LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Wednesday's Daily. A marriage license was issued today by the county clerk to John Byng and Miss Isabella Thompson, both of this city. The men who were wounded Sunday morning are resting easily and making rapid improvement. All danger is considered past. A large exhibit of students' work has been sent from St. Mary's academy in The Dalles to Hoehelaga, near Montreal, where the golden jubilee of the order begins today. City Marshal Blakeney is laid up by illness and not able to be actively around, so Frank Connelly is serving in his stead. Thomas Haslam is attending to the nightwatch's duty. The funeral of Mrs. Bessie Wagonblast took place yesterday morning from the Dry Hollow schoolhouse. The services were attended by a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives. A party of railroad officials came in a special car this morning and took the boat for Portland. Their car, which is from the Rio Grande road, was attached to the afternoon local and taken to Portland. The Hood River camping meeting will meet at the Belmont campground, beginning July 25th. Good pasturage can be found and meals secured on the ground. A hack will be present at the boat to convey visitors from the boat to the grounds. Some passengers who left for Arlington yesterday afternoon, returned last night about 10 o'clock. They spent the intervening time in the sand at the summit. The switch engine went out and brought in the weary travellers, but the train did not get back till this morning. The contests arranged for the fireman's tournament at Vancouver consist of a hand engine contest, hose race, wet test, hose contest, dry test, hub and hub race, association champion hose race and a washing contest. We hope to see The Dalles boys represented in a large number of the events. Yesterday about noon a man, whose name could not be learned, was seriously hurt at Cascade Locks by being crushed by a rock. He was a laborer on the government works. His arm was terribly mashed and the man otherwise hurt so that recovery is considered doubtful. Judge Bellinger has denied the injunction prayed for by J. G. and I. N. Day in the case where their store was closed by the sheriff. The Days asked for an injunction on the ground that the store was on government ground and was therefore without state jurisdiction. The petition was dismissed.

The Third regiment and Col. Geo. T. Thompson have been honored by the promotion of the latter to the temporary command of the brigade. Brigadier-General Beebe has been granted a ten days' leave of absence and Col. Thompson, being the senior colonel, is in command of the brigade till General Beebe's return. Mr. W. J. Roberts has been appointed an instructor in the State Agricultural College at Pullman, Wash. He will have charge of the engineering department in that school. Mr. Roberts is a former Dalles young man, a graduate of the University of Oregon and the Boston School of Technology. His many friends will be glad to hear of his success. Recorder Phelps had a new experience yesterday and one that he hardly counted upon when he went into office. His services in the ministerial line were called upon to unite a couple in marriage. He performed the duty, those who witnessed the ceremonies say, to the queen's taste, and if ever the couple have to go through the performance again they will undoubtedly seek his services. A bad wreck happened yesterday afternoon just this side of the summit. The engine drawing train No. 24 went into the sand and with its tank got off the track. The wind was blowing a large sized gale and the sand drifted around the derailed engine in such a way that it was a very difficult matter to extricate it. The summit is one of the worst places on the road for sand drifts and the company are put to great expense in keeping the track clear. Grant Mays started for Arlington several times yesterday and whether or not he reached his destination is not known. He first boarded the mixed train which leaves about noon, and reached the summit all right, but there found a sand blockade and came back to town. Later in the evening another train started, went the same distance with a like result. Remembering that the third time is the charm he took the morning passenger and as he hasn't been seen today he probably reached Arlington. Last night, about 9 o'clock, word was received by the city officers that Bert Hawthorne was causing some more trouble and that the presence of police was necessary. Officer Connelly went to the house and found Hawthorne was inside and that his demonstrations had terrified his wife so that she was afraid to stay at home. A large number of neighbors had collected and some of them say that Hawthorne had threatened to kill his wife. Whether this was so or not an arrest was necessary and Hawthorne was placed in jail. He has been out under bonds to keep the peace and this last break will cause commitment papers to be made out and the county jail will receive another occupant. Mr. W. H. Butts returned last night from attending the executive committee of the Volunteer Fireman Association, at Vancouver. Mr. Butts says a large number of companies were represented and the meeting a very enthusiastic one. A deputation from the Vancouver council was present and gave a guarantee that a purse of $550 would be raised and given for prizes according to the apportionment of the executive committee. A splendid place to run has been chosen along one of Vancouver's streets and Mr. Butts says it is a track upon which fine time should be made. The tournament commences Sept. 2d and lasts three days. Every company should be represented and The Dalles boys should make a fine turn out. Now is the time to begin taking interest in the coming tournament. Our boys should begin getting ready. Thursday's Daily. A complaint was filed today in the county clerk's office, by the German Savings and Loan Society against T. J. May et al. The Rev. Father Placidus Fuerst of Mount Angel will hold services in the Catholic church next Sunday, Rev. Father Bronseest being absent. Commitment papers were made out today turning Bert Hawthorne over to the tender mercies of the sheriff for ten days, unless he pays a fine of $20. The circus crew, consisting of eleven men, are putting up more bills in town today. The bill boards are gaily decorated again after a rest of several years. In the office of the county clerk today a deed was filed from George W. McCoy and Hulda McCoy to J. N. Jennings, conferring all of the sec 25, tp 2 n, r 9 e, W. M., containing 160 acres. If this delightful weather keeps up, The Dalles can make claims as a summer resort. The days are as cool as the crankiest of people could wish. The wind from the ocean comes laden with moisture. The season of fires along the railroad has now commenced and in the last day or two several have started. This morning the grass and timber between here and Mosier were on fire in four places. Wasco county is going to have a new town, as surveyors are laying out a site at 10-Mile, near Mr. Smith's place. A store is expected to be built and the other adjuncts of a town will doubtless follow in time. Just what the reason for the new town is doesn't appear, but may be well known to the projectors. Jailor Fitzgerald's wards are increasing fast, as there are now seven inmates in the county jail. Lane Mahaffy, who has been bound over to the grand jury to await the charge of attempting to obtain money under false pretenses, was received yesterday. Z. P. Jones has been released on bonds till the grand jury meets. The first of a series of new Zenda stories by Anthony Hope, author of "The Prisoner of Zenda," will appear in August number of McClure's Magazine. There will be six of these stories, each complete in itself, but all having to do with the charming Princess of Zenda, Osra, and published under the general title of "The Heart of the Princess Osra." A new Jungle story by Rudyard Kipling, in McClure's Magazine for August, will describe a remarkable stratagem practiced by Mowgli and the wise python Caa against the merciless Red Dogs of the Dekkan, and an all-night fight wherein the Red Dogs were vanquished by Mowgli and the Free People—the wolves. The story will be fully illustrated. The militia boys drilled last night in the new armory. With such elegant quarters there should be another militia company formed in The Dalles. No one questions the good of such an organization and there is plenty of good material from which to select a good company. Besides the good resultant from military discipline the social feature is also a very pleasant one and with two companies a good natured rivalry would exist which would stimulate both companies to greater effort. The militia should have a large part in the social life of the town next winter. The Regulator was loaded full this morning and her appearance suggested the flood days of last summer, when all the business was done by water. The passenger list was quite large while the lower deck was crowded with 150 bales of wool and a large cargo of miscellaneous freight, including fruit for Portland and flour for way points. The baggage and outfits of the campers added to the amount of freight. Mr. Hubert Rodgers of Portland is in the city. He represents the great Bradstreet Commercial Agency and will spend a couple of weeks in this vicinity looking up the reliability of our business men. Mr. Rodgers says The Dalles has a splendid standing with the merchants in the larger cities and its credit is unsurpassed by any town in the Northwest. The business men, he finds, prosperous and quick to meet all obligations. Reports from Sherman county say the yield will be better than anticipated several weeks ago. The spring grain has filled out well and the fall wheat has at all times been good. Harvesting is under way now and for the next month the hum of the threshing machine will be heard in the land. Last year Sherman county raised, it is said, one-sixth of the wheat crop in Oregon and this year the yield will be very satisfactory. The wool season is about over, and the receipts from now on will be nominal. There are a few buyers still in town, but the majority have finished their business and gone away. Most of the wool in the warehouses is sold and will be shipped steadily from now on. Trucks loaded with bales pass down Second street at all hours of the day to the steamer dock, and the railroad is hauling a good many cars of wool. The present season has seen an immense amount brought into The Dalles, but next year the record will be still larger. Many localities whose wool has gone to Arlington and Heppner will be attracted to The Dalles because of the higher prices paid here this season. Friday's Daily. Sam Thurman has opened a lemonade and fruit stand next door to the old Hood stable. Bert Hawthorne's fine was paid today so he has been released from jail and breathes the air of freedom once again. The warehouse of Mays & Crowe is being filled by a carload of Old Hickory wagons which arrived yesterday. These wagons were shipped direct from the factory. A sure sign that times are better is seen in the increased number of shows and circuses that are on the road. The Dalles is billed for a theatrical performance July 20th. The clouds are gathering in the sugar war and there promises to be some lively times. People had better buy while it is cheap for no one knows what the morrow may bring forth. Tonight is the social at the Methodist church. The ladies are making preparations for giving everybody a good time so don't disappoint them with a small crowd. Let everybody go. The audience at the opera house last night was too late in coming. Many arrived and took their seats at the appointed time, but the majority kept coming till a late hour. The Dalles has an unenviable reputation for being tardy at performances and either the people should come earlier or the performance begin later so that all could come at the same time. The Oregon Fruit Union have moved their office and storeroom from the first floor of the Cosmopolitan across the street to a portion of the building occupied by The Dalles Lumbering Co. The piano used at the concert last night by Miss Minto was not a Hardman as down on the program but a rich toned, handsome instrument of the Ludwig make, furnished by Jacobsen Book and Music Company. Harry Hampshire, Rocky Chenoweth and J. W. Fisher came up on the Regulator last night from Wind river, where they have had a camp for several days. Their outing did them good and they came back with all the signs of having had a rugged outdoor life. The weather was rather cool for outings the last two or three days, but otherwise the campers had a good time. County Surveyor Sharp is having a handsome cottage built on the corner of Fourth and Federal streets, diagonally across from the big stable. The frame is up and most of the outside work finished. The building is a very pretty design and built of the best material. When done it will be one of the prettiest residences in the city. This makes the second new house built in that vicinity this spring. Across the street is the cottage just erected by Henry Clough. Several wagon loads of wool arrived at the Wasco warehouse this morning, coming from beyond Mitchell. Fifteen sacks belonged to C. L. Pierson and the teams hauling it were eighteen days on the road. This is more than double the usual time, which is generally seven or eight days. The teamsters were hindered by their horses getting away and much delay was caused in catching them. The freighters came over the new Currant creek road and report it yet a little soft, but that by next season it will be in splendid condition for heavy hauling. A considerable quantity of fruit is being shipped from Lyle this season, a consignment coming up on the Regulator last night. The large farm of Mr. Balfour has been plained with a great many varieties of fruits and berries, and when the trees and vines get to the bearing stage there will be a vast amount ready for shipment. Mr. Balfour's place can be plainly seen from the river and the passerby can tell on what a large scale operations are being conducted. Farther up the valley is some fine fruit land which is just being developed and in a short time Lyle will be one of the most important fruit shipping points on the river. A Sale For Over $12,000 Today. On the courthouse steps today Deputy Sheriff Kelly offered for sale the two farms known as the old Lair Hill and W. H. Wilson places, on Mill creek. The sale was a sheriff's one and done in pursuance of decrees in the cases of J. C. Flanders vs. O. D. Taylor, Sarah K. Taylor, J. A. Johnson, Caroline Breese, John Berger, T. C. Mitchell, and state of Oregon as trustee for the common school fund of Wasco county. The amount of the judgment, with interest, against the two places was $3886.02 and it was not expected that there would be much active bidding, but in this the calculations were wrong. J. C. Flanders bid $4648.48 for the Wilson place and $4801.54 for the Hill farm. C. W. Distzel and Mr. Wilson, as attorney for Jos. A. Johnson, joined in the bidding which became quite brisk. The final bid for Mr. Johnson was the highest and he became the purchaser of both places. The Wilson farm selling for $6500 and the Hill place for $6236. The money was ready in French & Co.'s bank to make the payments and the matter soon adjusted, satisfying the Flanders judgment. These two farms are among the best fruit lands in Wasco county and well improved. The price paid today represents less than one-half their real value. Mr. Taylor has been the owner of both farms for several years. This sale is one of the largest ever held by the sheriff. A New Industry. In an interview with J. C. Meins we were informed that measures are being taken to establish a fruit drying plant in The Dalles. It is proposed to put up a first class dryer with all the appliances and tools needed to grade and prepare fruit for drying and shipping. Mr. Meins has just received from San Jose, Cal., one of the new prune perforator and graders, a machine perhaps destined to entirely supersede the lye dipping process used in preparing prunes. The cost of the plant will be $1000, $600 of which is already subscribed in cash and the balance ought to be made up by some of our enterprising business men. As there are about 250 to 300 tons of green prunes in this vicinity that will be virtually lost, there being no facilities for drying them, this plant would bring a net profit of about $3500 to the various prune growers in the vicinity of The Dalles. TAKE STEPS In time, if you are a sufferer from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98 per cent, are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness. Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod-liver oil and its filthy emulsions and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain. The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write to those who have been cured and profit by their experience. Address for Book, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y. BORN. To the wife of Rev. A. Hora, on Wednesday, July 17th, a girl.
