LOCAL BREVITIES.

Friday's Daily.

Fifty-three boxes of fine cherries were shipped from this point through the express company last night.

A. S. MacAllister is overseeing the work in the D. P. & A. N. Co.'s office during Mr. Allaway's absence at the coast.

A gang of men are fixing the railroad track on Front street. Some new ties are being put in and rails that are worn replaced.

The Snake river is falling slightly. The upper Columbia is rising about six inches a day. The river here is rising steadily.

Several cars of wool shipped from The Dalles went to Portland on an early morning freight train. There is an immense amount still to be shipped.

Several train loads of tea from the Chittagong, which has just arrived in Portland, will pass through The Dalles tomorrow or the next day on their way East.

The hose contest will consist of a run of 100 yards, the laying of 250 feet of hose and putting on of the nozzle. The full length of the distance covered will be 550 feet.

Conductor Bennett is in charge of the local train for a few days, Mr. Glendenning being absent on a short vacation. Passenger business has been quite light for several days on the local train.

The thermometer is close to the 100 mark today. Everybody that had much business to do transacted it in the early morning hours, and no one has been on the streets more than was necessary.

On the date of the last drill Company A accepted an invitation to be present and participate in the parade at The Dalles on the Fourth of July. The boys were so royally treated on a recent visit of this kind to that city that they were all glad to again accept the generosity of their neighbor.—Wasco News.

Some samples of Wasco county cherries will be prepared and sent to Denver for the National Teachers' Convention, which takes place on July 10th. This is a good way of advertising our splendid fruit.

It was rumored today that a sale of wool had been made last night for 12 1/2 cents a pound. There is reason for the increase in price as the wool journals in Boston consider the outlook bright for a fairly good price.

Good news comes from Mr. Pague and let us hope that it is true—that the weather forecast predicts much cooler weather for tomorrow and Sunday. Now is the time to show your friendship, Mr. Pague.

The Oregonian says that yesterday Portland was the hottest place in either Oregon or Washington, the thermometer in the metropolis registering 98 degrees. The Dalles can go three better, but it is a barren honor, and we would gladly surrender the prestige.

Six men of the circus advance guard arrived in town today, and are still further decorating the town with gaudy advertisements. They came in a special car. Judging by the amount of advertisement done, the circus must be a large affair.

Over four hundred sacks of flour were shipped on the boat today by the Diamond Mills to Portland. The flour was consigned to Lang & Co. The Dalles is finding a ready sale in the Portland market for its milling product, and several large shipments have been made recently.

The weather means that there will be lots of people wanting to go to the excursion Sunday. Only a limited number of tickets can be sold and those who wish to have a pleasant day on the river should secure their tickets at once. In the evening the Turners concert will be given.

Mr. Hirato, the young Japanese, who is to lecture at the Congregational church Sunday evening, is well spoken of by the newspapers all over the state. He will talk upon a subject with which he is very conversant and all who attend will be greatly interested in the subject and the speaker.

The fish still persist in keeping deep down in the river and the wheels make empty revolutions in the air. About 250 pounds were caught this morning in a haul across the river and brought to Herriek's cannery. Some of the Chinamen, who watch things pretty closely, think the catch will be better next month, but others are not so hopeful and are afraid that this season will pass and see very few fish caught. The rise in the river may help things.

The following real estate transfers are on record in the county clerk's office: W. J. Ashby and wife to J. R. Putnam, lots 11 and 12 in block 3 in Laughlin's Bluff Addition to The Dalles; $1200. S. J. and F. A. Daily to M. Kennedy, E. 1/4 NE 1/4 of Sec. 20 in Tp. 4 S R 12 E, W. M., containing 80 acres; $300.

A high compliment was paid The Dalles by the receipt of a telegram from Denver asking Mr. Pinkham of the fruit company, to send two boxes of cherries, part Royal Annes and part Black Republicans, for samples of Wasco fruit. They will be forwarded to Boston for exhibition. Out of all the fruit-producing countries of the West, The Dalles and Wasco county have been selected to furnish the best samples of cherries. Our fame for fruit is rapidly spreading.

The grasshoppers are reported to be bothering considerably this year in different localities. A gentleman whose place is about ten miles from town on the Sherman county road, says they have done damage to his orchard, but so far have injured the grain but little. The pests take a special delight in attacking the tender shoots of fruit trees, and soon have them stripped. The grasshopper is a periodical pest and comes and goes of its own sweet will. This section has not been bothered with them for a long time till the present season.

When your heart pains you and unusual palpitation is frequent, accompanied sometimes with shortness of breath and low spirits you are suffering from a disordered state of the liver, digestion is imperfect and there is wind on the stomach. If allowed to remain the trouble will ultimately reach the kidneys and then become dangerous to life. Steps should be taken to stay its progress on the appearance of the first symptoms. Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm is especially adapted for disorders of this kind. Price $1.00 per bottle. For sale by Snipes-Kinersly Drug Co.

Frank Williams, the son of Henry Williams of 8-Mile, who was so seriously hurt just four weeks ago today and who had been getting better for some time, was taken suddenly worse yesterday and the family are more anxious than at any time after the first few days of his illness. He is extremely weak and the excessively hot days have a bad effect upon him. The attending physician thinks he will, in all probability, recover.

Mr. James Kennedy of Wamic called at THE CHRONICLE office today and wished, on behalf of the Wamic baseball nine to accept the challenge of the Hood River club to play at The Dalles on the Fourth of July. The Wamic boys mean business, and are very desirous of meeting the club from the land of the strawberries. Mr. Keunedy says their club is in good practice, and they are confident of giving the Hood River nine a warm contest. The game will be a great attraction for the celebration, and it is to be hoped that the affair can be satisfactorily arranged. If the manager of the Hood River nine wishes to consider the challenge accepted, Mr. Kennedy would be glad to hear from him through the columns of THE CHRONICLE, or otherwise.

Eleven cars of wool went west on train 21. Several more will go today. Another large shipment of flour was made by the Regulator this morning.

The upper Columbia rose last night 2.5. It is stationary at Umatilla. Reports from the Snake river say it is at a stand still. Painters are at work giving the brewery a new coat of paint. The east end of town is showing improvements in a good many directions.

Several scows, which have been down the river waiting for a chance to come up, took advantage of the wind yesterday afternoon and sailed into the harbor. The cordwood market is pretty well stocked from their cargoes.

The long distance telephone company have made a cut in rates to Portland and a talk can now be had with the metropolis at 50 cents for the first minute and 5 cents for each extra half minute. This move will tend to increase the volume of telephone business between The Dalles and Portland.

The parade of bicycles to win the prize for the best decorated wheel will take place in the evening instead of in the morning, as was previously announced. This will give the people a better chance to view the different wheels, and scatter the amusements over the day. Some artistic work may be expected from the owners of bicycles.

A ladies belt with a silver buckle, engraved R. G. L., was lost along Second street, from St. Mary's Academy to Court street and up Court street to the academy yard, about 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Will the finder please leave it with Rev. W. C. Curtis, at the Congregational church.

Twelve and a quarter remains the top price given this season for wool. James Connelly of Cherry Creek sold his clip at this price to Mr. Jacobs of the Oregon City woolen mills yesterday. There had been some sharp competition among buyers for several days and Mr. Jacobs got what wool he wanted by offering the higher figure.

That The Dalles has a large population was attested by the number of people that turned out to see a runaway go up Second street this afternoon. Reynolds & Henzie's express team started from the Umatilla House and beat all previous records to the East end of town. The wagon tongue dragged on the ground and was torn to splinters. Otherwise no particular damage was done.

The closing exercises of the school in Dist. No. 11, Miss Alma Taylor, teacher, took place at the schoolhouse on Mill creek, Wednesday afternoon. Every pupil took part in the exercises and all acquitted themselves well. Many patrons were present and expressed themselves as much pleased, not only with the closing exercises, but with the advancement of their children and the general conduct of the school.

A tea train of nineteen loads left Portland this morning at 6 o'clock and passed through The Dalles on the afternoon local. The O. R. & N. are desirous of rushing the train through as quickly as possible to make a good record in the first Asiatic connections. The tea would have started sooner, but for the delay in the custom house at Portland. Each box had to be inspected by the custom officials and the unloading of the steamer greatly delayed. There will be altogether over 100 cars loaded with tea.

Over 350 men are now employed at the Locks. The water has long been out of the canal and men are at work fixing the floor of the portion just below the bulkhead. A dredger is at work at the extreme upper end and can be moved to any part of the canal. A bridge will soon be built across the excavation so that trains can cross and then the taking out of the bulkhead will be begun. Everything looks favorable to an early completion of the undertaking.

The July Forum will contain a striking article by Dr. Max Nordau, author of "Degeneration" or "Society's Protection against Degenerates"—the first contribution that he has made to an American publication. Judge George F. Edmunds and Edward B. Whitney, Assistant Attorney-General, will discuss respectively the Salutory Results and the Political Dangers of the Income-Tax Decision. Mr. Whitney's article shows that the decision may not by any means be the end of the matter.

One hundred and seventeen bales of wool were turned out yesterday at the Wasco warehouse. The baling machine is running at full capacity and the men will work a portion of tomorrow hoisting wool. Teams are arriving every day from distant points in the interior. The greater part of the wool clip of this year has probably been now received and a week will see the arrivals of teams lessened. The amount that has passed through The Dalles warehouses is enormous. The record of all previous years will be broken.

The boat line, in conjunction with the Southern Pacific, has made another cut in the wool rates to Boston. Ninety-five cents would be considered low enough, but the tariff sheet, which will be published Monday, will give a rate on wool from The Dalles to Boston of 90.9 cents per hundred pounds. This is slashing rates all to pieces, and it will help the wool growers of Eastern Oregon immeasurably. The Dalles is more than ever a terminal point and its fame as a great wool center is going abroad through the land.

Mrs. F. J. Chase, whose place is on 3-Mile, brought into THE CHRONICLE this morning some splendid samples of Wasco county cherries. They are of the Black Republican and Royal Anne varieties and are, without any doubt, the largest and finest we have ever seen. Mr. and Mrs. Chase have made a beautiful place out of a hillside, which when they began working grew nothing but scrub oaks, and the results of their labor are just beginning to come in. They have over thirty acres put in fruit trees and the vast yield goes to show that the hill orchards hold their own and possibly surpass those in the creek bottoms for good yields of fruit.

Bert Hawthorne has been the principal object of interest in the justice and police courts today. He was arrested last night charged with making an assault upon his wife. Before this Hawthorne had been having a merry time with his horse, and finally becoming wearied, the horse threw him. Constable Urquhart arrived upon the scene and placed Hawthorne under arrest. He was brought before Recorder Dufur and charged with disorderly conduct. This cost him $5. Hawthorne was then transferred to Justice Davis' court, and held to answer on the charge of assault. He plead guilty and was fined $20 by the justice. This was not all his troubles, for a complaint was made to put him under bonds that the peace might be kept, and he is now undergoing trial in the justice court.

The biggest day of the season at the Wasco warehouse today. Over 400 sacks of wool taken in. The upper Columbia rose one-half a foot yesterday. The Snake rose slightly. The river here will continue to rise a little.

The following deed was filed with the county clerk this morning: Charles Frank to Mark Fleming and Hannah Fleming, lot No. 6, in block 5, in Thompson's addition to The Dalles, as shown in the plat now on file in the county clerk's office.

Somebody is missing a pet squirrel. One came the other day to Dr. Doane's house and has taken up his abode there. The animal is very tame and has evidently well used to civilized ways. The doctor is not very anxious to find the owner and the squirrel is quite contented in his new home.

A large number of thistles have been removed, but there still remain a good many along Front street and in other parts of the city. The next few days should see them all destroyed. The old fable of the woman who sowed the thistle seed, but could not gather it again, should be remembered.

Messrs. J. G. and I. N. Day now have 300 to 400 men employed upon the Cascades canal. The canal above the lower gate has been pumped out and the next upper gate is in place and being riveted. The bed of the canal above this upper gate is being cleaned out and the upper bulkhead will soon be taken out.

Bert Hawthorne was up before the recorder Saturday and placed under $100 bonds to keep the city's peace. As it is haying time and he wanted to go to his farm, the recorder suspended judgment for awhile. Justice Davis also suspended judgment in the assault and battery case in order to give him time to raise the money.

Complaint has been made to THE CHRONICLE about the road leading from a little this side of Floyd's to The Dalles. The hill near the old Covington place is said to be in a very bad condition, full of rocks and holes. We hope the attention of the proper officers will be directed to the matter, and the proper remedies applied.

Sheriff Dryer took James Patterson to the insane asylum today. Patterson has been in the county jail for several days, and was this morning examined before the county court and Dr. Logan, who pronounced him insane. Patterson is the man whom it is thought had something to do with starting a fire in the East End of town recently. He hails from Hood River. His form of insanity is not violent, and a course of proper treatment will probably result in his early release.

After the usual business at the meeting of the Juvenile Temple last Saturday afternoon a pleasant little affair occurred. Pearl Joles was presented with a handsome book as a reward for getting the largest number of boys to join the temple during the quarter ending April 30th. There had been considerable rivalry as to who should receive the prize, and the fortunate recipient can feel pleased, as the receiving of it showed who was possessed of influence among the boys. The trophy was to have been awarded some time ago, but was for various reasons delayed till last Saturday.

Yesterday the Congregational Sunday school had very pleasant exercises in place of the regular lesson. It was review day for the quarter just closing, and the lessons were illustrated by large colored pictures, which made the subjects more clearly understood. The school recited the titles and verses in concert, and showed that their minds had been busy during lesson days. The class of little children, under Mrs. Condon, added greatly to the pleasure of the day, and showed how carefully they had been trained. The school is progressing, and the roll of scholars is unusually large.

A strange guest walked into the Cosmopolitan hotel at 12 o'clock the other night, and by his appearance considerably startled Mr. Edgar. Never a word did he speak, but his eye bore a determined look, so that preparations for a proper reception were immediately made. The intruder, if so he may be called, was fine looking badger, fully two feet long and a heavy weight. He is a fine specimen of that class of animals and seems disposed to take things easy and be sociable. He has quarters in the unused dining room, and has the place entirely to himself. Mr. Edgar is going to fatten him and give him to George Francis Train on his next visit West.

The mayor has made two excellent appointments in the names sent to the council last night. Mr. G. W. Phelps, who will occupy the recorder's chair, is a young man raised in The Dalles and possessed of great popularity. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan law school and already has won for himself wide repute as a young man of good character and ability. Mr. Phelps has held the office of deputy prosecuting attorney and in filling that position has shown good judgment, tact and legal ability. He is one of the most promising young men in Wasco county. Mr. Connelly has made a fine record for himself in fulfilling the duties of night-watchman and there is no one but is heartily glad that the council has recognized his fitness and selected him again for the position. To both these officers THE CHRONICLE extends congratulations.

The Dalles as a Railroad Terminal. Mention was made Wednesday of Mr. H. W. Goddard, an important official of the Southern Pacific, being in The Dalles and that he was seeking to advance the interests of that road and secure in as large a share as possible the business of the country radiating from The Dalles. There are some schemes of large dimensions being thought of by men who if they once decide upon a course of action, pursue it to the end. It is true they yet belong to the future, but the fact that they are even being considered augurs well for The Dalles. Mr. Goddard spent some time talking with people, who were conversant with the country south from this city, about the practicability of building a railroad from here to Prineville.

The Southern Pacific are now relaying a large portion of their mountain divisions with heavier rails and there will soon be a large number of good second hand rails for which they see no immediate use. There will probably be enough to build 150 miles of road. The rails are in fine condition, but proved too light for the hard service to which they were subjected on the heavy grades. Realizing the early completion of the locks the plan has suggested itself to some officials of building a road from The Dalles to Prineville and thereby counteracting any opposition from the Oregon Pacific extension. The Southern has an abundance of rolling stock and none would be needed to supply the road. The wool business of the section which the road would tap would prove a large source of revenue and a country be developed, which now lies unimproved, because of too great a distance from the markets. People who are well informed claim there is an easy, practicable route, with few obstacles to overcome, between here and Prineville. One plan proposed would be to run a survey up the Columbia, paralleling the O. R. & N. to 5-Mile, then go up 5-Mile and pass into 15-Mile valley, through Dufur and swing around the head of Tygh Ridge and pass through Wamic and over the Juniper Flat to the Deechutes river. From there no great trouble would be found in extending the road to Prineville. One of the richest portions of Wasco county is near Wamic and in the flat called Juniper. Not only is the soil fertile but irrigating ditches are being built, which will allow water to be run over any portion. The farmers in that vicinity have a long haul to market and for that reason little grain is shipped. But with the building of a railroad, with the competition of good wagon roads, all kinds of farming industries would be stimulated.

There may nothing come just now of the scheme, which has just been outlined, but this present generation will be taken to unite still more firmly the interests of the great country which looks to The Dalles as its outlet. A railroad to Prineville may not come this year or next, but it will sometime.
