

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, OREGON

Clubbing List.

The CHRONICLE, which gives the news twice a week, has made arrangements to club with the following publications, and offers two papers one year for little more than the price of one:

Table with 2 columns: Publication Name, Price. Includes Chronicle and N. Y. Tribune, Chronicle and Weekly Oregonian, Chronicle and Weekly Examiner, Chronicle and Weekly New York World.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Saturday's Daily.

The following deed was filed for record yesterday: John W. Watson and wife to Edward Cookingham trustee, block 10 of Erwin and Watson's addition to the town of Hood River; $1.

Cloudy skies still prevail though but little rain has fallen therefrom. The conditions are somewhat similar to a democratic campaign, resulting like it also in more wind than anything else.

The school apportionment this spring promises to be very light, this owing to the late date at which the tax roll was completed. Superintendent Shelley is of the opinion that it will be considerably less than last year.

Mr. Edward Atkinson has written for the April number of the Forum an article of unusual economic interest on "The Battle of Standards and the Fall of Prices," showing why prices have declined and on what articles.

The Wisdom drugstore at Portland was closed by the sheriff yesterday, on an attachment issued at the suit of B. L. Eddy, to whom accounts aggregating $1710 were assigned. The firm has been in business for about 10 years.

Hood River, says the Glacier, should not complain of hard times. Our principle crop is apples, and good apples are selling at $1 a box. Apple buyers come here and buy our apples and pack them and pay from 80 cents to $1 a box. These are good prices for the best of times.

Mr. Emil Schanno, of the horticultural commission, who has been visiting the orchards in this vicinity, tells us the fruit prospects are first class, and he adds that there is an immense area plowed, and that with propitious weather Wasco will have the largest cereal crop she has ever grown.

McClure's Magazine for April will contain the first of a series of illustrated papers relating the more dramatic chapters in the history of Tammany Society from its foundation in 1789 down through the startling investigations of the Lexow Committee. The author of the papers is E. J. Edwards, who as "Holland" of the Philadelphia Press, has shown himself to be almost without a rival in his intimate acquaintance with political affairs.

Philip Fogarty, a Western Union lineman, was thrown from a hand car Thursday evening near Celilo. He was coming in at the end of his day's work with five other men on a hand car. Near Celilo some section hand had left a pick handle lying across the track and as the hand car was going at high speed when it struck, it jumped hard, throwing Fogarty off in front of it, and then ran over him. Two of his ribs were broken and his shoulder was dislocated. He came into town and went down to the hospital at Portland yesterday, after having his injuries attended to.

The enumeration of the school children has been completed, and shows a decided gain. The total number of school children in the county is 3,814, but as there are a few cases where the names are duplicated, owing to people moving from one district to another, the correct number will be nearer 3,800. This is an increase of 389 over last year, the enumeration then showing 3,411. This would indicate an increase in the population of the county on the basis of five persons for each one of school age, of 1,955. Hood River valley for the same time shows an increase of 80, or an increased population of 445. This, we believe, is as good a showing as any county in the state can make, and is an indication that farmers are turning their attention more and more toward fruit growing, as that is, and is to be, Wasco's leading product.

Monday's Daily.

As the fishing season draws nigh the fishermen are all busy getting ready for business.

The tax rolls for 1894 are now in the hands of the sheriff. Taxes become delinquent April 1st. Money has been coming in quite freely on them, and over $600 were taken up to noon today.

And now our brethren of the country press are getting in their deadly work on us, presumably since seeing that picture in the Oregonian, and each and all of them repeat the glad refrain, "He looks like Debs."

A train load of sheep was shipped Saturday from this point to Chicago, and another train load will be started during the week. The sheep market is looking up a little, but whether it is a spurt or a permanent advance in prices, it is hard to say.

Captain Nelson, of the Salvation Army, will leave for Missoula, Mont., some time next week, his place being taken here by Capt. Smith of Whatcom. He will bid his friends farewell at the army headquarters Sunday night, and will be pleased to see all his friends on that occasion.

Beginning Wednesday the O. R. & N. will run the locals as a regular passenger train. It will arrive at 12:15 and make the run to Portland in four hours. A passenger coach is to be run on the local from this point to Umatilla, the train connecting with the local here, and bringing the passengers from the Heppner branch.

Dr. Daly made another trip from Lakeview to Silver Lake last week to visit Mrs. Labrie and Miss Snelling. Mrs. Labrie has nearly recovered from the burns she received, but blood-poisoning has set in. The doctor thinks she will recover, however. The remains of Geo. Payne are interred in the same vault with those of his fellow-sufferers. A suitable monument to the memory of all will soon be erected in the near future.—Klamath Star.

The new condition of the Indian of the Umatilla reservation is creating whole lots of interest about Pendleton. If reports are true the soldiers are setting the redmen they were sent to guard, a bad lesson by stealing horses, getting drunk and raising the dickens generally. In the meanwhile the Indian individually and collectively is turning most of his time to getting drunk.

We have received from the weather bureau at Portland, a bulletin showing the weather statistics for the month of April for a period of 23 years. Just what interest that may be supposed to have for people up this way we cannot understand. If it contained the statistics for this point, or for that matter for Eastern Oregon we would gladly publish them, but as it is see no reason for doing so.

Tuesday's Daily.

Julius Wiley is disposing of his horse by a raffle. The shake will take place tonight at 7:30.

Cattle buyers from the East have purchased 2000 head of cattle in the John Day country. They will be driven to Huntington for shipment east about May 1st.

Mr. M. T. Nolan is having the store lately occupied by A. L. Newman painted and refitted, and will open it next week with a complete stock of choice groceries.

The Cold Storage Co. is loading a carload of potatoes this morning that will be sent to Omaha. The company has a large stock on hand purchased last fall, but is still buying. The price paid is 40 cents a hundred pounds.

Saltmarsh & Co. expect a band of sheep in today or tomorrow, to be forwarded to Chicago. This band will make a large train load, and there are several more train lots like it that will go East as soon as the shearing season is over.

The Wasco Warehouse is pretty well filled up with merchandise to be forwarded to the interior. Sichel, Fuller & Co., Elkins, Solomon and others of Prineville have immense stocks, and Bolton of Antelope and VanDyke & Adams of Tygh have others like them. One consignment arriving a day or so ago, contained eighty-eight cases of dry goods. These goods are laid in early, so that the teams bringing wool to this market can take them on their return trips.

The last legislature passed an act extending the time for redemption on property sold under foreclosure of mortgage from four months to one year. The question naturally arises as to whether this would apply to foreclosures already made at the time the bill was passed, but there seems to be no reason why that construction should not be placed upon it. The only thing to settle the matter, however, is a test case, yet just how the plaintiff would get into the court is a conundrum.

Spring Opening.

A visit in the work room of Mrs. M. E. Briggs' millinery establishment discloses the fact that a very interesting opening of fine spring head wear is soon to follow. Some very pretty effects are to be seen in combinations of bronze browns and greens with blue. Also new and fashionable shades in cerise, rose and cherry reds. Quantities of violets are used on spring and summer shapes. This modest little flower proves a great favorite and the wearing of the violet is a great fad. The work room is in charge of Miss Finnette Woodbury, an experienced trimmer, late from the city. The purchasers of millinery goods will readily recognize the work of an artist in the bonnets and hats exhibited at the opening.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to call on Monday, April 1st, from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m., and examine our goods and prices.

Nevada or The Lost Mine

Will be given at the opera house tomorrow night, with the following cast of characters: Nevada, The Wanderer, H. Lonsdale, Vermont, An Old Miner, M. F. Nolan, Tom Carey, A Young Miner, N. Sinnott, Dandy Dick, A Young Miner, R. Sinnott, Slim Steel, Missionary of Health, J. Hampshire, Jordan, A Detective, F. W. Boston, Juba, A Black Miner, J. Hartmet, Wu-Kye, A Chinaman, Charlie Heppner, Mother Merton, Mrs. G. C. Blackley, Arnie Patrie, Miss Myrtle Mitchell, Mollie, A Waitress, Miss Rose Mitchell.

Special Council Meeting.

A special called meeting of the city council was held Monday evening, March 26th, at 7:30; present, Mayor Menefee, S. S. Johns, R. B. Hood, G. C. Eshelman, Chas. F. Lauer, M. T. Nolan, S. B. Adams, A. R. Thompson and H. L. Kuck, councilmen. The mayor stated the object of the meeting to be the receiving of the report of the special committee on lights.

The report of the special committee recommending the discontinuance of the following lights: The arc light west of C. L. Phillips', the light near F. H. Wakefield's, the light near Joles', on Fulton street, the light in the cut in Union street, the light at the corner of Second and Laughlin street, and also to have the light removed from Court street steps to a joint about 150 feet east from its present position, was read, and on motion of Nolan, seconded by Adams, the report of the committee was ordered received, and the recommendations of the committee adopted.

The mayor then re-arranged the standing committees to include the three new councilmen as follows. Judiciary—Lauer, Johns, Thompson. Finance—Kuck, Adams, Hood. Streets and public property—Johns, Nolan, Adams.

Fire and water—Nolan, Hood, Kuck. Health and police—Eshelman, Shackelford, Lauer.

A communication from W. T. Herring of Maxard, Lincoln county, Nebraska, asking aid for destitute families, was read. As the communication was not from an official source, no action was taken thereon.

General ordinance No. —, being an ordinance to regulate the height at which wires should be stretched on poles in the city limits, was read and passed.

General ordinance No. —, being an ordinance to amend section 29 of general ordinance 275, being an ordinance concerning offenses and disorderly conduct, being that part of such ordinance as concerns the time within which minors should be allowed to be on the streets, was read and passed.

On motion of Lauer, seconded by Hood, it was ordered that the committee on streets and public property be given full power to act concerning the moving of the electric light on Court street, at the steps.

On motion of Johns, seconded by Hood, it was ordered that the treasurer be instructed to turn over the money assessed upon the property for the repair of the sewer between First and Second, and from Court to Union, to W. R. Brown, the contractor, upon his filing with the treasurer the proper vouchers from the property owners who employed him, that the work had been completed.

On motion adjourned.

A Dead Bachelor.

The Ager correspondent of the Klamath Star expresses his or her opinion concerning bachelors and single blessedness as follows:

"A dreadful warning to bachelors was furnished here the other day by the case of one of that class, who ended his single cussedness in an old shanty. It was on Patrick's beautiful day that J. W. Stine and John Commons found bachelor Carendoff lying on the floor of his shanty, unconscious and nearly dead. In all probability he had lain there for three or four days, gazing on the cracks of the shanty, dreaming of lost opportunities to catch a soul-cheering partner in love and life, and gradually paralyzing! He died soon afterwards, and after the inquest he was buried. The meadow larks, now mating and overflowing with love for each other, sing a thrilling requiem over his grave every morning, and as their sweet music steals into my soul I feel convinced that it is not good for a man to be alone."

Not Immodest Enough.

The Baker City people were not highly delighted with "Tisso's living pictures." The press of that city are a unit in condemning the show as an acute fake. The Baker City Democrat says of them: "The first part of the entertainment was given to specialty work and the most ordinary beer-shop variety would be ashamed of it. Following this the living pictures were given, and while there was nothing suggestive or bordering on the immodest in the scenes, there was not much to commend them, not even the subjects. "Such a show is an imposition on the public and does a great injustice to the local management that is in no wise responsible for it. The craze in the east over living pictures has enabled such as Tisso's to perpetrate a monstrosity that should be dumped in the Columbia river when it reaches that point."

Mrs. Snipes Dead.

Mrs. Snipes, the wife of the late Elam Snipes, died at the home farm near Goldendale, Sunday. Her age was 82 years. A fall hastened her end. She and her late husband settled in Klickitat in 1863, having come from Missouri. She leaves four children: Her son Edwin, with whom she lived; George, a resident of The Dalles; the ex-banker of Ellensburg, Ben E. Snipes, now of Seattle, and one daughter, Mrs. Smith, also of Seattle. Mrs. Snipes was among the first pioneers of Klickitat valley. All pan published by Dr. Miles' Pain Expeller.

Buttons.

Buttons are not generally a very interesting subject of conversation, and yet for the past two days that has been the principal topic. The subject has been forced to the front, like a good many of the buttons, by a woman of the brigantine style of architecture, with the hardened look of a pirate and the nerve of Claude Duval. She arrived Wednesday evening, and early Thursday morning she began buttonholing the men about their buttons, simply because she had patent buttons to sell that could be fastened to a garment without the use of needle and thread or rivet. All that was required was a half second's time, a washer and a smile, swiped from the Age of Bronze.

Having buttons to sell, of course the lady devised to find men, old married men especially, buttonless men, who could find use for buttons. To show how handy the buttons were, the woman fastened them on to such garments as needed them. coat buttons, vest buttons and pants buttons received prompt attention, as with a deft motion of her hand she twitched those garments open and fastened the button where it would do the most good; nay, even the retiring under garment, regardless of its décolleté condition, was yanked into sight, and if buttonless, was made button-whole.

Everybody bought buttons, and everybody admitted to everybody else that each individual "everybody" had had an experience and bought buttons. She fastened buttons on them, and took them—by storm. It was the most unwomanly occupation a woman ever engaged in, and yet with this particular person the work might not be deemed out of place. She has evidently been in the business so long that she has forgotten her sex.

Death of Mrs. R. W. Crandall.

The sad news was announced yesterday of the death of Mrs. R. W. Crandall after a lingering illness of many months. Her life was known to be drawing to its close for some time and all efforts were made by loving hands to make death come as peacefully as possible. Her mind remained unclouded to the last and she faced the inevitable with the calm faith of a true Christian. Mrs. Crandall has lived for many years in this community and leaves a large circle of friends who will join with her stricken husband and bereaved children in mourning her passing away. The funeral services will be held at the house Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Crandall was born near Sandusky, Ohio, February 18, 1822, and at the time of her death was 73 years old. Her maiden name was Honyck and in 1850 at Portage City, Wis., she married R. W. Crandall, who now survives her. In 1853 they moved to California, where they remained three years, coming to Oregon in 1856. Since 1863 Mr. and Mrs. Crandall have resided in this city. Early in life Mrs. Crandall joined the Baptist church in which denomination she continued to the end. When the Baptist church was organized here in 1874 by Rev. Ezra Fisher Mrs. Crandall was one of the charter members. Her death marks the passing away of the last of a family of twelve. She was the mother of five children, three of whom are dead, while the other two, Mr. C. J. Crandall and Mrs. W. H. Groats, are residents of this city. The lineage of Mrs. Crandall can be traced back to some of the Pilgrims, who brought the blessings of free worship to this country.

Resolutions.

WHEREAS, Theodore Cartwright departed this life on the 28th day of February, 1895, and

E. M. KORTON, N. H. GATES, E. H. MERRILL, Committee on Resolutions.

A Secret.

If all the ladies knew the simple secret that a bad complexion is due to a disordered liver, there would be fewer sallow faces and blotchy skins. This important organ must be kept active and healthy to insure a clear and rosy color. Dr. J. A. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm as a purifier, beats all the creams and lotions in existence and will produce a more permanent effect. Removes bad taste in the mouth, offensive breath, yellow tinge in the skin, wind on the stomach and that dull, bilious feeling which so surely indicates the torpid liver. Price $1.00 per bottle. Kingsley Notes.

Very little plowing is being done in our neighborhood at this writing, and farmers are all complaining of being behind in their spring work.

Miss Emma Ward has been engaged to teach the Kingsley school the coming term, commencing the first Monday in April. We predict a successful school.

Geo. Friend resembles a defeated pugilist, his usually pleasing face being disfigured by numerous boils. However, George is not discouraged, but will build a neat and substantial dwelling as soon as lumber can be obtained.

Hugh Morehead is gaining quite a reputation as a successful veterinary surgeon, having recently cured a valuable horse belonging to Mr. Thourbourn of a severe case of founder.

Emerson Williams has been driving the Kingsley stage for the past week, excepting the few stormy days he coaxed Ed Wing to go in his place. 'Twas hard to see you leaves in that snow storm last Friday, Emerson.

Alex. McLeod had quite a distinguished passenger out from The Dalles last week in the person of Mr. "Punch" McKenzie. Alex. says he had more fun than a box of monkeys.

Mr. J. C. Thrall will open his new general merchandise store on or about the 10th of April. "Jim" is an enterprising young man, and we wish him success in his near venture.

E. L. Boynton and family have returned from the Willamette valley, and will be found at his old stand in Kingsley on and after July 1st.

Mr. Davis Hix, who has been under the doctor's care for the past month with what was feared to be white swelling, is slowly improving. Last Friday Mr. Alex. McLeod was called to Grass Valley to the bedside of his son, William, who is dangerously ill. We did not learn the particulars.

Mr.

He Took a Tumble.

Morris Mason is lying in the city jail today, a badly bruised man; bruised not only in body, but his confidence in corporations in general and railroad corporations in particular, also hopelessly shattered. Mason says he is a coal miner, that he came from Carbon, Wyo., and was on his way to the coalfields of the Sound, where he expected to get work. As railroad fare was high, too high for him to reach, and the walking, though good, was tiresome, Mr. Mason was going by the breakbeam and blind baggage system. This morning he attempted to board the westbound passenger as it pulled out from the Umatilla House. He ran along the walk built by the side of the track on the Mill creek trestle, watching his opportunity to catch on. He did not know that like sticks and strings and other earthly things, that there was an end, a solution of continuity, so to speak, to that sidewalk and just as he was about to make a dive for a passing brakebeam, circumstances over which he had no control changed the direction of his effort and he made a headlong plunge from the trestle to the sand below, a distance of thirty feet. He escaped luckily in that no bones were broken and in a few days he will be as sound as ever. He feels that the company should have put a railing on the end of the walk, or had a light there, or a watchman or something and because none of these safeguards were provided is why he has lost confidence in the corporation.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of the diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to the cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic Coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakely & Houghton, druggists.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Saturday.

Mr. D. W. Edwards, formerly of this city, was in town on business yesterday.

Mrs. Wm. Birgfeld and children left for Portland this morning on a visit to relatives.

Supt. A. J. Borie, wife and sister-in-law came up from Portland yesterday in a special car, and left for Pendleton this morning, accompanied by Miss Sulthuis.

Mr. George T. Prather came up from Hood River last night, returning on this afternoon's local. He reports Hood River as quiet, but everybody hopeful of a fine business season. Fruit is uninjured and the prospects for a large berry crop were never better. The school building is building rapidly and will be a credit to the town.

Monday.

M. V. Harrison came up from Hood River this afternoon.

Sheriff Driver went to Hood River this morning on a business trip.

Prosecuting Attorney Jayne arrived from Arlington yesterday and will remain over tomorrow.

Mr. H. A. York left on the Regulator this morning. He goes to San Francisco to attend the school of pharmacy.

Miss Bernardi came up from Salem Saturday, and has taken a position in Mrs. LeBallister's millinery store.

Tuesday.

Mrs. W. G. Clelland and Miss Rand of Hood River are visiting friends here.

Mr. Faulkner, who has been in charge of the section at Hood River for a long time, was in the city this morning.

Mrs. M. Long and little son, Percy, left on the Regulator yesterday for a short visit with friends in the valley.

Dr. Sutherland has recovered sufficiently from an attack of grip to be again able to attend to his professional duties.

Col. Thompson, of the Third, will inspect G company tonight. He will leave tonight for Baker City, where he will inspect company F. From thence he will go to Joseph to inspect company I, thence to Weston to inspect company B, thence to Wasco to inspect A. Adjutant Riddell will accompany him.

BORN.

On Beaver Creek, near Corvallis, Or., Feb. 11th, to the wife of John L. Bradley, a daughter; weight, 12 pounds.

DIED.

At La Grande, Saturday morning, March 23d, Mrs. Richard Geary.

The remains will be brought here for interment, arriving tomorrow morning and the funeral will take place from the Catholic church, at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Geary were residents of The Dalles for a number of years, and have many warm friends here. Mr. Geary was employed in the O. R. & N., going to La Grande when the shops were taken from here.

A SUFFERING CHILD

Head and Scalp Raw with Places Size of Silver Dollar. Various Remedies only caused Fresh Eruptions. Applied CUTICURA. Change in Twenty-four Hours. Perfect Cure in Two Weeks.

My little son, aged three, was very much troubled with a breaking out on his scalp and behind his ear. The places affected were about as large as a silver dollar; the rash seemed raw and covered with little blisters. The child suffered considerably, and was naturally very fretful. I tried several remedies without obtaining any beneficial results; in fact the eruptions seemed to be spreading and new places breaking out. I concluded to try the CUTICURA REMEDY. I washed the affected parts with the CUTICURA SOAP, taking care not to irritate the flesh, and applied CUTICURA. I noticed a change for the better in the appearance of the eruptions in twenty-four hours, and in two weeks the eruptions entirely disappeared, leaving the skin smooth and the scalp clean; in fact a perfect cure, as I have not seen any indications of any eruption or breaking out since. I gave the child only a few doses of the CUTICURA REMEDY. I consider your CUTICURA REMEDY very valuable. I believe CUTICURA would be successful for applying to insect bites, which are very common in this country. C. A. BING, Swift Island, N. C.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, 50c. PUTTER DUGS AND CHEM. CO., Sole Props., Boston.
