There is no excitement, nor is there very much talking being done about the mining industry in southern Oregon; vet it is a fact that there are more mines in active operation in this section than any other in the state. Considerable gold is being taken out right along, and people do not notice it any more than in any other branch of business. Some of the mines have been yielding a handsome income to their owners for years, and others just as valuable are being opened up every week.

LATE LITERARY NEWS.

Much interest will be felt by the public in the return of Rudyard Kipling to India. He has just agreed to furnish a regular contribution to The Cosmopolitan Magazine for the coming year, beginning his work upon his return to India. India has never been critically considered by such a pen as Kipling's and what he will write for the Cosmopolitan will attract the widest attention, both here and in England.

Perhaps the most beautiful series of pictures ever presented of the Rocky mountains will be found in a collection of fourteen original paintings, executed by Thomas Moran for the May Cosmopolitan. To those who have been in the Rockies, this issue of the Cosmpolitan will be a souvenir worthy of preservation. This number contains fifty-two original drawings, by Thomas Moran, Oliver Heford, Dan Beard, H. M. Eaton, F. G. Attwood, F. O. Small, F. Lix, J. H. Dolph, and Rosina Emmett Sherwood, besides six reproductions of famous recent works of art, and forty other interstreet commissioner, in conformity with esting illustrations-ninety-eight in all. Though the Cosmopolitan sells for but fifteen cents, probably no magazine in the world will present for May so great a number of illustrations specially detiors. The fiction in this number is by F. Hopkinson Smith, Gustav Kobbe, W. Clark Russell, Edgar W. Nye, and T. C. Crawford.

A Dial On His Face.

Col. James B. Eddy, of the Oregon Railway commission, has returned from the scene of the bridge collapse on the Oregon Pacific, fifty miles west of Corvallis. On the part of the commission, Col. Eddy made an investigation into the source of the accident and found it difficult to give a definite answer. It appears that the bridge had been inspected bat a short time ago and pronounced sound and trainworthy.

In connection with the terrible accident, the Corvallis Times relates a strange incident. The conductor was Johnny Campbell and after the crash was over and search was made in the debris, on Mr. Campbell's face under the left eye was a perfect picture of his watch dial, showing the time to be 15 minutes past 3 o'clock, just the time of the accident. It is supposed he had his watch in his hand looking at the time when the crash came and he fell with his face on the dial and it left the im-
