LOCAL BREVITIES.

The recorder's court was bereft of any excitement this morning.

Fair and slightly warmer weather is predicted for tomorrow.

All the children of The Dalles can see the poultry show for a nickel each.

The thermometer this morning registered 27 degrees, which is the coldest so far this season.

R. E. Williams is selling mens' and boys' suits at great bargains. Notice his ad. on the first page.

Remember the Degree of Honor social and dance this evening. The program as published promises a good entertainment.

The posters announcing the stereopticon lecture at the courthouse tonight, are stamped Nov. 30th. This is a mistake; they should be October 30th.

Two deeds were filed with the county clerk today. One was from W. S. Woodcock to Ed. Henderson and the other from the last named party to Ed. Doyle.

An extra coach was attached to the local train today. This was the date of the cheap excursion rates and quite a number took advantage of the reduction.

The brother of Karl Barkentine, who was killed at Mosier yesterday, arrived this morning. The remains will be taken to Hood River on the morning train for burial.

A new crosswalk leading from French's bank to Nielsen's store, is one of the latest improvements. There are many other localities in town where the example should be followed.

The Regulator took down some timber this morning to build a landing place at Collins. A great deal of improvement has been done this summer at the various landings along the river.

The civil docket for the next term promises to be a very extended one. A large number of complaints have been filed in the clerk's office, and the sheriff and his assistants kept busy making service.

The price of wheat is holding its own in The Dalles, and seems to bid fair of going higher. The market price here is 42 cents for number 1, and 44 for blue stem. It is higher across the river, where the wheat war is on.

The nights are getting very frosty and in the mornings the ground bears the signs of approaching winter. The small boy revels in the hopes of coasting and skating and wishes the winter may be hard and long. The stockman and the small boy differ on this point.

The friends of Mrs. Emma Lay-Carlisle, who now lives in St. Louis, Mo., will be sorry to learn that she has been far from well. The latest news says she is recovering somewhat and as soon as sufficiently strong she will be taken South in the hopes of benefiting her health.

The tanners are busy working on the roof of the Grant building at the corner of Front and Washington streets, which was damaged by fire a short while ago. The roof will be repaired as quickly as possible and as soon as the tin roof is torn up the carpenters will put in the necessary timbers.

The new play, "A Night Off," which the Home Dramatic Club will present Thanksgiving eve, is now in process of rehearsing. The parts are all assigned and the different people in the cast busy learning their lines. The piece is a laughable comedy, full of funny situations and bright dialogue.

Things at the Locks are looking brighter now. A car has arrived loaded with the hydraulic machinery for opening and closing the locks. The apparatus is very extensive, and makes the locks seem a bigger undertaking than ever. Other cars are now on the road bringing more of the machinery.

Harmon Temple, No. 4, will give a public installation of officers, next Friday evening, at 4 o'clock, at K. of P. hall. All are cordially invited to attend. We especially request parents of the children to come and judge for themselves of the Temple work. Rev. J. Wood, pastor of the M. E. church, will deliver a short temperance address.

The railroad company is filling in the bridges along its line with dirt and gravel. The work train and force of men are getting out large quantities of rock and dirt near Mosier, which are being used for filling. The improvement is a very good one, and tends to make the bridges safer and cause them to last longer. In a short time, it is said, the outfit will be moved to near The Dalles, and a fill put in at the Chenoweth bridge.

The Rattlesnake road is a sure go. Mr. Barzee, in accordance with the resolution passed at the Monday night meeting, is around collecting the pledges made some time ago. There is no doubt but that the building of the road will be of inestimable benefit to the people of Sherman and Wasco counties and the construction of the grade should be hastened with all possible speed.

Saturday evening the Good Templars of Dalles lodge, No. 2, will give a public installation of their officers for the quarter commencing November 1st. A night cap social will be held in connection with the installation. Each lady is expected to bring two night caps and a basket of refreshments, which will be sold to the highest bidder. A rousing time is anticipated, as this is the first public installation given for some time. An invitation is extended to all.

Mr. Andrew Hensen left last night for his old home in Sweden to be gone long enough, rumor says, to marry a Swedish lass and bring her to America. Mr. Hansen came to The Dalles five years ago and engaging in the fishing business, by hard persistent labor accumulated a competence. His friends gave him a farewell party last evening and wished him a safe journey to the land of his birth and a speedy return.

The first lecture in the winter course, provided by the ladies of the Congregational church, will be November 19th, when Hon. Thomas N. Strong of Portland will speak upon some phases of municipal reform. Mr. Strong is known as an able lawyer, who has been in the forefront of the fight against the abuses of municipal government in Portland. He is a speaker of ability and his theme is one in which every true citizen will be interested. The committee in charge of the course are fortunate in securing Mr. Strong to deliver the initial lecture. The course as a whole will be the great attraction of the winter.

Thursday's Daily

The forecast for tomorrow says fair and warmer.

Three cars of sheep went to Troutdale from the stockyards this morning.

The thermometer this morning registered 30 degrees, a slightly warmer than yesterday.

The new heater for French & Co.'s bank arrived this morning and is being put in position.

The body of Karl Barkentine, who was killed at Mosier, was taken to Hood River for burial this morning.

The justice court is having a period of unbroken rest and Justice Davis is complaining at the peace that broods over the city.

News was received this morning of the death of Mrs. A. Pratt, who died yesterday at Wamic. She was the wife of Mr. C. E. Pratt and was aged about 55 years. She had lived for a long while in the Wamic neighborhood and leaves many friends to mourn her loss.

The "Tom Thumb" wedding will occur at the M. E. church Monday evening Nov. 4th. Jack Frost has cruelly disappointed the ladies and instead of the Chrysanthemum show they will serve a wedding lunch, consisting of clamchowder, doughnuts, sandwiches and coffee. Admission to both the wedding and the supper, adults 25 cents, children under 12, 10 cents.

The expenses for running the fair last month were $809. This does not include any of the purses nor premiums, but was merely for labor, music, rent of grounds and the armory and the like. Seventeen hundred dollars were given in purses for races and $1500 in premiums for agricultural exhibits and the art exhibit. The management is pleased to announce that this year has been one of the best financially for the fair it has ever had and the receipts were large enough so that none of the debts contracted during the year remain unpaid.

Today has been a busy one with the county clerk. Beside a complaint and several chattel mortgages, there were filed for record three deeds. One was from L. H. and Geo. T. Prather to D. W. Buck, conveying five acres near Hood River; consideration $150. Another Hood River deed was from J. J. Luckey and wife to W. N. and E. D. West for $850. Joseph Conron deeded to Rebecca Williams lot D, block 21 in Fort Dalles Military Reservation addition; $300. A bond for a deed was recorded from James K. Kelly to R. H. Darnielle for lots 5 and 6 in block 27, bluff addition to Dalles City.

The athletic class, under the charge of Prof. Christol, will meet this evening in the parlors of the Cosmopolitan hotel. The club will continue meeting there till better accommodations can be secured. The professor is meeting with good success in securing members, and an enthusiastic class is promised. It is the intention to form an athletic club, and if possible fix up a gymnasium. Prof. Christol has promised to aid the boys by giving all necessary suggestions as to securing the appliances and arranging them.

Late last night Z. P. Jones was brought to the Umatilla House in a badly injured condition. He has been at work for Mr. Taffe at Celilo and yesterday was standing upon a board hoisting a beam. The board slipped and Mr. Jones was precipitated to the ground, a distance of seventeen feet. He alighted on his back, striking upon solid rock. He was hurriedly brought to town and an examination by Dr. Sutherland disclosed the fact that no bones were broken, though the injuries are very severe. He will at least be confined to bed for quite a time.

The stereopticon views at the courthouse were not witnessed by a very large crowd last night. There had been a misunderstanding in the date which accounted in some measure for the small attendance. The views were scenes from Oregon, showing different public buildings in Portland and Oregon cities, with pictures of the Willamette falls, the great electrical stations, the Oregon City locks, with a steambot passing through them. The fruit lands of the Willamette valley were also pictured as were the notable objects of scenic interest along the Columbia, such as Multnomah falls, the Needles, Rooster Rock and the like. Mr. Goetzman left last night for Pendleton and after stopping there and at Baker City will go on East. It is to be regretted that some views of The Dalles and Eastern Oregon do not accompany Mr. Goetzman. We do not want the people of the Eastern states to think that the Willamette valley, great as it is, includes all of Oregon. The pictures last night were much enjoyed by those who were present.

The place where the steam shovel is working at Mosier must be especially dangerous. This morning a special train came to The Dalles bringing William Eastman, whose leg was broken and badly lacerated. This morning he was at work digging when suddenly the bank began to cave and before he could get further away than ten feet the sand and gravel was upon him. He was thrown across the iron rail of the track and sustained a compound fracture of the right leg. Dr. Logan was called and set the limb and dressed it. The injured man was taken to Portland on the afternoon train, where he will go into the hospital. The flesh is so torn that it may be necessary to amputate the leg. This makes the second accident at the same place this week, the other being Karl Barkentine, who was killed Tuesday. Mr. Eastman had a close call for had he been a few steps nearer the bank he would have suffered the same fate as did his comrade Tuesday.

Sheriff Driver arrived in town this morning at 4 o'clock from Wapinitia bringing with him Ed. Barker, who is charged with selling some sheep belonging to Solomon Houser of Tygh Valley and neglecting to account for the proceeds. Some time ago Barker and Wm. Scott were entrusted with the care of Mr. Houser's sheep and were instructed to drive them from Troutdale over the Barlow road. They were told to sell what number they could. According to Mr. Houser over 80 sheep were sold and the money not turned in. Mr. Barker, who has been a confidential manager for Mr. Houser, claims to have had nothing to do with the selling of the sheep, but lays the burden of the charge upon Scott. Scott has been apprehended in Pendleton, word having been received from the sheriff of Umatilla county that he is there. Deputy Sheriff Wm. Conner, of Multnomah county, came up on last night's train and will proceed to Pendleton this evening. He will take both the men to Portland for examination, as the crime charged is alleged to have happened in Multnomah county.

Friday's Daily

Four new members joined the athletic class today.

The weather forecast for tomorrow is fair and stationary.

The local train from Portland was half an hour late today.

More lumber was shipped this morning on the Regulator for the landing place at Collins.

November starts in with indications of rain. We hope it will make up for October's deficiencies.

One vag appeared before the recorder this morning and was given a season of rest in the city jail.

This is the last week of the Portland Exposition and quite a number of Dalles people are taking in the finish.

M. Honeywell has just opened a fine line of mens', boys' and youths' clothing. Read his ad. on the front page.

No change is reported in the price of wheat at Rockland. The bidding still continues active at 45 1/2 and 47 1/2 cents a bushel.

A large number of passengers were aboard the Regulator this morning, bound for Portland to take in the closing days of the exposition.

It is said wild geese are very plentiful in Sherman county and some of our local nimrods are preparing to go on a slaughtering expedition.

Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers does its work thoroughly, coloring a uniform brown or black, which, when dry, will neither rub, wash off, nor soil linen.

The probate court meets in regular session Monday. The county court meets Wednesday. Now is the time for those having bills against the county to file their claims.

The building on the northwest corner of Court and Front streets, opposite the D. P. & A. N. Co.'s office, is being refitted and will be occupied, when completed, by a saloon.

Some of the members of the Union Dancing Club, which last year gave such pleasant parties, are wondering why something isn't said about reorganizing for this season. For those who like dancing the club was a great attraction and the weather is cool enough now for such pleasures to begin.

The Excelsior Club, a new social organization, will give its first dance tomorrow evening in Fraternity hall. The club starts with a charter membership of twenty-one persons.

The athletic class held its first meeting last night. Prof. Charlet took the members through some lessons in boxing and when the boys become proficient in the art, some sanguinary encounters may be looked for.

Last night the western sky was filled with black clouds and the indications were good for a visitation of rain. But a rollicking wind came up and scattered the clouds and some other place received the desired wetting.

As the Regulator arrived in port early yesterday, after unloading freight here she went across the river and took on 500 sacks of wheat for shipment to Portland. The dock is still well filled with sacks of wheat.

Five hundred copies of the letter published in THE CHRONICLE of Oct. 21st, regarding the Rattlesnake road, have been printed for distribution throughout Sherman county. The gentlemen who are pushing the matter are genuine rustlers.

A cough which persists day after day, should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

Don't forget the Tom Thumb wedding and supper at the Methodist church, next Monday evening, November 4th. A large number of invitations have been sent out, and this general invitation is given. Let everybody come, for everybody is welcome.

The only permanent cure for chronic catarrh is to thoroughly expel the poison from the system by the faithful and persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This wonderful remedy proves successful when all other treatment has failed to relieve the sufferer.

Since March 1st Sheriff Driver and Deputy Kelly have issued 1872 tax receipts on the roll of 1894. On the roll of '93, since the present administration took charge of the sheriff's office, 310 receipts have been given and on the delinquent roll of '92 150 receipts. That times are getting better is evidenced by the lessened amount of delinquent taxes on the roll of '94.

The diamond swindlers, F. A. Pease and Walter Brooks, who figured in the flimflam scheme in The Dalles last summer, and after being bound over to the grand jury jumped their bail, have continued plying the same vocation since leaving this city. One of them, Pease, has been arrested in Walla Walla, and when the proper requisition papers arrive, will be taken to Portland to answer a charge of larceny there. It is said there is a reward of $1,500 offered in San Francisco for the arrest of Brooks.

David Creighton, one of the pioneer fruit growers of Wasco county, brought to THE CHRONICLE office this morning, a Bellflower apple, which measures 14 inches in circumference. It was a beautiful specimen, we use the past tense because the apple no longer exists as an apple, it having been sacrificed to a journalistic appetite. It would have been a prize winner at the Portland exposition, but it suffered an untimely fate. There are many other apples that can take its place to show how Wasco county can grow such fruit.

The county clerk has added up the receipts of his office during the month of October, and finds them to be $275.70. The amount received during the month of September was $170.55; so October presents a good increase. The money taken in was for the recording of deeds, mortgages, complaints and the like, and does not represent any of the work done for the county, for which no pay is given.

Tomorrow will be everybody's day at the poultry show, as it will be the last opportunity to see the display. The doors close at 9 o'clock tomorrow evening and on Monday morning the entire exhibition will go down the river on the Regulator. The exhibit is truly worthy of a large patronage and all who have not yet witnessed it should call this evening or tomorrow.

The famous Norwegian violinist, August Aamold, will give a concert at Saint Mary's Academy in this city, on the evening of November 5th. We trust that all music-loving people will avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing one of the greatest artists in the world. Another interesting feature of the evening will be several vocal numbers by the renowned soprano, Miss Etta Beamer.

Commissioners A. D. McDonald and S. B. Adams, of the Rattlesnake road project, have held a meeting and chosen Mr. Fred Gunther of Sherman county as a third member of the board. Mr. Gunther is a well-known farmer of our neighboring county and is heart and soul in favor of building the road. Monday the commissioners will go out to the place where the road is to be built and work will soon be begun on the grade. The opening of the locks and the building of the Rattlesnake road will mean great benefits to be received by Sherman county.

This morning many an irate citizen is chasing around through alleys and back streets looking for a missing gate. Last night was Hallowe'en and judging from the appearance of things this morning the brownies must have been out in full force. In some portions of town every gate is off its hinges, while it wouldn't be safe for a person on Second street to judge the character of a business house from the sign displayed upon it. N. Harris' name appears upon George Ruth's grocery store, while near the top of the flag staff on the Dalles Lumbering Company's building swings a watchmaker's sign and something which has the resemblance of a pair of exaggerated bloomers. Hallowe'en and the 1st of April are the two trying times of the year, but boys are ever the same and as long as nothing is done more mischievous than last night's pranks, it is best to take it all good naturedly, hunt up the lost gates and replace the wandering signs.

Some Rare Poultry.

The poultry show, in the old Chronicle building, is now in full blast. The display is certainly grand, and is counted as fine as was ever made in the state. Those having never visited an exhibition of this kind, can have but a faint idea of the perfection attained in the poultry kingdom, both as to form and beauty. The Regulator last evening brought up about two hundred fowls, and more are to come tonight. In addition to the entries published yesterday, the following exhibits were made today by Dalles people: Joles Bros., wild geese and peacocks; J. H. Riggs, Chinese or Mongolian pheasants; Liebe, white Bantams; W. C. Barrell, black breasted Red Gurneys; E. M. Smith, Buff Leghorns. Other entries will be made this evening and tomorrow morning.

Many of the coops contain specimens of great value. A coop of Langshans may be seen that are valued at $75. A coop of magnificent light Brahmas, value $50. The cock in this coop weighs fourteen pounds and has yet much to grow. All the other classes are also represented by specimens most perfect in form and color. The crop of Chinese pheasants attract great attention, as these are the first that have been exhibited on this side of the Cascades. The fancy pigeon display is very large and unique. The fantails are there in all colors, and behave in a most pleasing manner. The carriers are grand birds and most attractive.

The exhibit, as a whole, is indeed fine, and no one should fail to see it.

unfortunate

Cod-liver oil suggests consumption, which is almost unfortunate.

Its best use is before you fear consumption; when you begin to get thin, weak, run down; then is the prudent time to begin to take care, and the best way to take care is to supply the system with needed fat and strength. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, will bring back plumpness to those who have lost it, and make strength where raw cod-liver oil would be a burden.

A substitute only imitates the original. Scott & Bowne, Chemists, New York. 50c. and $1.00.
