AMERICAN GENTLEMEN.

No one can doubt that the Henley races were rowed under the most gentlemanly conditions and surroundings, since the British managers of the competition stipulated that no member of competing American crew should have ever engaged in manual work for a living—Oregonian.

seives and grief to their friends. That they have escaped the laws power thus far is not at all to their credit, but certainly to their misfortune, and the misfortune of society.

ALL TOO TRUE.

The unfortunate incident which happened Sunday morning should serve as a lesson to the young men of The Dalles. We say young men because they are the ones in whom the deepest interest is taken.

This is not a temperance lecture; but there come times when we must stop and consider. The hope of the nation is in its young men; their young shoulders must bear the burdens which our fathers lay down and their brave young hearts must meet responsibility.

Klickitat INDEBTEDNESS.

Klickitat county is having a serious time over its indebtedness. Being already badly in debt, it a few years ago placed the management of its affairs in the hands of populists—the class of men who know all that is to be known of financial science—and the inevitable happened; the country was swamped.

THE BICYCLE.

This is a harmless-looking toy, and it would never be suspected of upsetting the business of canal boats, lake steamers, railroads and street railways. But the evidence is conclusive, and the ball-bearing axle and pneumatic tire is "doing up," not only the passenger business in and about the large cities, but freight transporters are feeling the effect of the change.

AMERICAN BUYERS OF LONDON WOOL.

In every market report during the past week will be found the statement that Americans were heavy buyers. In these reports American wools are not quoted. The shipments are to the United States, and not away from here; and yet many wool men believed the statement that free trade in wool would enhance the price of our product.

Along with the agitation for good roads should go a discussion as how best to keep them in proper condition when they have been obtained. Throughout the East and especially in Massachusetts the subject of wide tires for wagons is receiving much consideration.

The dividend declared last month by the boat company gave much pleasure to its friends. Another one in the fall would come just as agreeable. Every well-wisher of the D. P. & A. N. Co., throughout Eastern Oregon hopes to see business increase so that by the end of the summer there will be another surplus to divide.

OUR BONDED INDEBTEDNESS.

Dalles City has now called in the last of its warrants, and, if the law is obeyed, no more will be placed in the market. We have been fortunate in liquidating our $57,000 indebtedness at a time when capital was seeking investment in municipal securities, and its owners were willing to take a smaller rate of interest than during times of business activity.

OUR FARMERS THANKFUL.

Never before has the wheat situation attracted greater interest. In former years a good price was such a certainty that it hardly came into consideration; but the vast increase in foreign acreage and the cheapened cost of production in other countries has made it doubtful whether the tiller of the soil shall receive a fair recompense for his labor.

Wasco county warrants are selling today at a premium of one per cent.

Several of the county officials have been offered this figure for their scrip, and outside capitalists are eager to obtain all warrants that can be had. The debt of this county is larger than it should be for the amount of taxable property, and the taxpayers wish a reducing process begun.

The results of the English elections show a surprising victory for the conservative party. The change of sentiment rivals the elections of last year in the United States, and shows that this country is not the only one that is subject to sudden and radical transferring of political power.

One of the strongest proofs that the Columbia river bar has lost its terrors is seen when large ships sail from the ocean and anchor in Astoria without the services of a tug.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gomez will remove from this city to Albina where they will reside. Mr. Gomez has been in the fishing business but owing to the poor catch his wheel has been idle most of the time.

The most lamentable accidents in the history of The Dalles have occurred by falls from the railroad bridges. If the company could open their road so as to do away with the long trestle over Mill creek, and then guard the other bridge with proper railings, many accidents would be avoided, and some lives no doubt saved.

Ex-Senator F. M. Saunders of Montana is reported as saying: "The free silver talk by newspapers and demagogues is something wearying. There is not a newspaper between Minneapolis and the Pacific coast that is not full of cries of '16 to 1,' 'crime of 1873,' and all the rest of that rot."

The smoke, which has obscured the sun for several days, came upon us from the east; and not, as is usually the case, from the west. The west wind which commenced to blow yesterday, is clearing the atmosphere and lowering the temperature.

The report of bank clearances from all the cities of the union indicate an increase in the volume of business over the corresponding week of last year of 29.5 per cent. Our financial nervous prostration is wearing off rapidly.

Was Death Necessary?

[Special Telegram to Chicago Inter-Ocean.] SYCAMORE, ILL., May 25, 1894.—George W. Churchill, chief engineer of the city water-works, died of heart disease this afternoon while riding his bicycle.

A splendid man. A useful citizen, occupying a responsible position in the city where he lived. He was a necessity, not only to his family and friends, but to the entire community.

Near Vandalla, in the same state, Illinois there lives a widely known, much respected prosperous farmer, Mr. J. F. Helm.

Why did he not drop dead? On the same day that the telephone operator at Sycamore was clicking to the press of the country the startling news of the sudden death of Mr. Churchill, Mr. Helm at Vandalla posted the following letter:

I desire to add my experience to the many testimonials of benefit persons have received from the use of your remedies. I was troubled with heart disease for several years, at first I felt an oppression around my heart; it then began to get short of breath, after violent exercise I would have palpitation, and finally became so bad that that work became an impossibility. I was doctored by several of the best physicians but gained only temporary relief; Mr. G. B. Capps, druggist here, induced me to try a bottle of your Heart Cure. It helped me from the start; my trouble had become chronic, I had neglected it so long that I have used several bottles. The result has been most wonderful. I can breathe freely and easily, suffering no inconvenience from extra exertion and can enjoy a good night's rest, something I have not been able to do for years. I cannot express thanks too highly in commendation of your Heart Cure; believing you have prolonged my life many years, I can and will cheerfully recommend it to anyone suffering with heart trouble.

Very respectfully yours, J. F. HELM.

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.60 bottles for $3, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Miss Lloyd Jessup, in a truly dramatic manner, but with unaffected grace, recited "The Gypsy Flower Girl," and Mr. Grattan Donnelly was so charmed by her that he offered her the leading role in his new drama, "An American Girl."

It was an opportunity that not one stage-struck girl in a thousand would have missed; but owing to the opposition of her parents to a dramatic career for her, she declined and chose the path of duty.—San Francisco Examiner.
