OREGON AND WASCO.

The letters in the Oregonian on the subject of Oregon and its interests are decidedly, interesting. They are full of hope for the state, and all indicate that the turning point in Oregon's history from the old days of spending to those of saving, has been passed. When the ets the chief industry was stock-raising, because the flocks could be driven to known and markets available, the stockman gave place to the wheat-grower. The example set by Californians of just so long as prices were high. The soil responded so generously that even this farming was done in a slip-shod and slovenly manner. But steadily declining prices, heavy store bills, followed by mortgages given to obtain temporary relief and lasting annoyance, caused the more thrifty of the farmers to turn their attention to other crops.

With thousands of acres of stubble, with abundant pastures, and no inconsiderably supply of mast, the farmers up to the time mentioned had not taken the trouble to raise hogs, because to keep them out of the grain fields required good fences, and, though such material was certainly plentiful enough, good fences required considerable work, and work was not what the farmer of those days was looking for. There were too many deer in the woods, and the fishing was too fine to be neglected for the prosy employment of mauling rails and laying up worm fences. The wheat crop was raised, hauled to the river bank, and turned over to the merchant to apply on the store account. It was a the end of the year.

Those days are gone forever. Shiftlessness has given place to thrift. Instead of importing bacon and ham, shoulder and lard from the East, we are supplying ourselves and finding a small quantity for export. Instead of carloads of butter coming from Iowa, we are making butter to ship. Instead of eastern or California eggs, the Oregon lay, a catchy song, with a jingle of coin

we needed. Those were our two industries. We are shipping hogs and hog products, we are shipping eggs and butter, we are shipping canned salmon, and carloads of the royal fish from The Dalles grace the tables of the money kings of New York. We are shipping "sea bass." We are supplying Butte and Helena and Kansas, Denver, Leadville, Salt Lake, the cattle men of Wyoming and the miners of Montana, with strawberries, $100,000 worth of crimson lusciousness every spring. We are shipping peaches and grapes and carloads of muskmelons and watermelons, that have filled their round bellies from the honey dews that fall on our hillsides. Besides this we ship more wool than any town in the United States. We have only begun. Wasco's future is in her orchards, and that future is indeed a bright one.

DEPTH OF THE OCEAN.

In view of the fact that the depth of the ocean has never been fathomed, it is impossible to tell if a piece of solid iron will go to the bottom. Close to the east coast of Japan the current flows through a marine valley, which, in 1875, was sounded from the United States steamer of saving, has been passed. When the Willamette valley was first settled, nat-urally from the remoteness from mark-an hour to sink to the bottom. A trial was made of a chasm still deeper where the lead did not fetch up bottom, and this is said to be the only ocean depth market. This era did not last long, and that remains unfathomed. As to how as the prolificness of the soil became far a solid piece of iron will sink depends upon the size of the piece and upon the density of the water. Scientists assert that at a depth of 6000 feet in the ocean the water is so dense that each square growing nothing but wheat was followed inch will support a weight of 2,648 inst so long as prices were high. The pounds.- San Francisco Call. It is astonishing that a paper of the standing of the Call would be guilty of denly throws all its profits on the side of such ignorance. Its writer fails to recognize the difference between hydrois practically incompressible, hence even at the bottom of the ocean a cubic inch than the cubic inch at the surface, and season of big prices, big crops, big store 100 feet, the density of the water but wave having spent its force, recedes and bills, big spendings, and big deficits at little greater, even at the greatest is quiescent, until things have come to depths.

Patronize home industries if you want your town to prosper. No matter what they are, if you need their products buy from your own people. That will build up your town, will keep money at home, and will encourage others to put their money into business enterprises. Spokane has adopted this system, and every hen is gladdening the farmer with her citizen feels it a bounden duty to inquire, when he desires to buy anything, little by little into the healthy flesh and that thing is made in is, he buys it and will take no other. That is business sense, and Spokane is feeling the effects of it. There is not an article manufactured in Spokane, but that has run all competitors out of the market, and has reached out into the surrounding territory for markets. Bear this in mind all the time and spend your money with your own people.

THE MORAL WAVE.

The moral wave that started in New York city from the organization of the Lexow committee has swept accross the continent, and broke upon the shores of the Pacific with a rush not equaled elsewhere in its course. Portland has it bad. If it would lead to anything in the shape of a better execution of the laws, every good citizen would wish it more power to its elbow. But it will not do this, History repeats itself and the history of reform waves, similar to this one do not indicate for it any great length of existence. Epidemics of morals run their course just as epidemics of measles or whooping cough, leaving the patient memory only of what was. The trouble with the moral wave is that it is generaly started in good faith, but as it works along it becomes befouled from contact with the debris which it meets and the great, broad American mind begins to use its power for its financial betterment. The history of great cities of all of them, shows that the laws are not enforced concerning gambling and some other offenses, simply because the officers appointed to execute the law find it more profitable to imitate the goddess of justice by being blind. There is more money for them in not arresting offenders than in performing their duty, since they draw pay from the city for family has always found the very best doing what they are yet better paid to results follow its use; that he would not leave undone. The moral wave makes its influence felt first on these officers, because the fear of losing their jobs compels them to become suddenly virtuous enough to do their duty. They he has used it in his family for eight are moved the more easily to this course by the fact that the aforesaid wave sud-morality. The hunted hare must hide from the hounds, and vice for the statics and solidity or density. Water moment driven from cover, ceases its practices, and consequently shuts off the fees it has paid for protection. The of water would weigh but little more police force of the large cities then finding virtue profitable, first endure and hence would be displaced as easily by a then embrace. The jingling fee comes ball of lead as if at the surface. The in a golden shower, until for very lack hydrostatic pressure is caused by the of material to work upon the moral wave fact that the square inch at the ebbe, vice that has been in hiding peeps bottom has the weight of all the cubic timerously out, and seeks its old haunts. inches between it and the surface on top It finds the same old guardians of the of it, and instead of being one cubic peace on hand and ready for another inch, as far as its pressure goes, has the dicker, which is soon made. By imweight of an Inch square as many inches perceptible degrees the dice and the high as the water is deep above it. such a pass that the public is aroused in some city, virtue gets out her reform wave, and the farce is acted over again. The moral wave is simply the result of an acute attack of spasmodic virtue. It accomplishes good, temporarily, but not permanently because public virtue is always spasmodic. On the other hand vice is like interest on a morgage-it never sleeps, never tires, never quits. A gangrene or the body politic, it eats Between a democratic congress, an Oregon legislature and the United States supreme court, the seed of populism is being sowed broadcast. The harvest will be more thistles than figs, and more trouble than prosperity.

Recent Storms in Kansas and Colorado. DENVER, April 8 .-- Belated travelers from the East report the storm through Kaness the worst ever known in that section. Many passenger trains, now more than forty-eight hours late, are still battling with snow and sand on the prairie.

Superintendent Bogard, of the Union Pacific, with headquarters at Cheyenne Wells, has a large force of men cleaning tracks. In places within sixty or seventw miles of Denver snow was found in cuts from thirty to forty feet deep, being day of this week, and will make one over the tops of telegraph poles. Trains are getting through on all roads today.

The loss of range stock in some portions of eastern Colorado, it is said will amount to 20 per cent. of the cattle. Many cattle drifted into Hugo, Colo., and perished, which had been driven before the wind from the north over one hundred miles.

The President Pleased.

CHICAGO, April 8 .- A special to the Daily News from Washington says: I am deeply gratified by the stand Senator Palmer has taken against the proposed free silver convention in Illinois," said President Cleveland to one of his callers today. The president discussed the new silver movement at considerable length, and deprecated the action of the Illinois state committee. Politicians who are acquainted with Senator Palmer's private views on the silver question read between the lines of his published interview this morning a plain warning to his party that if the June convention deciared for free silver he will leave the party and carry with him a large following of administration democrats.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill. had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is belonging to H. Mills and F. Hoffman, of Portland, Or., which are to participate in a 700-mile race for $500 a side, June 10, left this city on their second training trip this evening at 7 o'clock. There are fourteen of the birds, seven belonging to Mr. Mills and seven to Mr. Hoffman. They are being trained by B. Strouss. Two of them left on their first trial trip March 11, at 9 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Strouss received a letter from Portland Friday saying one of the pigeons had arrived, making the trip in nine hours, while the other pigeon arrived three hours later. The distance is supposed to be 700 miles on the air line. Both birds arrived in good condition. They were all shipped back here Thursmore trial trip after the one started yesterday before the match in June.

Flying to Portland. SAN FRANCISCO, April 6 .- The pigeons

When the pigeons soared into the air this morning they circled about over the city for less than a minute, and then satisfying themselves as to the proper direction, they took wing for the north and were soon lost to view among the clouds. It is expected some of them will make the trip in less than eight hours, or at the rate of nearly a hundred miles an arrival for the third trip.

The Farmer Was Badly Puzzled.

Farmer Oatcake, who, with his good wife, Mandy, is on a brief visit to a daughter-in-law in Buffalo, looked over the newspapers to find a church service on the following day which he might attend with hope of securing spiritual satisfaction. He soon gleaned that the following scriptural subjects would be discussed from various city pulpits :

"Is the 'Trilby' Craze Dying Out?" "Fitzsimmons vs. Corbett."

"How the Pastor Spends His Vacation."

"Should Our Daughters Marry Foreign Noblemen?"

"High Sleeves and Theater Hats." "The Gold Brick Saloon."

There are some other places that are going to be surprised, too, in the near future. One of them is California, and the others are some of the eastern states that have been buying California's fruit. She is going to have a rival, and one that will make her hustle to hold her supremacy. Wasco county is going to assist largely in accomplishing this result. The supreme court of the United States has decided that the income tax law is unconstitutional, in so far as it taxes incomes from rents and municipal bonds. The court holds that taxing such incomes is indirectly taxing the lands, and this the government is forbidden by the constitution to do. This may be good law, but it is certainly neither good sense nor good policy just now. The great mass of the people have about arrived at the conclusion that anything that taxes the very wealthy is unconstitutional. They do not understand those nice distinctions of the law that permits the food and raiment of the poor man to be taxed, while the rich man's income and money is sacred from the polluting touch of the tax gatherer.

THE BUSINESS MAN'S LUNCH.

Hard Work and Indigestion go

Hand in Hand.

Concentrated thought, continued in, robs the stomach of necessary blood, and this is also true of hard physical labor.

When a five horse-power engine is made to do ten horse-power work something is going to break. Very often the hard-worked man coming from the field or the office will "bolt" his food in a few minutes which will take hours to digest. Then too, many foods are about as useful in the stomach as a keg of nails would be in a fire under a boiler. The ill-used stomach refuses to do its work without the proper stimulus which it gets from the blood and stimulus which it gets from the blood and nerves. The nerves are weak and "ready to break," because they do not get the nourishment they require from the blood, finally the ill-used brain is morbidly wide awake when the overworked man at-tempts to find rest in bed.

The application of common sense in the treatment of the stomach and the whole system brings to the busy man the full en-joyment of life and healthy digestion when he takes Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to relieve a bilious stomach or after a too eal, and Dr. Pierce's Golden hearty meal, and Dr. Pierce's Goular Medical Discovery to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood. The "Pellets" are tiny vitalize the blood. The "Pellets" are tiny sugar-coated pills made of highly concen-trated vegetable ingredients which relieve the stomach of all offending matters easily and thoroughly. They need only be taken for a short time to cure the biliousness, constipation and slothfulness, or torpor, of the liver; then the "Medical Discovery" should be taken in teaspoonful doses to in-crease the blood and enrich it. It has a peculiar effect upon the lining membranes crease the blood and enrich it. It has a peculiar effect upon the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels, toning up and strengthening them for all time. The whole system feels the effect of the pure blood coursing through the body and the nerves are vitalized and strengthened, not deadened, or put to sleep, as the so-called celery compounds and nerve mixtures do -but refreshed and fed on the food they need for health.
