LOCAL BREVITIES.

Saturday's Daily

Two wagon loads of wool from Klickitat arrived today.

A heavy shower visited the southern part of the county Thursday night.

The Wasco warehouse today received fifty sacks of wool, thirteen of which came from Klickitat county and the balance from Hay Creek.

It being Saturday the streets are pretty well crowded with people in from the country. This makes business for the stores, but does not furnish items for the newspapers.

Superintendent Shelley has three free scholarships in the normal school at Weston for Wasco county students who desire to perfect themselves in the science of teaching.

George M. Johnson, recently employed as barkeeper at the Perkins hotel, committed suicide in the Merchant's hotel yesterday morning, cause despondency and unrequited love coupled with a jag.

It is too bad that the legislature did not take some steps towards accepting the offer of a million acres of desert land to the state. Our sister states were wiser, and will profit by the liberal offer.

The river is coming up slowly and the fish wheels in the slough are almost afloat. Another foot of water will set them free and it cannot come too soon as their owners want to get them at work.

Yesterday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, the dwelling house of Germain Seige, on Mill creek, was burned to the ground. The fire had made such progress when it was discovered that nothing could be saved except a small amount of clothing.

The fruitgrowers of Hood River have selected Mr. N. C. Evans as their shipping agent. Mr. Evans is a thoroughly practical man, is well posted on fruit, being a successful fruit grower himself, and is as good a selection as could have been made.

There was a lively runaway about 1 o'clock this afternoon, a pair of horses hitched to a wagon striking out up Union street, the inclination of the road overcame the inclination of the horses and by the time they reached the top of the hill they were ready to stop of their own accord.

Mr. J. H. Sherar started Monday for Currant creek with a force of sixteen men, and is already at work opening up the proposed road at that point. It is perhaps unnecessary to add that the work will be well done, and when Mr. Sherar is through it will be a good road.

Mr. M. Honywill advertises a closing-out sale of his new stock of dry goods, clothing, etc., and expresses a determination to make them go no matter what the sacrifice. He invites the public to inspect his stock and assure themselves of the fact that everything in the store is a bargain at the prices.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state of the Co-operative Commonwealth to engage in any business offering profits: capital stock $1, divided into one hundred shares of the par value of one cent each. This is the smallest capital of any corporation in the state, unless it is some of the insurance on building and loan associations.

This has been a perfect day and all the small boys in town have enjoyed it by playing marbles. Every back street and good spot had its ring of youngsters all intent on beating the game. It is a pleasure to watch the little fellows and call back the times when we used to be familiar with all the technical terms from law to dubs and knuckle down to rounders.

Judge Fee has rendered a decision affecting over 100 farmers in Umatilla county. Balfour, Guthrie & Co. applied for a receiver to take charge of growing crops on certain lands, the lands being under mortgage to the firm. The firm claimed the right to the custody of the crops under a clause in the mortgage giving the mortgagee the rents and profits. Judge Fee denied the application, and will so rule in every case in which the land is ample security for the debt.

The Hon. D. P. Thompson's lecture at the Congregational church last night drew a large audience. Mr. Thompson began his lecture promptly at 8 o'clock and held the entire audience as they followed his descriptions of the wonders and mysteries of the land of the Pharoahs until 9:30. Mr. Thompson is not a word painter, but his descriptions are realistic and his ideas are clearly expressed. Those who attended last evening speak very highly of the entertainment, and express the hope of being again given an opportunity of hearing Mr. Thompson.

The ladies in charge of the coming concert, next Wednesday, are glad to say they have the promise of help from Mrs. Heald, of Hood River. This artist has won for herself a distinguished success as an instructor as well as a performer. They also expect two vocal numbers from Miss Anna C. Smith also of Hood River, who had the good fortune in the early part of her musical education to be a pupil of Mrs. Heald. They are also promised the assistance of Miss Aldrich, of Cascade Locks, who will give two numbers. Of Miss Ethel Grubbs' part of the entertainment there is no need to speak to a Dalles audience—they know what it will be when simply her name is mentioned.

The city recorder interviewed two tramps this morning. One of them while doing time for the city the other day took advantage of Commissioner Butts while he was trying to put up the big new electric light pole, near the reservoir, and just while the pole was part way up and everybody was lifting with both hands to walk away. The marshal gathered him in again last night, and this morning he stated that he would not work under any circumstances. As he persisted in this assertion and backed it up by refusing to labor, the marshal put a ball and chain on each leg and chained him to a post in front of the city jail in such a position that he had nothing to lean against and could not sit down. He has done a good hard day's work.

Monday's Daily

Reports from Hood River indicate a very large crop of berries if nothing happens to them.

The local this afternoon was delayed for an hour on account of repairs being made on the high trestle.

Denver had a snowstorm Saturday, six inches of the beautiful being the result. Most of it disappeared by Sunday morning.

Three botanical students came up from Portland yesterday and sized up the flora of this neighborhood yesterday afternoon and this morning.

Messrs. Wm. Holder and J. Hosford are in the city perfecting arrangements for the play "A Social Glass," to be given here by the Moro Dramatic club, Friday evening.

Seufert's upper wheels are beginning to get their work in on the salmon. About 3,000 pounds a day are caught. Five feet more water will show a large increase in the catch.

The weather the past few days has been perfect; there was no wind, the sun shone brightly and the air was perfumed by orchard blooms and lilacs. The Dalles just now is at her prettiest and that is handsome enough for anybody.

One hobo was brought up this morning for the recorder to measure out the amount of his repentance, which was the usually prescribed dose. The man whom the marshal had chained up Saturday, expressed a desire to work today, as he has demonstrated by experiment that work is not so wearing on his system as being compelled to stand still.

By special invitation of the literary society Dr. Doane will repeat his lecture delivered in Portland at the Willamette University commencement exercises several weeks ago. The subject will be "The Twentieth Century Physician." The society tenders a cordial invitation to everyone to be present. No admission will be charged. The date will be announced later.

The concert next Wednesday evening at the Congregational church promises to be the event of the season. A fine program by local talent, assisted by Mrs. Heald and Miss Smith of Hood River, will be presented. Mrs. Heald and Miss Smith are both from the famous Boston Conservatory of Music, and will be well worth hearing. The best singers of The Dalles, and everyone knows how good they are, will make the evening very attractive.

Charles Teio was brought up from the Cascade Locks yesterday afternoon by Constable Trans, having been sentenced to jail for ten days for using obscene and abusive language. He had no sooner arrived than a telegram came to take him to Vancouver to testify in the case of the state of Washington against S. A. Anderson, who is accused of the murder of J. A. Bull, near Stevenson, a few months ago. Teio is said to be one of the most important witnesses for the state. He was taken down on the boat this morning.

The bicyclists are getting decidedly numerous. Today at noon we noticed a herd of them, consisting of two ladies and six gentlemen, gliding gracefully down Court street. Ye weary reporter watched them until they whirled around the corner up Second street like a flock of birds, and then he lifted his feet one at a time, looked at the old-fashioned non-pneumatic half soles on his brogans, and pedaled himself along towards the courthouse, happy as a clam in the consciousness that the world and the fullness thereof was at his feet.

The work of grading around the head of the draw at the high trestle is progressing rapidly. The find of petrified trees is much larger than was at first supposed. They are found in the new cut in abundance and some large sections of the trees have been taken out. The trees were evidently growing near the bluff, when a flow of lava came down over it surrounding the trees and completely sealing them up. The percolation of the surface water charged with sand and quartz finally caused the petrification. The waves of the lava where they overflowed one another are plainly visible.

Tuesday's Daily

Two carloads of cattle were shipped to Troutdale this morning.

Licenses to wed were issued yesterday to C. L. Paquet and Miss E. L. Whitlock. Mr. Biggs sent a big wagon load of shoats out to his ranch in Sherman county this afternoon.

Salmon are being received in small quantities, only about enough to supply the local market. The present warm weather will send the river up rapidly, and then the run will commence.

Lee Evans' six year old orchard near Mosier bears for the first time this year, frost having singularly caught him every season heretofore. The limbs are positively burdened with bloom.

Miss Katie Davenport returned Sunday from a visit to her parents at Mosier to her school duties at Viento. George Davenport, who has likewise visited the old folks, returned Monday to Portland.

Mrs. Zoe Gaynor, who is to make the walk around the world, on a wager passed through on her way to Portland this afternoon. She will leave Portland Friday, for a walk across the continent and will reach here Sunday.

The dog-cart furnishes another item today, a small horse running away with one. The first we saw of him he turned the corner at the courthouse, firing the cushions and other loose matter out of the cart. He ran down Court to Second and up Second a couple of blocks, before he was caught. No damage was done.

The concert tomorrow evening will undoubtedly fill the Congregational church to overflowing. Besides the very best voices in The Dalles, Mrs. Heald of Hood River, one of the finest pianists on the coast, and Miss Anne Smith, also of Hood River, who recently graduated from the Boston Conservatory of Music, will favor the audience with several selections.

Where Oh! Where is Ferris? He sent in word some time ago that he would be here to start the street sprinkler when it became necessary. That time has arrived, but Ferris cometh not. We need him every day and hour for the zephyr bloweth and the air is filled with dust, superinduced by an overdose of aridity. Come! Jupiter Pluvius Aquarius Ferris, and get on to the dust.

Wool is arriving very slowly, but reports from the country show that the shearers are very busy and soon there will be a string of teams loaded with wool each waiting its turn to be unloaded. The clip is an extra good one, and prices will probably range from 7 to 8 cents with possibly a cent more for special lots desired by local manufacturers.

The Moro dramatic club, Friday night, in "A Social Glass." Those who have seen this play pronounce it the strongest of its kind they have ever seen. The club is composed of Sherman county's brightest people and the play is well put on. It has been given in several places, and has received high encomiums from its home newspapers. The proceeds will be given to the Sherman county public schools.

Mr. Stevens, the inventor of the roller process of manufacturing flour, came up on the local yesterday and remained over until the midnight train. His wife accompanied him. He is much pleased with Oregon, thinks it will out rank California as a fruit state, and will in time, owing to its vast water powers, become one of the great manufacturing states of the Union.

The constables of Mosier, Mr. Dichtmuller, and of Hood River, Mr. Olinger, are looking for one Mark Robinson, against whom an informant was filed for attempted rape of a comely Indian squaw in Elijah Husey's field near Mosier. The latter proved too strong for her assailant and came out unharmed, she claims, after a struggle lasting all the afternoon.

Mr. Geo. Triplon, who owns a ranch at Hood River, got discouraged last summer and left for Snake River. After six months experience in the fruit growing portions of that country he made up his mind that Hood River was the best place in the world for growing apples, and arrived here last night on his way back. He intends to put forty acres in "red winter apples" and wait for them to get ripe. He came down the Columbia in a small boat just for the experience and made the trip of 300 miles in six days. He left his boat at Celilo, and is much pleased with his trip.

Rock Creek Shooting Affray.

A telegram from Arlington yesterday says:

"A shooting affray took place between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning at the residence of Harry Clay, on Rock creek, twenty miles south of here, resulting in the death of Henry Grider. Henry had been working for Mr. Clay for about a year, and had been looked upon as a faithful, law-abiding citizen. Recently, however, Grider seems to have gained the impression that he owned the ranch, and was going to run things to suit himself. He had made threats of killing Mr. Clay, and had been carrying a revolver for some time. This morning the two men had some little dispute about matters pertaining to the ranch, and, without provocation, Grider drew a revolver and fired two shots at Clay without effect. He was following him up, with the evident intention of killing him, when Mr. Clay ran into the house and procured a shotgun. He emptied one of the barrels into Grider's side below the left arm, killing him instantly. He then gave himself up to the authorities. He will be given a preliminary trial tomorrow morning. Mr. Clay has a fine ranch on Rock creek, and deals extensively in stock, having recently made a large shipment to Chicago. He is highly esteemed as a peaceable, law-abiding citizen. Although the shooting on his part was clearly in self-defense, the occurrence is greatly deplored by himself and friends."

Funeral at Mosier.

A funeral of more than usual sadness was that of Mrs. Lizzie A. Kaeg, which took place at Mosier Sunday, April 21st. Deceased was a sister of Mrs. Jefferson Mosier of this place, but lived in Portland, and the reason of her interment here was due perhaps more to the reason that her first child was buried here than any other. The death of the child occurred while the mother was visiting her sister here in January. Sunday the remains of the mother were laid to rest within a few inches of the little one who had preceded her but so short a time. Other elements of sadness are that another little one is left whose existence is thus far spanned by only 12 days, and that the mother of the deceased lies prostrated by an illness from which it is feared she cannot recover. Mrs. Kaegi was but 19 years of age and her lovable traits of character were fully attested by the number of friends who followed her sadly from Portland to her last earthly resting place. These comprised, besides several friends, the husband, sisters, a brother and father of the deceased. The trainmen Conductor Glenn in charge kindly carried the body and large funeral cortege across the trestle bridge leading to the little scenic graveyard across Mosier creek. The funeral service was conducted by John Carroll who spoke with much feeling, tact and good sense. The tiny mortal bequeathment of the dead will be adopted by her sister, Mrs. Jeff. Mosier.

Married Sixty-One Years.

Next Wednesday, April 24th, Daniel D. Rogers and wife of Hood River will celebrate the 61st anniversary of their wedding. They were married in Troupsburg, Steuben county, New York, April 24, 1834. Both are natives of Steuben county. Mr. Rogers was born at Troupsburg February 4, 1815; his wife, Sarah Taylor, was born at Bath Nov. 22, 1816. Ten children were born to them, only two of whom are living. The oldest son, E. C. Rogers of Hood River, is 57. Charles H. Rogers, youngest son, also a resident of Hood, is 43. Wednesday the aged couple will keep open house, and their friends and neighbors will call and pay their respects.—Glacier.

GIVEN UP ALL HOPE

Eczema, Turning to Blood Poison. Treated by Specialists Seven Months without One Particle of Success.

BODY RUNNING SORES.

Condition Terrible. Life a Burden. Tried CUTICURA. In Three Days Attended to Business. Cure Permanent.

In the spring of 1891 I took that dreadful skin disease, Eczema, which turned into blood poison. I consulted the best known specialists in this city. They treated me for seven months but I never drove a particle of good from any of them. They had given it up as a hopeless cure. I was covered with sores from head to foot; I had running sores all over me, some of them as large as a box of your CUTICURA. It cost me hundreds of dollars with these so-called specialists. My condition was terrible, life was almost a burden to me. I could not eat, drink, or sleep. I was unable to walk and had given myself up as dead. I tried all medicines imaginable, until a friend who had got relief advised me to try CUTICURA REMEDY. I sent out and got them, and when I took the first dose of your CUTICURA REMEDY I felt a little better; with three boxes of your most valuable CUTICURA and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT I was a new man. In three days I was up walking around and attending to my business, and it is the CUTICURA and CUTICURA RESOLVENT that saved me from the jaws of death. This is two years ago. I wanted to see if it had been driven out of my system, and I can say I have never had any trouble since for two years. GEO. F. BRIGHT, 225 Penn. Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 50c; Soap, 25c; RESOLVENT, $1. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CO., Sole Proprietors, Boston.

PIMPLES, blackheads, red, rough, chapped, and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

Nervous Instantly relieved by a Cuticura Plaster, because it revitalizes the nerve forces and hence cures nervous pains, weakness, and numbness.

Weather Crop Bulletin No. 4 of the Oregon State Weather Service for Eastern Oregon.

WEATHER: Light rain fell on the 16th and 17th, being heaviest in Umatilla county; it amounted to .02 to .34 of an inch. The temperature has ranged from 34 to 75 degrees in the Columbia river valley and from 28 to 66 degrees to the south; several light frosts occurred in the valley and injurious frosts to the south.

CROPS: There is a general desire for more rain. The western part of Wasco county and the northern portion of Umatilla county have so far sufficient moisture, but more will be soon needed. In Sherman and Morrow counties the need of rain is already very marked. The fall sown grain is quite healthy and growing well. Spring sown grain is not in good condition—it needs rain. The frosts have done little, if any, damage; in the valley the frosts were not severe enough to do damage, and to the south the fruit buds are not advanced sufficiently to be damaged. There is an exception to this statement in southern Gilliam county, where frosts have possibly done damage. The fruit will make a good crop this year; the cereal crop will be materially deficient unless general and copious rains occur. Warm rains will insure good crops, without general rain there are indications already of short grain crops.

While showers usually occur during May and June and sometimes general heavy rains occur, yet the conditions this year are such that a dry season appears to be probable.

B. S. PAGE, Director. May be a Cousin.

A dispatch from Scranton, Pennsylvania, dated April 21st, says:

"Register of Wills Hopkins has received a letter from Patrick Murphy, an inmate of the soldiers' home, near Los Angeles, Cal., in which the writer claims to be a nephew of the late Judge Handley, who left an estate of nearly $2,000,000, mainly for public purposes. Murphy claims to be a son of Judge Handley's sister, but he is regarded as an impostor."

Scranton people may be mistaken and Mr. Murphy may turn out to be cousin of the deceased. When Eddy Handley died here, his father, Major David Handley, of the old and well known firm of Sinnott & Handley of the Umatilla house, and a brother of Judge Handley told Col. Sinnott that Eddy was the last of the Handley heirs. Judge Handley had no sisters, but his mother's name was Murphy. It may be possible that Judge Handley's mother brother is the father of the man Murphy, mentioned in the dispatches. At any rate the Los Angeles man has the right name to claim relationship on through the maternal side of the Handley family.
