavy lumber, and are not in any sense adapted to the convenience or comfort of the scholars, especially the little fellows. None of the small pupils can lean against the back of their seat and have the use of their desk, the seats and desks in every room being so far back as to enable a grown person to sit down without crowding. Aside from this, the seats are becoming worn, and in some cases full of slivers. Yesterday we were told of a case of a small boy going home with a sliver an inch long in that part of his anatomy which left the seat last as he slid out. The building should be supplied with new seats, and some regard had for the comfort of the scholars. —Eugene Register.

The remedy suggested is the proper one, only the application seems to be wrong. The building is all right, but what's the matter with giving new seats to—that is to say—re-seating the boys. As the seats are becoming "worn and full of slivers," the boys have a right to demand this repairing.

City Council Meeting.

At a special called meeting of the city council held last evening at the recorder's office, the following business was transacted, Councilmen Nolan, Adams, Kuck, Lauer and Hood being present:

On motion Councilman Nolan was elected chairman pro tem. The object of the meeting was to make necessary arrangements for attending the funeral of the late mayor, and to take such other action as was appropriate to the occasion.

It was on motion ordered that the council request the business men of the city to close their respective places of business from 12 o'clock noon until 4 o'clock p. m. Saturday, March 9, 1895, during the time of the funeral.

On motion it was ordered that a committee of three be appointed by the chair to draft proper resolutions on the death of the mayor, and to have the council chamber draped in mourning, and to take such other action as they deem necessary to show the esteem of the council for the deceased, and its respect for his sterling qualities.

On motion it was ordered that the city treasurer advertise in the daily Oregonian, The Dalles CHRONICLE and the Times-Mountaineer that he will receive bids for $60,000 bonds to be issued by Dalles City up to 4 o'clock p. m. April 15 1895.

On motion it was ordered that the bill of Teague Bros. for $60, being for thirty days team hire for the fire department be allowed and paid at the rate of $1.75 per day.

On motion it was ordered that the chairman pro tem be authorized to act as mayor until the meeting of the council Saturday night, March 9th.

On motion it was ordered that when the council adjourn, it adjourn until Saturday, March 9th, at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

On motion adjourned.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Wednesday.

Mr. J. R. Warner is up from White Salmon.

Dr. Brosius and Arkley Lindsay are up from Hood River.

Mr. Richard Hinton of Bake Oven is in the city.

Judge Bradshaw will go to Heppner Monday to open court.

County Commissioner Blowers came up from Hood River this afternoon.

Mr. C. H. Brown, whom has spent the past three months in Mendon, Mich., returned yesterday morning.

Ed Mays took the boat this morning for Portland.

Mrs. Grace Taylor is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. E. M. Wilson.

Mrs. Eliza McFarland, who has been visiting her son in Seattle, returned yesterday.

Misses Ursula and Louise Ruch went to Cascade Locks this morning on the Regulator.

Mr. Grant Mays left on the boat this morning for Oakland, Cal., where he goes to make a visit.

Miss Emma Morse, who has been visiting friends in this city for the past two weeks, left on the Regulator this morning for her home in Portland.

Floyd Harmon, who has been employed at the Umatilla House for a long time, leaves for Murray Springs, the new station just beyond Grant, tonight. He will take charge of the Altamont stables at that place. Floyd is a clever and affable young gentleman and has the best wishes of all who know him, for his success in his new field.

MARRIED.
